THOMAS A. TAGGART.

Re-elected Democratic National Committeeman in Florida.

TAGGART CAN'T RETIRE.

Despite His Wish Indiana Democrats Re-elect Him.

Indianapolis, March 23.—In spite of Tom Taggart's assertion that he wished to retire from the position of national committeeman, he was re-elected for four years at a meeting of the Indiana delegates.

The meeting was held for the purpose of organizing for the Baltimore convention. Taggart will now continue in control of the party unless he positively decides to retire.

NEW YORK BROKER HELD; ACCUSED OF SHOOTING

Wealthy Contractor Is Mortally Wounded In Another's Home.

New York, March 23.—Wounded twice in the left temple and once in the right arm, Harry Lavele, forty-four years old, a wealthy contractor and builder, was taken unconscious to Fordham hospital. He did not recover consciousness and the surgeons said he could not recover.

Suffering from a nervous collapse which, according to the police, has made it impossible for them to obtain from him a complete story of the shooting, Benjamin F. Jackson, a prominent real estate operator, also reputed to be wealthy, was locked up. He is charged with having shot Mr. Lavelle.

According to the police report, the shooting occurred in the vestibule of the residence of Mr. Jackson at 1229 Simpson street. Before he collapsed in the station house, according to the police, Mr. Jackson said he had a revolver while arguing with Mr. Lavelle.

"I cannot realize how I shot him," was his statement, according to the police.

Mr. Lavelle's sister, Mrs. Margaret Lahaney, twenty-eight years old, has been employed in Mr. Jackson's home as housekeeper for several months, the police learned.

REID QUERY TO BE PRESSED

Sir Henry Dalziell Again Calls Attention to Alleged Interview.

London, via Glace Bay, March 23.—Hir Henry Dalziell has decided to press his question in the house of commons as to the authenticity of the interview with Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, printed in a New York newspaper, in which the American diplomat was quoted as saying that conditions in England just now were similar to those in France before the revolution.

The question was withdrawn a few days ago owing to the pressure brought on Sir Henry by the government.

The question has again been submitted in altered form and passed by the speaker. As it now appears it asks the secretary of state for foreign affairs whether his attention has been drawn to the interview and whether he will ascertain from the American ambassador whether the interview is accurately described.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE'S COLUMN

HOW WILL YOU CAST YOUR BALLOT?

(Adapted from a leaflet issued by the Pennsylvania Society)

is the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League. This league is now five years old. Its work is directed by a group of private citizens, consisting of leading physicians, municipal officers and well-known men of affairs. In the ranks of the league are 1,000 public spirited citizens, who contribute their service or money to the campaign against consumption. Anyone who is interested in preventing the waste of life and the suffering caused by this disease can belong.

The Issue

Tuberculosis killed over 3,500 people in New Jersey last year.

One death in every seven in this State is caused by tuberculosis.

Every two and one-half hours, day and night, somebody in New Jersey succumbs to the white plague.

The Platform

To save the lives of the scores of people in Plainfield who needlessly die of tuberculosis every year.

By acquainting every man, woman and child in Plainfield with the life-saving principles of healthy living.

By conducting the pavilion for the treatment and care of incipient cases.

By supporting a visiting nurse who works constantly in the poorer districts of the ctiy.

By establishing and supporting a tuberculosis clinic.

can be cast in support of the Anti-Tuberculosis party by sending one dollar, annual dues, to J. P. Murray, treasurer, 737 Watchung avenue, and advising him that you wish to become a member of the league. This amount includes an annual subscription to the official organ of the league, The White Crusader. Even if you do not wish to join the league you can help its work by subscribing to its paper, cost twenty-five cents a year.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League has secured the Plainfield High School auditorium for the afternoon of Monday, April 8, at which time Mrs. William Victor Goldberg will give a musical lecture-recital, the subject being Humperdinck's "Haensel and Gretel." Tickets will cost one dollar and may be obtained from Mrs. William H. Murray, 737 Watchung avenue. Mrs. Goldberg is very popular in Plainfield, having within the last few weeks given two musical recitals here, both of which were well attended and gave much pleasure to all who heard them. The first was "Haensel and Gretel," which is now being repeated because so many people expressed a desire to hear it again. Writing of the second recital, a New York musical critic who heard Mrs. Goldberg says:

"The subject of the recital, the rewritten version of Humperdinck's opera, 'Die Koenigskinder,' was treated by Mrs. Goldberg with great intelligence and sympathetic comprehension. She outlined simply the naive charming book of the opera; it is a story which like 'Peter Pan' makes its appeal to the childhood in the hearer's heart, and Humperdinck has with rare feeling translated the emotion of the story into music. Mrs. Goldberg, after outlining the plot, sketched the various motifs used in the score and illustrated the method of combining and presenting them. In doing this Mrs. Goldberg played her own accompaniments and sang the extracts from the opera selected for presentation. The charming and artistic manner in which she gave the musical selections, combined with the clean and intelligent discussion of the points involved, gave to the entire recital a most unusual combination of charm and lucidity. It will be a great pleasure to hear Mrs. Goldberg again, in her illustrated recital of 'Haensel and Grete,' one of Humperdinck's earlier operas."

IN WOMAN'S REALM

COIFFURE STYLES.

Very Little False Hair Worn This Season.

Little or no false hair is now the fashion. Pompadours are entirely passe, and parts in the middle or on the side reign supreme. Ears are covered with soft, wavy strands of hair, and the Psyche knot is the favorite.

Any one could pin on curls, pile bunch on bunch, but it is the master hand which creates the neat, close dressing and saves it from that untidiness and appearance of dowdiness which are often the result of our own efforts. A trial of the new models and their variations is the next move after we have chosen our frocks for the season.

Those of us who bravely attempt it without first seeing it done are likely to go wrong when it comes to arranging the simple but slightly outstanding coils which have taken the place of the eternal curl. The coiffeuse was never so important as she is at the present day. She is no longer the mere manipulator of our locks. She is the artist who studies us and our clothes and helps us to look our best.

Separate skirts with white and colored short waists are again in style, and the skirt illustrated is one of the new designs for this purpose.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

COOKING THE SPECKLED TROUT.

SEASONABLE fish are trout, and those who will not eat any other are fond of these. Nothing flatters the family fisherman more than a new and delicious way of serving the fish which he brings home.

Broiled Brook Trout.—Split down the back and clean, removing the gills, fins and the blood vessels along the spine. Wash and dry the fish. Season, dip in olive oil and broil from ten to fifteen minutes or longer if the fish is large. Keep turning that the skin may not burn. When the fish has begun to broil hold it farther away from the fire until it is done. Serve with sprigs of parsley or watercress.

Hints For Broiling.

While the process of broiling is going on the fish should be basted with oil or butter once or twice.

The broiler should be heated and oiled before the fish is put into it, and it should be turned about every fifteen seconds while the broiling is going on.

Broiled fish may be served with maitre d'hotel butter.

Trout Saute.—Clean, cut into pieces and wipe dry after washing. Salt and pepper the fish, roll in sifted cracker crumbs and saute in hot pork fat until a golden brown. Serve with parsley and slices of lemon.

How to Cook Small Fish.

Baked Trout With Forcemeat.—Clean and dress and through a slit fill the fish with forcemeat made by pounding in the mortar fish from which skin and bones have been taken and to which has been added the whites of two eggs and half a cup of cream. When the trout have been stuffed brush with melted butter or olive oil. Season the fish, lay on slices of bacon or salt pork and wrap in sheets of buttered paper. Bake in a hot oven, and when ready to serve remove the papers and lay on thin slices of toasted bread. They may be served with tomato sauce.

Fried Trout.—Clean the fish, wash and drain. Sprinkle with about half a teaspoonful of salt and roll in a mixture of sifted cornmeal and flour. Take salt pork, using about an eighth of a pound of pork to each pound of fish. Cut the pork into thin slices and place in the frying pan. Fry to a crisp brown. Now take out the pork and lay the trout in the frying pan. Fry brown on both sides. Serve with the pork and sprigs of watercress.

Points for Mothers

Value of Kindergarten.

A woman who was supposed to be fairly intelligent was heard to say not long ago: "I was thinking of sending my little boy to Miss Robinson's kindergarten, but what is the use? The colored girl can amuse him just as well—and so much cheaper."

Shade of the blessed Freidrich Froebel! There is as wide a difference between the aimless and boisterous diversions improvised by the ignorant nurse and the scientific methods of the trained kindergartner as in the final results of Mr. Squeers' school and those of Arnold of Rugby.

It is only the unobservant part of the community that could misjudge the value of the "gifts" and "occupations," the names given by Froebel to the basis of the kindergarten idea. In these gifts and occupations the children see nothing but playthings, but it is surely inexcusable ignorance in this day of enlightenment on the subject, when the mothers of the children neither know nor perceive their underlying principles, and yet some persons think that telling a child the correct name of a thing in infancy is to threaten him with brain fever, just as they croak about young Sidis being a "soph" at Harvard at thirteen. And when it is explained that a box of blocks may illustrate the first principles of geometry to a child of five the untaught mother holds up her hands in horror.

But it is easy for the child to know the six sided blocks as cubes and more entertaining to form geometrical designs with them than to keep on making the "house that Jack built" just to topple over unendingly. Moreover, he comes to the difficult study of geometry in later years with a clearer understanding, because, having handled cubes, he has a sense perception of them, and, in verification of Restalozzi's doctrine of object teaching as the scientific method in opposition to mere memory culture, the child has so handled them as to be perfectly familiar with their angles and relative proportions and readily comprehends the basis of a theorem in college days.

The kindergarten child comes, first of all, under the law of obedience, a law honored by children en masse, though naturally disregarded by them singly in their homes. Tiny as he is, he is called to order on the stroke of 9. Then he joins his companions in singing joyous songs of "good morrow," making his little salutation to teachers and friends as he repeats the greeting. This is his beginning of courtliness in public. Then follows an hour of singing, each song containing within its sugar coating of sparkling tune some bit of observation about those things dear to the child heart—the sun, moon and stars; the birds, butterflies, flowers and animals; the sea and the mountains. Then follow the active games, the story telling, the clay modeling and the paper mat weaving, each having so much more meaning than lies on the surface.

While the kindergarten has, of course, long since become a necessary part of a child's training, from those nurtured in the lap of luxury to those who exist in the slums, it is a remarkable fact that few of these mothers have ever accompanied their children there, and those who have never seen a roomful of happy kindergarten children filling their morning hours with intelligently directed play have no idea how readily they form graphic and lasting mental pictures to the accompaniment of rhythmic movement when singing their lovely songs and making gestures and postures to illustrate them nor how, by means of absorbing modeling, the basic idea of the beauty and joy of construction as opposed to destructiveness may be awakened.

The Child's Appetite.

The child that comes home from school with little appetite for luncheon probably needs fresh air as much as anything else. Unless it shows signs of illness it is best to overlook the lack of appetite as much as possible for the first time, at any rate, and invent some excuse either for a walk or for some physical exercise in the open air. This exercise should be as natural as possible—a romp with the dog in the back yard, a game of ball with brother or sister or something of a like nature that will not suggest to the child that mother is worried about him. Don't, however, insist that he eat, as his lack of appetite may come from an overloaded stomach or one that is not doing its duty, and more food would only invite a real illness.

Baby's Airing.

Mothers must be careful in distinguishing between good and bad days for their babies to be out. The general principle is, of course, to give the baby an airing every day, because fresh air is as necessary to a child's health as good food is. But authorities agree that on certain kinds of days it is far better for baby to stay indoors. The point to beware of is dampness; not the temperature, but the quality of the air. A cold day is splendid for children provided it is the dry, stimulating kind of cold. But a damp, raw day will do them more harm than good. Even if it seems moderately warm don't take them out. It is the dampness that breeds chills and sore throat and croup.

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

An anonymous contributor to the Votes for Women column, published in your paper on March 20, makes a veiled attack on Miss Minnie Bronson. Will you kindly give space to the enclosed record of Miss Bronson, and credit it as coming from the New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, and very greatly oblige New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrageby Mrs. Arthur M. Dody:

Miss Minnie Bronson—Graduated from Upper Iowa University with degree of A. B., receiving degree of Master of Arts from the same institution, 1892; teacher of mathematics in St. Paul, Minn., High School from 1889 to 1899; assistant in the Department of Education of the U. S. Commission to the Paris Exposition of 1900; director of the Education Department of the Pan-American Exposition of 1901; superintendent of Elementary and Secondary Education at the St. Louis Exposition, 1904; secretary of the U. S. Jury of Awards at the Liege Exposition of 1905; delegated by the U. S. Bureau of Education to report the Educational Congresses held in Belgium, 1905; chief of Department of Social Economy, Jamestown Exposition, 1907; special agent of the U. S. Bureau of Labor, to investigate the conditions of labor of women and children, 1907-1909; special agent U. S. Department of the Interior, Alaskan Exhibit, Seattle Exposition, March-July, 1909; special agent U. S. Bureau of Labor, to report on the strike of Shirt Waist Makers, January-June, 1910.

(Miss Dodge is in error in stating that the reference to Miss Bronson was made by an anonymous contributor. The names of the contributing staff to the Votes for Women column are published at the top of that column. The Daily Press has not, does not and will not publish any contribution unless the name of the author is also published—Editors.)

CAN BLAME NO ONE FOR COMMUNIPAW EXPLOSION.

New York, March 23.—No liability can be attached for the explosion which occurred February 1, 1911, at the Communipaw freight station, in Jersey City, against the Central Railroad of Neew Jeersey. The E. I. du-Pont de Nemours Powder Company, for James Healing, the owner of the lighter Katherine W., which contained the dynamite. It is held that all evidence that might tend to fix responsibility was destroyed.

This was the decision rendered by Judge Holt, in the United States District Court in an action for damages brought by the owner of the Norwegian steamer Ingrid, which was damaged through the terrific explosion. Judge Holt said in part:

"It is undoubtedly a hard case for the libellants, whose ship was completely wrecked while lying at a pier, in a harbor, without any fault on the part of its officers or crew. But it appears to be the case of an accident, the cause of which cannot be ascertained, and therefore for which none of the respondents can be held responsible in this suit."

Central Railroad Bill Killed.

Trenton, March 23.—Assemblyman Simpson's bill permitting the merger of railroads at Weehawken by the Central Railroad was defeated by the House. This is the bill that is branded by Minority Leader Martin as one to permit the stealing of a road from the county.

Madam Zarad-Fischer and Maurice Kaufman, of New York, will give a piano and violin recital in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church, Thursday night, March 28.

INDIVIDUAL STARS SWELL RECEIPTS

Team With Bright Particular Headliner Reaps Golden Harvest.

COBB A MAGNET FOR FANS

Detroit Was Doubly Blessed With Speedy Georgian and Inimitable Hughy Jennings Until Latter Met With Injuries.

By TOMMY CLARK.

INDIVIDUAL stars may not win pennants in the baseball Marathon, but it takes these same pastimers extraordinary to bolster up the gate receipts. It's the real driving force, the gent behind the big wallop or the pitching marvel that brings the golden shekels jingling into the box office. The same condition existed thirty years ago and today is admittedly one of the potent reasons baseball stands alone as the national game.

Photos by American Press Association

Every club in the parent body of organized ball has its bright particular headliner, and in the American league every club save perhaps the lowly Browns boasts some player who stacks up among the truly greats. Twinkling with some luster like the light planted under the basket, Bert Shotten of the Mound City troupe may carve his niche this season, for here's an outfielder who is touted to be the fastest man in captivity over the route from the plate to first base.

Tigers Rich In Stars.

Lack of stars on a big league team shows in the receipts. But President Navin of the Detroit club hasn't been heard to murmur a word of complaint along this line in recent years. Happy in the possession of fan idols such as Tyrus Cobb, Bill Donovan, Donie Bush, Hughey Jennings, Sam Crawford and Oscar Stanage, the Tiger magnate can well afford to "mitt" himself on the receipts for another season of prosperity.

One day last summer Connie Mack, the slim sachem of the all powerful Athletics, admitted the Tigers were outdrawing his machine three to two despite the brilliant record and daily achievements of the pennant winners, the Jennings clan continued to play before great throngs.

Pressed for his solution of this phenomenon, Connie opined:

"The young man in center field," meaning Cobb, "is the main reason."

And so it goes all along the line.

What would become of the White Sox without "Big Ed" Walsh, Harry Lord, Jimmy Callahan, Doc White or Billy Sullivan?" is a query oft heard. Or, "How could the Senators pay salaries without Walter Johnson and Germany Schaefer?" Then, again, "Where would Brooklyn stand without Nap Rucker and Jake Daubert?"

In Hughey Jennings the Detroit club possesses a field general who has been baseball's greatest card for many years. Unique with his whistle, never flagging fighting spirit and grotesque feats of grass eating, the speckled warrior by his originality has added several thousands to President Navin's treasury.

Fans Follow Georgian.

Ranked as the most brilliant player of all time, Tyrus Cobb makes the best kind of press agent for his club. No matter where the Tigers travel, the fans turn out en masse for a slant at the Georgian.

Great players on both teams at Philadelphia make the rivalry between the American and National forces there even more bitter than in any other city under the major colors. The champion Athletics on form should shade the Phillies, for Mack has molded his playing monarchs from such "finds" as Chief Bender, Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, Stuffy McInnes and Frank Baker, all names to conjure with.

On Fogel field, about five blocks distant from Shibe field, when the Quakers are playing at home these same Philadelphia fans derive much pleasure rooting for another bunch of stars, notably "Red" Dooin, Grover Alexander, Earl Moore, Sherry McGee, Fred Luderus, Otto Knabe and Honus Lobert.

Take the situation in Chicago, the hotbed of baseball. For years the White Sox have enjoyed a loyal following, embracing thousands of fans who rarely cross the river to root for the Cubs, while the west side legion holds much the same feeling toward the pale hosed gentry.

ED WALSH, WHITE SOX'S GREAT ATTRACTION.

Keen Rivalry In Chicago.

In the days when Overall, Kling, Steinfeldt and Chance were going at top speed and working in unison with the other stars of the Cub outfit this team was undoubtedly the chief magnet for the fan populace the country over, yet at the same time Comiskey's white shins were drawing capacity crowds, presenting such celebrities as Fielder Jones, Nick Altrock, Jiggs Donahue, Walsh and Sullivan. For the coming season the south siders have prospects of another era of prosperity, with Cal Bodie, Lord, Walsh, White, Scott and Lange in the service.

New York's major clubs, the Giants and Highlanders, are rich in topnotchers, but the American Leaguers never have been the attraction that the Polo Ground terrors have been. Save in the case of Hal Chase, Birdie Cree and Russell Ford the Yanks present a very ordinary battle front. On the other hand, the "Joints" take the field exploiting men like Mathewson, Meyers, Doyle and Merkle, with the whole party under the managerial eye of the little Napoleon, J. McGraw. Certainly this is a drawing card for the fans.

At Boston the prestige of recent years has been with the Red Sox, a fast, formidable aggregation, with only one real phenoom, Tris Speaker. The other members of this team have at all times been hard workers, but the name of Speaker is first to flash across the screen when one starts to fanfare regarding the strength of this club. Heroes of former days, Cy Young, Mike Donlin, Fred Tenney, Johnny Kling and Al Bridwell, put up a forlorn battle to swell the gate receipts at the Columbus avenue grounds last season, but the effort failed to pan out. Since then Tenney and Donlin have parted company with the club.

Johnson Idol of Fans.

The mere mention of Walter Johnson's name as the probable choice for slab duty will draw an immense crowd to the park any day the Washington club is the morsel afforded the rooters. Second to the Coffeyville hot boy in this respect stands Herman Schaefer, a favorite all around the circuits because of his comedy business. The Pirates with Hans Wagner, Red Clarke and Babe Adams present three great stars, with Wagner the principal twinkler. Cleveland, with Larry Lajoie, Joe Jackson and Vean Gregg has a trio fully as strong as the Pittsburgh headliners.

JEFFERIES IS IN EARNEST AND MEANS TO "COME BACK"

Cleveland, March 23.—Jim Jeffries is planning to come back. But the big fellow's system, devised by himself for coming back, is different from that ever tried by any pugilist or any other athlete who ever tried to regain his lost laurels.

Jeff is preparing to begin at the beginning and get a new reputation for himself by fighting his way from the bottom to the top. He has been making his preparations in secret up in the mountains of California, but he revealed his plans to Johnny Kilbane and Manager Jimmy Dunn when they were out on the coast.

"I am going to fight my way through the white hopes and earn the right to challenge Jack Johnson for the world's championship," Jeff told Kilbane and Dunn.

"I shall first challenge Carl Morris and Jim Stewart. When I have beaten them I intend to go after Al Palzer, whom I consider a harder proposition than either Morris or Stewart. With him out of the way I shall be enittled to send a defi to the winner of the Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn fight, which I am pretty certain will be Flynn. I know I can come back, but I want to satisfy the people that I am entiled to another show at Johnson by beating all the other aspirants."

Johnny Kilbane says Jeff is taking the best care of himself.

Double Bill at Dunellen.

The Y. M. C. A. Ajax basketball team will play the Dunellen Presbyterian church five at that place tonight. The team and their friends will leave the Y. M. C. A. building on the 7:15 trolley. The Y. W. C. A. girls' team will play a preliminary game with the girls' team of the church.

THE GINGER JAR

Don't this weather make you hot under the collar?

When some people air their ideas they hot air them.

The fans don't love a player whose speciality is self-love.

Few players have will power enough to stop talking to an umpire when they have said enough.

When it comes to baseball there is nothing on the market "just as good."

The recruit that is told to "beat it" doesn't feel like a musical director.

The average fan's idea of a play is that he suggests it while the players do it and if they don't they are boneheads.

All the fans of each city assist in the management of a team; the manager gets hints as to his duty not only from the owner but the bugs as well.

Because the train bearing the world's champions was one day late in arriving at Houston "Gentle John" Shibe praised the railroad company in language Dr. Wiley would not admit as pure and he made himself heard in the sanctums of the higher officials. He contended that the best ball team in the world" had been treated like a bunch of hoboes and he wanted gore. The company promised to furnish a car with sixty-five cuspidors, hot and cold running water and bath tubs on the way north.

"The eats," said gentle John, "were immense. We had three kinds of duck—duck in, duck around and duck out. I'll get better service or shoot the president with some of his cinders."

"Lefty" Russell has announced that the "Click" that he has heard in his arm since the team was at Savannah, Ga., last year, has gone and he thinks that he can shoot them over even better than the day he blanked Boston in Philadelphia in his first league trial.

Jack McInnes is now able to be about on the twisted ankle, but Dr. Chadwick has advised McInnes to take things easy and not to jump into the game until the team reaches Philadelphia.

The exodus of the Giants from the Marlin training camp began Thursday night when twelve players left for Dallas, Tex., where the first colt team is scheduled for a game. Nearly forty more players and camp followers left last night and the camp will be deserted until next year.

TRENTON LOSES PLACE IN BASKETBALL RACE.

Philadelphia, March 23.—Trenton was ousted from first place in the Eastern Basketball League race Thursday night by the Jasper team of this city which defeated the Jersey capital representatives, 25 to 23. The game was won by Buck Reilley on two successive free throws. Trenton, by losing the lead, enhances its chances of winning the championship.

HOW DETROIT HELPED ATHLETICS WIN WORLD'S TITLE.

Though the fact is not generally known, the Detroit club unintentionally helped the Athletics to win the American league pennant and to defeat the Giants in the world's series.

Baker's pet club, which caused terror to sundry American league slabmen and later ruined the dispositions of Christy Mathewson and Rube Marquard in the world's series with four base clouts, was given to him by Donie Bush of the Detroit club. The bat was so heavy that Bush could scarcely lift it. Donie figured that it would keep Baker from crippling opposing fielders.

"That bat was so heavy that it made me stoop shouldered every time I tried to use it," declared Manager Davis.

TRAINING COSTS BIG SUM.

Major League Baseball Clubs Spend Fortune Annually.

The spring baseball training of a baseball team is one of the most important parts of the campaign. That is why the owners of the different teams spend each spring from $15,000 to $20,000 so that the men will be ready to jump into the fight when the bell rings. A flying start in baseball is half the fight.

Baseball players are not trained like pugilists, football players or oarsmen. These men work up to a certain event.

HOW BALL PLAYEES PREPARE FOR SEASON

while the ball player has to keep himself in the same condition for months. The prospects of big money and glory at the end of the season is a sufficient incentive to make them careful of their living.

The first work of the ball player when he reaches the training camp is a session in tossing the ball—just short throws. This is continued for about an hour. For players who have taken on weight the manager has them jog to and from the grounds. Usually the park is about two miles from the hotel. This takes off weight and also improves the wind. An hour or two daily, too, are given to base sliding and running.

Close tabs are kept on the pitchers. After a week of twirling slow ones they are sent in to pitch a few innings each afternoon when games are played. This not alone affords practice for the pitcher, but it gives the batters a chance to get their eye on the ball.

The ball player has no compulsory hours for sleep, has no certain diet, and no attention is paid to certain muscles, as is the case with the fighter, the oarsman and the football player. In between the workouts the ball tossers play tennis, golf and indulge in a little wrestling.

P. H. S. GIRLS' FIVE ENDS GOOD SEASON WITH DEFEAT

The girls' basketball team of the Plainfield High School lost its game yesterday afternoon with the fast girls' five of the East Orange High School, after a snappy contest by a score of 24 to 12. The game marks the close of a successful season for the P. H. S. girls with a large percentage of wins.

The East Orange five which has had only one defeat recorded against them this season, led off with great speed, and at the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 6 in East Orange's favor. The lineup:

P. H. S.—Mehl, Stewart, forwards; Douglas, centers; Striker, Phillips, Rodenbaugh, guards. East Orange—Getzoff, Rennie, forwards; Doty, centre; Middleton, King, Casler, guards.

FIRST RUNS FOR MOTORCYCLE CLUB.

At the meeting of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club held last night, rules of the road for the organization for the coming season were adopted, among which was the regulation that all members were to be fined who rode through any city with muffler open.

The first of the seasons runs will be held on April 14th when the club will ride to Flemington taking dinner there and return. The next on April 21, through the Oranges to Elizabeth and Newark, with dinner at the latter, and on April 28, Rahway, Perth Amboy, Metuchen and Bound Brook wil constitute the itinerary of the third. On Decoration Day, if the authorities permit, a hill climbing contest will be held on Johnstons Drive.

KILBANE AND ATTELL TO MEET LABOR DAY.

New York, March 23.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, and Abe Attell are going to fight again for the featherweight title. Their next battle, another twenty round affair, will take place on Labor Day afternoon at Vernon, Cal., where they fought on Washington's Birthday afternoon. It was Kilbane who suggested this return battle. The Cleveland lad has grown tired of listening to Attell's wails about having been robbed of the decision, and as he is confident he can defeat him every time they star he agreed to meet him again.

Elks to Roll New York.

The Plainfield Elks bowling team will roll an Elks league match with the New York quintet at that place Monday night. The team will be accompanied by a large delegation of the local Bills, many of whom wil combine an inspection of the new Elks home in the metropolis with witnessing the bowling exhibition. The officers of the lodge will conduct the meeting of the Elizabeth lodge on the same night.

Yale Football Coaches Chosen.

New Haven, March 23.—Captain Jesse Spalding announces that Captain Arthur Howe, of this year's 'Varsity team, will be the head football coach at Yale next fall. The two line coaches will be James W. Scully, tackle of the team this year, and Elmer McDevitt, who was guard on the team. Howe has had three years of 'varsity work and the other two years each. It is understood that Howard H. Jones and John W. Field will be here considerably during the season. Foster Sanford and the other veteran players of New York and Connecticut are expected to be up also. The team will lose as a coach Arthur E. Brides, who today signed a three years' contract as football coach of the Massachusetts Agriculture College at Amherst.

RAHWAY VALLEY TRUNK SEWER PLAN PROGRESS

Rahway, March 23.—Surveys have so far progressed on the proposed Rahway Valley trunk sewer that Engineer Clyde Potts has decided on the sizes of pipes. The sewer will start at the Kill von Kull, where tanks will be located for the rough treatment of sewage, and follow the river by a thirty-six inch pipe to the upper limits of Rahway. From that place to Cranford a thirty-inch pipe will be laid.

At Cranford the main trunk divides into three lines, one running to Roselle eighteen inches in diameter, another leading to Kenilworth measuring twenty inches, while the third will be of eighteen inches and collect the sewage from the westerly portion of Cranford and Garwood.

At present Roselle has a fairly complete sewer system, Cranford is sewered and Garwood about half provided with drains. The difficulty is that the present sewers discharge into the Rahway river, and Rahway, deriving its water supply from the river, finds itself in trouble in time of freshet.

The engineers of Cranford and Roselle are making the detailed surveys for the trunk sewer line, which, it is estimated, will cost about $270,000. Each of the towns in the scheme must make the necessary connections between present sewers and the new trunk.

Hand Hits Circular Saw.

Califon, March 23.—While operating a circular saw on his father's farm, near Fairmount yesterday, Charles Farley's left hand was badly cut and lacerated. Mr. Farley was sawing shingles when his hand was pulled against the saw. It is feared the thumb and index finger will have to be amputated. Dr. E. H. Crystell dressed the injury.

Local Option's Poor Outlook.

Trenton, March 23.—Local option isn't appealing very strongly to the House and its chances for consideration are very slim. Mr. Smick's efforts to have the committee on Municipal Corporations report the measure were voted down yesterday.

A GREAT RECORD.

Hard to Duplicate It in Plainfield.

Scores of representative citizens of Plainfield are testifying for Doan's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizens is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. O. C. Moore, 57 Manning avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "You may continue to publish my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills which I gave in August, 1905. I endured much misery from backache which was caused by my kidneys. Many nights I was unable to rest at all and when I arose in the morning, my limbs were so stiff and sore that I could hardly get out of bed. Whenever I caught the least cold, it settled on my kidneys and any strain on my back always made my aches and pains worse. I was treated by physicians but their medicine did not help me and it was not until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's Drug Store, that I had any hope of getting rid of my trouble. This preparation made me feel like a different person and I have never had any serious trouble since. I use Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while however, and they keep my kidneys in good working order."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MAN'S LIFE SAVED BY REAL HEROINE

Clothes Ablaze, He Jumps at Her Cry.

SHE PUT OUT FIRE IN SNOW

Awe Stricken Men See Little Woman Brace Herself and Break the Man's Fall, Then Extinguish Flames—But It Seemed an Ordinary Event to Her.

Chicago, March 23.—An act of remarkable heroism on the part of a little woman in saving the life of a man whose clothing had caught fire from an explosion of gasoline was witnessed by a group of men here, who looked on, awed by the spectacle, unable to move until it was all over.

People passing along Grand boulevard first were attracted by the figure of an man enveloped in flames crawling out of the second story window of a building and standing for a moment on the coping. Simultaneously with his appearance a slender woman dashed out of a nearby ground floor doorway and, looking up at the man, shrieked for him to jump.

The human torch leaped. Below, the little woman braced her feet for the impact, while a dozen husky men gazed in awe. As the body struck her outstretched arms she grasped him and fell back into a deep snow drift.

The man had been saved from possible death in the fall by her catching him. But his clothing was still in flames. The little woman scrambled out of the snow drift and rolled the man in the snow, beat the flames with her hands and smothered them with a coat she borrowed from a bystander.

When it was all over it was discovered that the man, Abraham Meens, was uninjured. He then borrowed a pair of overalls and returned to his work in the Grand Boulevard Auto company garage, while the firemen squelched a blaze, the result of an explosion of gasoline, which partly wrecked the building.

The woman, Mrs. Mamie Lawrence, a widow, who sells newspapers at the Grand Boulevard station of the south side "L" road station, next door to the burning garage, went back to her newsstand as unconcerned as though her heroic act were one of daily occurrence.

SITUATION STILL HOPEFUL.

Parliament Adjourns Until Monday, When Wage Bill Will Be Passed.

London, via Glace Bay, March 23.—The house of commons, adjourning until Monday, has further delayed the enactment of the minimum wage bill, which the government hoped would pass both houses this week. Barring the postponements of the passage of the bill, the situation remains unchanged. There is no reason to believe that this bill will fail, and as a matter of fact the adjournment affords ground for confidence that the bill will obtain the Laborite support.

The government gained a signal victory when the miners' schedule fixing the minimum wage at varying rates between 4 shillings 11 pence and 7 shillings 6 pence per day was rejected by a majority of 312.

The present expectation is that the bill, if one is still necessary by Monday, will pass the house of commons on that day and the house of lords a day or two later.

LOOKING FOR COAL TRUST.

Government Said to Be on Trail of Alleged Combination of Producers.

Chicago, March 23.—A nation wide inquiry into an alleged "coal trust," with Chicago the center, it is said, is in progress by the government. Government agents are at work gathering evidence against the alleged combination, especially in Chicago, New York, Pennsylvania and a number of southern states where the coal supply is largest.

Charges have been made that certain large coal producers and financiers are combined for the purpose of maintaining a stipulated price on coal and for the purpose of stifling competition.

The inquiry is said to have been ordered some weeks ago by Attorney General Wickersham.

PIERCE BILL REVISING TAXATION LAW PASSED

Trenton, March 23.—The Pierce bill, Senate 310, revising the State tax laws by giving the State Tax Board power to remove from office members of county, city and town tax boards, or local assessors; requiring that maps of all real property in every taxing district be prepared; and that units of value be adopted for the assessment of property, was passed by the Senate yesterday afternoon by the party vote of 11 to 5. As soon as it had passed Mr. Pierce introduced a joint resolution calling for an investigation of the whole tax question, the result to be reported next year, which was immediately passed under suspension of rules.

LEAVITT ELECTION BILLS GO THROUGH THE SENATE

Trenton, March 23.—With every Republican Senator in his seat and as Senator Stizer, Democrat, of Middlesex county, expressed it, with the "steam roller" working successfully, the Leavitt election bills which hit the Geran law and corrupt practices act, were passed by the Senate last night. Only four Democratic Senators were present and they voted against the bills.

The first measure passed provides that personal registration shall not be required in municipalities of less than 10,000 population. The present limit in the Geran law is 5,000.

Senator Pierce said that personal registration was only to prevent colonization, and there was no danger of this in the small towns and rural communities covered by the bill. The bil passed by the vote of 11 to 4.

The Senate next passed the bill amending the Geran law so as to choose the primary election for the election of delegates and alternates to the National Conventions and the expression of Presidential preferences, from the fourth Tuesday in May to the second Tuesday in May, or this year from May 28 to May 14.

The other election bill passed provides for the election of Presidential electors at the State Convention to be held in September under the Geran law. The bill as passed does not require the candidates for elector to file any statement of election expenses. It is well known that it is the custom to have the candidates for elector contribute $1,000 to the campaign fund for the honor and this bill will permit these contributions without an accounting of how the money is spent. Governor Wilson will be sure to veto it if this provision be retained.

DINNER FOR TEACHERS, PRESENT FOR THE SUPT.

The teachers and officers of Grace M. E. church were given a banquet in the church parlors last night as the guests of William J. Conroy, superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Conroy presided and at the close of the dinner was presented with an electric desk lamp. Mrs. Miller, of Bound Brook, was the principal speaker.

During the dinner Miss Edna Sebring and Dykman Winkler played piano and violin duets and the speechmaking following was interspersed with duets by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young. A conference and social time followed the presentation of the gift to Mr. Conroy.

MRS. C. F. POWLISON DIES AT HER LAKEWOOD HOME.

Lakewood, N. J., March 23.—Mrs. Charles F. Powlison, who died in her winter home, No. 224 Sixth street, Lakewood, from heart disease yesterday, was the wife of the younger son of Mrs. Joseph Powlison, of Grandview avenue, North Plainfield. Her summer home was in Elizabethtown, Adirondacks.

Mrs. Powlison was well known in New York, being the originator of the model Sunday school class in Columbia University. Her husband is head of the New York Child Welfare Committee. He is a brother of Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux and John A. Powlison, of Plainfield.

TWO MEN LOCKED UP AFTER SCRAP IN STREET.

Harry Kaufman, aged 52 years, of 232 East Fourth street, and Samuel Berkowitz, aged 31 years, of 212 East Fourth street, employes of the Rushmore Dynamo Works, engaged in a fight on East Fourth street, near Watchung avenue, early this afternoon, while returning home from work. Kaufman was badly injured and Dr. N. W. Curry was called to dress his wounds.

Berkowitz, it is claimed, gave Kaufman a severe beating and hit him in the head with a large, sharp stone. Both men were arrested by Patrolmen Flynn and Dobson, and taken to police headquarters. They were each held in $100 bail for a hearing Monday morning before City Judge W. G. DeMeza.

To Make Extensive Trip.

Arthur B. Caleen, of Mariners place, will leave Monday for a southern business trip in the interests of the Quincy-Manchester-Sergeant Co. He will visit Washington, Norfolk and Winston-Salem, returning afterward to Montreal and Chicago. All the company's interests are soon to be removed from this city to Chicago and Mr. Caleen will probably make his home in the western metropolis.

To Hear Rev. Mr. Heicher.

Rev. M. K. W. Heicher, of Madison, a former teacher in the N. P. H. S. will deliver an address in Grace M. E. church Monday night. He has recently returned from Japan, where he spent several years as a missionary. He is at present in the theological seminary at Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Warner, of West Sixth stret, are entertaining relatives from Toledo, O.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hebert, of Verdon street, are the parents of a boy, born to them last night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Putnum will remove from South avenue to Woodland avenue next Tuesday.

Funeral of Miss Dilts.

The funeral of Miss Julia Dilts was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the late home, 1208 Lenox avenue. Many relatives and friends attended. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, officiated. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The pall-bearers were Fred Martin, Walter Arnold, Frank McInerney, Drs. C. W. and B. F. Leonard and James Conover. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Charge in Nursing Bureau Staff.

Miss Olive L. Schreibweis, who has been head nurse of the city Nursing Bureau for the past six months, tendered her resignation at the monthly meeting of the organization Thursday night. It was accepted to take effect April 1 and Miss Wilhemina Plummer, of Park avenue, was named as her successor.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Clements left for their home in Vooks Falls, N. Y., this morning after spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. E. H. Putnum, of South avenue.

BINGEMAN APPOINTED ASST. CAMP DIRECTOR

The sixth biennial reunion of the Jersey Boys' Camp which is conducted every summer at Lake Wawayanda, under the auspices of the State Boys' Work Committe of the Young Men's Christian Association of New Jersey, was opened in Montclair last night when a bountiful repast was served by the Women's Auxiliary of that association. The program included speeches and toasts by a number of prominent campers, a revival of the camp yells and songs, and preliminary announcements were made by Charles R. Scott, the camp director, in regard to the coming season's activities.

The most popular announcement of the evening, and the one to create the largest amount of enthusiasm from the large assemblage of older boys and men present, was the appointment of C. Wm. Bingeman, of this city, as first assistant to Mr. Scott in conducting the camp during the season of 1912. Mr. Bingeman has been the local exponent of the camp's interests since he came to this city in 1909 from the International Y. M. C. A. college, of Springfield, Mass. Since his connection with this association, Mr. Bingeman has taken fifty-three of this city's young men and boys to the State camp under his pesronal supervision. In 1909 eight boys attended the camp from this city, in 1910 over twice as many were enrolled, and in 1911 the Plainfield delegation numbered twenty-seven, or nearly four times as many as were taken by Mr. Bingeman in his initial year.

The Plainfield delegation of 1912 will without doubt be the largest ever sent from this city because of the fact that Mr. Bingeman will be in camp with a competent corp of associate leaders throughout the whole four sections, instead of the two he has heretofore spent in this manner.

Plainfield was doubly honored last evening when J. Raymond Manely, of this city, was appointed as one of the camp assistants for 1912 and he, like Mr. Bingeman, will be in camp the entire summer. "Ray," as he is familiarly known, will probably be placed in charge of the camp store and will assist in promoting the wireless telegraph work which has been recently instituted in the camp.

Registration applications for the coming summer should be made as soon as possible to Mr. Bingeman, as a large number of boys are unable to secure accommodations every year because they are delinquent in making application.

The reunion program continued throughout today and a series of observation trips have been planned for this afternoon. Arrangements have been completed by the committee in charge to conduct groups of delegates through the Fairfield Dairy, the Essex county Penitentiary and the State Home for boys at Vernon.

BOY AWAKES TO FIND HE'S BLIND

Atlantic City Lad Stricken Over Night.

SIGHT FAILED FROM STUDY

After Attending School All Day He Worked as Messenger Each Night Until 11 O'clock, Then Studied by Candle—Strain Too Great, Say Physicians.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 23.—Retiring with sight apparently normal, Hobart Bray awoke to find himself totally blind. Bray, who is sixteen years old and lives at 518 Baltic avenue, was taken to the Will's Eye hospital, Philadelphia.

Bray, a poor boy with ambitions, owes his misfortune perhaps to hard study. After putting in six hours daily at the public schools he has been assisting to support a large family by working as a telegraph messenger. When his work was over, usually about 11 o'clock at night, he prepared his lessons for the next day. He is considered one of the best pupils in his class.

Because of the family's poverty he has had to study by candle light at home. But his eyes never troubled him before. He was preparing for an examination, and it was almost 3 o'clock when he closed books and retired. He suffered from a severe headache, but finally went to sleep.

When he awoke about 6 o'clock to put in a couple of hours' work as a messenger before school time he was unable to see. The boy thought the failure of vision only temporary, but when home remedies failed to relieve him a physician was called. On his advice Hobart was taken to the hospital.

Neighbors made up a purse to assist in defraying the expense and his comrades with the telegraph company also "chipped in." The boy takes his affliction bravely and thinks only of the trouble he may be to his family.

COST $200 TO SAY "OLD MAID."

Bayonne Woman Sues Business Rival For Slander.

Jersey City, N. J., March 23.—It costs $200 to call a young woman an old maid in this city. Benjamin Rossteutch has learned this to his sorrow. He was sued for slander in the First district court and was ordered to pay that sum to Miss Fannie Manus of Bayonne.

Miss Manus' brother keeps a store at that address, and next door is the store of Rossteutch. There was a great deal of business rivalry, and Rossteutch endeavored to get even by referring to Miss Manus as an "old maid."

She stood it until Dec. 29 last, when with Abraham Levy, her fiance, she passed Rossteutch. He is alleged to have called her an old maid and said that no one would marry an old maid. Levy broke the engagement.

Miss Manus sued for slander and the case was tried, Miss Manus being represented by J. Faeber Goldenhorn and supported by dozens of her young women friends who were in court. When the verdict was announced by Judge Charles Garrick, who, with a jury, heard the case, they congratulated her and declared their willingness to be called old maids also.

LAD TO PRISON FOR 9 YEARS.

Fifteen-year-old Boy of Paterson Sentenced For Burglary.

Paterson, N. J., March 23.—Albert Vreeland, fifteen years old, of this place, was sentenced by Judge Scott to serve terms in state prison aggregating not less than nine years and not more than sixty-three years. He was convicted on nine charges of burglary.

With three other boys, one his brother, he was accused of entering homes on the east side and in the outskirts of the city, destroying paintings and other property.

In the residence of Marion D. Gall, Totowa borough, the intruder ate pies, played the piano and then destroyed the furnishings. A large quantity of jewelry, clothing and other valuables were stolen from the residences.

TOWN TO SUE RAILROAD.

West Orange to Bring Action for $10,000 Against Erie.

West Orange, N. J., March 23.—A suit for $10,000 damages against the Erie railroad will be brought by West Orange as soon as the town attorney can take the legal steps.

The town holds that the railroad constructed a concrete bridge over its tracks at a low point in the town, but did not make the opening large enough. The result was that streets were flooded and damaged and private property also suffered. The private owners have already filed claims against the town.

Fifty Dogs Set Free.

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—Somebody broke into the dog pound and set free fifty dogs of as many varieties. The dogs ran yelping down the street and scattered in all directions. Scores of small boys volunteered assistance in the hunt that followed the escape of the dogs, but hardly one of the animals was recaptured.

Tire Mileage His Hobby.

Nearly everyone seems to possess a hobby of one kind or another. Some people love cats—other dogs. Horses are common among hobbies. The collection of bric-a-brac and souvenir spoons come in for their share of attention. But of all the hobbies we have ever had called to our attention is the one possessed by the millionaire oil operator, John R. Chase, of San Jose, California. His hobby is mileage from automobile tires, although it don't make the least difference to him whether he must buy new tires every trip or one set a year. Tire mileage is his hobby and he keeps his chauffeur busy changing the back tires of his Mitchell Limousine to the front and the ones on the right to the left, carefully recording the extra miles he gets from one make of tire over another. And after he knows all about it he goes back to his oil wells and gathers up the price of a new set while he smokes a cigar.

SEVERE TUBE TEST.

Redlands, Cal., March 23.—William Thornquest, of the Redlands Vulcanizing Works, on West State street, which has the agency for the Fisk pure gum inner tube tire for automobiles, made a demonstration of this inner tube on the streets of Redlands recently that should convince the most skeptical that he has a "good thing." The extreme flexibility and strength of the tire were shown when it pulled an automobile, a Cadillac weighing about 3,000 pounds, over the streets of Redlands without the tire being damaged in the slightest. This seems to be the greatest test to which such a tire could be put, and seems to prove that it is pure gum.

The demonstration attracted considerable attention. A rope was attached to the back axle of Mr. Thornquest's machine and this was tied around the tire. Another rope, attached to the machine being towed, was also attached to the tire, the rubber itself making a connecting link between the two ropes. When the two machines would start out the tire would stretch ten feet, but was never damaged.

MOTOR TRUCK HELPS TRAFFIC.

"Traffic conditions in congested portions of our large cities have been so greatly improved by the motor truck," says A. W. Robinson, of the Locomobile Company, "that it is not a wonder that so much co-operation has been obtained from the municipal authorities and from the heads of the various railroad and shipping companies. Today the owner of the motor truck finds conditions vastly improved over those of three years ago, but there is still room for improvements and for added facilities whereby the efficiency of the motor truck can be so increased as to result in a still further saving for the owner, for the municipality and for the transportation companies.

"The efficiency of a motor truck varies directly with the percentage of time during which it is transporting producing loads. Consequently, every minute lost, either through delays due to the congestion of traffic, through wants to get up to or away from a loading platform, or through the necessity of making detours to avoid streets which have been closed by the municipal authorities, all go to cut down the efficiency of the truck by preventing it from making the number of ton miles which under normal circumstances it should.

EASY ON GASOLINE.

Phoenix, Ariz., has been very much interested recently in an economy test conducted by J. M. McCondra, of the Transcontinental Motor Company, of that city. Mr. McCondra used a stock Hupmobile and conducted his test in and around the city of Phoenix. The car was decorated with banners and flags and attracted a great deal of attention. It was Mr. McCondra's intention to see what the Hupmobile could do on two gallons of gasoline. He designated 60 miles as the minimum. With this amount sealed in his reservoir he started out at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and at 5:30 in the afternoon the checkers found that his speedometer registered 73 miles. The car during that time had used a pint of lubricating oil. Mr. McCondra drove at an average speed of 10 miles an hour. It was not necessary to make any adjustments to the engine during the test.

300 FORDS A DAY.

Despite the congestion of freight cars, the Ford Motor Company reached the high water mark in automobile shipments for 1912 last week, when 300 Model T's left the Ford shipping docks in one day. The following day the same number of Fords were shipped.

Those big shipments were 50 cars above the average needed to round out the total of 75,000 Ford cars for 1912.

On account of being unable to get freight cars just when they wanted them, the Ford Company is 3,800 cars behind its orders. However, it is expected that from this time on, the great shipments of Ford cars will go on uninterruptedly.

Commercial Manager N. A. Hawkins, of the Ford Motor Co., who has just returned from a two weeks' trip through the East, brought orders with him for the immediate shipment of 3,200 Model T cars.

Patching Blow-Out Holes.

When a hole in a shoe is to be patched, particularly one made by a blow-out, the rubber is first hung over a block form, and the material cut clear through to the fabric. This is done all around the shoe, including the bead if a thorough repair is to be made. The surface should then be buffed, ground or sand-papered down to an even and regular smoothness, after which the building-up or stepping process may proceed.

Stronger Bridges Needed.

The relation of the strength of bridges to the loads which motor trucks may carry in normal service is one which is of vital consequence to the motor trade and to commercial vehicle users generally. This is particularly true in New Jersey, where the municipality is, broadly speaking, not responsible for accidents which may accrue from unsafe conditions of the highways or bridges. In New York the rule of law on this point has been changed by statute.

Study These Exclusive R-C-H Features
You'll See Them on Many Other Cars---Next Year

THE enormous demand for the R-C-H—greater by thousands than for any other car in the history of the industry during a like period of its existence—is not due alone to its wonderfully sturdy construction or its price. It is due to the number of advanced ideas in design—ideas which everyone recognizes as great improvements, but which has never before been incorporated in a car at a popular price. Look them over!

And here's a little side-light on construction strength—one of many. A well-known English explorer desired a car to take with him into Africa—a car staunch and sturdy enough to travel where anything on wheels could go. He selected the R-C-H after a thorough test of a number of cars, many of them costing several times its price. So will you if you make the same test.

"If you can't get an R-C-H, and want a car as good, you'll pay several hundred dollars more."

R. C. H. derives its name from the initials of R. C. HUPP world-famed automobile designer and builder.

Model SS---Five-Passenger Touring Car---110-inch wheel base

f. o. b. DETROIT
SELF-STARTER
32x3½ inch TIRES

Dual ignition, demountable and quick-detachable rims, gas tank, extra rim, top, windshield, 5 lamps, horn, tools and tire repair kit, LONG STROKE MOTOR, 3 SPEEDS, ENCLOSED VALVES, MAGNETO.

English-type Body

This marks a greater advance in body construction than the introduction of fore-doors. It is almost universally used abroad on high-grade cars, and a few of the very highest-priced American cars have recently adopted it; but it is exclusive to the R-C-H among cars at a popular price.

Its lines are exceptionally graceful and beautiful; it is more comfortable and offers a better protection from dust than any other type of body. The front seat may be so well heated from the engine that a robe is unnecessary except in zero weather. In summer large rainproof ventilators afford coolness and perfect ventilation.

The one-piece windshield—another European idea—affords much better protection from the elements than the common folding type.

Left-Side Drive—Centre Control

There are two more features that every manufacturer is bound to come to. A right-side drive on American cars is an absurdity. It was originally copied from European models; but in Europe the rules of the road are just the reverse of what they are here. And with few exceptions manufacturers have followed it blindly, much to the discomfort of the American motorist.

The ideal location of the control—in the centre—convenient to the operator's right hand, yet out of the way, is apparent at a glance.

A Real Long-Stroke Motor

Automobile engineers have known for a long time that a motor with stroke long in relation to bore would produce more power than the so-called "square" motors. European cars have featured the long-stroke for some time. But the R-C-H has the first long-stroke motor used in an American car in quantity production. In two years' time practically all motor car engines will be long-stroke.

It is of course possible to overshoot the mark and make the stroke too long; but careful study of the best European practice and exhaustive engineering tests have determined that the ratio used in the R-C-H (3½x5) produces the maximum of power efficiency per fuel unit.

Standard Models

These are fully equipped with top, windshield, generator, horn, lamp and tools, and the specifications are the same as the SS models of the R-C-H. They have NOT, however, the self-starter and other special equipment quoted above. They are priced as follows: Touring car, $850; Roadster, $700.

General R-C-H Specifications

Motor—4 cylinders, cast en bloc—3¼-inch bore, 5-inch stroke. Two-bearing crank shaft. Timing gears and valved enclosed. Three-point suspension Drive—Left Side. Irreversible worm gear, 16-inch wheel. Control—Centre-lever operated through H plate, integral with universal joint housing just below. Springs—Front, semi-elliptic; rear, full elliptic and mounted on swivel seats. Frame—Pressed steel channel. Axles—Front, I-Beam, drop-forged; rear, semi-floating type. Body—English type, extra wide front seats. Wheelbase—110 inches. Full equipment quoted above.

We shall be glad to arrange demonstration to suit your convenience if you will write, telephone or call. But urge promptness, for we cannot increase our alotment by one car—and there won't be enough to go 'round.

AMATEURS SCORE HIT IN "PINAFORE"

P. H. S. Pupils Assisted by Trained Talent Win Applause From Audience.

GLEE CLUB'S 13TH CONCERT

Chorus of Almost Forty Voices from Among the Pupils—Experienced Singers Fill the Chief Solo Parts With Marked Success.

The performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's Comic opera classic "H. M. S. Pinafore," given by the pupils of the Plainfield High School assisted by outside talent, pleased a large audience Saturday night in the P. H. S. Auditorium. The opera was well presented. The soloists were supported by a chorus of nearly forty voices from the school.

The performanance was the thirteenth annual concert given by the school's glee club. For the past four years they have chosen operas by Gilbert and Sullivan, "Trial by Jury," "Patience" and the "Mikado."

All the leading characters in "Pinafore" were presented in the first scene. Harvey Hindemeyer, who is tenor soloists in the St. Paul's M. E. church of New York, made his appearance as Ralph Rack Straw and won hearty applause for his solo numbers and actings, as did Miss Queena Tillotson, of New York, who took the part of "Josephine." The duet parts by Miss Tillotson and Mr. Hindmeyer and the solo "I Go to a Dungeon Cell," by the latter were particularly well received. Mrs. Clarence Corney, of New York, who appeared in "Patience" last season, took the part of "Little Buttercup."

Charles L. Lewis as "Dick Deadeye," greatly amused the audience. Samuel B. Howe, who appeared in lordly fashion as Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., and Roy E. Titsworth as Captain Cocoran, Commanding H. M. S. Pinafore also scored. Those who took prominent parts were: Miss Emily Garda, Robert Butler and J. Raymond Manley.

The accompaniments were by an orchestra including Mrs. Violet Truell-Johnson, violin; Arthur Lewis, violin; James L. McNabb, clarionet and Mrs. Charles Lewis, piano.

The sailors' chorus was composed of the following boys: Valentine Goldsmith, Cortland Fleming, Harold Sharkey, Leslie Allen, Egbert Fountain, Edward Jenkins, Peyton Schenck, James Lindsey, Rutgers Neilson, Seward Lyons, Warren Butler and Kenneth McKenzie.

The girls' chorus of the First lords, sisters and cousins included: Mary Clark, Jessie Stewart, Ruth Douglas, Alice Mihl, Elizabeth Hammond, Viola Garda, Nora McDonough, Alice Van Horn, Mildred Brownlee, Clare Fleming, Rosamond Carey, Helen Leitheusser, Anna Smith, Ernestine Wilson, Esther Brownlee, Elsie Stevens, Mary Hunting, Gracve and Elizabeth Doig.

AMERICAN INFLUENCE ON MACDOWELL'S MUSIC

Music-lovers are anticipating with pleasure the lecture-recital to be given tomorrow night at the Hartridge Auditorium by G. C. Ashton Jonson. His subject will be "The Influence of American Climate, Scenery, Literature and History on the Work of Edward MacDowell," with illustrations.

Mr. Jonson is an Englishman of wide general culture and education. Of him Hawley has said in the Musical Courier:

"His lectures are given because he loves the work, and when one hears him it is at once apparent that he has none of the dead encyclopedic knowledge to work off on the public, but live, original ideas that hold and even thrill an audience."

TWO MINISTERS CONDUCT MRS. MELICK'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas L. Melick was held at the late home on East Second street, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Evarts C. Conover, of the Temple Baptist church, and the Rev. Dr. Conkling, of the Baptist church, Trenton, of which Mrs. Melick was a member, were in charge of the service. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends; also many floral tributes, including one from the fellow-employes of Mr. Melick in the gas department of the Public Service Corporation in this city and New Brunswick.

The burial was in Hillside Cemetery and the pall-bearers were W. R. Causebrook, G. G. Andrews, Frederick Soper and E. W. Poinier, of Plainfield; W. F. Thomas, of New Brunswick and Harry Ellis, of Camden.

Rasores Meeting.

The Razores will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. W. D. Murray, 202 West Ninth street. The subject will be William M. Thackeray.

TOUR CONTESTANTS ARE NOW ON HOME STRETCH

Pace Grows Swifter as Final Fortnight of Struggle Begins--Anybody's Race and no One Can Figure on Winners.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Miss Mabel Vail
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Florence Stevenson

As the sun goes down and the twilight begins to deepen on the Daily Press European Tours contest, a spirit of determination and earnestness is more than ever manifested on the part of the different candidates who are striving to win the European tour.. The voting is beginning to pick up after the natural lull following the close of the special period, and from now on to the finish the race is bound to grow more interesting and more exciting with the passing of each day. It is impossible to even guess at a winner in any district at this time, for the difference in the vote of any candidate may be changed in a day, and one of those near the bottom of the list is liable to grace the premier position in her district when the next day's paper is picked up.

As it now stands all the contestants in the five districts are in the race with heart and soul; and it is now wonder. There is no one who does not realize what liberal rewards will be given those who have worked so faithfully, and the consolation prizes which are offered will amply repay those who are not fortunate enough to win the coveted trips. The gameness of the candidates is remarkable. There are but few of those in the race who have not expressed themselves as determined to see it through to the end. All in all, the prospects for a glorious finish have never been better than at the present time, and unless all the indications are misleading, there will be some surprises when the final vote is counted on the evening of April 6 and the winners are announced.

LAWMAKERS YET HAVE MUCH TO DO

Many Important Bills to Be Considered Before Adjournment in Day or Two.

REDISTRICTING AMONG THEM

Adjournment to Be Taken Until Next Tuesday When Republican Legislature Will Act on Measures Vetoed by Demcratic Governor.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 25.—The Legislature broke a record of long standing today by meeting on Monday afternoon. Both branches assembled at 3 o'clock for the "home stretch" lawmaking session. The plan of the legislative leaders is to stop the lawmaking tomorrow or Wednesday and then take a recess until Tuesday of next week

The big bills which have yet been acted upon in either house are those providing for grand jury reform, Congressional redistricting, the bill for the abandonment of the Morris Canal and a few others. Grand Jury reform will come up in the Asembly tonight or tomorrow and will take the form of the substitute measure reported last week. It provides that grand jury lists must be advertised three weeks, the juries must be drawn under the supervision of the court and names may be stricken from the Sheriff's lists upon cause being shown. Congrssional redistricting will encounter strong objection from Bergen County from being placed with Warren and Sussex Counties and a portion of Passaic.

The Assembly must handle a lot of important measures which have passed the Senate. Among them are

The body will be placed in the receiving vault at Hillside cemetery until the return of the parents, when the burial will take place.

Remanded for Extradition.

George Jones, the negro, held here as a fugitive from New York, where he is wanted for attempted murder, was remanded to Elizabeth for thirty days by City Judge William G. DeMeza today, pending extradition proceedings.

SLEPT IN RAIN AFTER IMBIBING "MEDICINE"

John George, of Spooner avenue, was found asleep in the rain on the side walk at Plainfield avenue and West Fifth street, yesterday afternoon by a policeman. He was taken to the station house where he said he had drunk a bottle of a brand of malt whisky sold as a medicine, which he purchased at a drug store yesterday.

He was released today by City Judge William G. De Meza, after the police had gotten the name of the druggist of whom he said he procured the whisky. The police investigate the sale. There is a feeling that if no check exists against the Sunday sale of the whisky in question, one should be set up.

SHOCK FOR SATURDAY NIGHT CROWD ON FRONT STREET

Front street, in the neighborhood of the Post Office, was startled Saturady evening, when it beheld a very attractively dressed young woman walked boldly past with a lighted cigarette in her mouth.

The woman was first noticed by a group of boys who, despite the efforts of thesmoker's two men companions, insisted on following the party. The crowd of inquisitive followers who had numbered but two or three at Washington avenue rapidly grew until it locked like a small sized mob when the Post Office was reached.

The sight of the policeman stationed in front of Proctor's seemed to disturb the party of three and they turned up Madison avenue. They succeeded in losing the crowd by the time they had reached North Plainfield.

Investigation disclosed an explanation of the "bold" smoke. The party were members of an amateur dramatic organization which had been rehearsing a play. The cast is entirely composed of young men, and the cigarette smoker was one of the players who impersonates a woman. He dressed at his residence for convenience's sake, and had to go back home in costume.

DELAY IN FILLING TAX VACANCY DISTURBS PARTY

Elizabeth, March 25. — Governor Wilson's failure to appoint a successor to Frederick H. Andrews, of Plainfield, whose term as a member of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Tax Assesments expires April 1, is causing considerable concern among Democratic politicians. It has been expected that the Governor would name former Assemblyman Calvin E. Brodhead, of Plainfield. The delay, however, causes many to believe that some other man may be named.

Former Asemblyman Hugh J. McLoughlin is a candidate for the position. He visited the Governor about two weeks ago and was told at that time that no choice had been made. Other candidates for the position are Patrick J. Reville, of Plainfield and Councilman George H. Schlotterer, of this city.

The appointment of a new member of the County Tax Board will place that body, in control of the Democrats, and a Democratic secretary of the board will be elected to succeed Sydney W. Elridge, whose term expires May 1. John R. Connolly, a lawyer, has been indorsed for the position. It was understood some time ago that the Governor desired to have the secretaryship settled before he named the new member.

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH CHOIR SINGS "CRUCIFIXION"

"The Crucifixion," a meditation on the sacred Passion of the Holy Redeemer, written by Rev. W. J. Sparrow-Simpson, M. A., with the music by Stainer, was rendered by the quartet of the Crescent Avenue church, last night. The rendition was an excellent one and there was a good congregation, despite the inclement weather.

An organ recital lasting for fifteen minutes preceded the cantata, a fitting prelude to the service which was to follow. The music was in charge of Charles L. Gulick, organist. The quartet choir comprised Miss Lillian Vernon Watt, soprano; Miss Mary Hubbell, contralto; Harry Hepner, tenor, and A. E. Betteridge, bass and the voices were carefully trained for the service.

Present Your Bills.

PETITIONS FOR RIGID MEASLES QUARANTINE

Leading Physicians Sign Papers Circulated by Mrs. J. D. Phillips--Fear of a Widespread Epidemic Apparently Becoming General.

Mrs. Joseph D. Phillips, of Denmark road, has taken the initiative in circulating petitions to be present to the Board of Health requesting that quaranaine regulations be established in all cases of measles in the city. These petitions, several in number, have been generally signed by residents and many leading physicans.

The petitioners assert that there are now within a radius of two miles of the centre of the city between 500 and 600 cases of measles and under the present health regulation the disease is likely to spread to even a greater extent. Cases are cited where children with measles have been allowd to attend school and no attempt has been made to prevent the spread of the disease.

Several years ago it was the rule to quarantine for measles, but recently the regulation was abolished. Because of the great many cases of the disease in the city the idea is becoming general that it is advisable and wise that quaratine regulations be established.

FOUR SERVICES BY S. A. STAFF BAND

Crack Musical Organization of the Rescue Army Draws Big Congregations.

CHARMS WESTFIELD CHURCH

Which Extends a Warm Invitation to Return at Any Time—Park Ave. and First Baptist Congregations Moved to Admiration.

The National Staff Band of the Salvation Army made its annual visit to the city over the week-end and at all the services in which it took part there were large congregations, despite the inclement weather. The band made an excellent appearance and the playing and singing by the members were the themes of admiring comment.

The first indoor service began with a concert at the Army's auditorium, Saturday night, where a capacity audience enjoyed the program. The musicians rendered a popular program, and especially good was a tenor solo by Staff-Captain Berg, who sang in Swedish.

Yesterday morning the band visited the Park Avenue Baptist church, where a large congregation assembled. The pastor, Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, greeted Col. McIntyre and the band in a characteristic way, and praised the Salvation Army for its great work. The service was of so much interest that it was extended beyond the usual time. A feature was a bass solo by Captain Frank Fowler, entitled "This is Not My Home," to the tune of "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."

In the afternoon the band and visiting officers conducted a service in the Presbyterian church at Westfield, which was so pleasing that the army received an invitation to return to the church at any time. The services at the First Baptist church, this city, last night, attracted an unusually large congregation. The band rendered an inspiring program of vocal and instrumental music which was appreciated.

Col W. N. Jenkins was in charge of the service and delivered a strong sermon on "The Parables of the Treasure Found in the Field and the Merchantman Seeking Goodly Pearls." His line of thought and able argument held the close attention of the audience.

Other services were held in the Temple Baptist church in the morning, where Major George F. Casler was in charge and at the Scotch Plains Baptist church, where Col Jenkins preached a strong sermon.

ANOTHER SPEAKER ADDED TO C. OF C. DINNER LIST

James Kenyon, widely known as a lecturer and after-dinner speaker, has been secured by the committee as an additional speaker for the Chamber of Commerce banquet at Truell Hall, next Saturday night. He will talk on "Science of Business Building." Mr. Kenyon has addressed the Board of Trade of Wilmington, Del.; the Trenton Chamber of Commerce and other similar organizations. His speech is one that will appeal directly to the merchants of a city.

There is a great demand for banquet tickets. They can be secured at Schreiner Brothers' drug store or at Hodge's drug store in the Y. M. C. A. The price is $5.

A. R. FISK AND C. T. RUNYON PARTNERS IN CHICKEN FARM

Augustus R. Fisk, son of former mayor Charles J. Fisk and Carrol T. Runyon, son of Nelson Ruyon, have formed partnership to conduct poultry raising on a large scale. The enterprise wil be known as the Sun Ridge Farm Company and is to be located on a 140-acre farm near Woodstock, Vt., Mr. Fisk has been located there for some time and Mr. Runyon will leave for Vermont tonight.

It is the plan of the two Plainfielders to make the Sun Ridge Farm one of the largest poultry establishments. They have purchased 600 fancy leghorn chickens and hope to have 6,000 before a years elapses. The products from the farm will be sold in the New York and Boston markets.

COMMISSIONER EXPLAINS LABOR'S CONSERVATION

The protection of the life and health of New Jersey employes under the present labor laws of the State and the application of the present employers' liability law were explained by Colonel Lewis T. Bryant, State commissioner of labor and industries, in Taylor Opera House Trenton, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held under the asupices of the Allied Printing Trades Council and the Central Labor Union. About 500 men and women were present.

In speaking of the liability and compensation law, Colonel Bryant declared that it was fast creating an ideal situation between the employer and workman. "An examination of 2,00 accident reports coming to the State department in the half year just passed, shows that 88 per cent were subject to the compensation section of our law," declared the speaker. "A further study of these reports indicates that of these cases 94 per cent. have received compensation. Of the cases that appear to have been entitled medical aid, 98 per cent have received it.

Only one-half of one per cent. of all accidents have been submitted to a judge of a Court of Common Pleas for settlement. Thirteen fatal cases, involving dependents have been reported, and of these, compensation is being paid in eleven cases. Of 14 fatal cases without dependents, last sickness and death expenses have been met in twelve instances. These figures apply only to manufacturing industries."

MISS KARR'S PUPILS GIVE HIGHLY PLEASING RECITAL

The piano pupils of Miss Grace Powell Karr gave a pleasing recital in the latter's studio in the Babcock building, Saturday afternoon. A feature were two charming ballads rendered by Miss Florence Cary, a talented young pupil of Mrs. McNeill Hopcraft.

Others who took part in the program were the Misses Frances Avery, Beatrice DeCamp, Clara Hadley, Alice Simons, Dorothy Roberts, Aleta and Grace MacDowell, Frances Shaw, Mildred Clark, Eleanor Searing, Sarah Schuck, Grace Gillahan, Genevieve Letson, Ethel Wendell, Katherine Holt, Messrs. Howard Hile and Percy Stelle.

"The Wearing of the Green" was sung by a chorus of children, who "wore the green." They sang also other airs. The studio was artistically decorated in Erin's own green. Miss Clara B. Hadley carried off the prize for devoting the most time to practice during February, her record being thirty-five minutes more than her nearest rival, Miss Beatrice DeCamp.

Fight Case Postponed.

Samuel Berkowitz and Harry Kauffman, both employed at the Rushmore Dynamo Works, who were arrested for fighting while on their way home from work Saturday afternoon, were remanded for a week by City Judge William G. DeMeza today. Robert Newton Crane is Kauffman's lawyer and J. Henry Crane represents Berkowitz.

"A Yankee in Ireland."

Rev. Dr. W. H. Morgan, pastor of the Central M. E. church, Newark, will give a lecture on "A Yankee in Ireland," at the Park Avenue Baptist church, Friday night ,under the auspices of the Men's Bible Class. There will be no admission charged and the public is cordially invited.

STORM NO BAR TO THIS NONOGENARIAN

Mrs. Lois Sperry, 91 Saturday, Went to Church as Usual Yesterday.

QUIET BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

Probably Oldest Resident of North Plainfield is Remarkable in her Activity—Keen-witted and Interested in All That Goes on.

Mrs. Lois Sperry, credited with being North Plainfield's oldest and most interesting woman resident, reached her ninety-first milestone in life, Saturday, and besides holding an informal reception for relatives and friends, further demonstrated her contempt for inactive nonogenarians by braving yesterday's inclement weather to attend the morning service in Grace M. E. church. She divided interest with the proceedings and at the close was surrounded by friends who showered her with congratulations. She responded to one and all with original pleasantly, asserting with delightful assurance that she did not feel nearly as old as they made her out to be.

Mrs. Sperry makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Stevens, of Grandview avenue, and it was there she received calls from relatives and friends, Saturday. No attempt at formality was made but the happy celebrant was kept busy entertaining and she was presented with numerous handsome floral tokens and many useful presents.

Mrs. Sperry was born at Annsville, near Rome, N. Y., on March 23, 1821, living there the greater part of her life. She was the second of a family of eleven children, of whom only one other is living, Mrs. Eliza Gould, of Northville, Fulton county, N. Y. Mrs. Sperry removed to Oswego, N. Y., late in life and twenty-five years ago came to North Plainfield to live with her daughter. The relatives at the informal gathering Saturday included two of her grandchildren, Miss Mabel Stevens and Dr. Raymond A. Stevens, of the borough, and a great grand-daughter, Miss Lois Burton, of Suffern, N. Y.

Despite her advanced age, Mrs. Sperry's faculties are in what might be termed perfect condition. She not only sees and hears without any suspicion of impending failure but moves about with the agility of one many years her junior. Her memory serves none of the forgetful trickeries of those in the twilight of life, making her a delightful narrator of reminiscences, and regular attendance at church is only one of the interests. She has her own ideas about living and has such implicit faith in them that she will undoubtedly remain to receive congratulations on her one hundredth natal day.

EPISCOPAL CONGREGATIONS HEAR MISSION SECRETARY

Rev. Dr. John R. Harding, secretary of the Second Missionary Department of the Episcopal church, visited three of the Episcopal churches of the city and borough, yesterday, preaching to a large congregation at each one. His general theme for the day was "Missions" and at each church he touched on a different phase of the work.

Dr. Harding preached at Grace church in the morning on the general mission work of the church in foreign lands. In the afternoon at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Dr. Harding said that $1,300,000 would be required for the coming year.

Speaking at the Holy Cross church last night, Dr. Harding gave a history of missions in the Episcopal church.

PIERSON PLEADS NON VULT; WOMAN GOES ON TRIAL

Elizabeth, March 25 (Special).—J. Grant Pierson, of Plainfield, was arraigned in the Union County Court, today, and pleaded non vult to the charge of desertion and another serious charge. Mrs. Mary Vliet, alleged to have been Pierson's companion after his flight to New York, is standing trial.

The case was still on at 3 o'clock and it looked then as if it would take up the rest of the court day.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS DEFEAT TRENTON Y. W. C. A

The N. P. H. S. basketball team defeated the Trenton Y. W. C. A., at that place Friday night, by a score, 25-26. The game was strong and fast from the beginning to end and one of the best exhibitions of a girls' games given this season. Address all communications to CONTEST MANAGER, Plainfield Daily Press, Plainfield, N. J.

NOW ON HOME STRETCH

Attention should be called to the manner in which some of the ballots are cast, for a number of votes have been lost purely through carlessness. Many loose ballots have been found with no names on, and of course these votes have been lost to the candidates for whom they were intended. If the ballots are fastened securely together and the candidates name and district number written plainly on the top coupon, she is sure to have them credited to her vote.

But two more weeks remain in which to secure the votes which will be good for a two months' vacation in Europe. Much can de done in that time. And if each one goes about it in the right way, making the most of the spare moments, imbued with the proper determination, there will be no cause for regrets.

We Are Splendidly Prepared With These Handsome Suits and Stunning Hats

to help you appear at your very best in the approaching Easter parade.

Our Stocks Were Never More Complete or So Moderately Priced.

Church Parade on Easter Sunday is the generally accepted occasion on which all women cast aside their winter fashions and dress and put on the new apparel Dame Fashion has decreed for Spring and Summer wear. Are you preparing to take your place in the joyful crowds? Let us help you with these many beautiful things we have gathered together for your pleasure.

OUR MILLINERY PARLORS

are replete with a wondrous array of the new Spring Models. The more delicate shades mingle with crimson, Emerald greens, yellows, browns, blues, and everywhere you turn you see flowers and foliage that herald the newly arrived season. There's a big assortment of models plainly and elaborately trimmed; peach basket shapes, picture hats, helmet shapes, toques and turbans and some with deep roll brims, and of course flowers and ribbons enter into the trimming very largely; laces, however, are being used very extensively this season and we can show you several very handsome models thus trimmed. And the prices—we feel confident you will say that they are the most reasonable you have seen, so far, ranging from $2.98 up to $25.00.

Stylish Models in Women's Tailored Suits---All Moderately Priced

The removal of our Ladies' and Misses' Ready-to-Wear Department to the 2nd floor enables us to devote ten times more space to this very important section than before. This is of great importance to our patrons as we are able to carry greater and more assorted stocks, and it gives you distinct privacy while making your selection and fitting; and besides, we have been able to look after your personal comforts while shopping, by fitting the department out in a thoroughly up-to-date manner. Our rule of worthy merchandise at moderate prices is, and always will be, strongly in evidence as exemplified by the two following unapproachable values.

Smart models in Mannish Tailored Suits, fashioned of only all wool materials, which include serges, mixtures, stripe effects, etc. They are satin lined and the workmanship is perfect, and we are sure you would have to pay quite $20.00 elsewhere for the same suits. Our special price is only $17.50

Here's a group of very smart suits, splendidly made of thoroughly all wool fabrics, such as serges, whipcords (which are very stylish), mannish worsteds, etc. They are cut very stylishly; some with the deep revere and with turn back cuffs and are worth at least $25; our special price is only $22.50

56-inch Cream Basket Cloth at Only 1.79

A beautiful fabric for your Spring Suits and Dresses—not too heavy, with a novelty shadow stripe running thru it. All wool quality and extra wide; specially priced at $1.79 a yard. Will make up splendidly.

Fabrics for Tailored Suits in a Wide Assortment at 50c

We are showing a big range of weaves and cloths for your Spring Suits, etc., at half dollar a yard; checks, serges, batistes, mixtures, stripe effects, and a variety of fancy weaves, good qualities, too, that will wear well.

LETTER MAY BE CLEW TO BOMBS

Delancey Nicoll Receives Threat In Post.

WAS MAILED WITH PACKAGE

Second Infernal Machine Sent to Judge Rosalsky, but Intercepted by Police, Preserved Intact and May Furnish Clew in Itself.

New York, March 25.—That a second bomb was sent a few days ago to Judge Rosalsky and that a threatening letter has been received by Delancy Nicoll, a lawyer who has taken a prominent part in the recent Brandt-Schiff case, has just become known to the public. That the Nicoll letter may be a clew that will help solve the mystery of the identity of the sender of the two bombs to Judge Rosalsky was indicated by the precautions with which the police were guarding the information they possess and the alertness with which they were following every "lead" that the cases seemed to present. It is said that the letter sent to Mr. Nicoll was mailed at the same time as the latest Rosalsky bomb.

Deputy Commissioner Dougherty refused to discuss the second bomb sent to Judge Rosalsky, but he would not deny that his men were working to arrest the sender. Judge Rosalsky said that all information concerning the bomb must come from the police.

The second bomb mailed to Judge Rosalsky, it is said, was similar in construction to the one received at his apartments in the Hendrick Hudson, Riverside drive and One Hundred and Tenth street, a week ago.

The bomb was mailed at some distant postoffice and was received on Wednesday last in Postal Station H, in One Hundred and Second street, near Amsterdam avenue. The receipt of the package in the postal station was called to the attention of the postal inspectors who had been assigned to watch all packages that came through the mail.

They immediately got in communication with Commissioner Dougherty. The latter, with Inspector Hughes, called on Judge Rosalsky at the criminal courts building and had a long conference with him. They persuaded the judge, it was learned, to permit two detectives to guard him on his way to and from the courthouse.

Because of the fact that the second bomb was turned over to the police intact it is thought that some clew may be obtained from it that will lead to the identification of the sender. In order that nothing unexpected might happen to cause this bomb to explode, thus destroying all the marks on it, great care was taken in opening the package at the bureau of combustibles, where it was taken by Commissioner Dougherty. Everything about it—its size, post marks, typewriting, possible finger marks, etc.—was first made note of before any attempt was made to open it.

After all this was done the package was carefully unwrapped and was found to contain a cleverly constructed infernal machine, which had it been opened by any but an expert would have undoubtedly exploded with deadly effect.

The threatening letter sent to Delancey Nicoll was received at the latter's home on Thursday afternoon and turned over to the police on Friday morning.

In the letter the writer gave instructions that the $10,000 he demanded should be placed in a package and be ready for delivery to him when he called at the Nicoll residence between 4 and 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Policemen were watching in the neighborhood at the time, but no one who seemed suspicious put in an appearance.

Delancey Nicoll gave a statement telling of the circumstances of the receipt of the letter threatening his life if he did not pay the $10,000 which was demanded. He said that the letter had not alarmed him at all, for it was not the first time a threat had come to him. But on the point of previous notes he would say nothing.

Mr. Nicoll said the handwriting indicated the writer was a person of intelligence, with a good knowledge of English. He did not connect the writer of the letter he received with the person who sent the bombs to Judge Rosalsky. There was no ground, he thought, for such a conclusion.

He declined to give a copy of the letter which had come to him. Mr. Nicoll said the letter he received threatening his life referred to a long prison sentence imposed when he was district attorney and also the bomb recently sent to Judge Rosalsky.

Mr. Nicoll said that no particular case was mentioned when the writer spoke of a "long prison sentence" and that he could not connect any one case he handled when district attorney that might give him a clew as to the writer of his letter.

T. R. MAY INTERRUPT LA FOLLETTE WORKERS

Possibility of Including Nebraska on Western Trip.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 25.—As the result of what Judge Ben Lindsay, who is his guest, told Colonel Roosevelt and his friends Mr. Roosevelt on his western trip, starting Tuesday, may go to Nebraska to speak. The La Follette forces have been crowding on full steam in their campaign in that state, and it is felt a word from the colonel to the Nebraskans in person will be all sufficient to gather up his strength there.

Colonel Roosevelt returned from his Maine jaunt pleased and confident of the result of his speech at Portland. The colonel rode out from New York here with Kermit Roosevelt, who had met him there, and the two drove direct to Sagamore Hill in the park wagon on arrival. The colonel was in his usual exuberant mood on the return journey from Portland despite the 1 a. m. train start he had made both going and returning and notwithstanding his spill, the result of the collapsing platform at Portland and the loss of his pajamas en route.

Medill McCormick, the Roosevelt chief of staff at Washington, who came down from Portland to New York with the colonel, did most of the talking of gleanings from the Maine trip. The colonel's welcome to Portland was an ovation, he said. He told of applauding crowds lining the streets.

"The older men told the colonel's friends," he continued, "that in the state for more than a generation there had not been an audience which for size, intelligence and for the enthusiasm equaled that which listened to the colonel Saturday night."

Mr. McCormick said that a statewide Roosevelt organization had been formed after the meeting to campaign in all towns and counties where delegates to the state convention have not yet been elected. The state convention meets on April 10. He claimed one half of those delegates to the state convention already elected as instructed for Roosevelt and the other half as uninstructed."

WORSHIPPERS FED AT CHURCH

No Time to Go Home For Meals During One Day Revival Services.

Baltimore, Md., March 25.—So crowded were the arrangements for an all day revival meeting at the Methodist Church of the Redeemer that dinner and supper had to be arranged for the church workers and worshippers.

Rev. E. T. Liddell has recently been conducting a successful series of revival meetings in Virginia. He could come to this city only for a single day, so it was determined by Rev. J. K. Snyder, pastor of the church, and his officials not only to turn over the morning, afternoon and night services to the visiting evangelist, but also to arrange extra meetings.

$4,000 DIAMONDS STOLEN.

Cook, Asleep In Office, Says Robbers Bound and Gagged Him.

New York, March 25.—Diamond set jewels, valued at more than $4,000, and $300 in cash are said to have been taken from a safe in the office of Sovlnr Bros., jewelry peddlers, on West Twenty-seventh street.

Alfred Lustgarten, a cook, who was asleep in the room from which the jewels and money were taken, says he was bound and gagged by four men, who entered the place and pried open the safe.

LITERARY.

For April, 1912, Lippincott's Magazine offers a dainty list of contents adapted to the exacting appetite of the spring. The complete novel is a cheerful, diverting, and delightful story, called "The Stolen Woman," by Eleanor M. Ingram, whose previous novels, "Stanton Wins," "From the Car Behind," and "The Substitute," were widely read and universally praised. Her theme this time is the calm way in which the hero demonstrates that he is the master not only of his own fate but of several other people's as well. The mere fact that the girl he falls in love with is about to be married to another man deters him not a whit; he simply resorts to the primitive way of securing a bride by carrying her off willy-willy. As it happens, the girl has a will of her own, and there are some interesting complications before the clever denouement is reached.

The first of Arnold Bennett's articles on America has just appeared in Harper's Magazine under the title "Your United States." Bennett's first impressions are here disclosed, together with some very direct and feeling remarks about interviewers. In Harper's for April he says, among other things: Excitement will indeed take strange forms. For myself, although I was on the threshold of the greatest adventure of my life, I was unaware of being excited—I had not even "smelled" land, to say nothing of having seen it—until when it was quite dark, I described a queerly arranged group of different colored lights in the distance—yellow, red, green and what not. My thought ran instantly to Coney Island, and that it was a place where people had to be attracted and distracted somehow, and I decided that these illuminations were a device of the pleasure-mongers of Coney. And when the ship began to salute these illuminations with answering flares I thought the captain was a rather good-natured man to consent thus to amuse the populace. But when we slowed, our propellers covering the calm sea with acres of foam, and the whole entire illuminations began to approach us in a body, I perceived that my Coney Island was merely another craft, but a very important and official craft. An extremely small boat soon detached itself. The United States had stretched out a tentacle.

Extraordinary Sale Reg. 59c French Serge Linens . . . 39c

The geatest dress linen special of the season. A rare opportunity to save substantially on your summer's choicest dress or suit. Every one knows what a great favorite this ilnen is with stylish dressers. 47 inches wide, genuine French goods, dull finish, round thread, heavy weight, exceptional quality, each piece bears the "Fleur de France" stamp; all yarn dyed, fast colors.

Similar sale a year ago of special 39c linen has brought hundreds of requests for such a sale this year. So by dint of great effort and planning at a time when dress linens are scarce and at the very height of popularity, we have succeeded in landing this splendid lot of bright, fresh, beautiful new linens.

It should create tremendous selling and further enhance our great reputation for selling the best dress linens. The range of colors includes white, light blue, pink, champagne, tan, coral, cadet, old rose, helio, Copenhagen, lavender, leather, reseda, sage, American beauty, wistaria, gray, amethyst, porcelain, navy blue and black; especially suited for summer coats, suits, dresses and skirts; every thread pure linen; regular 59c; special, yard.....39c

MARRIAGE PREREQUISITE.

An advanced policy with regard to the administration of the marriage ceremony will be inaugurated at the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul, Chicago, on Easter Day. No wedding will be permitted to take place at the cathedral unless the contracting parties present certificates of health "from a reputable physician to the effect that they are normal physically and mentally, and have neither an incurable nor communicable disease." The Very Rev. Dr. Sumner, dean of the cathedral, in announcing the innovation yesterday, stated that he believes that his stand will meet with the approval of the clergy in the Church at large, "all of whom have felt the undesirability of being party to the marriage of persons who, because of their physical condition, should never be allowed to enter into the marriage state." The dean does not expect to bring about any great good all at once but he does hope to see his idea adopted elsewhere and that his protest will be the starting of a general reform.

Opinions of clergy of various denominations differ widely regarding the feasibility of the plan. Bishop Fallows, of the Reformed Episcopal church, for instance, approves of the idea but considers that the time has not arrived for its adoption. He says in the course of an interview: "I am one of the directors of the Juvenile Frances Association, and for this reason I am naturally in favor of Dean Sumner's plan. In our association we care for the children who have been born with diseases. There are many more such cases than one would imagine possible, and this means that there is a great need for some step in the direction of purifying the marriage ceremony. But I believe that Dean Sumner is ahead of his time. I hardly think the Church is yet ready to take up a move of this sort, but there certainly is a need for some sort of legislation on the subject of eugenics, and it is my belief that the action of the Cathedral ministers will go far toward attracting attention to this need."

However much the clerygmen disagree as to the Dean's innovation, it will surely stir up general discussion which will be the means of arousing the people to the real importance of a physical and mental examination for one who is about to marry.

A goodly measure of the success attained in this country by that magnificent army of well-disposed men and women in the crusade against the Great White Plague is due to the spirit displayed by newspaper and magazine publishers in giving the free use of their columns in the campaign of education, an essential feature of the work. It is estimated by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis that one and a half million inches of space are being devoted every year by these mediums. "If all the space given by American newspapers and magazines in the last year to the fight against tuberculosis were gathered in one paper it would make a newspaper of 6,250 pages," said Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association. "More than ninety miles of space have been devoted to the fight in the last four years. Publicity is essential in the fight, and when tuberculosis has become a rare disease the American press may justly lay claim to a big share in the achievement."

In this connection, we desire to call attention to the fact that a Saturday feature of the Daily Press is the Anti-Tuberculosis Column. This department is conducted under the auspices of the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League, an organization of some 1,200 representative citizens, and is edited by a staff appointed by that body.

Seldom has there been a better example of newspaper bias than is displayed by the New York and Philadelphia dailies in the way they are handling the Taft-Roosevelt Presidential nomination fight. Papers that thunder against Taft in their editorial columns exclude from the news columns anything favorable to him, but make big spreads of any insignificant item, showing opposition, and vica versa. This attitude the people would not tolerate on the part of a small city daily but they think nothing of it when a metropolitan newspaper is the offender. The lack of independence and honesty of purpose in the conduct of the news policy of the great dailies, however, account for the lack of influence they would otherwise naturally wield. The day is coming, though it may be a long way off, when the big dailies' managers will realize that "honesty is the best policy."

The New York Times yesterday was remarkable in more than one way. Its marvellous reproduction in colors of Edwin A. Abbey's "Holy Grail," for instance, was a commendable bit of enterprise. Over 382,000 pounds of paper were consumed in printing the edition of the paper which meant an expense of $10,000 alone. If these papers had been laid out flat and placed one on top of another they would have made a pile 180 times as high as the Metropolitan tower in New York. To manufacture the paper used meant the cutting down of seventy-two acres of spruce timber. This gives one some idea of the virgin forest lands laid waste every year for newspaper and magazine purposes.

The objects of the Boy Scout movement, a camp of which will be organized at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, should be, and undoubtedly are, attractive to the average youth. Wherever camps have been formed, great enthusiasm has been shown, as is told in the reports of James E. West, chief scout executive of the Boys Scouts of America, who predicts that there will be 4,000 active camps in this country by the time summer comes. Every lad in the city and borough should attend the meeting here tonight at the Y. M. C. A., when the aims of the organization will be fully explained by one of the field men.

F. H. Andrews' term as a member of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes expires one week from tomorrow. For some reason that the politicians do not claim to know, the Governor has not named his successor as yet. There have been persistent rumors, apparently well-founded, however, that Calvin E. Brodhead, of this city, is slated for the place. But if this be the case, why the delay?

It will be well for those who desire to attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet at Truell Hall on Saturday night to obtain their tickets early, particularly as the committee reports a heavy demand for seats and there is sure to be a big crowd on hand.

An exchange tersely says: "Good newspaper advertising in a good daily newspaper makes big tradesmen out of small tradesman."

PERSONAL.

Arthur Decker, of Brooklyn, spent the week-end in Plainfield with relatives.

Edward Hobble, of Elmwood place who has been quite ill with the grip, is improving.

Frank P. Share, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Nash, of De Lacy avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Sweeny, of New York city, are the parents of a son, born to them yesterday.

Miss Hazel Godown, of the West End, has been admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Walter M. McGee and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth McGee, of the borough, are spending some time at Atlantic City for the benefit of Mrs. McGee's health.

Mrs. Lambert and daughter, Miss Caroline Lambert, of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, returned home yesterday after a visit with Mrs. B. M. Richards, of East Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lyman, formerly of this city, but now of New York, spent Saturdy and Sunday here with relatives and friends. Mr. Lyman was formerly a local newspaper reporter, but is now with the New York Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Randolph, of Minneapolis, are visiting Mr. Randolph's mother, Mrs. George Randolph, of Park avenue. Mr. Randdolph was in the employ of the Associated Press in Minneapolis as an operator and will take a similar position with the Associated Press in New York.

VACCINATION OPPONENTS VICTORIOUS IN PASSAIC.

Passaic, March 25.—Anti-vaccinationists have won out in their fight against the Board of Education's rule that all school children must present certificates or be vaccinated. When the case against Health Commissioner George H. Michels was called in the police court Saturday he having been arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by the School Board because he refused to have his 11-year-old daughter inoculated, Truant Officer Herman F. Weber did not press the charge and the case was dismissed by Judge Thomas P. Costello. The Board of Education at a recent meeting decided it was without power to inforce the rule and Truant Officer Weber was instructed to withdraw the complaint.

When Mr. Michels was notified to have his daughter vaccinated he refused to comply with the order stating that his father had died from smallpox and his sister was crippled after inoculation, adding that he would move out of the State before he would obey. His arrest resulted in a lively controversy among physicians, particularly after Health Officer Nelson Elliot advised parents that vaccination of children, in his opinion, was dangerous and unnecessary unless during a smalpox epidemic.

The Board of Education has granted Commissioner Michel's daughter privilege to return to school. There are at least 100 other parents who refused to comply with the compulsory vaccination edict, and their children likewise have returned to their studies.

Hixon-Seals.

High Bridge, March 25.—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Daisy Seals, formerly of this place, to Clark A. Hixon, of Phillipsburg. The ceremony took place at Clinton. Upon returning from a wedding trip they will begin housekeeping at Phillipsburg.

ILLNESS HALTS PLANS FOR MEMORIAL CHURCH.

Elizabeth, March 25.—Further details of the church for St. Catherine's Roman Catholic parish, to be given by Thomas J. Fitzpatrick of Hillside avenue, Lyons Farms, in memory of his wife, have been outlined. The edifice will be of Indiana limestone and will have a seating capacity of about 400. Mr. Fitzpatrick is ill and until he recovers nothing further will be done. The church will be located in the Lyons Farms-Saybrook section of the city.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is almost eighty years of age. He was born in Ireland, as was his wife. The former, with his parents, came to this country when he was only a boy. They located in New York and after spending some time there moved out to the section which is now Lyons Farms.

When about twenty-two years of age the son engaged in the milk business, from which he retired several years ago. His real estate holdings are very large, it is said.

Death of Jesse Merrill.

Flemington, March 25—Jesse Merrill, a Raritan Township farmer, died at his home, west of Flemington. He had been suffering from asthma for several weeks and was thought to have been recovering when he became suddenly worse. He was sixty-seven years old and is survived by a widow and three children. They are Miss Lou D. Merrill, Katherine Sugham Merrill and Asa S. Merrill. The funeral was held at the home this morning. Burial will be in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Will Speak to Painters.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, will address the local Painters' Union in Building Trades' Council Hall, tomorrow night on a popular subject.

An organization of the Plainfield Nest of Owls will be effected at Building Trades' Hall, tonight. It is expected that many Owls from various parts of the State will be present.

The members of Franklin and Somerset Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., are planning for an informal reception to be held early in April when the Councils take possession of their new quarters in Columbus Hall on East Front street.

GORGEOUS RIBBONS MAKE NEW MILLINERY LOVELY

SIMPLICITY seems to be the keynote of Easter millinery. Models, while elegant, are simple enough to please even the most retiring tastes. Ribbons are much used on gowns for afternoon street wear, but the ribbons are manipulated to give all sorts of odd effects. There are ribbons wired to look like quills or ribbon wings. Hats have a wider brim and fit less closely to the head so that more of the hair is seen, a result which should be much appreciated, as it nearly always adds to the good looks of the wearer. Hats are lined or faced with a band of velvet. Cerise and geranium red are to be two popular spring colors. The models shown here are of fancy straw adorned with bows and bands of ribbon, the latter embellished with rows of shirring.

The braids of spring hats are rough and smooth, fine and coarse. Ramie, in the new color tones, is found satisfactory.

Some of the hats of the wide brimmed model have just a slight bend upward at the front, and the wearer may, if she so desires, tilt these flat hats just a little to one side.

The turbans have a general tendency toward height, whether this effect is attained by the trimming or is a part of the hat itself.

In these models mixtures of two sorts of braids are not uncommon, though many are of glossy or dull in nacre and plain colors.

Some of the flower turbans for spring are mixed with braid and also nacre silk and velvet, and in some the crowns of the hats are of flowers and the brims are of taffeta.

Fashion so far is dividing honors between the narrow and broad brimmed hats and because some women look well in one and some in the other.

EIDERDOWN QUILTS.

How They May Be Successfully Washed at Home.

Silk or sateen covered eiderdown quilts may be washed at home.

Two things are necessary for perfect success. The quilt must be dried out of doors on a sunny, breezy day, and it must be rinsed through several clear, clean waters.

Make a strong suds of a good white soap shaved into boiling water. Add a teaspoonful of household ammonia to every gallon of water and let the quilt soak for half an hour in a tub half full of water.

Do not rub but squeeze the dirt out. Then change the water, using tepid water for the first rinsing and cold water to which a handful of salt has been added for at least two other rinsings. Squeeze the water out and hang between two lines in the bright sun, stretching the quilt as nearly flat as possible.

A MAN'S WAY.

No woman who says to a man "Do this or that because you love me" is worth loving.

A man does what a woman begs willingly, what she demands grudgingly.

Nothing kills love so quickly as doubt, and a man doubts love directly he is asked to do all the "giving way."

Leading a man is like leading a horse. Walk level with him and he will do what you like; get in front and pull or get behind and push and he won't move at all—if he has any spirit.

Lemon Juice For Shoes.

When there is no shoe polish in the house lemon juice makes an excellent substitute, a few drops rubbed briskly on black or brown shoes giving a brilliant polish.

RUSTIC RECEPTACLES FOR EASTER POTTED PLANT

THERE'S art in potting plants quite as much as in raising them. Two effective treatments for Easter flowers are shown here. The jardinieres are rustic affairs, fashioned from cross sections of tree trunks which have been hollowed out while the bark has been allowed to remain upon them. Similar results may be accomplished by covering the pots or boxes in which the flowers are grown with the bark. It may be glued into place. Birch bark or closely woven raffia may be used for the same purpose. These rustic effects are much more pleasing than when a gay china or metal jardiniere is used. Primroses and azaleas are shown here in pots covered with chestnut bark.

VEGETABLE PUREES.

PUREES are the most nourishing of soups. They are made with a good stock, into which vegetables mashed and passed through a strainer are stirred. The purees must have a good consistency. They may be made with any vegetables and take their name from the kind used. Asparagus, peas, carrots, potatoes, tomatoes or beans are available.

Carrot Puree.—Pare and cut a bunch of carrots into thin slices. Cut up a head of celery and an onion. Fill a saucepan with good white stock and boil the vegetables in this until they are quite tender. Then rub them through a sieve. Season with salt and pepper and, last of all, add half a pint of cream. Serve with pieces of fried bread cut into shapes.

A Homely Soup.

Bean Puree.—This is a very nourishing soup, and cold baked beans may be used in making it, if you happen to have any. Place two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour in a saucepan over the fire. Stir them until they are brown. Then add one cup of beans and three pints of boiling water. Season with celery cut in pieces, a half teaspoonful of salt and quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper.

Boil until the beans are soft, then pass through a sieve. Put the soup back on the fire and bring it to a boil. Serve with bread dice fried in hot butter.

Using Potatoes.

Potato Puree.—Take enough potatoes to make two pounds when peeled and cut into thin slices. Put two ounces of butter or clarified beef dripping in a saucepan. When it melts add the potatoes, an onion thinly sliced and a small teaspoonful of minced parsley. Fry for a quarter of an hour, stirring so that it may not burn. Add about a quart and a half of stock and let it simmer until the vegetables are soft. Then the vegetables and stock must be passed through a sieve and returned to the saucepan. Knead an ounce of flour and an ounce of butter together and thicken the soup with this. Also add a cupful of milk, white pepper and salt to taste. Serve with croutons.

For the Children

Story of a Pussy Cat That Liked to Fish.

Izaak is a striped cat, and his little mistress likes him better than all her other pets. She is proud of him because he can do what other cats will never try to do.

Every child should know that cats usually hate water and are fussy about getting their feet or their fur wet. Well, when Izaak, all cuddled up in a new basket, came to the little girl on her birthday she screamed for joy. She tied a blue ribbon around his neck and named him Angel, because he was so pretty. One day while she was eating her dinner she heard a queer noise on the porch, and when she ran out what do you think she saw? Little Angel was walking about in an old tin bathtub that had a lot of small minnows darting here and there in the water.

Soon they found out that Angel liked to play in water and would even roll about in all the pools and puddles he could find. The little girl cried at first. She was ashamed of such a dirty cat, for his neck ribbons were always wet and his fur sticky. But her big brother said: "Why, this cat is a regular wonder. He is the only fishing cat I ever saw. You ought to change his name to Izaak, after the finest old fisherman in the world, old Izaak Walton, whom everybody reads about."

So the little girl dried her eyes and began to feel quite proud of her fisherman cat.

Interesting Riddles.

What goes all the way to Milwaukee from New York without moving? The railroad tracks.

What is that which works when it plays and plays when it works? A fountain.

What will turn without moving? Milk.

Why is the letter "k" like flour? You cannot make cake without it.

If there were five birds in a tree and a hunter killed two of them and they fell down, how many would be left in the tree? None—the rest flew away.

What is the difference between a bad boy and a postage stamp? One you lick with a stick and the other you stick with a lick.

Why is the letter "r" the most peaceful letter in the alphabet? Because it changes a fiend into a friend.

What is the difference between a man going upstairs and a man looking upstairs? One steps upstairs and the other stares up steps.

Why did the razorbill raise her bill? To let the sea urchin see her chin.—New York World.

Continued Stories.

The leader who presides at this game should have a little desk bell and a handkerchief or a ball. To begin the fun he taps the bell and then tosses a handkerchief to some other member of the circle. This person must catch the handkerchief and promptly begin an original story, which may consist of any nonsensical rambling narrative that the inspiration of the moment suggests. At the expiration of a few minutes the bell rings again, and the leader (to whom the handkerchief has meanwhile been returned) tosses it to another player, who must take up the story at the point where it left off and continue it still further. Again the bell rings and again the handkerchief is thrown until all the players have related a bit of the continued story and usually until some narrator has brought it to something which will pass for a conclusion. All those who cannot continue the narrative when their turn comes must pay forfeits.

Boston—A Game.

This is an amusing parlor game, or it may be played out of doors. Chairs are placed in a circle or in two lines facing, about seven or eight feet apart. The players are all numbered, from one up. If there are boys and girls in the game the boys have the odd and the girls the even numbers. One player stands in the center blindfolded and calls out two numbers, an odd and an even.

The players numbered must try to change seats without being caught by the "it." If one is caught he becomes "it." Occasionally the "it" calls out "Boston," and then every player must change with some other.

When "it" calls numbers he tries to catch one of the players changing, but when he calls "Boston" he tries to get a seat.

Will He Survive the Trust?

That is frequently a serious question which you should always ask yourself when selecting the Executor or Trustee for your Estate.

Will the mature and experienced person whom you have in mind outlive the requirements of the Trusteeship?

Does the younger man, who will probably do so, indicate that he will possess the ability and experience?

Fidelity Trust Co.,

Newark, N. J.,

as Trustee or Executor for your Estate, possesses both, with the certainty of outliving the longest Trust.

PURSE OF GOLD GOOD-BYE GIFT TO REV. MR. KEMBLE

Rev. C. S. Kemble concluded his services as pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church yesterday, preaching both moring and night. In the morning his theme was "It is Expedient that I Go Away." Kemble at the beginning of his discourse, gave a statistical account of his work durign the four years of his ministry here. It was the record of an efficient ministry.

At the conclusion of the service Walter M. McGee with a brief address presented Mr. Kemble with a purse of $100 in gold as a parting tribute from the members and friends of his church. Mr. Kemble said his response would be found in the fourth chapter of Phillipians from the 10 to the 30 verses. He concluded with words of love and gratitude to his friends in the church.

VESPER SERVICE DEVOTED TO HOME MISSION WORK

The second of a series of fortnightly vesper services was held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon, it being in the form of a home missionary exercise given by the Juniors C. E. Society assisted by the Seniors. Ten Juniors represented countries as follows:

Frances Atkins, Poland; Rowland Hawkins, Syria; Emma Barret, Bohemia; George Rockafellow, Greece; Augusta Clawson, Swedon; Harriet Morgan, Germany; Russell Allen, Slovak; Isabelle Mundy, Italy; Harold Nielson, Russian and Jewish boy; Helen Rich, France. The following children represented America and gave a welcome to those from foreign land: Henrietta Schenck, Lucy West Ruth Fuller, Mildred and Anita Barret, Laura Bowers, Catherine Martin, Harry Barton, Robert Fuller and Margaret Rice.

Rev. Dr. Hubert C. Herring, of New York, secretary of the Congregational Home Missionary Society, who spoke at the morning service, made a short address at the vesper service in the afternoon.

Miss Julia H. Tichenor.

Miss Julia H. Tichenor, aged 67 years, daughter of James Tichenor of Newark, who had been stopping in the borough for several months past, died yesterday, following a long illness. The body was taken to Newark, where the funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

COMING EVENTS.

TONIGHT—Boys Scouts to be organized at Y. M. C. A.
Good vaudeville at Proctor's

Following complaints to the police of annoyance during services four disorderly boys were arrested yesterday afternoon out side the door of the Rescue Mission, Madison avenue. They were sharply reprimanded by City Judge William G. DeMeza today.

Gave Him Due Credit.

Sir James Scarlett, the great English lawyer, when practicing at the bar had to examine a witness whose evidence promised to be damaging unless he could be previously confused. The only vulnerable point of the man was said to be his self esteem.

"I HAM," REPLIED MR. TOMPKINS.

The witness, a portly, overdressed person, went into the box, and Scarlett took him in hand.

"Mr. John Tompkins, I believe?"

"Yes."

"You are a stockholder?"

"I ham," replied Mr. Tompkins, with a pronounced cockney accent.

Scarlett regarded him attentively for a few moments and then said dryly, "And a very large, well dressed ham you are, sir."

The shout of laughter which followed completely disconcerted Mr. Tompkins, and the lawyer's point was gained.

Frank Hedden Sole Owner.

Frank Hedden purchased the interest of the heirs in the livery business and property conducted by him an East Front street, and is now the sole owner of the property and business. It is reported that the consideration was $20,000.

SIZING UP HOPES IN BOTH LEAGUES

Athletics Due to Repeat, Giants Face Stiff Fight From the Phillies.

PIRATES NOT STRENTHENED

Chicago and Detroit Are Merely Good First Division Teams—Yankees Not Likely to Be Formidable Contenders for the Flag.

By TOMMY CLARK.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicago.

Although not nearly as strong as three years ago, the Cubs will be in the thick of the fight from start to finish. The pitching staff is what is giving Manager Chance the most worry. Infield is good, while outer garden is still the classiest in the organization. Receiving end is well looked after. Is a fine base running and hitting club. Ought to finish third.

New York.

Club has about the same strength as last season; has good hitters and speedy base runners and is the best offensive team in the league; catching department is well looked after by Meyers and Wilson. McGraw's main weakness now, the same as last year, is in the pitching department. Toward the end of the 1911 season and in the world's series the twirling corps was not any too strong. If he has not picked up a crack pitcher or two the chances are that the Giants will not repeat. The bulk of the work will again fall on the shoulders of Mathewson, Marquard and Crandall. Wiltse and Ames are on the toboggan. McGraw expects Drucke to make a name for himself this season. The infield—Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Herzog—plays snappy ball. The weak spot in the outer garden is in right field. The club is strong in batting and base running. Giants should finish first or second.

Photos by American Press Association.

Philadelphia.

Keep an eye on this club. Has a splendid chance to cop the bunting. Catching department is strong. So are the infield and outfield. Is a fine batting and base running team. Club with Pitchers Alexander and Chalmers duplicating last year's work Dooin's brigade will make things hum.

St. Louis.

Cardinals should make things very interesting for the other seven clubs. Catching department is strong, while twirling staff is weak. Infield is fast and the outfield only ordinary. Team plays with lots of dash, but is weak with the stick.

Brooklyn.

Team will prove a tough proposition for many clubs. Club has best pitching staff in the league, good catchers, fast infield and a sweet outfield. Team lacks ginger and is a poor base running club, but Bill Dahlen may surprise us.

Boston.

A big improvement over last season in all departments except pitching. Pilgrims haven't any chance to break into first division, but will give other teams a tussle before they sink back into the cellar.

Pittsburgh.

Pirates not any stronger than last season. The weak spots are in the pitching staff and at first base. Catching end is well looked after. Is a good batting and base running club. If Marty O'Toole, the Pirates' $22,000 twirler, startles the baseball world this season the club will be in the pennant hunt.

Cincinnati.

Clark Griffith left Hank O'Day good material, but the former National league umpire is an experiment in the managerial line.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Boston.

Red Sox loom up very strong with much strength in the box. Buck O'Brien is one of the greatest young pitchers in the game, and Bedient, former Jersey City player, is picked to be a sensation. Then they have Joe Wood, their star slabbist. The infield is good, and their outfield is one of the best in the country. Team ought to finish second or third.

Philadelphia.

Easily the class of the league and ought to make it three in a row. The only thing that might hold the Athletics back is for their veteran pitching staff to crumble to pieces. Plank and Bender have seen many seasons of hard service and Coombs was injured in the world's series last fall. However, the men are now in the best of shape, so we'll reserve our opinion about the twirlers going back until the campaign is well under way. Should they fall down Mack has several very promising young slabbists to call on. The infield, McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker, is three-fourths of kid variety. It should if anything improve over last year's form. The suburban trio is O. K., and the backstopping department is well looked after. It is the batting club of the circuit and is well fixed with good base runners. With a few good breaks in luck the clubought to walk away with the pennant.

Photos by American Press Association.

St. Louis.

Not any stronger than last season. Club has no pitchers outside of Lake and Pelty that are worth mentioning. Infield and catching department only fair. Outfield is weak. Sure of cellar.

Washington.

Senators have fast infield, good outer garden and a fair back stopping department, and a wonderful pitcher in Walter Johnson. Club is weak in batting and base running.

Chicago.

Club should head second division. Has good pitching staff and outfield. Infield on the right is not any too strong. Catching end is slowing up. Team is also weak in batting.

Cleveland.

On paper the Naps look very good. Have corking good, young pitching staff, a nifty infield and a fine trio of outfielders. While the receiving end could be improved upon, it is not weak by any means. Is a great hitting team. The fact that the Naps have two wonderful batters in Lajoie and Jackson makes them a big factor in the coming race. Naps ought to finish third.

Detroit.

Very little improvement over last season. Twirling corps again weak. Infield is uncertain, while suburban trio is a corker. Any club with two great men like Sam Crawford and Ty Cobb is always dangerous, but weak pitching staff will hold them back.

New York.

The real strength of the club lies in the pitching staff. Catching department is one of the strongest in the country. Infield is a little loose on the left side. Outfield is only fair. On the showing the club made last year it seems idle to predict that it will be a formidable contender this season.

CHALLENGE FOR MOTOR TROPHY IS ACCEPTED.

The Sussex Motor Yacht Club, of Brighton, England, has added its challenge to that of the Royal Motor Yacht Club, of Great Britain, for the British International Trophy, held by the Motor Boat Club of America.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors of the latter club, held on Friday evening last, the Sussex Club's challenge was accepted.

The Royal Motor Yacht Club, however, is in charge in the matter of all British challenges, and under its direction elimination races will be held if necessary to select the team of three boats which every challenging country is allowed to start in the international races.

DUNELLEN FIVE BEATS NETHERWOOD A. C. TEAM.

In a closely contested game, Saturday night, the Netherwood Athletic Club five went down to defeat in an extra session to the Monarch team, of the Presbyterian church of Dunellen. At the end of the last half the score stood 14 to 14 but Dickerson, of Dunellen, after missing a foul after four minutes of play in the extra time, followed it up quickly and shot the winning basket. Both teams played strongly.

BLATZ AND STOUT SIXTH IN N. B. A. TOURNAMENT.

Blatz and Stout, the local two-man team in the N. B. A. tournament at Paterson, dropped into sixth place Saturday night, when Cooper and Kitchelt, the two-man team from New York, toppled the pins for a total of 1207. The Montreal team jumped to second place in the race with a score of 1203.

Camp Wants Hammer Throw.

New Haven, March 25.—Walter Camp, in an interview printed in the Yale News, makes a plea for the retention of the hammer throw in collegiate athletics. He says the danger argument that has been advanced by some colleges for its abolishment is not a sound one. Mr. Camp suggests making this department of track sports more interesting to spectators by placing flags at points to mark past records.

FRANK KLAUS GETS VERDICT OVER HOOSIER JACK DILLON

San Francisco, March 25.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg middleweight, won a twenty round decision over Jack Dillon, the Hoosier lad, at Coffroth's arena Saturday. And Klaus can thank his luck stars that Referee Jack Welsh measures the conditions of two men at the end of a bout as much as he does the blows that may be exchanged in handing down his verdict. From a purely boxing point of view Klaus did not have so much on the Indianapolis man. It is just as true that Dillon was the tired chap of the pair when they finished, with Klaus looking little the worse for wear, barring a cut on the nose and a cut lip, that came from the butting tendencies of his opponent.

It might have been called a draw, perhaps. But if one cares to take into consideration the blows that count most, the fact remains that Klaus had Dillon backing away most of the time. The middle Westerner was fairly swamped with body punches in the twentieth round and was weak from blows that landed. On that basis one must concede that Klaus was entitled to the honors that came his way.

LIST OF LOW HANDICAP GOLFERS IS PUBLISHED

The executive committee of the United States Golf Association has published the official handicap list, called the "honor roll," and only those with a handicap of 6 or under are included in the list, the others being left for a rating by their own individual clubs. Among those in the official rating are W. Lester Glenney, Will T. Gleaney and S. D. Lounsbury with a handicap of 6.

Any golfer wishing an official rating can get one by submitting to the executive committee scores for three separate rounds of 18 holes made on three separate days.

Y. M. C. A. FIVE-MILE TEAM TRAININC HARD FOR RACE

The Y. M. C. A. runners who expect to go against the Elizabeth five-mile team next Saturday afternoon went over the course Saturday night in very fast time considering the condition of the roads. "Willie" Weber, the interscholastic half-mile champion of the United States, will lead the visiting team and is fast rounding his men into shape. Day, of Plainfield, again showed the makings of a crack five-miler when he led the field home again Saturday evening, with Peacock and Fritz, who is a Pastime A. C. man, pressing him closely.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming race. With a clear day Saturday, fast time and a closely bunched field at the finish is looked for.

Signs With High Bridge.

Jimmy Cullinane, the slab artist from Elizabeth, has been signed to pitch for the High Bridge team, who were so well known in the Central New Jersey League last season. Cullinane worked on the mound for the up-State team last summer and brought his club home a winner in all but a very few of the games played. High Bridge fans regard the Elizabeth youngster as a coming mound man.

Canada Takes Hockey Title.

New York, March 25.—The Quebec hockey team won the professional hockey championship of the world here Saturday night, by defeating the Wanderers, of Montreal, in a rough fast game, by a score of 8 to 4. Saturday's game completed the championship series between the two teams, the Stanley cup holders having won 13 and the Wanderers 8.

JACKSON GOING AFTER GREAT BATTING RECORD.

Naps' Formidable Swatter Intends to Bat Over .400 This Year and Equal Burkett.

Joe Jackson hopes to take down an honor this year that has gone but once to a big league player playing 100 games or more a season. He wants to be the second man who, playing that number of games, has batted .400 in two consecutive seasons.

Jesse Burkett of the Cleveland National league club back in 1895 and 1896 batted .423 and .410. Since that time no big leaguer has batted over .400 in two consecutive campaigns. Inasmuch as Jackson and Cobb were the only two to beat the .400 mark last year, they are the only ones who have a chance to tie Burkett's record this season.

JOE JACKSON, NAPS' GREAT HITTER.

That Cobb has not reached his limit is believed from the manner in which the Georgian has increased his batting record each year. Batting .324 in 1908, he boosted it to .377 in 1909, .385 in 1910 and .420 in 1911. With Joe Jackson to again set him a pace there is no telling just where Cobb will land this year.

Knight Shifted Around.

Jack Knight has now been a member of every American league team on the Atlantic seaboard. He started with Philadelphia.

Many College Players on Doves.

Vincent Campbell's accession to the ranks of the Doves means another college player on the Boston National list. "Buster" Brown, Pfeffer, Houser, Sweeney, Spratt, Campbell, Miller and Hogg are all collegians. Dickson is a business college graduate. Monahan is ready to enter college next fall, and Hub Perdue has a college training.

Outfielder Schulte a Poet.

Frank Schulte, the slugging right fielder of Frank Chance's outfit, spent the winter in Chicago writing poetry about the Cubs. Still some people say that baseball is a hard life.

Olympic Water Polo.

Montreal, Can., March 25.—Canada will be represented by a water polo team at the Olympic games at Stockholm this summer, if the plans of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, as outlined at a meeting of that body Friday night, are accepted without amendment by the committee.

ECONOMY IS THE WATCHWORD OF THE TIMES

Two ways to have money are to earn it—and to save it.

Men find it easy enough to make money, but when it comes to saving they throw up their hands and exclaim, "it can't be done."

But I say it can be done, and here's the way I'm going to do it: I'll buy for cash, thereby taking advantage of extra discounts: I'll sell for cash, thereby eliminating losses on charge accounts. These savings are all reverted to you.

March 30th is the day I open my new store, and it's the day when you men of Plainfield will begin to save money on your clothing and furnishings goods.

And if my novel and extensive array of clothing, hats and furnishings does not arouse the enthusiasm of all the men in Plainfield, then I doubt if even a coroner could wake them up.

Remember the opening day is March 30th, and also remember that's the day you begin to save money.

DYNAMITE WINS REBEL VICTORY

Federals Fail to Halt March South.

EACH SIDE LOSES HEAVILY

Engine Loaded With Explosives Is Sent at Top Speed Against Federal Armored Train and Disaster Results. Two Hundred Government Troops Surrounded.

Jiminez, Mexico, March 25.—Rebels were victors at the close of the first clash with the federals in their southward march. The rebel army has 200 federals surrounded near Corralitos, which is a short distance south of here, and have captured two machine guns and hold thirty prisoners, six of whom are wounded. There are many dead on both sides, including at least one lieutenant colonel of the federals.

General Gonzales Salas, commanding the federals, is wounded. He is the ex-secretary of war of Mexico and resigned the war portfolio recently to take the field and conduct the present campaign against the rebels.

The rebels in the fighting destroyed the armored train of the federals, and General Campa claims that sixty federals were killed when the destruction of the train occurred.

The federals were advancing from the south on to Corralitos, at which point the rebels had retreated in order to secure a better position, Corralitos being on an eminence and easily defended.

The federals, numbering 2,000, were on three trains, preceded by their armored train of three cars. The rebels loaded dynamite on an engine and started it down the grade at full speed from Corralitos, and then the engineer leaped off. The engine struck the armored cars and telescoped the first one, derailing the other two. The dynamite completed the work.

This was in retaliation for the action of the federals in setting fire to the sagebrush as the fighting was taking place, burning to death the wounded on both sides, but mostly on the rebel side.

HYDROPLANISTS COMPETE.

Spectators at Monaco See Wave Precipitate Three Persons Into Sea.

Monaco, March 25.—The hydroaeroplane competition began here with a great crowd watching the wonderful evolutions of the machines. One accident was thought at first to have resulted fatally, but fortunately this was a mistake. Colliex, with a passenger and a mechanic aboard, was just alighting when a wave overturned the machine and all three were thrown into the water. They clung to the side of the auto canoe, however, and were rescued.

The weather was favorable to the tests. Paulham was successful in four tests in alighting and starting in calm and rough water. Hugh Robinson, the American aviator, in a Curtiss triad, the smallest of the machines entered for the competitions, was equally successful. Pilot Fischer also went through the preliminary tests in a satisfactory manner.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Miners Stop Work April 1—Policy Committee Delegates Assemble.

Cleveland, March 25.—John P. White, president of United Mine Workers, said:

"The situation in the anthracite field remains unchanged. We feel that the operators have broken off negotiations by refusing to consider our propositions.

"Commencing with April 1 there will be no work, as the contract expires March 31."

So far the soft coal operators are standing pat on their offer of a renewal of the present wage scale.

The policy committee delegates from the three anthracite districts in Pennsylvania have arrived here. President John T. Dempsey of the first district headed his delegation.

50 DIE, 100 HURT, IN BATTLE.

Spanish Army Suffers In Riff District. Neutrality on Frontier.

Madrid, March 25.—During operations in the Riff district the Spanish lost fifty killed and a hundred wounded. Among the killed was one lieutenant colonel and three lieutenants, while one colonel, one captain and six lieutenants were wounded.

As a result of renewed protest by the Portuguese ambassador against the activity of the monarchial conspirators in the Spanish frontier provinces the government has ordered governors of the province to respect neutrality. All Portuguese disregarding neutrality are to be expelled.

Jumps Off Manhattan Bridge.

New York, March 25.—A man, thought to be a former employee of the Splitdorf Magneto company, named Braun jumped off the Manhattan bridge. His body was not recovered from the East river.

MAINE VICTIMS BURIED.

Sixty-seven Unidentified Dead Laid to Rest In Arlington Cemetery.

Washington, March 25.—The remains of sixty-seven unidentified dead resurrected from the wreck of the Maine in the harbor of Havana were consigned to the soil of Arlington National cemetery.

President Taft and his cabinet, both houses of congress and all the other officials of the government did homage to the dead.

The remains were brought from Havana by the United States cruiser Birmingham and conveyed from the vessel to the cemetery on gun carriages.

TAFT LEADS IN INDIANA.

Figures Show He Will Control State Convention by 200.

Indianapolis, March 25.—"The friends of President Taft will control the state convention on Tuesday by not less than 200 votes," said Harry New, state manager for the president. "This estimate is based on absolutely reliable returns."

Washington, March 25.—Reliable information has been received from Indiana that President Taft's followers will have twenty-two of the thirty delegates from that state to the Chicago convention.

Advices have been received from 1,385 of the 1,439 delegates to the state convention chosen at the Republican primaries Saturday. Of these 780 are for Taft and 609 are for Roosevelt. The indications are that the returns from the other districts will show President Taft to have at least 200 majority.

New York, March 25.—President Taft sent a telegram to Republican County Chairman Koenig thanking Mr. Koenig and the county committee for their work in the New York campaign preceding the primaries of Tuesday.

The telegram came in reply to a letter in which Mr. Koenig told the president that the east side Republicans would indorse the Taft administration no matter what the Roosevelt people were predicting.

OBJECT TO RIDING HABIT.

California Mothers Ask Miss Eleanora Sears to Be "More Modest."

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—Miss Eleonora Sears' attire when she takes her morning ride through the streets of Burlingame is considered altogether immodest by the mothers of Burlingame. They want her to do away with her male riding breeches and hide herself in skirts, because, they declare, her riding "habit" has a bad effect on the morals of the city.

Official notice was received by Miss Sears through the mail from the Burlingame Mothers' club that it had passed resolutions requesting her to restrict herself to feminine attire.

INMATES DIE OF GAS.

Seven Others in Critical Condition in Huron County (O.) Infirmary.

Norwalk, O., March 25.—Six inmates of the Huron County infirmary are dead and seven others are in a critical condition from gas which overcame them during the night.

The dead were discovered when attendants opened their ward.

The gas stoves were left burning, but the gas gave out in the night. When the pressure came on again the gas escaped into the room.

United States Artilleryman a Suicide.

Mobile, Ala., March 25.—William Maxwell, a member of the United States artillery, stationed at Fort Morgan, in Mobile bay, committed suicide by jumping into the sea from the deck of the steamship Holabird. The body was not recovered. Maxwell was from St. Louis.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come. Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

SEES NO PANACEA IN WOMEN'S VOTES

Royal Meeker Raps Suffrage Movement.

MORE VOTERS NOT A HELP

Doubling Their Number Would Not Cause the Millennium to Burst Dazzling Upon Us, Says Head of New Jersey Conference of Charities and Corrections.

East Orange, N. J., March 25.—"Granted man is seven times a knave and seventeen kinds of a fool, I am not convinced that the muddle he has made of representative government will be unmuddled by woman when she gets the vote, as she inevitably will," said Royal Meeker, president of the state conference of charities and corrections in its first session here. He digressed briefly from his arraignment of the public school system to talk about woman suffrage.

"I cannot see that woman has demonstrated her superiority over man in the management of affairs," he continued. "Judging by her success in managing her household, she has proved she bears a close resemblance to man—that men and women are first and foremost human and only secondarily and subordinately male and female. It does not lead me to expect any radical or even noticeable reformation in our politics by doubling the number of voters, ignorant and intelligent, honest and dishonest. I do not anticipate that the millennium will burst dazzling upon us when women get the vote."

DRY DAY IN PATERSON.

Blue Law Revived Put a Lid on the New Jersey City.

Paterson, N. J., March 25.—So "dry" was this town Sunday when the old blue laws were resurrected and put into effect that the oldest inhabitant could not recall a similar state of affairs on any Sunday for many years.

With the exception of the drug stores, all shops were tightly closed, and the back doors of the saloons were for once absolutely deserted literally, their customers of other Sundays hanging around street corners discussing the situation.

The police carried out their orders to shut up everything in the way of business with a rigor scarcely expected even by those favoring the sudden change. There were newsstands open, and the milkmen made their rounds during the early morning as usual, but with their work done all semblance of business ceased.

"Never saw anything like it," said a man who has lived here for twenty-five years.

"Heard how they were going to do it, but never thought it would be like this. Reminds one of what you read about of the old time New England Sabbaths. Not a drink to be had anywhere, and all the boys are pretty thirsty."

Notices from the police of what was to be done were sent out by the chief of police two days in advance.

MISS J. DE FOREST DIES.

Stricken In Lakewood While on Easter Leave From School.

Lakewood, N. J., March 25.—Josephine De Forest, eldest daughter of S. K. De Forest of New York and Lakewood, died suddenly here from diabetic coma. She was seventeen years old and had just returned from Webster school, Connecticut, for the Eastern vacation. Interment will take place on Tuesday in Woodlawn cemetery from Grace church, New York.

Mr. De Forest, of the well known city firm of lawyers, has a summer home at Southampton, N. Y., and makes Lakewood his winter residence.

FORMER PROSECUTOR DIES.

H. G. Chamberlain Succumbs to Complication of Diseases.

Flemington, N. J., March 25.—Former Prosecutor Harlem G. Chamberlain is dead at his home here from a complication of diseases at the age of sixty years.

He was appointed prosecutor for Hunterdon county by Governor Leon Abbott in 1891, and by Governor Wilson on April 11. He resigned the office several weeks ago because of ill health. He was admitted to the bar in 1876 and as a counselor three years later. He took an active interest in political affairs as a Democrat.

DRIVER THROWN ON KNIVES.

Bridgeboro Man Receives Badly Lacerated Hands.

Bridgeboro, N. J., March 25.—Taking fright at the clatter of mowing machine knives, a team of farm horses owned by Joseph Wille ran away in an okra field, and, dashing over the rough ground, threw the driver, Benjamin Rose, on top of the blades. Rose was able to keep his body away from the knives, but his hands were terribly lacerated. One horse stumbled against the whirling knives and its feet were severed from its legs.

SIDNA EDWARDS.

Virginia Outlaw Being Taken to Hillsville Jail.

OUTLAW DENIES PART IN COURT MURDERS

Sidna Edwards, on Way to Roanoke Jail, Makes Statement.

Roanoke, Va., March 25.—Sidna Edwards, the nephew of Floyd Allen, took his first auto ride on his arrival here, when he was driven from a suburban railroad crossing to the city jail, where he now occupies a cell on the same floor with the other three prisoners. Edwards was brought from the Hillsville jail.

Thomas Felts, the detective, told of a confession made by Sidna Edwards while he was on his way to Roanoke. Mr. Felts said that Edwards admitted he was standing in the doorway of the courthouse at the time of the shooting and that when Floyd Allen passed through the door making a retreat he asked Edwards for his pistol.

Edwards said he gave him the revolver and that later he found Floyd Allen in front of the jail shot. Sidna then got his pistol from Allen. The prisoner denies having fired a single shot during the shooting in the courthouse.

Mount Airy, N. C., March 25.—That the Virginia outlaws can at least outwit the detectives was demonstrated when that organization had visions of fat rewards and the capture of the remaining four outlaws. It looked easy, for the information was that the outlaws would take breakfast with a certain friend at a specified hour, and while thus engaged the detectives expected quietly to walk in and capture them without resistance, but the outlaws ate their breakfast several miles away and are still free as ever.

COULDN'T NAME DISCIPLES.

Not One of a Hundred Students Answered Question Passably Well.

Chicago, March 25.—Who were the twelve disciples? This easy question put a hundred boys of Lake Forest academy in profound perplexity. They were undergoing their yearly general knowledge test. One hundred questions were in the examination.

When the papers were turned in one by one by the puzzled young men Headmaster William Mather Leeds observed that the only question that none had answered correctly or even passably was: "Who were the twelve disciples?"

The next query that was "muffed" the oftenest was: "Who led the batting list in the National league last season?"

"As Chicago didn't have a winning team last year we can't blame the boys for forgetting such ephemeral things as names of ball players," Headmaster Leeds said.

STRIKE TAKES HER BACK.

Countess of Warwick Explains Her Sudden Departure For Home.

New York, March 25.—Lee Keedick, manager for the Countess of Warwick, said that all he knew about her sudden sailing on Saturday was contained in the letter sent him from the steamer:

"I have cablegrams from my husband compelling my immediate return on important business. The coal strike affects us considerably and my presence is necessary."

RULER OF SAMOS MURDERED.

Prince Kopassis Effendi Shot From Street While Leaving Mosque.

Constantinople, March 25. — Prince Kopassis Effendi, governor of the island of Samos, was murdered while leaving the mosque. A man in the street crowd shot and killed him.

A Greek named Pintas has been arrested charged with the crime.

Twelve Friends Give Their Skin.

Providence, R. I., March 25.—The left arm of William Banks, ex-city councilman of Central Falls, which was threatened with amputation because of blood poisoning, was patched up with skin taken from twelve of his friends. The grafting was performed at St. Joseph's hospital by Dr. William L. Harris.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For Week Beginning March 24, 1912.

Topic.—The saloon and its allies.—Hab. ii, 1-17. Edited by Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Habakkuk was sent to tell Judah what they were to suffer at the hands of the Chaldeans as a punishment for their sins, a peril they did not at all appreciate. The overthrow of a nation often comes from an unexpected quarter and grows out of something which is underestimated as a source of danger.

One of the greatest enemies threatening our nation is the saloon. Yet many defend the liquor traffic, claiming that it is an aid to prosperity and that it stimulates business. There are certain kinds of business it increases. It necessitates a large police force, longer terms of court, with more work for jurymen; larger jails and penitentiaries, with more keepers, and helps more than anything else to fill our almshouses and insane asylums. What such misguided defenders of the saloon need is to follow the prophet's example.

Habakkuk is informed because he goes to God for enlightenment. I will stand upon my watch. As a watchman goes to the top of a mountain or some other high place that he may get an outlook so the prophet seeks fellowship with God to hear what he will say unto me. The secret place of prayer and fellowship with God is the very best watchtower any person can find. The revelation God makes to those who truly seek it is so clear and impressive that he may run that readeth it. He who reads it will be impelled to act at once. The proud will not be influenced by it, but the just shall live by his faith.

1. One ally of the saloon is appetite—yea, also because he transgresseth by wine. More exact in the revised version, and, moreover, wine is treacherous. The saloon deceives its victim; otherwise it would not drag so many down to a drunkard's grave and a drunkard's hell.

There is scarcely a home in all our great nation that has not been made directly or indirectly to suffer because of the treacherousness of strong drink. Wine is so deceptive that thousands of our young men seem blind and deaf to the multiplied warnings from the fate of others. No one knows what appetites lie dormant within, needing only a little stimulus to arouse them in all their fury.

2. Another ally is love of money. Nothing but the expectation of large profits ever induces thoughtful people to seek a license to run a saloon. It is a business that is no longer considered respectable, and there are very disagreeable experiences connected with it. But that desire for gain which stimulated the Chaldeans in their cruel conquests will lead some people to do almost anything. Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house that he may set his nest on high!

3. Another ally to the saloon is the corrupt politician and the political machine. Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city by iniquity! There is no combination more easily effected than an alliance between men who desire political power for what they can get out of it and the men in the saloon business who desire laws framed in the interests of the liquor traffic even when they profess to be made "to restrain and regulate" the sale of intoxicating drink.

Those who make a study of the high license laws in those states where such laws exist soon discover that there are many regulations and provisions encountered in any attempt to enforce their restrictions which seem to have been devised with the sole purpose of making any proper enforcement of the law as difficult as possible.

When in addition to these allies mentioned we remember that there are sins and sinful practices too vile to name which are, all of them, more or less directly connected with the liquor traffic we can see how great is the need for men like Habakkuk to warn our nation and call us to such a repentance as will result in the suppression of the awful curse—this scourge of our modern civilization.

BIBLE READINGS.

Prov. xxiii, 29-35; Isa. v, 11-23; Isa. xxviii, 1-8; Lev. x, 8-10; Luke i, 15; Dan. i, 8-16; I Cor. ix, 25-27; Prom. xiv, 21.

The Land of the Pharaohs.

Christian Endeavor in Cairo, Egypt, grew out of a Bible class formed in 1892, eighteen members of which took the pledge. In 1910 this number had increased to ninety-one.

Although eight nationalities are represented in the membership, the meetings are conducted in English. Some of the members are converted Moslems. Also Jews attend the meetings and are deeply interested.

Another society is at work among Egyptian young men. These are students and government employees, and English is the language spoken at the meetings. A third society, which was organized in 1904 with sixty members, conducts its meetings in Arabic. A fourth society formed in 1902 works among the girls. Christian Endeavor is doing a fine work in Egypt, societies being found in practically every mission station in the United Presbyterian church.

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

THAT HAVE BEEN ASKED ABOUT IT

What is the purpose of the Christmas Savings Club?

The purpose is to help you and others to accumulate a fund for Christmas.

In what manner does it accomplish this purpose?

By each member paying in a small sum each week for 36 weeks. Two weeks before Christmas each member will receive the total amount paid in with 3% interest.

Does everybody pay in the same amount?

No. There are two classes, numbered respectively 2 and 5. The payments are different in each class.

What are the payments in Class 2?

The payments are 2c the first week, 4c the second week, 6c the third week, and so on for 36 weeks, making the payment for the last week 72c.

Do the payments in the other class progress the same way?

They do. The only difference is that in Class 5 the first payment is 5c the first week, 10c the second week, 15c the third week, and so on for 36 weeks.

Is there a membership fee or is there any cost to join?

No.

What do I do to become a member?

All that is necessary is to go to The Plainfield Trust Company, ask to be enrolled as a member, and make the first week's payment, or more.

What will the first payment be?

It will be 2c or 5c, according to the class you join.

How are the payments to be made?

Weekly, or in advance for as many weeks as you desire.

What will happen if I cannot keep up my payments or discontinue?

You may discontinue for any reason at any time, and at the period when the Club closes you will get a check for all you have paid in, but in such a case no interest will be allowed.

When and how can I withdraw?

Under no circumstances will any withdrawals, either in whole or in part, be allowed. What you deposit will be held for you until two weeks before Christmas.

What form of receipt do I get when I make payments?

For every week paid you will receive a small receipt in coupon form which you will keep in the envelope we give you when the account is opened.

What would happen if my coupon receipts were lost, stolen or destroyed?

As we have a complete record of the payments of every member, we will pay your share to you whether you have the receipts or not. The receipts are of value to you only for the purpose of verifying our records.

Can I reverse the payments?

You can, and by doing so you will have your payment grow less every week and your money will earn twice as much interest.

Can I become a member of more than one class?

Yes; you can join one or both of the classes.

When can I join?

You can join any day during the week beginning Monday, April 1st, 1912.

FORCE OF THE SEA

Terrific Power Is Generated When a Cyclone Rages.

THEN THE WATERS RUN WILD

All Regularity of Wave Motion Ceases as the Sea Bursts Its Bounds—Granite Blocks Weighing a Thousand Tons Tossed About Like Pebbles.

A pond troubled by a pebble gives a comprehensive idea of the mechanism of the perpetual motion of the ocean, now slow, regular and majestic, running from horizon to horizon, now rushing in ungovernable fury against the land. When a pebble falls in a pond it produces a fine circular line, which widens, multiplying until stopped by its boundaries. Just so is produced the surging of the sea.

To judge from appearances, the swells transport the water toward the circumference of the pond. In point of fact they do nothing of the kind, as is easily proved by a match or splinter of wood being cast upon the water. The match is hardly raised or lowered by the passage of the swell. The action in evidence is simply the transmission of motion, not the transmission of matter.

The fine waves of the sea are generated by the wind as fine waves are generated by the wind when it ripples a field of grain ready for the harvest. The waves that run over the field of grain are real waves, often waves in fierce action. The spears of grain are immovably fixed to the ground by their roots, but every blade transmits its oscillatory movement to the next blade. Just so liquid molecules are formed.

In the middle of a vast ocean, such as the equatorial Atlantic, for instance, great regular undulations are seen multiplying in parallels like the furrows in a vast plowed field. On the broad ocean the liquid mounds of the sea rise with every swing with more or less even regularity.

The mariner's imagination has given the great waves of the high sea the reputation of fabulous height. Reliable authors have talked of waves mountain high and of waves 120 feet in height. Exact measurement has given a closer estimate.

The waves of the high sea, of the major oceans, attain the height of fifty feet under the exceptional conditions of a tempest in the vicinity of Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope. The surges here estimated are those in free circulation on the high seas.

When a wave, whatever its strength or its weakness, meets a solid obstacle, whether that obstacle be a rocky cliff or a ship, the swell rebounds to extraordinary heights. Lighthouses are often swept by the sea from base to summit.

The length of waves is between twenty and thirty times their height, and the slope of the sea's hills is very gentle. A wave sixty feet high is somewhere between 1,000 and 1,200 feet long.

At the axis of the revolving tempest called a cyclone there are many wave systems, moving in all directions, meeting and combining. When the cyclone is in action the sea is said to "burst its bounds."

At such a time all regularity of wave succession ceases, and the sea runs wild, with force beyond human power to estimate. Blocks of granite weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 tons are caught by the sea and rolled like pebbles to distances of 300 feet and more, and sea walls are splintered as by hatchets. The "live power" of a furious sea is estimated by multiplying the mass of the surge by the square of its speed.

When the surf, impelled by the drive of the broad sea, meets a solid obstacle its pressure is thirty tons per square meter of water. This estimate, which is close, explains how water, when continually sapping the foot of a cliff, breaks down the land, forces back the shore line and little by little, constantly and surely, increases the sea's domain.

A wave from 33 to 35 feet high and 625 feet long—such a wave as the sea produces every eighteen seconds—represents power of about 1,350 horsepower, steam, per square yard.—Harper's Weekly.

Orators and Stimulants.

It is believed that no modern legislators keep themselves up to the mark in the same dangerous way as some of their predecessors in the British parliament. "Huskisson told me," writes Lord Broughton, "that Lord Castlereagh and Lord Liverpool both took ether to keep them going when speaking. He also told me that he once asked Mr. Wilberforce what made his fingers so black, and Wilberforce told him that he was in the habit of taking opium before a long speech, 'and to that,' said he, 'I owe all my success as a public speaker.'"

A Suggestive Song.

"Miss Soulsby has not a particle of tact."

"What has she done now?"

"The other evening when Mr. Jaggles, who is notorious for not paying his debts, asked her to sing she went to the piano and sang 'Trust Him Not!'"—London Telegraph.

HARNESSING A SHARK.

Cruel Revenge That Has the Sanction of Immemorial Custom.

The shark's jaws are pried open to the fullest extent. A stout eight foot spar of tough timber, 4 by 4 inches in cross measurement, is fixed transversely far back in the angle of the jaw, the ends projecting on either side. A strong rope leading from the ends of the spar is drawn close and tightened with a clove hitch round the fish's tail behind the wide tail flukes. It is thus the sailor harnesses his enemy.

The clamp of the cruel jaws drives the two inch long teeth deep into the tough spar. The tight line holds it in place, and, struggle as he may, the shark fails to move the spar an inch from its position. As a finishing touch the sailor drew his knife blade across the shark's eyeballs and let him go.

Bitted and bridled, blinded, with jaws wide gaping, he swam through a limitless sea in never ending fatuous circles. The queer furnishings he bore scared away others of his kind. Lonely and silent, he passed like Cain among the fishes till starvation and sheer misery ended his existence.

Cruel? Of course it was. But surely, like the venomous snake, the shark has long put himself beyond the pale of human mercy. Soft hearted as he usually is, the sailor man has a long memory. The shark has followed for weeks in the shadow of his ship and has watched each man of the crew with greedy, malevolent eye. There is a heavy debt against all the shark tribe for many a lost mariner, and when the chance comes to settle old scores the sailor pays it to the full. Besides, the thing has the sanction of immemorial custom. It was some old Phoenician, trading out of Tyre to the far Cassitorides, who probably first put the trick in practice.—Wide World Magazine.

BATTLE OF THE KEGS.

A Bloodless Naval Conflict of the Revolutionary War.

All wars have their humors and jokes, and the Revolutionary war was no exception. Jan. 5, 1777, figures in history as the date of the battle of the kegs, and, though bloodless, it has been celebrated in verse. Six months after the Declaration of Independence, while the British fleet was stationed at Philadelphia, the Americans undertook to destroy the ships by means of improvised torpedoes, which, set afloat in the river above the city, were to carry death and destruction among the enemy.

The alleged torpedoes were shaped like kegs, and when the British land forces discovered them floating down the river they were drawn up and ordered to fire on everything that came within range. The officers remembered the Trojan horse and feared every keg might contain an armed rebel. As the kegs came floating down there was great excitement and much firing, but no casualties. The only explosions were from the British guns, for the torpedoes were a failure.

The incident furnished much amusement to the patriots and was cleverly versified by Francis Hopkinson, a prominent lawyer of the day, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the first district judge of Pennsylvania by appointment of Washington. He was one of the most popular writers of the day, and "The Battle of the Kegs" had a great run among the patriots and distinct influence in the way of military inspiration. Francis Hopkinson was the father of Joseph Hopkinson, author of "Hail Columbia."—Indianapolis News.

LET IN THE LIGHT.

Darkened Rooms Are Too Suggestive of Darkened Lives.

Fresh air enthusiasts are familiar enough to most of us, but we hear less of enthusiasm for light. Darkened parlors, darkened bedrooms, darkened sick rooms are too common, says the Christian Herald. Sir B. W. Richardson, the London scientist and physician, declared that when the professors of healing enter a sickroom their first words in most cases ought to be Goethe's dying exclamation: "More light! More light!"

The light of the sun is God's own microbe killer, germicide, disinfectant, prophylactic, sickness healer. There is no physician, no chemical antidote, no compounded prescription to be compared with sunlight. Without it nature could not perform her functions. Man, beast, bird, insect would fall victims to the deadly gases that would prevail. The horrid mists and deadly gases are dispersed and decomposed by the action of light. Let it in everywhere! Let the light in more and more abundantly. Faded carpets are not as pitiful as faded cheeks. Spoiled cushions are trivial compared with spoiled health. Darkened rooms are too suggestive of darkened lives.

Funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Conover.

High Bridge, March 25.—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Conover, about seventy years old, widow of Theodore Y. Conover, will be held at the home near this place this afternoon. Rev. S. J. Rowland, pastor of the Clinton Presbyterian, of which she was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the Clinton Cemetery. Mrs. Conover died Thursday as result of a stroke of paralysis on Christmas Day. She was a daughter of the late Morris Sharpe, well known throughout Hunterdon and Somerset counties. Early in life she married Mr. Conover, who died about ten years ago. She leaves three sons and two daughters: Rev. Garret N. Conover, of Asbury Park; Rev. Dr. E. E. Conover, of Hasbrock Heights; Grandon Conover, of this place; Miss Mary S. Conover, of New York and Miss Lizzie Conover, at home.

An Up to Date Fable.

A lion once invited a fox to visit him in his cave.

"I should be glad to call," said the fox, "but I have observed that all the tracks are pointed toward your door, and there are none leading away."

"Pooh!" said the lion. "That phenomenon may be attributed to the great esteem in which I am held by my guests. I treat them so well that when they leave they walk backward for a long distance to show their respect for me. You will meet a most delightful and distinguished company when you call."

"If you will give me the names and addresses of a few of the survivors," answered the fox, "I will call and see if their reports are satisfactory. If so I will accept your invitation."

MANY NAMES ON MEASLES PETITION

Everybody Signing the Appeal for a Strict Quarantine on the Juvenile Disease.

MEDICAL OPINIONS CITED

Authorities on Measles Quoted to Show That the Fever is Highly Contagious, and Threatening in the Possible After Effects.

The petitions to the Board of Health for strict quarantine in cases of measles are being signed by everyone whom they are shown, according to Joseph D. Phillips, of Denmark road, who took the initiative in starting them off. Of those to whom the petitions were shown, 100 per cent. of them signed. Many doctors have expressed their willingness to sign and have declared in favor of the quarantine.

Petitions are to be found at the drug stores of P. B. Hodge, L. W Randolph and T. S. Armstrong, where they can be signed. The papers read as follows:

To the Board of Health of the City of Plainfield:—

We the undersigned residents of Plainfield, do hereby call your most earnest and careful attention to the following facts:

In the last four or five months there have been over five hundred cases of measles within a radius of two miles from the City Building. Over one hundred cases were reported in February and over sixty cases so far this month. Nothing seems to have been d one to check the spread of this disease. At an yrate, the disease is not being checked by the methods now in force.

In one house at present there are two cases of measles: one, a little boy, has also pneumonia. In the same house resides a girl of ten or eleven years old and was kept home from school. The principal of said school inquired as to the reason for her absence. When informed as to the facts he ordered the girl to come to school, and his action was endorsed by your office. As one authority says, "Measles may readily be conveyed two or three days before any eruption is present" while another says, "It appears to be contagious even during the period of incubation" and as the majority of medical men argee with these authorities, the action of said principal and your office, would appear, to say the least, to be ill advised, andnot for the public good.

Henry L. Coit, M. D., of Newark, the world-wide authority on the care of children says "Measles is the most contagious of all the eruptive fevers. I am heartily in favor of its being quarantine."

L. Emmet Holt, M. D., another noted authority says of measles; During the winter season it is likely to be very serious on account of the danger of bronchitis and pneumonia which frequently accompany it." He also says " It is very contagious. Scarlet fever and diphtheria are much less contagious."

J. P. Crozer Griffith M. D., physician to the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia, known throughout this country as an authority on children's diseases, says of measles, "Probably the most contagious of the eruptive fevers. It appears to be contagious even during the period incubation. Usually regarded as a disesaes of little consequence, but this is an error. In children not previously in good health it may prove fatal, generaly by inducing pneumonia, tuberculosis or some other complication."

Woods Hutchinson M. D., author of "Preventable Diseases," and an authority, says of measles, "An infectious fever—no amount of money or of time that a town can spend in stamping out these infectious diseases would be wasted. Most of the so-called chronic diseases of the heart, kidneys and lungs, bones and brain are due to the after effects of their toxins or poisons. The patient ought to be kept by himself, in qaurantine as we say, from two to four weks after the feverhase left him. Board of healths fix the quarantine by law."

Your board does not quarantine measles ye t it quarantines scarlet fever which is "less contagious." The Boards of Health in Brooklyn and New York do quarantine for measles. In New York this quarantine was instituted in 1896 and the death rate from measles dropped at once, diminshed about 50 per cent.

Surely such a result is much to be desired in our own city.

In view of the opinion of the foregoing eminent authorities that measles is "most contagious" and in view of the excellent results attained by quarantine in New York.

We do hereby petition your board to declare measles a quarantinable disease.

Somerset's New Borough.

Trenton, March 26 (Special).—Assemblyman Anderson's bill, incorporating the Borough of Peapack and Gladstone, Somerset county, was passed by the House last night.

COUNCILMAN MAY BE BARRED FROM HEARING

Member Who is Said to Have Favored Feiring Openly to be Protested, According to Report in Circulation.

William Jaeger, James Fitzpatrick and Paul Adams, of the local fire department, who have preferred charges against Captain George Feiring, of the department, have engaged H. C. Runyon to represent them at the hearing to be given by the councilmanic fire committee tomorrow night. The hearing will be private.

There was an apparently well-authenticated rumor in circulation today that a protest would be made against allowing a certain member of the fire committee from sitting in judgment at the hearing because he is alleged to have expressed himself too decidedly as favorably disposed to the accused. According to reports the councilman in question has openly stated that he believed the charges against Feiring to be a "frame-up." This councilman's attitude is said to have originally moved the accusers to hire personal counsel.

Another member of the committee in discussing the matter last night said that the hearing would not be in the nature of a "whitewash," as rumor intimated, but that both the accusers and the accused would be given every consideration. It was because the committee believed that publicity of the charges, or of facts that might come out at the hearing, would not tend to conserve and maintain the dignity and discipline of the department, the committeeman said, that it was decided to hold a private hearing.

LOCAL ELKS PUT BIG CLASS THROUGH ELIZABETH LODGE.

The officers of the Plainfield Lodge of Elks initiated twenty new members into Elizabeth Lodge, No. 289, last night, at Elizabeth. After the initiation ceremonies several hundred members and guests of the Elizabeth lodge sat down to a dinner in the banquet hall of the clubhouse.

The diners were entertained by Lew Dockstader and a number of members of his minstrel troupe and several vaudeville performers from the Elizabeth theatres. Addresses were made by officers of Plainfield and Elizabeth lodges.

PIERSON'S FRIEND FREED BY SURPRISING VERDICT

Following a hearing before Judge Atwater in the Union County Court, yesterday; the jury deliberating the case of Mrs. Mary H. Vliet, of this city, arrested in company with U. Grant Pierson with whom she fled to New York, returned a most surprising verdict. Despite an admission of guilt by her companion when called upon to plead, she was acquitted of the charge and released. Judge Atwater was not present when the verdict was returned, and no comment was made by the remaining officials.

When Pierson was called before the court, he made a clean breast of his part in the affair. His plea of non vult was accepted and sentence will be pronounced tomorrow.

Mrs. Vliet was afterward called, but pleaded not guilty. The trial following was conducted by Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr. At its close, there was no suspicion but what a verdict of guilty would be arrived at and it is understood the first ballot stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal. The latter used argument to win over some of the others and at the end of three hours discussion the verdict delivered was reached.

It was apparent that the jury's decision was based on sentimental grounds, for the reason that Pierson made no attempt at defense and appeared as the State's principal witness against Mrs. Vliet.

The woman's husband, who resides in North Branch, and Mrs. Pierson were interseted spectators in court.

MAINE FOR WILSON --AND 'THAT'S ALL'

Trenton, March 26.—Senator Obadiah Gardner, the first Democrat to be elected to the National Senate from the State of Maine in years, brought to Governor Wilson yesterday afternoon word that his state was overwhelmingly in favor of him as a candidate for President. Gardner told Governor Wilson that the Maine Democrats were 4¼ to 1 for him.

Senator Gardner also discussed Prohibition as it exists in Maine and declared that it was a failure.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES AT CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

Holy Week services on the afternoons of the week before Easter will be held in the Crescent Avenue church at 4 o'clock. Addresses appropriate to each day in the last week of the Saviour's minstry will be given by the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, of the Central Congregational church of Brooklyn; the Rev. Dr. Malcolm J. McLeod, of St. Nicholas Collegiate church, of New York, and the Rev. John McDowell, of Park Presbyterian church, Newark. On Good Friday afternoon, as in former years, the pastor will address the young people of the church, and on Good Friday evening the union service of the churches will be held. These services will be held in the church and the public is cordially invited to attend.

SOLEMN REQUIEM MASS FOR JOHN J. HICKEY.

The funeral of John J. Hickey was held at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock this morning. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends, including a delegation from St. Mary's T. A. B. Society of which Mr. Hickey was one of the oldest members. Father B. M. Bogan, pastor of the church, officiated, there being a solemn requiem mass for the repose of the soul.

The burial took place in St. Mary's cemetery, and the pall-bearers were Edward Lynch, John Walsh, John Barry, Dennis O'Keefe, Jeremiah Callahan and Richard Birmingham.

Turner Goes to Trenton.

James Turner, colored, of this city, who was found guilty of forging checks, using the names of Rev. Dr. C. A. Eaton, Frank Linke and others, was taken to Trenton, today, to begin the serving of his sentence, which is not less than one year and not more than thirty years.

Mrs. Sarah E. Dunn.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Dunn, widow of William H. Harrison Dunn, died this noon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Drake, of Monroe avenue. She had been ill for a long period. Beside her daughter, she is survived by one son, Walter Dunn.

Dean DuMoulin Coming.

The Very Rev. Dean DuMoulin, of Cleveland, Ohio, will speak at the Lenten service at Grace Episcopal church tomorrow night. The dean is no stranger to Plainfield and is assured of a large congregation.

MAYOR WILL PROTEST BEARD BILL TO WILSON

Council Passes Resolution and Asks Him to Carry City's Objections to Governor's Hearing--Liquor Bill Condemned.

Following an executive session which lasted nearly an hour, the Common Council in adjourned meeting, last night, put itself on record as opposed to two bills now in the Legislature, which it is considered would be detrimental to Plainfield's interest should they become laws.

In each case the council expressed itself through a resolution introduced by Mr. Holt. The first one was a protest to Gov. Wilson against signing Assembly mill No. 261, commonly known as the Beard bill, which is designed to prevent one municipality from locating sewage disposal works in another municipality without the consent of the residents. Mayor G. W. V. Moy was requested to attend the public hearing to be given by Governor Wilson at Trenton this afternoon and in addition to presenting the Council's protest, to personally present the city's objection to his signing the bill.

The other resolution protested against the Governor signing Assembly bill No. 344, which, should it become a law, would permit the delivery of liquor in quantities of from one to five gallons from one locality to another. In the opinion of Mr. Holt such a law would tend to destroy the care ul supervision built up here or regulating the liquor traffic. It would permit liquor dealers in North Plainfield or any other municipality in the State or New York department stores to deliver liquo, in this city.

Mr. Holt said that the Assembly had passed the bill, that it had been amended by the Senate and sent back to the Assembly again and is now up to the Governor to sign. This question has been discussed more or less and the New York department stores appealed the cases brought against them to the United States Supreme Court, with the result that they were able to continue the delivery of liquor.

Councilmen Endress and Reville, the Democratic members of the council voted against the second resolution. Mr. Endress explained after the meeting that if the bill did not become a law, it would prevent Plainfield liquor dealers from delivering in North Plainfield and he thought that it would be an injustice to them especially; also to outside dealers, for he did not think that any dealer should have the monopoly of the business.

Mayor Moy will also present this resolution and a verbal protest to the Governor requesting him not to sign the bill.

State Health Board Didn't Met.

Owing to the illness of J. H. Capstick, its president, the State Board of Health did not meet at Trenton today and consequently no action was possible on the applications of Plainfield and North Plainfield for permission to build sewage disposal works. North Plainfield wants to locate on the Zvolenrk farm in North Plainfield Township, and Plainfield wants to establish sewage disposal works on the Darling farm in Piscataway Township.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL COMING TO THE FORE

Public Affairs Committee of Council Will Consider Subject at Meeting Tonight.

EXPERT WILL BE PRESENT

Committee Has Been Collecting Data and Hopes to Be Able to Make Some Definite Recommendation to the Council Soon.

The Councilmanic public affairs committee, of which George S. Clay is the chairman, has arranged for a meeting tonight when the question of garbage disposal will be discussed. An expert on the subject has been invited to attend the meeting.

It is the purpose of the committee to take definite action within a short time, and make some recommendation to the Council with a view to introducing a municipal system of garbage collection and disposal. The committee has been collecting facts and figures with a view to ascertaining the exact cost of introducing the system, and with the aid of the expert hope to reach a conclusion very soon.

There has been an urgent need for an approved system of collecting and disposal of garbage and the committee believes that the time has arrived when something should be done. Anyone interested will be welcome to attend tonight's meeting.

JOHN A. M'KEON DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

John A. McKeon died at his home, 324 East Second street, last night, following a long illness. Mr. McKeon was a native of Ireland, coming to this country when a young man. He resided in New York for many years, where he was employed by the Knickerbocker Ice Company. Later he removed to Jersey City from which place he came to Plainfield fourteen years ageo.

During Mr. McKeon's residence here he was for several years manager for Brady Brothers ice dealers. During the past ten years he has lived in retirement.

Mr. McKeon was a member of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, I. O. F., and the Knickerbocker Mutual Benefit Association, of New York. He is survived by a wife and five children, James F. McKeon, of this city; John A McKeon, of East Orange; Andrew McKeon, of Jersey City; Mrs. Catherine Knox, of Bloomfield, and Mrs. Thomas J. Lynch, of this city. The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church, Thursday morning at 9 o clock and the burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS FOR TEN-HOURS-A-DAY BILL

The Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Stephen Haff, on West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, endorsed the ten-hour working day for women bill now pending in the State Assembly, but condemned the sixty-hour amendment to it.

At the request of the league, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall sent a copy of the spech she made before the joint judiciary committee of the Legislature on March 12. It was voted that the original be framed and hung in the league room. Mrs. Hall will deliver an address here on April 30, on the life and work of her mother, Julia Ward Howe.

After the business meeting Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of school, read a suggestive paper on "Business Efficiency in Our Public Schools," the central thought being, how far do the public schools enable each individual pupil to meet his needs and how can they more perfectly serve and benefit the community as a whole.

Dr. Maxson made a plea for interest in the National Educational Bureau at Washington which is striving to employ experts to study the child problem. He also advocated a gymnasium and swimming pool at the High School.

PLAN PUBLIC RECEPTION AT THE NEW DAY NURSERY

The City Union of the Kings Daughters will take possession of its new Day Nursery on West Front street, Monday, March 31, and plans are being made to hold a public reception there the later part of April. The building, which has been remodeled at an expense of several thousands dollars, will be one of the best equipped of its kind, and it will be possible to accomdate at least one hundred children at the nursery.

Special pains have been taken to provide for the babies and their comfort and convenience will be carefully looked after, while the older children will have their playrooms and other means of taking up their attention during the day. The Nursery is provided with two kitchens, one on the first and second floor, while there is ample provision in bathrooms for keeping the children clean.

FREDERICK A. GIDDIS.

Frederick A. Giddis, aged about 30 years, formerly of Dunellen, but for the past seven years a resident of Philadelphia, where he was employed in the accounting department of the Reading Railroad, died at his home in that city this morning. He had been in poor health for some time. Mr. Giddis was a resident of Dunellen the greater part of his life. He is survived by a wife and one child, five years old. The remains will be brought to Dunellen today and announcement of the funeral will be made later.

LODGEROOM VANDAL SHEARS MOOSE BEARD.

Perth Amboy, March 26.—Prominent members of the local lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, are trying to learn who mutilated a handsome moose head hanging in the meeting-room of the lodge. The beard was recently cut from the lower jaw of the head. Just when the mutilation took place is not known, nor is there any clue. The moose was shot in Canada several years ago by a Perth Amboy hunter, and when the Perth Amboy lodge was formed prominent charter members bought the head and lent it to the lodge.

Motor Plant For Perth Amboy.

Perth Amboy, March 26.—The Wonderland Beach Company, formed three years ago to conduct an outdoor amusement place on the shore of the Raritan River at the foot of Second street, has accepted the offer of the Continental Engine Company of Chicago, and the latter will take possession at once. It is announced that a plant for the construction of motor trucks will be erected on the site, which measures 330 by 575 feet in size, and has railroad and water transportation facilities. The Wonderland company never opened its proposed resort after acquiring the property.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Dunellen & Vicinity.

The Dunellen Athletic Association held an adjourned meeting last night, at which it was definitely decided to not to sponsor a baseball team this season, some talk having been spread that it was in contemplation. The members voted to map out an active campaign during the summer and in the fall it is hoped to double the membership.

Rev. W. A. Knox who preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist church, Sunday, was recently presenew with a purse of $100 by the members of the Congregation. Mr. Knox's new charge wil be named Friday and he will be succeeded in Dunellen by Rev. Mr. Rhinesmith, of Cranford.

The chior of St. John's church is preparing elobrate musical programe for Palm and Easter Sundays. The organization has been greatly enlarged and improved under the leadrship of Mrs. E. L. Fields, while Miss Anna Rinehart's work as organist has been greatly appreciated.

The local auditors recently appointed to audit the books of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association commenced their work last night. It will be continued throughout the week. The auditors are George F. Schenck, William Anness and Charles Coriell Jr.

The Dunellen Dramatic Club will present its production of "Just Plain Folks" in Friendship hall, New Market tonight, under the auspices of Lake side Council, Daughters of Liberty.

Edward Horton and familiy who have been living in J. W. Moyinham's house on North avenue, will move to Plainfield April 1.

Westfield.

It looks as though the advocates of the plan of turning the Mountain avenue property owned by the town into a park will have trouble to get the project through, even though a majority of the councilmen favor it. An ordinance to spend $12,000 for park improvement was passed at the last meeting of the council. Now the excessive rains have shown that storm sewers are needed in several parts of the town, and many residents demand that the storm sewers be put in and that the park project be delayed for a year or two. It is said that at least one councilman will change his vote and oppose the park ordinance, if the other councilmen are not willing to put in the storm sewers required in his ward. The next council meeting will be held April 1, when the matter will come up.

A driver for a dairy firm of Union was arrested Saturday by Officer J. C. Rosecrans for peddling without a license. He was paroled to enable him to go to the town clerk and secure a license. Instead of doing so he disappeared.

Somerville.

The engagement of Miss Annie Van Fleet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Van Fleet, of West Cliff street, to Charles N. Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Matthews, of Somerville, is announced.

Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl, pastor of the Second Reformed church, lectured Sunday afternoon before the Bible Fellowship Club of the church on "Mohammed."

Rev. Andrew Hegeman, who has been spending the winter at Orlando, Fla., returned to his home in Somerville Saturday.

Harry Mundy, of Holyoke, Mass., spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mundy, on South street.

Mr. and Mrs. Armistead, of East Orange, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crater.

John Kendall has moved his family from Raritan to Virginia.

Joseph Gainor is visiting at Schenectady, N. Y.

Bound Brook.

Harry F. Johnson has resigned his position as janitor and special delivery messenger at the Bound Brook postoffice. Edward Blanck has succeeded Mr. Johnson.

Bound Brook Council, No. 1339, Royal Arcanum, will meet in Hamilton Hall, this evening. G. R. Ward will make a fraternal visit with them.

Barclay Opdycke, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Opdycke, gave a birthday party to a number of his young friends on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Praster are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a young daughter which the stork left last week.

The election of trustees at the Methodist church will be held at the close of prayer meeting tomorrow evening.

Mrs. S. H. Miller will entertain the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Casterlin entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williamson, of Hopewell, last week.

Mrs. J. Edward Clark, of Clarkhurst Farm, on the river road, is spending a week at Atlantic City.

Mrs. John M. Hibbs has gone to Flemington for a short while. Later she will go to Milwaukee, Wis.

Pastor Alfred Evans, of the Methodist church, will leave for the annual conference tomorrow.

Miss Mary G. Voorhees and Mrs Harry R. Giles visited relatives at Millstone, yesterday.

Roy Rinehart spent Sunday with his parents at North Branch Depot.

Mrs. Harriet Gore is visiting friends at Bloomfield.

'Plains & Fanwood.

Professor S. B. Townsend, principal of the Fanwood Township schools, states that the system now in effect in Plainfield schools, will be adopted in Franwood for the coming schooi year. The system consists mainly in having each teacher instruct pupils in certain subjects, for instance, one teacher having charge of the classes in arithmetic, another the classes in grammar, etc.

Several narrow escapes from overturning and collisions on South avenue, in Fanwood, have been reported by automobilists, due to the bad condition of the county road. It is a shame that this road has not received attention, and it is about time the county officials got busy.

The 7:15 trolley car jumped the track at the Cook avenue switch yesterday morning and traffic was delayed up for an hour. Four cars each way were lined up at the switch before the order came to transfer passengers around car in trouble.

Phillip John who recently purchased the Walpole Hotel property has started the work of improving the property. The hotel sheds are being removed and other changes are to be made about the place.

LOOK FOR HEAVY CROPS FROM FLOOD IRRIGATION

Huge hay crops on the flooded plains of the upper Passaic Valley between Chatham and Singac are predicted for the coming summer by the farmers living in that section. All of the meadows in this strip, 12 miles long and from one-fourth mile to two miles in width, have been inundated by the recent floods; in fact they are for the most part, still covered to a depth of from two to six feet with water.

Hundeds of thousands of tons of washings from the mountain highways at either sidej of the flooded plains as well as rich top soil from numerous hillside farms, was carried by the various streams into the great lake which the flood of last week formed.

The water on the meadows passes off very slowly. The consequence is that the greater portion of this rich fertilizing material is deposited all over the meadow surface and , it is declared, will therefore prove of inestimable benefit to the coming crop of hay .

The meadow land which will be affected is designated under various names. The section south of Swinefield is known as the Hanover, Black and Whippany meadows; between Swinefild and Pine Brook, as the Swinefield, Troy and Hanover Neck meadows; between Pine Brook and Horse Neck as the Little Piece and Long Meadows, and between Horse Neck and Singac as the Great Piece and Great Meadows. The area comprises more than 2,000 acres of meadow land, from each of which one-half to four tons of hay are cut yeary.

Many farmers owning the meadow land consider it among the most valuable of their farm holdings. Having no improved roads or other benefits, it is assessed at an extremely low price for taxation, the average value being placed for eaxable purposes about $10 per acre. Frequently one acre produces from $10 to $30 worth of hay, the better quality of which can be sued for fodder and the poorer for bedding for horses andc ows.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will meet tonight and begin the work of preparation for the observance of Memorial Day.

We Are Splendidly Prepared With These Handsome Suits and Stunning Hats

to help you appear at your very best in the approaching Easter parade.

Our Stocks Were Never More Complete or So Moderately Priced.

Church Parade on Easter Sunday is the generally accepted occasion on which all women cast aside their winter fashions and dress and put on the new apparel Dame Fashion has decreed for Spring and Summer wear. Are you preparing to take your place in the joyful crowds? Let us help you with these many beautiful things we have gathered together for your pleasure.

OUR MILLINERY PARLORS

are replete with a wondrous array of the new Spring Models. The more delicate shades mingle with crimson, Emerald greens, yellows, browns, blues, and everywhere you turn you see flowers and foliage that herald the newly arrived season. There's a big assortment of models plainly and elaborately trimmed; peach basket shapes, picture hats, helmet shapes, toques and turbans and some with deep roll brims, and of course flowers and ribbons enter into the trimming very largely; laces, however, are being used very extensively this season and we can show you several very handsome models thus trimmed. And the prices—we feel confident you will say that they are the most reasonable you have seen, so far, ranging from $2.98 up to $25.00.

Stylish Models in Women's Tailored Suits---All Moderately Priced

The removal of our Ladies' and Misses' Ready-to-Wear Department to the 2nd floor enables us to devote ten times more space to this very important section than before. This is of great importance to our patrons as we are able to carry greater and more assorted stocks, and it gives you distinct privacy while making your selection and fitting; and besides, we have been able to look after your personal comforts while shopping, by fitting the department out in a thoroughly up-to-date manner. Our rule of worthy merchandise at moderate prices is, and always will be, strongly in evidence as exemplified by the two following unapproachable values.

Smart models in Mannish Tailored Suits, fashioned of only all wool materials, which include serges, mixtures, stripe effects, etc. They are satin lined and the workmanship is perfect, and we are sure you would have to pay quite $20.00 elsewhere for the same suits. Our special price is only $17.50

A beautiful fabric for your Spring Suits and Dresses—not too heavy, with a novelty shadow stripe running thru it. All wool quality and extra wide; specially priced at $1.79 a yard. Will make up splendidly.

Here's a group of very smart suits, splendidly made of thoroughly all wool fabrics, such as serges, whipcords (which are very stylish), mannish worsteds, etc. They are cut very stylishly; some with the deep revere and with turn back cuffs and are worth at least $25; our special price is only $22.50

We are showing a big range of weaves and cloths for your Spring Suits, etc., at half dollar a yard; checks, serges, batistes, mixtures, stripe effects, and a variety of fancy weaves, good qualities, too, that will wear well.

RECEIVED FATAL HURT AS HE LEANED FROM CAR.

New Brunswick, March 26.—On the way to his home in Piscataway-town, Charles E. Ling, an employe of the Ajax Tire Company at Trenton, was fatally injured while riding on a Metuchen trolley car.

He was on the rear platform riding on the step with his body projecting too far outside. As the car crossed the Albany street bridge Ling's head came into collision with one of the iron trolley poles. He was stunned and was removed to St. Peter's Hospital, where he died. His parents and a brother survive him.

PRIMARY LAW FOR ILLINOIS.

Special Session of Legislature Called, With Enough Votes For It Pledged.

Springfield, Ill., March 26.—Governor Deneen issued a call for a special session of the Illinois general assembly to meet in this city at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The primary cause of the calling of the special session is to pass a presidential preference primary law, to enact which sufficient votes have been pledged, but in addition to this a number of questions regarding the interest of the state will be considered.

MANY MINERS RETURN.

English Strike Still Unsettled, but 2,400 Workers Go Back.

London, via Glace Bay, March 26.—The fruitless efforts of the government to bring about an agreement between the coal operators and the striking miners make the strike situation seem worse confused than ever. The joint conference of the disputants, which was called by Premier Asquith, has not taken place. Instead there have been separate conferences, in which Mr. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, the secretary of state for foreign affairs; Sir George R. Askwith and others have taken part, but thus far there has been a failure to harmonize the many conflicting views of the situation.

If nothing comes of today's meetings some action not yet disclosed will be taken by the government.

Four hundred miners returned to work in Warwickshire. But the most hopeful sign lay in the fact that 2,000 men returned to work in the collieries of north Wales and Scotland. They were protected by police, and no attempt was made by the strikers to interfere. The latter are awaiting the outcome of the negotiations in London

Representatives of the English operators declared that they knew that the men would not hold out another week and that many are now ready to return to work.

Maud Malone Interrupts Speech With Query.

EJECTED, HALL IN UPROAR

When She Insists on Breaking Into Roosevelt's Speech Trouble Starts and Police Remove Her to Restore Order. Colonel Talks of Honesty at Polls.

New York, March 26.—A near riot was precipitated at Maennerchor hall, the third speaking place of the six that Colonel Roosevelt visited on his whirlwind speechmaking tour of New York's east side, when a suffragette broke into the colonel's address at the point where he was warning his hearers that they were not going to get a square deal at the approaching primaries if they did not watch out with a query concerning the colonel's attitude toward votes for women.

"How about votes for women, Mr. Roosevelt?" said the lady with a flick at her tightly combed hair. It was Maud Malone, who holds all records for interrupting politicians.

The colonel stilled the rising tumult, waved the chairman, Oscar S. Straus, back to his chair, and replied:

"Madam, I have asked that you women shall be allowed to vote to determine whether you shall vote."

At the tail of the laughter that shook the 3,000 people in the hall came the voice of Miss Malone, quavery but persistent:

"Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Roosevelt"—

Her voice was drowned by cat calls, hisses, jeers and a medley of noises She had champions who planted themselves in front of her with clinched fists. Dozens of men started up threatening to put her out.

"Let me speak," began the colonel, but the band cut him short with a rendition of "Take a Little Tip From Father." Police whistles sounded Mr. Straus, considerably agitated looked about for men behind the whistles. The hisses resembled steam escaping from enormous valves. Finally the colonel got a word in edgewise.

"I am particular always to treat any woman with the utmost respect," he ventured, "but"—

"No square deal, Mr. Roosevelt," quavered the lady.

By this time everybody in the hall was on his or her feet. Miss Malone planted firmly, glared at the colonel The colonel glared back with compound interest. Then a gray special cop charged through the press and persuaded Miss Malone that it was time to go. As she disappeared Colonel Roosevelt said:

"This is probably a put up job on the part of our opponents. I was delighted to answer the question she put in good faith. Anything the women of this country want I want them to have (applause). American men are pretty good fellows and their wives are better fellows (soprano cheers) Let the women vote first to see whether they want to vote. If that isn't the square deal I do not know what is (applause).

That was the only time the colonel was interrupted in his tour of six halls. He spoke to perhaps 10,000 people, beginning at Apollo hall in Clinton street at 7:35 p. m. and winding up at Niblo's garden far up in the Bronx. Wherever he appeared he addressed as many people as the hall would hold.

"If we are beaten fairly I have nothing to say," said the colonel in several of his speeches, "but if we are beaten by cheating and foul means then we are no better off here than the countries of the old world from which certain of you have come."

Colonel Roosevelt carried with him a sample primary ballot fourteen feet long made out for Democrats of the Forty-third election district of the Twenty-third assembly district. He unwound it slowly and trailed it along the platform. The Republican ballot is five feet long. At most places he was flashlighted holding up the center of the Democratic ballot.

PACKERS' FATE WITH JURY.

Government Suit Ends, and Verdict Is Now Awaited.

Chicago, March 26.—"Did these defendants conspire and combine in restraint of trade?"

In this terse question Federal Judge Carpenter put the fate of the ten Chicago packers who have been on trial for fifteen weeks in his court squarely up to the jury, and the body is deliberating on its verdict.

Judge Carpenter in his charge included an interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust act, the law under which the packers have been prosecuted, and a somewhat extended review of the evidence.

REVOLUTIONISTS KILL 1,500.

Heavy Casualties Reported From Kulja District of China.

St. Petersburg, March 26.—Advices received here are to the effect that the revolutionists in the Kulja district of China have defeated the government forces with the loss of 1,500 men killed.

The revolutionists had 200 killed. The fighting took place near Shikho.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. AD. PIRATES.

New York's newspapers have declared war on the "ad. pirate" and the campaign being waged there to put an end to his practices will undoubtedly be taken up in due time by newspaper managers all over the country, for the evil is by no means confined to any particular section. The game worked by these "pirates" consists in either placing, or causing others to place for them, advertising matter in the folds of newspapers ready for distribution. A dodger, for instance, is inserted in the paper by some dealer who will not pay for legitimate advertising in the columns of the paper itself. In some cases the merchant who works this deception on the public and on the newspaper has even been known to copy the make-up of the paper itself, giving the appearance of a loose sheet.

While the Newspaper Publishers' Association of New York is planning to secure needed legislation, the New York World has already begun an action against a Bronx department store that actually inserted in copies of the Sunday World separate circular advertisements in alleged imitation of the advertising in the newspaper proper. As the offense is alleged to have been committed on numerous occasions, the World seeks to recover for the full amount of space of the circulars estimated on a basis of the World rate card together with additional damages, bringing the total amount above $80,000.

To aid publishers in getting after these "pirates" in courts of justice, a bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature which provides that "a person who places upon or affixes to or causes an advertisement, notice, circular, pamphlet, card, handbill, printed book or notice of any kind to be placed in or upon or affixed to, a newspaper, magazine, periodical or book without the consent of the owner or owners of said newspaper, magazine, periodical or book shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding six months or by a fine not exceeding $100 or both."

It is too late to have a similar bill introduced in our own Legislature, but it would not be amiss for the New Jersey Editorial Association or some similar body to plan now to have some such legislation enacted by the next Legislature.

Governor Deneen is anxious to hear the voice of the people and not the commands of the bosses when Illinois selects its delegates for the National conventions. To that end he has called a special meeting of the Legislature for this afternoon when the initiative will be taken for a Presidential preference primary law similar to that of New Jersey and other states that are throwing off the shackles of political masters. The Governor gives it out that he has sufficient pledges from the legislators to enact a popular law for the purpose. This shows how the movement for "rule by the people" is spreading. It is a forerunner of the day when, to quote Dr. Richard Moldenke, "the loud-mouthed practical politician" will no longer make and unmake representatives and laws.

And still again we call attention to the fact that the people of Plainfield, the taxpayers, want to see a municipal system of garbage collection and disposal inaugurated. If one-tenth of the time that the city fathers have devoted to other problems, many of much less importance to the community, were given to this sanitary and economical scheme, it would not be long before a satisfactory system would be a reality. A meeting of the Councilmanic public affairs committee has been called for tonight when the members will hear the views of a New York expert. That's good news. Now what the public should do is to write to the councilmen giving their views on the subject.

Everywhere the churches realize the importance of newspaper publicity and in many cities appreciate the fact that it is only fair that they should resort to the advertising columns and not expect to have all the copy they submit published for nothing. The rector of Grace Episcopal church takes this view evidently as may be seen in this issue when he uses advertising space to announce that the Very Rev. Dean DuMoulin, of Cleveland, Ohio, will preach at a Lenten service tomorrow night. The size of his congregation will tell whether advertising pays.

"Advertising is so strong a guarantee of quality that in nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand it governs the buyer's choice," says an exchange. "One egg looks pretty much like another, but purchasers of eggs are not guided by appearances—they pin their faith to the say-so of the dependable seller, and eggs guaranteed to be fresh by reputable advertisers bring higher prices than those sold anonymously."

The Contributed Editorial for next Saturday, a regular weekly feature of this paper, will be written by a prominent North Plainfielder, a man who is well and favorably known throughout the State for his activity in public educational work. We will tell you more about him tomorrow; but it is hardly necessary for he needs no introduction.

Blue grass has been selected by the Kentucky Legislature as the official flower. We are waiting to see Kentuckians rise up and curse that Legislature for this slight upon the mint.

C. OF C. DINNER TICKETS ARE IN STEADY DEMAND

The Chamber of Commerce dinner at Truell Hall, Saturday night, promises to eclipse all previous ones in the history of the chamber. The speakers will be Governor Woodrow Wilson, former Governor J. Franklin Fort, former Congressman George A. Post, of Pennsylvania, who is now president of the Business Railway Association; James D. Kenyon, of New York, who will talk on "The Science of Business Building," and George Henry Smith, of New York, who will speak on a popular subject.

All of the speakers are of known ability and with an excellent dinner the affair should be the best held here in recent years. There is a steady demand for the tickets and it is predicted that the entire seating capacity will be sold twenty-four hours before the banquet. Tickets may be obtained from P. H. Burns, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, telephone "Plainfield 12062."

PLAINFIELD B. AND L. ASSN HOLDS ITS ANNUAL SESSION.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association held last night the stockholders after organizing elected these as a board of directors: L. E. Barkalew, Henry Leifke, W. R. Codington, Herman Schwed, Louis Klein, C. M. Dolliver, J. P. Homan, W. A. Woodruff, J. C. Blimm, Peter J. McDonough, B. F. Coriell and E. M. Laing. These officers were elected: President, L. E. Barkalew; vice president, Henry Leifke; treasurer, W. R. Codington; secretary, B. F. Coriell.

GENERAL HOSTILITY FOR FITZHERBERT

Trenton, N. J., March 26.—Senator Fitzherbert of Morris county, recently found guilty by the senate of dishonorable conduct in connection with proposed legislation affecting an acetylene gas company, walked into the senate chamber, and as soon as he took his seat the Republican members brought about an adjournment. Fitzherbert immediately appealed to Governor Wilson.

WOMEN OF THE CONFEDERACY

Monument to Them Will Be Unveiled at Columbia, S. C., In April.

The unveiling of a memorial reared by the men of the state to the South Carolina women of the Confederacy will take place at Columbia, S. C., on April 11. This is the first monument to be raised by a state or community or through public subscription to the women of the Southern Confederacy.

The bronze group shows a southern woman, dignified, serious, crowned with laurel by the majestic figure at her rear. On either side are figures of the new south burdened with triumphant wreaths to lay at her feet.

Each of the four sides of the monument has an inscription. These were written by William E. Gonzales, the editor of the Columbia State. The sculptor is F. Wellington Rucksthul of New York.

The unveiling will be a great event in South Carolina, attracting a full attendance of the United Confederate Veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy as well as many distinguished men and women of the state.

Dynamite Replaces the Plow.

They are plowing with dynamite now to such an extent that one manufacturer of explosives sold to farmers 500,000 pounds in 1908, 750,000 pounds in 1909, 1,500,000 pounds in 1910, 3,000,000 pounds in 1911, and the indications are that this one concern will ship 5,000,000 pounds to farmers this year. This method of plowing was the idea of a southern farmer who found that it loosened up the subsoil as no ordinary method of cultivation could do. The results were astonishing in the increased size of his crops and so out of proportion to the cost of the dynamite that it rapidly became popular. There are today fully half a dozen powder manufacturers who are devoting themselves specially to the sale of high explosives for cultivating the ground.

LIFE IN JAPAN AS SEEN BY REV. MR. HEICHER

Rev. M. K. W. Heicher, formerly a member of the North Plainfield High School faculty, who recently returned from Japan to study at Drew Theological Seminary, gave a lecture on the "Flowery Kingdom" in Grace M. E. church, last night, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Missionary Auxiliary of the Epworth league.

Mr. Heicher's talk was confined to no especial subject but dealt with life in general in Japan. His word pictures were enhanced by 100 or more splendid stereopticon views.

Forests of Africa.

One of the great natural treasures of Africa is the immense extra tropical forest that extends almost unbroken from the extreme southern end along the eastern highlands to the equator. There are gaps in it, and the trees change in kind somewhat with change of latitude, but upon the whole it has the same character throughout. The altitude above the sea changes regularly with decrease of latitude. Near the cape the forest grows at sea level; in Natal and the Transvaal its altitude increases to 3,000, 4,000 and 5,000 feet, and on approaching the equator it rises to 7,000 feet and finally to 10,000 feet. In the equatorial highlands the growth is very vigorous, and the forest is enriched with the pencil cedar of Abyssinia. — Youth's Companion.

PROPOSALS.

For Furnishing Crushed Stone and Materials For Culverts and Cross-walks, to the Borough of North Plainfield.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield at the regular meeting March 1, 1912, notice is hereby given that the Mayor and Council will meet at the Council Chamber, Somerset Street, in the said Borough, on Friday, April 5, 1912, at 8 o'clock P. M., at which time and place said Mayor and Council will receive sealed proposals for furnishing crushed stone, and for furnishing materials for culverts and cross-walks as follows:

For crushed stone for the remainder of the year 1912. Bids to state the price per cubic yard, and pounds, for furnishing each or any of the following sizes, the bid on each size to be independent of bids on any other size, viz.:

Fine screenings of crushed stone, one-half inch screened stone, one inch, one and one-quarter inch and two and one-half inch screened stone.

In such quantities, and delivered at such times and places in the Borough as the Street Commissioner may direct.

The above must be of the very best quality trap rock, free from weathered stone, dirt, clay or other foreign matter, and in every way acceptable to said Street Commissioner.

All stone furnished must be weighed on such scales as said Street Commissioner may from time to time direct, and a voucher or way-bill must be delivered with every load to the said Street Commissioner or to his authorized representative.

Every bidder to whom any contract for crushed stone is awarded, must enter into written contract to furnish and deliver the same in strict compliance with the aforesaid terms and must furnish bond satisfactory to said Council, in the sum of $1,000, for the strict performance thereof.

At the same time sealed proposals will be received for furnishing the following materials for culverts and cross-walks:

Cover stone for culverts not larger than 4 feet by 3 feet by not less than 3½ inches in thickness, per square foot.

Curbing 16 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per lineal foot.

Curbing 20 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per lineal foot.

Cross walk stone 24 inches by not less than 4 inches, 3 to 4½ feet long, Belgian edge, per lineal foot.

Cross-walk stone 20 inches by not less than 4 inches, 3 to 4½ feet long, Belgian edge, per lineal foot.

All to be of the best hard blue stone, equal in quality and durability to stone from the Hudson River quarries.

Upon receipt of such bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or their agents desire to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes.

The right to reject any and all bids is hereby reserved.

By order of the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, March 1, 1912.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SAVORY BEEF LOAF.

ANY meat may be served in the form of loaf, but beef tastes better than most others with the exceptica of veal.

With Beefsteak.

Beef Loaf.—Cut about a pound and a half of tender steak into thin, square pieces, removing all the skin and fat.

Rub each with a piece of freshly cut onion.

Scatter a little chopped parsley over them and dust with salt, black pepper and a very little grated nutmeg.

Put a layer of the meat into a mold and cover with thin slices of fairly lean bacon. Then add two more layers of beef and one of bacon and so on until the mold is full.

Pour half a pint of stock over it. Cover the mold and let the meat stew slowly in a moderately hot oven for three hours.

Adding Some Gelatin.

At the end of the time remove the mold, pour the gravy from it into a basin without disturbing the meat and dissolve in the liquid a quarter of an ounce of sheet gelatin. Add sufficient stock to make the quantity half a pint. When cool and inclined to set pour it back into the mold and put it aside until the following day.

Turn the loaf carefully out of the mold, cover the top with the sieved yolk of a hard boiled egg. With the sieved white make a border round the edge and garnish with watercress.

Highly Spiced.

Beef and Pork Loaf.—Grind fine three pounds of lean beef and a pound of lean pork. Season with one bay leaf, one-half an onion minced, two eggs beaten light, one tablespoonful of French mustard, half a cupful of ketchup and one tablespoonful of sugar.

Pack tightly into a pan, cover and bake.

Set the pan in an outer pan of water. Cook for three hours and a half.

Turn out upon a dish, thicken the gravy left in the pan, adding to it chopped cooked mushrooms and serve.

Using Cold Beef.

Spiced Beef Loaf.—Left over cold beef may be used in this loaf. Cold vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots and onions, may also be incorporated. They must be run through the meat chopper like the beef. Put the chopped meat, vegetables and some gravy into a bowl. Add one teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley, one teaspoonful onion juice, one tablespoonful of finely chopped red or green peppers. Use fresh breadcrumbs enough to form into a loaf. Put into a pan that has been brushed with drippings. Cover with breadcrumbs and brush with well beaten egg and breadcrumbs again. Put into a hot oven and bake thirty minutes. Set aside to cool. Garnish with parsley.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

SNOWY WHITE A CONSPICUOUS SPRING COLOR.

WHITE is to be a conspicuous color for Easter. Laces and embroideries are used in many effective ways on the spring costumes. One of the most fetching touches is the use of Roman cut work on linen suits. A costume of that sort is illustrated here, the cobweb-like embroideries being scattered over the skirt, the solid portions of which are sprinkled with embroidered dots. The collar, cuffs and edges of the coat are finished with embroidered scallops. The hat of light straw is trimmed with a mass of net laid in finely plaited frills.

The separate white tunic is to be worn with gowns of different color and material. A very handsome one of embroidered marquisette inset with pieces of point de venise lace is illustrated. The wide rimmed straw hat shown with the tunic is trimmed with taffeta ribbon.

EASTER EGGS.

Ways of Preparing Gayly Colored and Gorgeously Decorated Ones.

Mothers with little children always have Easter eggs to color. An easy and satisfactory method is to use the aniline dyes that come especially prepared for this purpose. If directions are followed there will be good results. The name and date, which will greatly delight the child, may be written on the egg with a pointed stick dipped in melted lard before placing in the dyestuff. When removed all will be colored except the writing.

For young people who enjoy coloring the eggs for the Easter frolic there are many little home ideas to vary their brilliancy. The egg dyes give the rich, plain colors, and the fancy papers to wrap around them, which may be purchased at the stores, are the usual mediums, but do not give a very large variety.

Bits of ribbon silk, calico and flannel, outside skins of the onion, coffee grounds and a bit of bluing will do wonders if rightly handled in coloring eggs.

Take the egg, wrap the onion skins around it with the strip of blue ribbon and sew it up in a thin piece of muslin. Do another with red ribbon and another with green. Throw coffee grounds in the water and boil fifteen minutes. When done wipe with a buttered cloth. Others should be boiled in the bluing water. You will quickly see the combinations made.

Another scheme, if there is much cooking going on for the festival season, is to take a dozen eggs, make a needle hole at either end and blow them. When the shells are all empty they may, with deft fingers, be dressed as brownies, nuns and almost any character. Their faces should be painted and feet be given them on which to stand. They can then be used as most attractive dinner cards.

By way of variety paint some of the edges with gold and silver paint, dip others in a solution of gum arabic and then in diamond dust, wrap some in colored calico that is warranted to fade and boil for half an hour.

Baskets may be arranged in nest form by using tissue paper cut in fine strips. All sorts of dainty receptacles may be concocted from boxes, crape paper and a bottle of paste. Children love these preparations, so let the little ones have a share in planning for this beautiful festival season.

Salt Your Scalp.

Salt in some cases will stop the hair from falling and promote the growth. Shake the salt through the hair with a salt shaker and allow to remain on for five minutes. Do not rub the hair, but gently brush the salt out. It is cleansing and will give luster to the hair.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Handsome Culinary Vessels That Make Acceptable Easter Gifts.

The enthusiastic housewife will appreciate the gift of one of the artistic casseroles that are shown here. The tall one, mounted in shining nickel, makes an attractive appearance on the table, the dish being slipped into the stand when it is taken from the oven. Macaroni, baked beans, potatoes scalloped or au gratin and many other vegetables, as well as puddings and meats, may be cooked in this.

The smaller vessel with the handle is most convenient in egg cookery. The handle permits it to be whisked on and off the fire quickly. It may be used either in the oven or on top of the stove. The little stand in which it is set upon the table is silver mounted.

Many household utensils will rust if exposed to damp air or if kept near salt. This may be prevented by applying to the article a paste made by melting a pound of tallow to which are added half a pound of graphite and two ounces of camphor gum. Remove all dust from the article with kerosene and wipe perfectly dry. Then apply the paste and allow it to remain on for twenty-four hours or longer. Wipe dry, and, though no traces of the preparation may remain, its effect is such that the article will be free from rust for several months unless it should be exposed to damp weather.

A Pretty Contest.

At the children's Easter party have a "butterfly contest." Provide a number of patterns, gayly colored papers and water color paints, gold ink, etc. Allow a stated time, then pin the butterflies up and take a vote on the best, worst, etc. Award some simple prize.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

FRANK A. ROBBINS CIRCUS TO BE HERE ON MAY 8

Frank A. Robbins, the veteran circus man, whose show will visit Plainfield this year on May 8, was in town this morning. He has been on the road with his show for thirty-two years, and each year has seen a gradual improvement and development in the organization, which is the best of the smaller organizations. The show winters in Jersey City, and will open in that city in less than a month, so that when it reaches Plainfield it will have been out but a few days, and everything will be bright and fresh.

Mr. Robbins has added a number of expensive wagons and other equipment to his show for this season, and it will be much better than last year, at which time it was declared to be the best of the size that had visited Plainfield. Besides appearing in Plainfield, the show will be at Somerville on May 9, Westfield May 10 and Elizabeth, May 11. They will show at Rahway on April 29, and be in South Jersey between then and the date they are at Plainfield.

Show people say this is the only circus which will visit this part of New Jersey this spring.

FIRST STEP IN FORMING LOCAL BOY SCOUT PATROLS

The movement to organize a local council of the Boy Scouts of America was fairly launched at a mass-meeting held last night in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. biulding. H. E. Shaffer, Field Secretary of the American organization was the chief speaker, and told at length the history and aim of the movement and benefits which would arise if it were to receive popular approval in this city.

At the completion of his address numerous lantern slides were shown picturing the boys from the tenderfoot to first class scout; their summer camps, their first aid corps and signal troops. Mr. Shaffer told very strikingly how international peace might result in such a movement which demands the boy to be friendly with his neighbor, and said that better citizens were made by teaching this patriotism.

The meeting, after a brief discussion, decided to appoint committees which would effect eventually the formation of local patrols. The chairman named on the committee of Constitution and Council: J. W. Gavett, F. M. Gunning, P. H. McCready, Samuel Rothberg and G. E. Moore. The committee on nominations were Dr. Norman H. Probasco, H. C. Krebs and H. W. Marshall.

The Boy Scout Movement was first organized by General Baden-Powell four years ago and since that time 26 countries have taken it up. There are now in England 200,000 boys so banded, and in this country nearly 500 000.

—We trust that the man who invented the highball doesn't hear about that Supreme Court decision. —Washington Post.

CITY PLANS IMPROVEMENT OF FOUR THOROUGHFARES

Another step was taken at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night in the plan to open up and improve McDowell, Halsey and Bergen streets and Manson place, when Councilman W. L. Gloak offered resolutions fixing Monday night, May 6, as the time for a public hearing of those interested in the improvement. At that time they will be given an opportunity to protest against the taking of land or the work, if they desire.

There were also presented plans and maps for establishing the grade on George street and portions of Netherwood avenue and Denmark road; also to establish the curb line on George street. Mr. Gloak introduced ordinances covering this work. They were passed on first and second readings and ordered advertised. Public hearing will be granted on Monday night, May 6.

Resolutions offered by Mr. Gloak, which were adopted, awarded the contracts for supplying the crushed stone to the city to the Trap Rock Company and the Plainfield Blue Stone Company for furnishing crosswalks, culvert curbing, etc.

The petition of residents of Randolph and Laramie roads for an electric light was referred to the light committee and the opinion o Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman relative to the city increasing its appropriation to Muhlenberg Hospital, previously acted upon, was filed.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

ALL THE NATIONAL MANAGERS HOPEFUL

Chieftians of the Old League Sure Their Teams Have Grown Better.

MCCRAW IS NOT SO CHESTY

Of Course He Expects to Land Another Pennant, But Me Admits That Maybe He'll Have to Hustle For It.

By Johnny McGraw of New York.

The Giants were the best team in 1911. We proved it after one of the hottest fights on record, and we will repeat it for good measure in 1912. I do not expect our team to make a runaway race of it by any means, but I honestly think that my job is the strongest in the league. I have the best batting team in the circuit, a good infield and a pretty nifty outfield. My catching department is O. K. With my pitchers in good shape I think we will nail another banner to the flagstaff in the Polo grounds.

By Frank Chance of the Cubs.

The Giants were mighty lucky in 1911. With good pitchers we would have won the flag last season. Our twirling department this year is a big improvement over that of 1911, and we will win out. I do not look for any such run of hard luck as we encountered through 1911. But the race will be a hard one, because other teams have been strengthened. To offset this we have picked up a lot of promising material, from which we ought to gain as much new strength as that added to other teams.

CHANCE.

By Hank O'Day of Cincinnati.

There is a lot in the Reds that will come out with proper handling. Our team has a splendid chance to finish one, two, three.

By Fred Clarke of Pittsburgh.

The injury to Hans Wagner beat us out of the banner in 1911. With anything like an even break this season we will be right there at the finish. My twirling staff is much stronger than last year. I expect Marty O'Toole to be one of the pitching sensations of the season. Those "experts" who consigned the Pirates to the second division will be rudely jolted.

CLARKE.

By Roger Bresnahan of St. Louis.

If I can develop two first class pitchers the Cardinals will finish in the first division. Harmon, Geyer and Sallee are in line for improvement, but they need help. We were up in last year's race until our pitchers lost their grip in midsummer. Then came the inevitable slump. Outside of my pitching department the team is strong.

By Bill Dahlen of Brooklyn.

Brooklyn has just about reached the point in its development where it will demonstrate its real ability, and we are going to make them all hustle this season. Our pitching staff is the strongest in the league. I have plugged up the holes at third, short and right field with promising material, fast men who are expected to hit better and play the inside game with more intelligence than heretofore. I think my team will finish the season in third or fourth place.

DAHLEN.

By Johnny Kling of Boston.

We have a better club than most people believe. I am not claiming a berth in the first division, but watch for a surprise. The club has a great outgarden, a crack infield and a pretty fair catching department. Our weak spot is the pitching staff, but I believe we have a couple of promising twirlers that will be heard from before the season is over.

By Charley Dooin of Philadelphia.

The Phillies will be the National league representatives in the 1912 world's series. Hard luck robbed us of a pennant last year, but this season we will be right there, barring accidents, from start to finish. We have the finest pitching staff in the older organization. Keep an eye on us. Alexander and Chalmers should help make pitching history this year. Taking my club all around, I am highly pleased with it in every way. Keep an eye on the Phillies.

DOOIN.

—Belle—"What shade of hair do you like best?" Delle—"I don't know. I haven't tried them all on."

THIRD BASEMAN SCARCE.

Four Clubs Are None Too Well Fortified at Last Station.

At least four of the eight teams of the American league are none too well fortified at third base. Detroit is none too sure of Moriarty, while Cleveland has five players to try out in that position. New York is so uncertain about the position that Wolverton may play it himself, while in Washington Griffith is forced to try out two youngsters, Morgan and Foster.

Kling Believes In Base Running Game.

Manager Johnny Kling of the Boston Braves believes in a base running game. "Men who never take a chance never get anywhere," says the former Cub backstop. "This doesn't mean that a man should run wild every time he gets on a bag. If he sees a chance let him use his brains."

Beckley Still In the Game.

Jake Beckley is still in the game, having signed to play with and manage a semiprofessional team in Kansas City. It is said that Jake was a leaguer when Cy Young's grandfather was a mere boy.

CORNELL NINE'S OUTLOOK FOR THE SEASON IS BAD.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 26.—The loss of almost the entire infield by graduation last June and a late spring which has prevented outdoor practice have not pu a very bright outlook on the baseball situation at Cornell. Dauenhauer, who played second base; Capt. Magner, who was at shortstop; Howard, who played third, and Carvajal, who pitched, have all graduated. Mahoney, the regular centre fielder last year, is still in the university but is not eligible. McCormick, the catcher, has left the university. Hightower and Nisbet, pitchers; Clute, fist base, and O'Connell and Butler, outfielders, are the only regulars in the squad; but the freshman team of last season has turned out some very good ball players.

TEN NATIONS WILL TRY FOR BALLOON TROPHY.

Ten nations will be represented at the competition for the international balloon championship race at Stuttgart, Germany, this year. This will be the largest number ever brought together for this event and will total 23 balloons. The United States representatives will not be selected until after the elimination trials at Kansas City, while the other countries will hold their trials during the Summer.

Of the entrants the United States, Belgium, Germany, France, Austria and Switzerland will each send three balloons to the starting point. Italy has entered two and England, Denmark and Russia, one each.

Alumni to Play High School.

On April 6 the alumni of the Plainfield High School will cross bats with the present school team and an exciting contest is looked for as the alumni number among its players some very capable men.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

An Eight Base Hit.

The Cadmuses are great ball players. At a recent game in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, a brother of the "Crescents" battery made a long hit over center fielder's, and ran the bases like a racer. When he reached the home plate it was claimed that he had not touched the first plate,so young Cadmus started around once more. He got home again just before the fielder had caught up with the ball and thrown it in. (Plainfield Daily Press, June 26, 1888.)

OLYMPIC SUNDAY EVENTS MAY LEAD TO PROTESTS

New York, March 26. — What promises to be an athletic row of international proportions is forecasted by the action of the Swedish Olympic Committe in scheduling two Sundays in the Olympic program of athletic events to be held in Stockholm this summer. The games are scheduled to begin on Monday, July 15. The two Sundays to be utilized for the sports are July 7 and July 14.

It is difficult to predict at this time what the result of the Swedish action will be. Two of the most important event of the meeting are scheduled for Sundays, the 100 metres dash and the marathon run. It is certain that the American team will absolutely refuse to run on Sundays, and will thereby weaken the chances of this country to win. Just what action the American committee will take is not known in this country if it does not protest. The Americans are already having trouble to collect sufficient funds for sending the team abroad, and if the committee tolerates Sunday events without a protest this difficulaty will be doubled.

WAGNER PLEASED WITH HIS NEW JOB AS CAPTAIN

Hot Springs, Ark., March 26.—Honus Wagner, who was recently appointed field captain of the Pittsburgh team, is highly pleased with his new duties. If there are any fans who think that Wagner will put on airs and get puffed up now that he is captain of the Pirates, they must get that idea out of their heads. This was demonstrated shortly after Manager Clarke made the announcement when a couple of the older players met the great shortstop on the street. "Well, Honus, I want to congratulate you on your appointment, but I guess this will be the last time I will be allowed to call you 'Honus,'" said one of them while shaking the big German's paw. A trouble expression crept over the star's face, and then he burst out with: "Now, boys, I want you to understand one thing—and you can't get it too strong—and that one thing is this: Any man that 'misters' me is going to get it wrong. I am still the same person I have always been and always will be. A chap that takes on airs when he is elevated a little is a fool, and I hope never to be numbered among them. I want to be treated by all of you fellows just as I have in the past, and if anybody finds me getting all swelled up on myself I hope he will bounce something off my head."

PLAINFIELD N. B. A. TEAM DROPS TO EIGHTH PLACE.

Blatz and Stout, the Plainfield two-man team in the N. B. A. tournament at Paterson have now dropped into eighth place, their high score of 1178 being beaten last night by a Paterson team and by an aggregation from Philadelphia. Otherwise the pinning was very normal in every match.

STOCKING UNION COUNTY WITH QUAIL AND PHEASANT

Many quail and English phesants have been used by Game Warden Hoblitzell for restocking purposes in Union county during the last few days. They were secured from Oakland, Passaic county, where the State placed a large number for distribution.

The birds released throughout Union county came originally from Oklahoma. Difficulty has been experienced in the past in transporting birds through the States, but New Jersey managed to procure a choice shipment from the Southwest.

Owing to the alleged propensity of many birds shipped from the South to return to their native lands, there is much hesitancy by many experts in sending them from one part of the country to another. The success of the restocking of t e counties of New Jersey in the last few years however, has shown that Oklahoma birds are probably the best that could be procured for the subject intended.

NO PROVISION MADE YET FOR THE JUNIOR GOLFERS

In looking over the long list of golf tournaments scheduled for this section during the coming season, one fails to see where any provision has been made for the juniors. At the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Golf Association more than a year ago, Leighton Calkins, president of the Plainfield Country Club, put in a strong plea for the boys, with the result that it was decided to hold an annual tournament for players not over 19 years of age. The course of the Plainfield Country Club was selected for the first competition, which was to have been held in June.

When the date selected rolled around it was found that it so conflicted with school examinations that few of the boys would be able to attend. A hasty postponement was then decided upon, and a notice issued to the effect that the tournament would be called off until the spring of 1912. When asked about the matter last night, W. D. Vanderpool, the M. G. A. secretary, said that the junior tournament would be one of the subjects discussed at the next executive committee meeting.

Junior tournaments have become popular in various sections of the country. The one in Philadelphia a year ago attracted a strong field There are a promising lot of youngsters over Boston way, and in the West lads in their 'teens capable of reeling off low scores can be found everywhere. As has been pointed out, it is from this young crop that future champions will appear, consequently it behooves the M. G. A. to lend a helping hand to the youngsters if it would keep pace with the other associations.

VETERAN DAN O'LEARY WILL TRY LONG WALK

San Antonio, Tex., March 26.—Dan O'Leary, the pedestrian, has come to San Antonio to remain several months. Although now sixty eight years of age, O'Leary has contracted to walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 consecutive hours at Coronado Beach in San Diego, Cal. He is hale and hearty.

Since July 14, 1874, to February 1, 1912, he has walked 100,786 miles in competitions here and abroad. As the only American entry against twenty Englishmen in the championship match in 1878, he won $28,000 and the championship belt his nearest opponent being twenty miles behind in a six-day race.

CLARKE PICKS MILLER TO PLAY FIRST FOR PIRATES

"Dots" Miller, of Kearny, will be regular first baseman of the Pittsburgh National Leaue Club this season, according to the latest bulletin handed out by Manager Fred Clarke, of the Pirates.

The regulars, the team that will play the opening game on April 11, practised at the training camp in Hot Springs yesterday, and at the conclusion of the hard workout Clarke announced that Miller looked the most available man for the initial sack. Johnny should be good in his new position. McCarthy, who was with the Smoky City Club last year, will cavort around the position left open by Miller, at second base. The Pirates will line-up this way in the opening championship contest: Miller, first base; McCarthy, second base; Byrne, third base; Wagner, shortstop; Carey, left field; Donlin, centre field, and Wilson, right field.

FIELD CLUB SOCCER LEAGUE HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION.

Brooklyn, March 26. — Several changes were made in the personnel of the Field Club Soccer League of New York and New Jersey at the annual business meeting held at the city clubhouse of the Crescent Athletic Club. William D. Andrews, former captain of the Crescent A. C. eleven, was unanimously elected president of the league for the ensuing year in place of Harry Manley, of the Staten Island Cricket and Tennis Club, who declined renomination, but consented to serve as one of the vice presidents, together with J. W. MacPhe, of the Bensonhurst Field Club.

Max Webber, of the Montclair Athletic Club, was elected secretary and James G. Barclay, Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, treasurer. These officers, together with the secretaries of the various clubs or their alternates, will constitute th executive committee.

TO INSPECT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Educational Authorities' Attention Is Brought to Bad Condition.

Englewood, N. J., March 26.—The unsanitary condition of the Nordhoff public school has been brought to the attention of the state and county educational authorities, and Secretary Collins of the Englewood Improvement association has received communications from Herbert N. Morse, chief clerk to the New Jersey department of public education, and Superintendent E. C. Wooster of Bergen county, to the effect that they will meet a committee of the Englewood Improvement association at an early date to inspect the school. For some time the association, which has done a great deal for Nordhoff, has been fighting for a new grammar school because of the unsanitary and dangerous conditions of the present building.

New Minister at National Park Methodist Church Gets Cordial Reception.

National Park, N. J., March 26.—For giving up a position that paid him $5,000 a year and going into the Methodist ministry, where his present annual stipend is but $500, the Rev. George Hanners, lately assigned by the Methodist conference to the local Methodist church, has been received with open arms by the members of the church. He got a cordial reception when he preached his first sermon. The church has a small congregation, except during the summer, the season of camp meetings. Then the cottages are filled and the congregation is augmented by the visitors.

FIRE SCARES SHORE COLONY.

Blaze Originated In Same Place In Which 1902 Fire Started.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26.—Fire in the jewelry ship of William J. Adler gave the hotel colony a scare. The blaze originated in the same building where the disastrous blaze of 1902, which swept four squares of beach front property, had its inception.

Fire apparatus, because of the locality, responded from every station in the city, surrounding the neighborhood and causing considerable excitement. The blaze was extinguished with a chemical before the big apparatus arrived.

CAN'T RECALL OR OUST THEM.

Petitions Against Two Directors Being Circulated In Trenton.

Trenton, March 26.—One petition for the recall of Director of Parks William F. Burk of the city commission is being circulated and another is being prepared to oust Director of Streets J. Ridgway Fell. Neither can be put to a vote before August, when the commission form of government will have been in use here a year.

Lack of decision is the ground upon which Burk is being attacked. Extravagance in the management of his department is the cause for opposition to Fell.

Why 1881 Was Chosen.

In 1881 a so called prophecy of Mother Shipton's was in every one's mouth:

The world then to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

A traveling tailor denied inspiration to this prognostic, nor, as now appears, was it remarkable for accuracy. But he went further. He demonstrated in the dust of the road why that exact date was chosen. Not only was it cabalistic, a multiple of nine, etc., but it was the only date available to Mother Shipton which in Arabic numerals was the same backward, forward and upside down. Eleven hundred and eleven was past, and not till 1881 would the coincidence recur. The next Mother Shipton will select 8008, which is not tomorrow or next day.—London Saturday Review.

Translation.

Schubert's well known "Lied des gefangenen Jagers" is a setting of Herder's German translation of Scott's lyric, "My hawk is tired of perch and hood," the second line of which—

My idle greyhound loathes his food—

runs in the German as follows:

Mein mussiger Windhorn sein Futter verschmaht.

In by far the largest collection of Schubert's songs published with English words this line appears with the following English text:

My musical woodhorn its flutter hath stilled.

Which could only have been perpetrated by some one to whom English and German were equally unknown.—London National Review.

Easy to Keep Afloat.

If every person knew that it is impossible to sink if one keeps his arms under water and moves his legs as if he were going upstairs and that one may keep this motion up for hours before fatigue ends it there would be few casualties. Such is the fact. Except where cramp renders motion impossible the man who gets an involuntary ducking has small chance of drowning. He can generally keep afloat until rescuers appear. The people who drown are those who frantically wave their arms out of water and lose their self possession.

FEDERALS LOSE 400 IN BATTLE

Mexican Troops Meet Disaster at Corralitos.

WITHOUT FOOD OR WATER

Rebel Loss Placed at 100, With Many Wounded on Both Sides—Government Soldiers, Trapped, Unable to Open a Way to Retreat.

Jiminez, Mexico, March 26.—Hemmed in on all sides by from 3,000 to 4,000 rebel troops and without food, water or ammunition enough to last them for any considerable length of time and fighting desperately to open a way of retreat to Torreon, the 2,000 federal troops are reported to have met complete defeat near Corralitos and to have lost at least 400 men besides hundreds of wounded. The rebel loss is placed at a hundred. The federal commander, General Blanquet, was wounded.

The fourth day's consecutive fighting opened early. When it began the rebels practically had the federals surrounded. The federals were weak and tired, as they dared not prepare anything to eat during the night, the rebels firing every time a campfire blazed. Generals Salas and Blanquet were both in command of the federals. The report that Salas was wounded was unfounded. Blanquet was wounded during the day, however, leaving Salas alone in command.

The only hope of the federals was that General Trucy Aubert would be able to come up with re-enforcements and break through one of the rebel lines so that the federal army might retreat. General Salazar, in command of the rebels, expressed no fear of this, however, as Aubert and his 500 cavalrymen, who are en route from Mapini, Durango, were reported at Gerro Gordo, thirty miles from the scene of the fighting.

The fighting has been desperate, and much bravery has been shown on both sides. The dead and wounded is extremely heavy. The febel wounded have been brought back to Jiminez at intervals. The federals are compelled to leave their wounded on the field under the fire of the rebels.

The rebels have held the best positions in command of the hills, east and west, pouring a constant fire from artillery down on the federals.

Machine guns have also been kept working into the federals' ranks from the north, with the rebels in the rear also keeping up a constant fire.

The rebels have been suffering but little, but food, water and ammunition have been running low with the federals.

Heavy artillery for the rebels has arrived at Jiminez, but was not sent south. Five hundred fresh soldiers from here were sent to Corralitos to relieve the men in the front ranks.

City of Mexico, March 26.—A special to El Imparcial from Torreon headquarters of the federals in the north says they were completely routed by the rebels near Corrolitos.

Juarez, Mexico, March 26.—A telegram from General Orozco to the Juarez officials says, "General Campass reports our victory complete over the federals at Corrolitos."

Since the American boundary has been sealed up to the shipment of war materials into Mexico by the recent presidential proclamation General Orozco, in command of the rebels in Chihuahua, appears to have become desperate in the matter of raising funds and obtaining material. Reports indicate that the rebels are endeavoring to force the business houses and banks of Chihuahua to advance a loan of $600,000 gold to be guaranteed by the state of Chihuahua. None appears willing to make this advance with the guarantee as tendered, and there is much apprehension in business circles.

CONNAUGHTS TO NEWPORT.

Report Says They Will Visit Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt There This Summer.

Newport, R. I., March 26.—Prince Adelbert of Prussia will not be the only distinguished foreigner that will be entertained here the coming summer. According to report, the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, with the Duchess of Connaught and their daughter, Princess Patricia, are to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt at their estate, Beaulieu.

It is understood that the invitation was extended to the duke and duchess when they were in New York a short time ago as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

THE FLORIDA SETS RECORD.

New Dreadnought, Built In Government Yards, Makes 22.54 Knots.

Rockland, Me., March 26.—The battleship Florida, constructed in a government navy yard, was put through her paces over the measured mile course for standardization purposes, and the highest speed she made, that of 22.54 knots an hour, is not only the fastest ever attained by an American Dreadnought, but it is claimed to be a record for her class throughout the world. The tryout was of particular interest because the Utah, a warship built on the same lines, but by private builders, reached a speed of 21.637 knots an hour.

—Mrs. Quincy — "Miss Dash's gowns fit her like paper." Mr. Quincy—"Um—yes. I noticed the lines myself."

THIRD BOMB SENT TO JUDGE ROSALSKY

Send Missile Considered Joke For Police.

New York, March 26.—Three bombs instead of two have been sent through the mail to Judge Rosalsky, according to the statement made by an intimate friend of the judge, who for obvious reasons does not want his name used. A high police official denied absolutely that this was so, but refused to be quoted.

Of the three, it is thought, only one arrived. That was the bomb that blew up in the judge's apartments.

In the second bomb sent to Judge Rosalsky there was no mechanism to set it off. A man who knew its makeup said it might have exploded if it had been dropped on the floor or carelessly handled, but there was no telling how much damage it would have done, probably very little. It is now thought it was sent as a joke on the police.

COTTON TARIFF TOO HIGH.

Taft to Send to Congress Board's Report Recommending 30 Per Cent Cut.

Washington, March 26.—The report of the tariff board on the cotton schedule, which will be sent to congress by the president within a day or two, will warrant a reduction of about 30 per cent in the Payne-Aldrich tariff law rates.

The tariff board has found that only in the cheaper grades of cotton goods, those that are manufactured chiefly in the south, cost less than in England. In the case of finer grade cotton goods the labor cost in the United States is considerably higher than abroad. The tariff board has found, further, that wages paid in the United States in the cotton industry are considerably higher than the wages paid in most of the foreign countries.

The Democratic cotton bill which was passed at the extra session contained cuts in the cotton schedule ranging from 30 to 50 per cent.

RESENT INTERFERENCE.

Miners' Officials Would Not Take Kindly to Strike Move by Taft.

Cleveland, O., March 26.—Interference by President Taft in the threatened strike situation in the anthracite and bituminous fields will be resented by mine officials, President White of the United Mine Workers of America and other union leaders declared.

This position was taken just before the reconvening of the interstate bituminous conference of miners and operators this morning. Renewed efforts to reach an agreement in the soft coal fields are being made. The operators believe a settlement will be reached.

QUITS PULPIT TO AID TAFT.

Dr. John W. Hill of Metropolitan Temple Resigns to Enter Politics.

New York, March 26.—The Rev. Dr. John Wesley Hill, who for five years has been pastor of the Metropolitan temple, ended his pastorate with his sermon in the temple on Sunday morning and left in the afternoon for Chicago, where, it is said, he will go to work at the Taft headquarters.

The announcement of Dr. Hill's resignation, which was made at the Sunday evening service by the Rev. Dubois Henry Loux, assistant pastor of the temple, came as a surprise to the congregation.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

is worth two in the bush," and get your grip on those subscriptions that have been promised "if you need them." Every young woman has experienced this remark time and again and it counts for nothing unless followed up. The last vote is needed just as much as the first and in the hurry of the last few days all these promises of help if needed cannot be followed up. Therefore, have your friends "come across," as the saying is, and when Saturday, April 6, comes around, you will be prepared.

Because of a misunderstanding that has occurred, the Daily Press wishes to make it plain as to the identity of its two contestants. Miss Mary Brown, who is entered in the first district, resides on Washington avenue, and conducts a dyeing and cleaning establishment on West Second street. Miss Elizabeth J. Brown, who is in the fourth district, resides on Plainfield avenue, South Plainfield, and is employed by the F. L. C. Martin Auto Co. The explanation is given because of confusion that has arisen several times and which has caused some inconvenience.

Unfailing Remedy For Man's Unrest

"The Unfailing Remedy for Man's Unrest" was the subject of a sermon by Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday night. Among other things, the preacher said:

"The word 'unrest' is a common one these days. There is hardly any part of the world but feels the baneful influence of this spirit of unrest. The reason for it is not hard to discover. It is based on the colossal greed of men, who care more for mammon than they do for humanity. A practical example of inhumanity is seen in the condition of things a short time ago in Lawrence, Mass. The cause of the strike among the 25,000 textile workers was because of a recently enacted law which forbids the employing of women and children more than fifty-four hours a week.

"Because of this the companies found it necessary to reduce wages. The average wages were $6 a week, the skilled workmen receiving more, but the great majority of these wage-earners received less. The strike was against this imposition. The strikers finally won, but the companies do not lose. You will pay for all the loss and more, too.

"I believe that the remedy for this state of things is to strike out the high tariff which gives these companies undue protection to the great loss of the general public. But my purpose is to speak to you along a little different line. If the tariff was perfectly adjusted there would still be great unrest. A man had the motto 'God is love' on the weather vane of one of his buildings. A friend criticised the motto because he said that it was an immutable truth on a changeable basis. 'You don't understand,' said his friend. 'I want the world to know that God is love no matter what way the wind blows.'

"What is the unfailing remedy for your personal unrest? It is the old remedy which some have tried and found very efficacious, and which will prove perfectly satisfactory to all men. It is offered by the greatest teacher the world has ever seen. Here it is, 'Take my yoke upon you and lean of me and ye shall find rest.' A yoke. That is Christ's method of doing your work. That is the offer of his strength to help you, for a yoke means two. There are so many men and women that will not learn of Christ, and therefore they do not realize the comfort of His rest. Rider Haggard in his book of 'Regeneration' gives the following reasons for the increase of suicide in the world: 'The nervous pressure of the age, the advance of materialistic ideas, the spread of fatalism, the atrophy of public conscience, and drink.' What every man in the world needs more than anything else is to learn from Jesus Christ how he is to live this life, and to have a growing consciousness that the Lord is ever with him helping him to bear his burden. Then if business goes back on him he will know that he cannot finally fail; if you are in the power of some terrible evil habit that is ruining your soul and body, we have numberless examples of men and women who have been saved from such a habit by the power of God. We are sad because we are godless. We shall certainly find rest as we need the invitation of the Lord, 'Take my yoke upon you.'"

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Warren, of Hillside avenue, will leave April 14 for Europe.

Raymond Lyman, of the borough, is able to be out again after being detained home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips of West Front street, have a 1912 runabout car of the enclosed type.

BROKER'S BRAIN IS REPLACED BY BABY'S

Rarest of Operations Performed at Johns Hopkins.

Baltimore, Md., March 26.—With the brain of a new born baby substituted for a portion of his own, William Buckner, a wealthy real estate broker and operator of Cincinnati, is recovering from the rarest operation ever performed in the Johns Hopkins hospital. Dr. Harvey Cushing, through whose skill the worn out brain cells of a tired business man were removed and fresh tissue transplanted, is watching every move of his patient and declares he will live.

The transplanting of the brain of the baby was accomplished in a very few moments after the child had been born. When it died of inanition permission was obtained for the operation, and Mr. Buckner, who for months had been in a state of coma, was put on the road to health.

This is the first time an operation of the character has been successfully performed. The idea that it was possible has been bitterly contested by many brain specialists.

"I WAS STUNG," SAYS GRACE.

Dying Man Spending His Last Hours Attacking Wife's Character.

Atlanta, Ga., March 26.—Knowing he must soon die, Eugene Grace, who says he was drugged and shot by his wife, formerly Mrs. Daisy U. Ople of Philadelphia, is spending his last hours in attacking the character of the woman.

"I was stung in my marriage," said Grace at his home. "After my wedding I found that instead of coming from an excellent family accustomed to good society my wife had been popular chiefly among the smart set. In April, after our marriage, I took her to Hot Springs in the hope of curing her of the drink habit."

Mrs. Grace is in Atlanta and is being kept secluded by her lawyers. Her preliminary trial is set for Thursday.

WANAMAKER FOR TAFT.

Announces Himself Candidate For Delegate to Republican Convention.

New York, March 26.—In a letter addressed to the people and sent back by the pilot boat, John Wanamaker, who sailed for his annual vacation to Europe, announces himself a candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention, saying that he does so at the solicitation of President Taft.

Mr. Wanamaker makes an appeal to the working people to support Mr. Taft, explaining that his re-election will be best for the welfare of the people and of the country at large in an industrial and economic way. Although not naming him, Mr. Wanamaker plainly denounces Roosevelt and his "third term" aspirations.

WOULD AVERT STRIKE.

Taft Says He Will Do Everything In His Power to Prevent It.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 26.—A reply from President Taft was received here by the Telegraph, a daily newspaper which addressed an open letter to the president a few days ago, asking him to act as arbitrator in the matter of a possible coal strike in this state. Secretary Hilles, in answering for the the president, wrote:

"The president directs me to say that he will do everything in his power to avert a strike in the coal regions."

SUICIDE'S MOTHER DIES.

Expires When Told of Deed of Mrs. Blanche Carson In New York.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 26.—Mrs. Josephine Mabury, mother of Mrs. Blanche Carson, who hanged herself in New York, died here when informed of her daughter's suicide.

She was seventy-four years old.

Pope Ill, but Not Seriously.

Rome, March 26.—The pope is suffering from catarrh and as a consequence was forced to suspend the holding of audiences. His ailment is not regarded as serious.

By each member paying in a small sum each week for 36 weeks. Two weeks before Christmas each member will receive the total amount paid in with 3% interest.
Does everybody pay in the same amount?
No. There are two classes, numbered respectively 2 and 5. The payments are different in each class.
What are the payments in Class 2?
The payments are 2c the first week, 4c the second week, 6c the third week, and so on for 36 weeks, making the payment for the last week 72c.
Do the payments in the other class progress the same way?
They do. The only difference is that in Class 5 the first payment is 5c the first week, 10c the second week, 15c the third week, and so on for 36 weeks.
Is there a membership fee or is there any cost to join?
No.
What do I do to become a member?
All that is necessary is to go to The Plainfield Trust Company, ask to be enrolled as a member, and make the first week's payment, or more.
What will the first payment be?
It will be 2c or 5c, according to the class you join.
How are the payments to be made?
Weekly, or in advance for as many weeks as you desire.
What will happen if I cannot keep up my payments or discontinue?
You may discontinue for any reason at any time, and at the period when the Club closes you will get a check for all you have paid in, but in such a case no interest will be allowed.
When and how can I withdraw?
Under no circumstances will any withdrawals, either in whole or in part, be allowed. What you deposit will be held for you until two weeks before Christmas.
What form of receipt do I get when I make payments?
For every week paid you will receive a small receipt in coupon form which you will keep in the envelope we give you when the account is opened.
What would happen if my coupon receipts were lost, stolen or destroyed?
As we have a complete record of the payments of every member, we will pay your share to you whether you have the receipts or not. The receipts are of value to you only for the purpose of verifying our records.
Can I reverse the payments?
You can, and by doing so you will have your payment grow less every week and your money will earn twice as much interest.
Can I become a member of more than one class?
Yes; you can join one or both of the classes.
When can I join?
You can join any day during the week beginning Monday, April 1st, 1912.

Rev. Dr. David G. Downey, secretary of the board of Methodist Sunday-schools, announces an increase in Methodist schools during the last four years of 1,352, making a total of such schools today of 35,528, an increase of 60,000 teachers and of 695,869 scholars. The number of scholars in Methodist schools is now 4,042,000, by far the largest in any single body in America. Considerable part of this growth is of men who have formed Bible classes.

Histories of the Methodist Episcopal Church are many. Every typical Methodist family has one or more on its bookcase shelves or on the parlor centre table. Just now a new period is opening for histories that are not confined to stating simply the events of the past, but histories that will influence present or future plans. No sooner is Bishop Thomas B. Neely's book, "The Bishops and the Episcopal System" in the hands of Methodist ministers, than another is announced for April 1, "Constitutional and Parliamentary History of the Methodist Episcopal Church," by Rev. Dr. James M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate.

The Catholic Colonization Society, with headquarters in Chicago, issues an explanatory pamphlet. It proposes to get Catholic families out of downtown districts in large cities and put them on fertile land and surround them with Catholic churches and schools. Catholics coming from Europe will also be located in these colonies. Authorities state that colonies are necessary if Catholics, and especially children, are held to the faith. So far, colonies have been established in Florida, Texas and Washington. Agents go to Europe and advise Catholic immigrants. Laws of the Catholic Church are to be obeyed wherever colonies are established.

DAY NURSERY ASSURED NOW FOR PERTH AMBOY.

Perth Amboy, March 26.—Following the subscription of sufficient funds, plans have been consummated for the opening of a day nursery under the direction of the Woman's Club of Perth Amboy. The nursery, it is planned, will be ready early next month.

Within the last few months nearly $1,000 has been secured by a committee, of which Mrs. W. H. Bawden is chairman. A house in Mechanic street has been leased for the purpose of the work. An investigation showed that scores of women employed in cigar and other local factories lock small children in their homes or leave them in care of very young brothers and sisters while at work.

The plans to open a nursery was undertaken after several months spent in studying local conditions. Mrs. Aubrey E. Dunton, of Newark, will be placed in charge as matron at once, and the funds secured and pledged guarantee a year's trial of the project.

SENATE SIDETRACKS MARTINE'S RESOLUTION.

Washington, March 26.—(Special)—Senator Martine attempted to induce the Senate to record itself as having "learned with much regret of the resignation of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, head of the Pure Food Bureau of the United Staces government," but Mr. Gallingerobjected and the resolution went over. It is expected that the resolution will be opposed by the administration members of the Senate.

Union Good Friday Service.

Arrangements have been made for holding a Good Friday service at the Crescent Avenue church, at 7:45 o'clock on the evening of April 5. The following ministers will speak on "The Seven Last Words from the Cross." Rev. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church; Rev. Evarts C. Conover, of the Temple Baptist church; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church; Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park avenue Baptist church and Rev. F. L. Greene, of Hope Chapel.

Miss Beatrice Carpenter, of Chicago, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, of West Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Irons, of West Eighth street, are expected home the first part of April from their trip to Panama.

Special Services Continue.

Rev. Dr. DeWolf, of Newark, editor of the New Jersey Baptist Bulletin, preached at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, Sunday morning. In the afternoon, Rev. Dr. R. D. Wilson, of Newark, occupied the pulpit and at night, Rev. Dr. E. D. Crawley, of Asbury Park, was the preacher. The special services will be continued tomorrow and Friday nights and will be concluded with rally services all day Sunday.

EXPERT TELLS OF GARBAGE DESTROYER

Public Affairs Committee Hears of Approved System From Colonel Morse.

NO ACTION DECIDED UPON

Committee and Citizens Merely Talk Things Over, But Everybody Goes Away Feeling That Progress Has Been Made.

The question of introducing a municipal system of collection and disposal of garbage and ashes was discussed with more or less thoroughness at a meeting of the councilmanic Public Affairs Committee, last night, and while no conclusion was reached, the committee, as well as citizens present, felt that progress had been made. It is the intention of the committee to continue the study of the question.

Upon the invitation of Councilman George S. Clay, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, Col. William Morse, of New York, an expert on the subject of the collection and disposal of garbage, was present and explained the various methods now employed for this purpose. He spoke of the crematory system, which he said was not proving as satisfactory as the destructor system, which he said was being adopted generally throughout the country. Col. Morse said that there are now six destructor plants being successfully operated. With this system ashes can be used for fuel and the steam generated can be used for furnishing power. In the case of Plainfield though, Col. Morse did not think that any great profit could be made in this respect.

He cited a town in Canada where the destructor system is used, and the town is lighted by electricity generated with power furnished at the plant. He said that the city could not expect to dispose of its garbage for a cost of less than fifty cents a ton, that it would cost about $10,000 to $12,000 to erect a destructor plant and the annual cost of maintenance would be from $1,500 to $2,900.

One advantage in this system, Col Morse said, was that the clinkers could be used for road work. There is no organic matter in the clinkers and it is thoroughly vitrified. It was estimated that during the winter there might be about ten tons of garbage for disposal and twice that amount in the summer. After Col Morse had concluded his talk, the members of the committee informally discussed the subject.

Arthur Wellington Opp, who is keenly interested in the question commended the action of the committee in taking it up and he said that he felt sure that 90 per cent. of the property owners of the city, like himself, would be willing to pay the pro rata share for the maintenance of an approved system. He hoped that the committee would continue its discussion and hold another public meeting soon and at as early a date as practical introduce a municipal system of garbage collection and disposal.

PARALYSIS LEADS TO DEATH OF FRANK M. SCHOTT, AT 65

Frank M. Schott, aged sixty-five years, died at his home, 817 South Second street, last night. He had been ill for more than a year, but the immediate cause of his death was paralysis with which he was recently stricken. Mr. Schott was born in Australia, coming to this country when a young man. He was a resident of Plainfield twenty-eight years and during that time he was employed as a machinist at the Potter Press Works.

Mr. Schott was a member of Central Lodge, No. 48, Ancient Order United Workmen. He is survived by a wife and two sons, Adam Schott, well-known locally as a baseball player, and Richard Schott. The funeral will be held at the late home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Mallery, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, will officiate. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

HEALTH BOARD REPORTS 100 CASES OF MEASLES.

The Plainfield Board of Health today officially announced that since January 1, 1912, there have been reported to the board 252 cases of measles. As nearly as can be ascertained from the records there are approximately 100 cases of the disease in the city at the present time.

Settlement of Hedden Property.

Frank Hedden and his sister, Mrs. Robert Crosson, are now the owners of the livery business conducted for the heirs of the estate and the property located on East Fourth street. When the late Albert Hedden died he left the business and property to his wife, son and daughter, and with the death of Mrs. Hedden it went to Frank Hedden and Mrs. Crosson.

BILL THAT THREATENED SEWER PLANS VETOED

Governor Stamps His Disapproval on Beard Measure, Which City and Boro Protested, Today--Hearing on it Held Yesterday.

Governor Wilson today vetoed Assembly bill No. 261, designed to prevent one municipality from locating sewage disposal works in another municipality without first obtaining the consent of the latter.

The veto was on the ground that it is not safe to put the settlement of neighborhood questions with regard to drainage on the hands of any authorities having a smaller jurisdiction than that of the State itself." The Governor thinks the matter should be regulated by the State Board of Health and if that board has not power now such power should be conferred upon it.

Opponents and supporters of the Beard bill were granted a hearing by the Governor at Trenton, yesterday afternoon, and large delegations from Essex county, where the bill originated and has caused a factional fight, stormed the State House, each trying to clinch the argument for or against. Mayor G. W. V. Moy represented Plainfield, and Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., former Mayor N. B. Smalley, Councilmen Alex Milne and W. J. Buttfield and former Councilman W. L. Smalley were there to represent North Plainfield. Bound Brook was also represented.

This bill, which was up for the Governor's signature, is so drawn as to prevent any municipality from locating sewage disposal works in another municipality without the consent of the latter. Both the delegations advocating and opposing the measure had their plans well laid for the hearing, and the represenatives from Essex county consumed fifty-five minutes of the hour allowed by the Governor for the hearing. As a result, Mayor Moy was given about five minutes to present Plainfield's protest.

Both of the Essex delegations planned a concerted demonstration, and they became so noisy that the GGovernor was angered and sharply rebuked those who took part in the demonstration. He said he thought the whole affair very discourteous.

Those speaking for the measure were Assemblyman Beard, who introduced it; Town Counsel Parry, of Blow to Equal-Suffrage.

Trenton, March 27 (Special.)—Woman suffrage received another setback when the House Judiciary Committee reported adversely the resolution for the proposed amendment to the constitution. Majority Leader Whyte declared that to have a vote upon the referendum was manifestly unfair, as the Senate had already defeated the measure. He asserted the move was simply to commit the House.

For Commercial Travelers.

Trenton, March 27 (Special.)—The Senate passed the bill by Senator Leavitt permitting commercial travelers to have their baggage carried at the same rate as ordinary travelers. They are not now allowed to carr ytheir sample trunks as baggage.

HOPE CHAPEL BASEBALL NINE HOLDS ANNUAL SUPPER

The first annual supper of the Hope chapel Sunday-school baseball association was held in the chapel, last night. About 150 diners enjoyed the menu prepared and served by the young women of the chapel. A delegation of the Somerville Cadets, of Somerville, who were scheduled to play a basketball game with the chapel team, arrived in time to partake of the baseball association's feast.

The net proceeds of the supper will be devoted to the equipping of the association's nine. Frank Rimmer, Allen Snyded, David Wardrop, Thomas and James Heron and George Leighs comprised the committee.

The waitresses were the Misses Edna Eckert, Mary Duncan, Lona Becker, Eunice Eckert, Jessie Duncan, Elizabeth Slorah, Elizabeth Becker, Agnes Leighs, Alice Rimmer, Mabel Hunter, Mary Mortimer, Josie Snyder and Margaret Mortimer. Mrs. James Heron, Mrs. Donald McInness Mrs. Ora Eckert, Mrs. George Leighs and Mrs. H. I. Neff assisted in the kitchen.

MISS CAROLINE RAMSEY BRIDE OF NEALE MACKINNON

Miss Caroline Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Ramsey, of 98 Jackson avenue, the borough, and Neale Mackinnon, of New Market, were married at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Brooklyn. The ceremony was performed by the rector of the church.

Miss Olive Mills, of North Plainfield, was the bridesmaid, and the best man was Allan Bowlby, of Metuchen. There was no reception, and immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Boston, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in the borough after April 1. The groom is employed in one of the local shops as a machinist foreman.

HOMILY FOR PAINTERS BY REV. J. O. M'KELVEY

The Rev. Mr. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, in anaddress before the Plainfield Painters Union last night, laid down strong dictum concerning what some peolce call "luck" or "chance." He held that even though strange experiences often discouraged men and reverses sometimes caused a retrogression in their careers, they should, nevertheless, profit by them and see that they were sent only for their benefit. Luck did not cause failures.

Men should watch closely these stranger threads of life, said the speaker, but he who blamed hard luck for failure blamed it generally for things which were in his control. There was no chance in the movement of the stars, the tides and the change of seasons, why then should men's careers be dominated by so-called luck?

Again, men's lives were of a varied nature, and a mixture of impelling circumstances. This was just what made life worth living, and worth an aspiration towards something better. For people who lived on "Easy street," as it were, and had but the same monotous routine got none of the "fight," the "go," which made a career worth while. The poor man generally, was the man who got what was worth while in life. "Variety was the spice of life."

Speaking of painters, Mr. McKelvey said, "The painter's work is the best if you only think it, a preservative and protective occupation. Without it our houses would soon decay and our structures of iron crumble away in rust. The workmanship on our houses shows up the character of the community." In a humorous vein Mr. McKelvey added: "Painting covers a multitude of sins."

LAST LECTURE RECITAL AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The last lecture-recital under the auspices of the Men's Conference Bible class of the First Baptist church will be given tomorrow night by Edward A. Mead, of New York, who opened the course with a reading of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." Tomorrow night, Mr. Mead will recite the symbolic play, "The Servant in the House."

The Baptist Ministers' Conference of New York gives the play the following endorsement: "The message of the play and its interpretative and charming rendition called forth the hearty approbation of all assembled. The conference commends Mr. Mead to the churches of our denomination in this inspiring recital."

TEN STORES FIGURE IN A SHORT WEIGHT RAID

County Superintendent Schwartz Confiscates a Lot of Crooked Paraphernalia-Nine Shops in One Block Keep Investigator Busy.

Nine storekeepers located on West Third street, between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, and one merchant whose place of business is on East Front street, received an unexpected and unwelcome visit, yesterday, from Augustus W. Schwartze, of Elizabeth, superintendent of the Department of Weights and Measures of Union county. Without mincing matters or wasting any time in social conversation, the official and his assistants made a raid on all the scales, weights and measures in sight. Some that were not exposed to view were also confiscated and when the rush was over, the seizure amounted to the following, all found to be crooked: Five counter scales, six spring balances, such as are used by butchers; eighteen false weights and some measures.

Flimsy excuses were given by several of the storekeepers for their violation of the law but in no instance was any stock taken in them. Mr. Schwartze announced to one and all that only for the fact that it was the first offense he would jail every offender. He made it plain before leaving that a repetition would mean severe punishment.

In speaking of the raid to a reporter, Mr. Schwartze stated that while no direct complaints had been made, he had been aware for some time that false weights and measures were being used in Plainfield and throughout the county. In coming to this city he made a detour to Lyons Farms, Union and Linden, where he found numerous violations, mostly in the small stores kept by foreigners He added that a close watch is to be kept in every part of the county and where warnings are disregarded drastic measures will follow in order to put a stop to the petty pilfering.

M'DOWELL MUSIC LECTURE-RECITAL

Ashton Jonson Explains and Plays Great American Composer's Works.

AT HARTRIDGE AUDITORIUM

McDowell Compositions Surpass Those of Grieg's and His is the First National Music, Declares the Lecturer.

An appreciative audience listened last night to a lecture recital on MacDowell's music at the Hartridge auditorium. Invitations were issued by Miss Hartridge and over 200 persons were present. Ashton Jonson who is well known in this country and in England as a musician of note held his hearers spellbound during the entire hour in which he explained and played MacDowell's music. He spoke of MacDowel's boyhood in Europe as a student in Paris, Frankfort and Wiesbaden and of his return to Boston in 1888; his subsequent appointment to the chair of music at Columbia University and of his sad accident and tragic death in an insane asylum.

Mr. Jonson characteriszed MacDowell as America's greatest composer and said he had no hesitancy in declaring that he was greater even than Grieg. In fact, he said MacDowell's was the first national music this country had ever produced. He played as illustrative of the poetic side of MacDowell's work his nature pieces, "The Water Lilly," "The Wil Rose," "In Autumn," "The Eagle and Sea Scenes." These he rendered with exquisite taste and expression. Mr. Jonson's rare choice of language and his pleasing facility at the piano make him a delightful exponent of this mode of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonson spent the night at the school, where this morning Mrs. Ashton Jonson spoke to the academic department on India, one of her many lectures. She is president of three women's political associations in the south of England, and for the last four years has devoted most of her time to public speaking. She is one of the original founders of the Sesame Club, London, and has written novels and dramas and has produced three plays on the London stage. She has lectured at Chautauqua last year and at Lake Placid in the Adirondacks and at the League for Political Education in New ork. She speaks on the "Labor Unrest in Europe," "The War Scare in Europe," "Women's Place in the State" and "The Awakening of Democracy in England."

VIOLIN RECITAL TOMORROW NIGHT IN CRESCENT CHAPEL

Maurice Kaufman, of New York will give a violin recital in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church tomorrow night, assisted by Mlle. Mira Fischer-Zarad, soprano, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Alexander Rihm, of New York, will be the accompanist. The musicale wil be given under the auspices of the Sunday school.

The New York World, in speaking of Mlle. Fischer-Zarad, said: "Mlle. Zarad sang Siebel very sweetly, disclosing a voice of good range and sympathetic."

Commenting on Mr. Kaufman's work, the Herald said: "Any violinist who will offer himself for consideration in such a work as Tschakowski's concerto possesses an incontestable right to respectful hearing, and must, of course, own a good measure of scholarship to present it at all. Mr. Kaufman read the work with earnestness, vigor and no little sentiment; his bowing was bold and clean and his treatment of nuance praiseworthy. Moreover, in passages of broad melody, his tone was full, even and of pleasant color."

Receives State Appointment.

TO APPEAR AS FAMOUS CHARACTERS OF FICTION

Members of the Plainfield High School are having their final rehearsals this week for "Scenes From Literature," to be presented Saturday evening in the Plainfield High School Auditorium. The performance, which will include noted scenes from literature, has been arranged unre the direction of Miss Ariadne Gilbert, of the faculty.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be sent to Dr. MacDonald's Sea Coast Mission, which does a big work in educating the children of the light house keepers. The entertainment will be given in three parts, including scenes representing "Huckleberry Finn's Call," "The Cause of Miss Squeers' Love," and the "Convent Scene from Guinevere."

The characters in the first are taken by Miss Pauline Gates and Edward Jenkins. "The Course of Miss Squeers' Love" will be given in four scenes and the part wil be filled by Carter Geodrich Courtlandt Fleming Emily Farda, Eynon White and Schuyler Vander Veer. The "Convent Scene From Guinevere" includes singing by the nuns and a quartet composed of Miss Margaret Loiseuax, John Cottrell, Margaret Tubbs and Mary Clarke. The other members of the cast are: Miss Louise Bird, Miss Margaret Loizeaux, Frank P. Cullen; chorus, Misses Ruth Douglas, Jessie Stewart, Mildred Brownlee, Natalie Selby, Madeline Noonan, Maud McAfee, Helen Bryniarski, Elsa R. Schwed, Carolyn Slawson, Hazel Hyatt, Mary Hunting and Grace Ludgate.

MINISTERS GO TO ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church; Rev. C. S. Kemble, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and Rev. C. C. Cain, of Grace M. E. church, left this morning for Montclair to attend the annual session of the Newark Conference, which will continue for one week. During the conference other representatives of these churches will attend such meetings as are of special interest to them in their own department of work. The lay delegates from the local churches, who will also attend, are as follows:

First M. E., Dr. James R. Joy; alternate, Samuel Bingaman; Monroe Avenue church Walter M. McGee and E. H. Beekman; alternates, Thomas Jacobs and J. J. Praed; Grace M. E., Dr. H. K. Carroll; alternate, W. J. Conroy.

It is reasonably certain that Dr. Anderson will return for another year at the First M. E. church, and that Rev. C. C. Cain will be continued as paster of Grace M. E. church. Mr. Kemble expects to be transferred to another charge and to be succeeded here by Rev. Fred J. Hubach, of Phillipsburg.

COMMITTEE PRODS TROLLEY MANAGER

Councilmen Receive Complaints About Speed and Disregarded Signals.

SCHEDULE JUGGLING CHARGED

Supervisor Luhr Promises That Every Complaint Will Be Personally Attended to—Councilman Reville Makes An Observation.

George Luhr, supervisor of the trolley system in the division which includes Plainfield, appeared before the Councilmanic Public Affairs Committee last night at the request of Chairman G. S. Clay, to explain certain illegal violations of the trolley ordinance The chairman's action was based on numerous complaints received by the committee.

The alleged violations included the running of Main Line trolleys at a high rate of speed through the city, refusing to stop for passengers, ant at certain times taking a car off one of the local lines to help out on another line, thus giving the patrons of the line a half-hour service instead of fifteen minutes.

Frank W. Weed, of West Front street, wrote to Mr. Clay complaining about the speed of the cars; also that he stood on a corner for nearly forty minutes one night, each passing care refusing to stop for him. He was finally compelled to take the risk of a jump on a moving car. Mr. Weed was present at the meeting and explained to the committee that as a rule he had no cause for complaint with the local crews, but those from Elizabeth, he said, oftentimes care little how they treat the patrons of the company.

Mr. Luhr assured the committee that there would be no further cause for complaint as to speed of the cars or refusal to stop for passengers, as he would take the subject up personally with each motorman and conductor. He said it was one of the strictest rules of the company that cars must stop on hail.

Councilman Reville after listening to the discussion for some time said there were too many cranks in the world, and he believed that if everyone had more of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, there would be less trouble and everyone would be happy. Asked to explain how he would apply this to motormen and conductors, Mr. Reville said that he would seek the men "higher up" for that purpose.

Mayor Moy, who was present, explained that according to the local ordinance, the company is compelled to stop every passenger car for passengers, unless it is marked "special." Everyone seemed satisfied with Mr. Luhr's statement, believing that the conditions complained of will be remedied.

MOTION PICTURES SHOWN IN ALL NATURAL COLORS

The celebrated kinemacolor motion pictures in natuaral colors will be presented for the first time here at the Plainfield High School auditorium, on Tuesday afternoon and night, April 9, for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A.

These pictures are now being exhibited in all parts of the world and are making a marked sensation. They are crowding the Scala Theatre in London and also the Kinemacolor Theatre, New York, and seats are being sold at both these theatres, weeks in advance. King George of England recently had pronounced them to be "marvelous."

By kinemacolor every color of nature is produced exactly as it was when the object was photographed. The colors are produced by photography alone, without any stencilling, painting or tinting whatsoever. This invention is the result of ten years' work on the part of Charles Urban, an American, and G. Albert Smith, an Englishman.

The coronation pictures which will be shown by kinemacolor have absolutely no connection whatsoever with any so-called "Coronation views" that have been shown throughout this country. The kinemacolor cornonation pictures in natural colors were taken by command of King George of England and a set of the films and the operating machine have ben placed in the Tower of London so that in the future ages the people of England may see the scenes and incidents of the recent great historical event.

good work. Although the vote does not show extraordinary activity today there is no telling what day an upheaval in the standing of the candidates in any or all of the districts may occur.

Present Inactivity.

It is only natural that for a few days the voting in all the districts should be light. No one should be deceived by this, however. The candidates are not resting on their oars; on the contrary, all are working harder than ever to pile up a large reserve vote that will mean victory. It is hardly possible to form even a comparatively accurate estimate of the number of votes that might be picked up throughout the city and vicinity.

As it stands thousands upon thousands of votes are awaiting the candidates in the city and suburbs, and all that is necessary to do to get them is to ask for them. Get them before someone else does. Now is the time. Tomorrow or the next day may be too late.

TEMPORARY SUCCESSOR TO ENTOMOLOGIST SMITH

New Brunswick, March 27.—As the temporary successor to State Entomologist John B. Smith, who died March 12 of this year, the State Board of Agriculture has appointed Harry Weiss, who for a year had been Dr. Smith's assistant. Mr. Weiss comes originally from Pennsylvania, where he was assistant to Professor Surface, of the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture. He will follow the lines of work laid down by his predecessor.

Dr. Jacob Lipman, director of the New Jersey State Agricultural Station, has named Henry Breahme, of Newark, as acting executive officer in charge of mosquito extermination. He had been working under the direction of Dr. Smith for the past five or six years, and is said to be thoroughly familiar with the duties.

No successor to Dr. Smith as professor in the Agricultural Colege has been named. Raymond Patterson, of Metuchen, is directing the classes formerly conducted by the late entomologist.

Several applications for the position of state entomologist have been received by the state Board of Agriculture. Two of these come from the State of Washington.

"No appointment will be made," said Dr. Lipman this morning, "until we can find a man who measures up to the standard of Dr. Smith. This may take several months. We will not act hastily. Dr. Smith had a nation-wide reputation, and we want to keep the department up to the standard set by his predecessor."

NORTH PLAINFELD EXEMPTS NAME CONVENTION DELEGATES

North Plainfield Exempt Fireman's Association elected last night as delegates to the state convention to be held in Perth Amboy on May 5 the following: P. H. Currin, James Dailey, J. C. Walker, J. F. W. Bamburger and A. Feiring; as delegates to the State Relief Association to be be held in Atlantic City some time in September, L. J. Feiring.

The nominations for the annual election of officers were as follows: For president, L. J. Feiring; vice president, August Feiring; treasurer, John Schenck and J. F. W. Bamburger; secretary, David Bodine; financial secretary, L. B. Bodine; for trustee for three years, J. J. Stahl.

SILZER IS PROSECUTOR OF MIDDLESEX COUNTY.

Trenton, March 27.—The Governor yesterday sent to the Senate the appointment of Senator George S. Silzer to be prosecutor of Middlesex county for five years at a salary of $6,000. The prosecutor has the power to appoint one assistant.

The Governor had made it known to Senator Silzer that he would be glad to appoint him to the prosecutorship. Mr. Silzer promised to give his answer by noon yesterday. At five minutes to 12 he called at the Governor's office and made known his intention of accepting.

Passed Over Veto.

Trenton, March 27.—The Senate last night voted to pass over the Governor's veto Senate bill 177, permitting public utility franchises to be granted for fifty years.

FATHER WESTMAN SAYS MASS OVER MRS. FINLEY.

The funeral of Mrs. E. Finley, wife of John F. Finley, whose death occurred Saturday night, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church, where a solemn requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Westman, former curate of the parish. Father Bogan was deacon, Father Sciola, sub-deacon, and Father Hogan master of ceremonies. The funeral was largely attended. Many floral tokens were sent.

Interment was at St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were Frank Murphy, John Mottley, Michael Kiley, Patrick Kiley, John McBride and Elijah Mathews.

FAKE MINISTER CHASED OUT OF NORTH PLAINFIELD.

William Chandler, colored, who claimed to be a "Rev." but was unable either to read or write, was caught by Marshal Weller, yesterday afternoon, soliciting subscriptions for a bogus mission. He claimed the headquarters of the place to be in Newark but when the police of that city investigated the address it was found to be a fake.

Chandler was arraigned before Recorder Gano this morning, and given one hour to get out of town. He had collected but a small amount of money when arrested.

KEEPS CAMPAIGN VOW BY DECLINING SALARY

Perth Amboy, March 27.—Acting Mayor Ferd Garretson, who succeeded Alderman L. C. Dalton as acting head of the city government several days ago, announced today that will not take the salary of the office.

During the campaign las fall Mr. Garretson was opposed for the office of alderman-at-large by William D. Voorhees. Mayor Albert Bollsweiler was running for sheriff. To help the candidacy of Mr. Bollischweiler Mr. Voorhees made a pledge not to accept the salary of the mayor's office if called upon to act. Mr. Garretson made a similar declaration.

A fight to keep a Democrat in the position of acting head of the city kept Mr. Garretson from finally taking his seat until last Friday. It was generally considered that he would be justified in accepting the salary after the fight made against him, but today he said he would adhere to his pledge.

In the six weeks that Aldrman L. C. Dalton served he, too, declined to acmept the mayor's salary while the fight was on to prevent Mr. Garretson taking office.

Constable Shoots Himself.

Constable William Reilly, of South Plainfield, while taking a revolver away from a crowd of boys last night, accidently discharged the firearm and the bullet entered the forefinger of the hand. Dr. F. J. Hughes, of this city, was summoned to dress the wound. They boys had been discharging the revolver and when the constable took it away from them asked if it was loaded. He was told that it was not and he pulled the trigger.

Bicyclist Fined.

Hyman Fass was arrested last night in the borough by Marshall Kiernon on the charge of riding a bicycle without light. Recorder Guno fined him $2 today, this being his second offence.

The Word Anecdote.

Anecdote, a word of Greek origin, means strictly "that which is not given out." In this sense it has been used to denote secret histories or portions of ancient writings which have long remained in manuscript and are edited for the first time. Of such anecdota there are many collections. The earliest was probably Muratori's, in 1709, followed by Thesaurus Novus Anecdotorum, 1717, and Thesaurus Anecdotorum Novissimus, 1721. In its popular modern acceptation the word is used of the relation of some single amusing or interesting and authentic incident in private life.—London Saturday Review.

Another Guilty In Taxi Robery Case.

New York, March 27.—Robert Deleo, who, with Jimmy Pascale, owned a saloon at 208 Thompson street, was found guilty of receiving stolen goods in connection with the $25,000 robbery of two bank messengers in a taxicab. He was remanded for sentence later.

Weather Forecast.

Local rains or snow today, except fair in extreme southern portions; tomorrow cloudy, probably rain by night; moderate winds, mostly south and southwest.

Appointsments Confirmed.

Trenton, March 27.—The Senate last night confirmed the appointment of Senator Silzer as prosecutor of Middlesex, and of Senator William W. Smalley, of Somerset, as member of the State Forestry Board.

to help you appear at your very best in the approaching Easter parade.

Our Stocks Were Never More Complete or So Moderately Priced.

Church Parade on Easter Sunday is the generally accepted occasion on which all women cast aside their winter fashions and dress and put on the new apparel Dame Fashion has decreed for Spring and Summer wear. Are you preparing to take your place in the joyful crowds? Let us help you with these many beautiful things we have gathered together for your pleasure.

OUR MILLINERY PARLORS

are replete with a wondrous array of the new Spring Models. The more delicate shades mingle with crimson, Emerald greens, yellows, browns, blues, and everywhere you turn you see flowers and foliage that herald the newly arrived season. There's a big assortment of models plainly and elaborately trimmed; peach basket shapes, picture hats, helmet shapes, toques and turbans and some with deep roll brims, and of course flowers and ribbons enter into the trimming very largely; laces, however, are being used very extensively this season and we can show you several very handsome models thus trimmed. And the prices—we feel confident you will say that they are the most reasonable you have seen, so far, ranging from $2.98 up to $25.00.

Stylish Models in Women's Tailored Suits---All Moderately Priced

The removal of our Ladies' and Misses' Ready-to-Wear Department to the 2nd floor enables us to devote ten times more space to this very important section than before. This is of great importance to our patrons as we are able to carry greater and more assorted stocks, and it gives you distinct privacy while making your selection and fitting; and besides, we have been able to look after your personal comforts while shopping, by fitting the department out in a thoroughly up-to-date manner. Our rule of worthy merchandise at moderate prices is, and always will be, strongly in evidence as exemplified by the two following unapproachable values.

Smart models in Mannish Tailored Suits, fashioned of only all wool materials, which include serges, mixtures, stripe effects, etc. They are satin lined and the workmanship is perfect, and we are sure you would have to pay quite $20.00 elsewhere for the same suits. Our special price is only $17.50

Here's a group of very smart suits, splendidly made of thoroughly all wool fabrics, such as serges, whipcords (which are very stylish), mannish worsteds, etc. They are cut very stylishly; some with the deep revere and with turn back cuffs and are worth at least $25; our special price is only $22.50

56-inch Cream Basket Cloth at Only 1.79

A beautiful fabric for your Spring Suits and Dresses—not too heavy, with a novelty shadow stripe running thru it. All wool quality and extra wide; specially priced at $1.79 a yard. Will make up splendidly.

Fabrics for Tailored Suits in a Wide Assortment at 50c

We are showing a big range of weaves and cloths for your Spring Suits, etc., at half dollar a yard; checks, serges, batistes, mixtures, stripe effects, and a variety of fancy weaves, good qualities, too, that will wear well.

FIREBUGS AGAIN TRY TO SET FIRE TO HOME

Miscreant Busy Under Very Noses of Vigilantes.

Haverstraw, N. Y., March 27.—Under the very noses of the village police and vigilantes, the writer of the anonymous letters that have stormed mayor, village trustees and Village Clerk Oldfield with death threats, other bodily harm and the kidnaping of their children made a second attempt to fire the house of Oldfield.

The attempt was discovered by Richard Oldfield, father of the village clerk, who, coming to call on his son, discovered the strong odor of kerosene and investigated.

The news swept over the town, still uneasy from the shock of the attempt to burn Oldfield's house early Sunday morning. Posses were formed and every street in the village and the homes of several men of questionable character were searched, but no clew to the firebugs was found, and Mayor Bedell detailed a squad of firemen to watch the Oldfield house all night. The mayor's home is being guarded also.

A reward of $500 has been offered by the board of trustees for the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons.

FIREMEN WANT INCREASE.

Unions In Fifty-Five Eastern Railroads Voting on Making Demand.

New York, March 27.—It is learned that the members of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, representing the locomotive firemen, are now engaged in taking a vote at the headquarters of the different divisions of fifty-five eastern railroads on the question of submitting demands on these roads for higher wages and changes in working conditions for the locomotive firemen. The poll, it was stated, is not complete, but the evidence is that the vote will be by a large majority in favor of submitting the demands to the fifty-five roads.

It was decided at a meeting of the committee of fifty chairmen of the adjustment committees of the locomotive engineers on as many railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river whose demands for a general increase in wages has been refused to put the question of a strike for the enforcement of the demands to a referendum vote of the engineers on all the divisions of the fifty roads. There are 25,700 engineers on the roads involved belonging to the brotherhood, independent of 2,000 engineers not members.

SENATOR NEARLY UNSEATED.

Test Vote on Stephenson Case Fills His Friends With Alarm.

Washington, March 27.—The senate on a test vote lacked but three votes of adopting a resolution that would have unseated the oldest member of that body, Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin. The test vote came on a resolution that had been offered by Senator Jones of Washington on behalf of the minority of the senate committee on privileges and elections that reported on the Stephenson case. The resolution declared that Senator Stephenson was not duly and legally elected. The resolution received twenty-seven votes, with twenty-nine against it.

The situation developed in the senate by this vote has filled Stephenson's friends with alarm.

It is expected that Senator Stephenson's case will be disposed of before the senate adjourns this afternoon. The outcome is admitted to be doubtful.

Book Sale Brings Big Prices.

New York, March 27.—Good prices were again realized at the continuation of the sale of W. W. Allis' library. The total realized at the session of the sale was $10,333.40. The star price was $1,325, paid by E. D. North for a presentation copy of Charles Lamb's "Elia" in two volumes.

MINE WAGE BILL TO BE LAW TODAY

Passed by House of Commons at 3 a. m.

PREMIER ASQUITH IN TEARS

Dramatic Scene Marks His Announcement in Parliament of Failure, After Repeated Efforts, to Bring Warring Factions to Peaceful Agreement.

London, March 27.—Following the complete breakdown of the negotiations between the mine owners and miners for a settlement of the coal strike the government called up the coal bill in the house of commons. It was adopted by a large majority in the early hours of Wednesday morning after several hours' discussion. The bill was amended in some nonvital particulars. The government steadily adhered to its refusal to the five and two shilling minimum notwithstanding the pressure of the Laborite and advanced Radical members.

The bill will be pushed through the house of lords by special arrangement with the Unionist leaders and will receive the royal assent late today. Thus the principle of the minimum wage will become a law for the first time in history.

It is still impossible to say how far the measure will operate in effecting the main object of starting again the mining and other industries which have been closed down by the strike.

After struggling all day to obtain concessions from both sides, Premier Asquith brought the representatives of the operators and miners together in a joint conference in a forlorn hope that the gravity of the situation would induce them to compromise their differences. The joint meeting, however, lasted barely half a minute. Heretofore the miners have been contending for the insertion in the bill of a minimum wage schedule of 5 shillings a day for adults and 2 shillings a day for boys. When the joint conference met Mr. Smillie, the representative of the Scotch miners, demanded an increase of 9 pence and 6 pence, respectively, in these rates. The operators became highly indignant and left the meeting at once, declaring that they had nothing further to say.

A dramatic scene marked Premier Asquith's announcement in the house of commons that the negotiations had failed. Wiping tears from his eyes and laboring under deep emotion, the prime minister declared that the government could not consent to the miners' demand to include minimum wage figures in the bill. He said that he thought the figures reasonable, but they should be adjusted impartially in each district and not fixed by statute.

The premier reviewed the efforts of the government to obtain an agreement between the disputants and then added with the most profound disappointment:

"I have at this moment to say that so far these efforts have proved unavailing." Here Mr. Asquith shook with emotion, but he recovered himself and proceeding said that both parties would have a serious account to render the nation. Cheers greeted this statement. Mr. Asquith then called up the minimum wage bill, but he was evidently unable to proceed. A deep murmur of sympathy went throughout the house, which was genuinely touched by this undesigned manifestation of grief by a man like Asquith, who is reputed to be cold and unemotional.

Bonar Law, the opposition leader, who followed, paid a tribute to the premier and declared that the Unionists would place no obstacle in the way of the government in this matter.

The house then began the report stage of the bill. The Laborite amendment providing for the insertion of the 5 and 2 shillings a day minimum wage schedule led to a prolonged discussion. It was finally defeated by a vote of 326 to 83, many Unionists voting with the government.

At 3 o'clock the bill passed its third and final reading by a vote of 213 to 48. Many Unionists and Irish Nationalists refrained from voting. The majority consisted of Labor members.

Mr. Asquith got a great nonparty ovation as he arose to move the adjournment of the house, which was carried.

The bill was sent immediately to the house of lords, where it was read a first time with businesslike celerity.

Plainfield, N. J., March 27, 1912.

Be it said to the credit of the Senate that a bill permitting the sale of liquor in Atlantic City on Sundays met with an ignominous defeat when a vote was taken on the measure last night. Despite the pretensions of Senator Edge, of that county, the real purpose of the pernicious bill was to legalize "lid-lifting" in that worst-governed municipality in the East. The brazen declaration of Mr. Edge, when the measure was being considered, that it was in the interest of decency, was simply ludricous. He argued, even, that its passage would be the means of closing three-fourths of the saloons now breaking the law, thereby admitting that the law is being flagrantly violated there. Two hotel syndicates, he added, would erect splendid new resorts there, if the Legislature would "let down the bars," which sop did not make the scheme any more attractive. It remained for Senator Gebhardt to put the finishing touches on the bill, which he declared would result in a wide-open Sunday; more lawlessness than ever, at that resort. Edge could only muster one vote, that of Senator Johnson, of Bergen. To have enacted this proposed law would have been to give official sanction to those who now defy the enforcement of the statutes to carry on a business which on the particular day would be an offense elsewhere.

As a substitute for the Pierce bill, a new grade crossing measure has been introduced in the House and the chances are that it will become a law. The railroads considered the original bill, as presented by Union county's excellent representative in the upper house, to be too harsh, and it is not improbable that they had much to do in framing the substitute. Where a municipality makes application for the removal of a grade crossing, by the provisions of the substitute, it shall be assessed fifteen per cent. of the cost, but in a case where the railroad itself asks for the removal it shall bear all the expense, save when a trolley company also uses the crossing and in such event the latter shall meet ten per cent of the expense. One of the good features of the bill is that each railroad in the State shall remove at least one grade crossing each year for each thirty miles of track. The Utility Commission is empowered to enforce the provisions of the act.

Not only do the leading members of the New Zealand dental profession import practically all their appliances from this country, but America contributes very largely to the list of prominent practitioners. Our Vice Consul General in New Zealand, who makes this assertion infers the United States should be justly proud of its position there in this connection as it is difficult indeed for foreigners to break into the practice of dentistry in that country, because of the strict laws.

Not the sons of old Eli nor college men as a class alone, but the public generally will be eager to read next Saturday's contributed editorial since it will be written by Samuel St. John McCutchen. It will incite the attention of all because the contributing editor is a man who thinks and his contribution will carry out the intent of this feature to make the reader think.

Employes of the Prudential Insurance Company have started a movement among themselves to erect a life-sized bronze statue of the company's founder, the late John F. Dryden in the corridor of the home office in Newark. But why not place the memorial in a park of the city of which he was a distinguished resident?

For the first time in nineteen years the Senate has passed a measure over the Governor's veto. It was the Gaunt fifty-year franchise bill that caused the unusual action. The last instance was away back in 1893 when the Senate over-rode the veto of Governor Werts on the race track bill.

While the New York and New Jersey Legislatures stamped their disapproval on the woman suffrage resolutions, Michigan has given the supporters of the movement fresh hope, a favorable resolution having been passed by the Senate of that State yesterday.

Among the features of this paper are columns conducted by the Plainfield Equal Suffrage League, on Wednesdays, by the Plainfield Mothers' Association on Thursdays and by the Plainfield Annti-Tuberculosis League on Saturdays. Are you reading them?

The people of Plainfield owe a debt of gratitude to Governor Wilson for his veto of the Beard bill, the approval of which would have caused this city immeasurable difficulties in obtaining a site for its proposed sewage disposal plant.

Superintendnet Schwartz, of the department of weights and measures, found many short-weight and small measures here, but in no case were they being used by any prominent dealers.

PRINCETON MEN INTERESTED IN BIG COMMERCE DINNER

Princeton men in Plainfield are showing much interest in the Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held at Truell hall, Saturday, for the reason that Governor Woodrow Wilson is to be one of the principal speakers. The Princeton club and the Brown University, of New ork, are in communication with the secretary regarding special tables for their members. The committee expect a large number of out-of-town guests and it wishes to emphasize the fact that the banquet is not for members of the chamber only. Every citizen is welcome to attend.

Tickets can be secured by calling the secretary, P. H. Burns, telephone "Plainfield 12062," during the day, or "Plainfield 170,' in the evening. They are also on sale at the drug stores of Schreimer Bros., and P. B. Hodge. Demolli will be the caterer and the hall will be decorated by Leggren & Creene.

ONLY TWO SENATE VOTES FOR SUNDAY LIQUOR BILL

Trenton, March 27.—By the vote of 2 to 11 the Senate last night registered its disapproval of the proposition to sell liquor on Sunday, as contained in the Richards bill. The measure, which would have permitted the Atlantic City hotels to sell liquor with their meals on Sunday, receive only the votes of Senator Edge, of Atlantic City, and Senator Johnson, of Bergen county. The bill passed the Assembly two weeks ago with a good vote.

Mrs. Thomas Brantingham, of Park avenue, is much improved from a long illness.

CHILD-WELFARE MEETING AT P. H. S. NEXT TUESDAY

Under the auspices of the Plainfield Mothers' Association, and with the aid of the New Jersey State Congress of Mothers, a public child welfare meeting will be held at the Plainfield High School Tuesday night, April 2, at 8 o'clock. There will be two addresses, one by Dr. Alfred E. Shipley, of the New ork Bureau of Municipal Research, on "The City's Responsibility of the Child," and the other by Dr. Philip Vaningen, of the American Medical Association, on "Infant Mortality."

Both of the topics are being widely discussed, and the Plainfield Mothers' Association believes many Plainfielders are interested in them. The public is cordially invited and the association hopes a large audience will greet the speakers.

SPOKE IN THE INTEREST OF COLORED INSTITUTE

Rv. J. F. Kerr, representing the Newbern Collegiate Industrial Institute (colored) of Newbern, N. C., delivered an address at the Calvary Baptist church (colored) last night in the interest of the school. Mr. Kerr said that the institution was chartered under the laws of the State of North Carolina in May, 1902, the aim being to give a thorough training in the industrial arts to the colored people, together with a course of Bible training, promoting civic righteousness.

The enrollment last year reached 152. Mr. Kerr, who is in the north raising money for the institution, said that the school authorities of the State had promised to mergre two public schools with the institution, as soon as the management is able to care for them. Mr. Kerr is stopping for the presen: at 414 East Third street.

BOARD OF HEALTH AGAIN PLEADS FOR CLEAN BROOK

The Plainfield Board of Health in a communication to the councilmanic Public Affairs Committee, last night, again called attention to the undesirable condition of Green Brock and requested that steps be taken to clean up the brook where it passes through the city. This matter has been considered by previous councils, as well as the Board of Freeholders of both Somerset and Union counties and is virtually no nearer satisfactory settlement than before.

It seemed to be the opinion of the committee that the city could compel abutting property owners to remove any objectionable matter or deleterious substance along the line of the brook, but in order to get an opinion. It was decided to refer the communication to Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman.

This question led to a discussion of various "dumps" about the city, one in the vicinity of Lake street having been complained about. Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett said the "dump" had been closed by the Board of Health, but, notwithstanding that carters occasionally went there to dump ashes and refuse.

BAPTIST Y. W. M. S. GIVES MONEY FOR ONEIDA SCHOOL

As a result of a talk given by Mrs. Arthur S. Baty, of Oneida Institute, Tenn., before the Young Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, she received nearly $125 toward liquidating the indebtedness on the institute. Of the above amount $100 was given by a woman who just happened to hear that Mrs. Baty was to speak and she attended the meeting out of curiosity. The balance of the money was given by the society.

Mrs. Baty told an interesting story of the work being done at Oneida Institute, which is located in the heart of the Tennesee mountains, and her description of the mountaineers proved of peculiar interest just now in view of the trouble at Hillsville, Va. Mrs. Baty promised to return soon and speak again on the subject.

Nutley; Mayor John P. Lux, of that town; Charles A. Hungerford, of Bloomfield; Mayor Charles L. Dennison, of Belleville; Edward Q. Keasby, of Newark, and Henry G. Opdyke, of Bound Brook.

Those opposed to the measure were Engineer Gregory, representing Orange, East Orange and Montclair; Philimon Woodruff, of East Orange; Robert M. Boyd, of Montclair; Engineer Vermueule, of East Orange; Mayor G. W. V. Moy, on behalf of Plainfield, and Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., for North Plainfield.

The same arguments were presented as there heard at the two public hearings already held on the bill.

Coal, the Furnace —and Heat

The first two are necessities—the latter is often an unknown quality with the old-style, ash-clogged furnaces. The round fire-pot prevents perfect combustion and it cramps the radiating area. The new, patented eliminates all of the usual furnace disadvantages. It increases the radiating area—it makes clinkers and ash-clogging impossible—it dispenses of all labor and care. Your dealer will be glad to tell you a great deal more of Square Pot Furnaces.

Square Pot Furnace

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FAVORITE FRUIT CUSTARDS.

A CUSTARD is delicious. Its lightness recommends it for use at this time of the year, when appetites are capricious. The custards may be served in individual dishes or in a single one. They are attractive in appearance.

A custard made with the addition of fruit is especially nice.

Some of the fresh fruits that can be obtained at this season should be used. Apples, oranges, lemons, bananas and pineapples are among these.

Spring Desserts.

Rhubarb Custard.—For this make a custard as in ordinary cases. The yolks of two eggs, a pint of sweet milk and sugar to taste should be used. Beat the eggs lightly, add them to the scalded milk and stir in the sugar.

Line a baking dish with a puff paste and place in it a layer of chopped rhubarb sweetened with sugar. Pour the custard over this and bake.

Apple Custard.—Rub cooked apples through a sieve. Sweeten to taste and mix with enough stiffly beaten white of egg to make light.

Turn into a dish and pour over the apple a boiled custard flavored with lemon. Serve very cold.

In Individual Glasses.

Lemon Custard.—Take a pint of boiling water, two and a half ounces of sugar, the juice of two lemons, the yolks of four eggs. Pour the boiling water on to the sugar and juice, which must be first strained. Beat the yolks and when this lemonade is cool enough pour it on the yolks.

Mix well, strain into a small saucepan, place in a pan of boiling water over the fire and stir till the mixture thickens well.

Do not let it boil or it will curdle.

When cold serve in custard glasses. A little grated nutmeg may be put on the top of each custard.

Banana Custard.—The flavor of banana is nice in custards. Take two cupfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, the well beaten yolks of two eggs. Mix and heat in a double boiler. When warm add tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed with cold milk. Flavor with lemon. When the custard is smooth and thick remove from fire.

When cool fill the custard cups with the custard and place slices of ripe banana thinly on top of each.

Cover with the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and one tablespoonful of sugar. Brown in a hot oven.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

The New Jersey Senate and Woman Suffrage

—By—

MRS. E. F. FEICKERT.

Everyone knows the attitude of the average politician toward woman suffrage; it is just the same as his attitude toward all reform movements. He treats them with contempt or as a joke until a sufficient number of the voters in his district express to him their wish to have them considered seriously. The idea of granting, or refusing to grant, the demands of the woman suffragists on the merits of their case, thoughtfully and intelligently considered, never seems to occur to the average lawmaker. The hypocritically polite attitude of those who say, "When a majority of the women want the vote, I am in favor of giving it to them," is almost as offensive as the jocular attitude of those who ridicule it. It is not a question of who does or who does not want to vote. The question is will the community at large be benefited by extending the suffrage to its female citizens? Will it be better for the State and for the men and women and children of the State to have women vote? Whether the change should be decided to be good or bad, desirable or undesirable, it is serious enough to merit thoughtful attention and earnest consideration. When a movement is supported by literally millions of men and women in the United States, it ceases to be a joke.

On the nineteenth of this month a resolution to submit to the voters of the State a constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote, came up to be voted on by the members of the New Jersey Senate. Not one of the three senators who spoke against the resolution pretended to seriously argue the matter.

If it had not been exasperating, it would have been diverting to hear Senator Nichols, of Cumberland county, announce in ringing tones that he stood with Emperor William of Germany in believing that good women (special emphasis being placed on the limiting adjective) should be interested only in "Kinder, kirche and kuche," which he obligingly translated as "children, church and home" instead of "children, chure and kitchen"—or perhaps in this gentleman's mind kitchen and home are synonymous. He further said it was his belief that the most women who wanted the vote were a lot of old maids, who, despairing of ever capturing a husband, wanted to rule the men they could not win. "Give me the loving wife and mother," he shouted, and a sarcastic masculine voice from the gallery interjected "You can see plenty of them here to-day!" "The women I admire," went on Senator Nichols, "are those whose highest ambition it has been to marry some good man, with whom she has entered into a co-partnership in which she has no interests but his interests." (Just how such an arrangement could be termed a copartnership the Senator did not stop to explain.) He then went on to say that he shuddered when he thought of his mother, or wife, or sister even setting foot inside a polling place and the description which he drew of those sinks of iniquity was terrible enough to make even the most daring suffragist shudder too. At the conclusion of the Senator's speech his hearers were quite ready to concede the truth of Mr. Nichols' biographical statement published in the Legislative Manual, that his reelection to the Senate was "a remarkable feature of his remarkable career."

Then there was Senator Colgate, of Essex, who adopted the gallant attitude of being willing to give it to the pretty dears when enough of them wanted it. He said that a great many of his friends were supporting the resolution, but that he would rather brave the wrath of his friends than of his enemies, so he would vote against it. Considering that the Senator's business success rests largely on the good opinion of women, it seems unreasonable of him not to be willing to trust to their being able to discriminate in other matters than the selection of soaps and perfumes—or perhaps he feels that that is the limit of their power of intelligent selection!

Senator Edge, of Atlantic county, also felt that he preferred to wait until he was sure that all the women wanted to vote before he consented to giving any of them the privilege. (Does the Senator think that all men vote, or that the various classes to whom the right of suffrage has been extended from time to time, have asked to have it given to them? He must know that the seven million newly freed slaves did not demand the vote; that it was bestowed upon them quite unsolicited, for purely political reasons.)

Senator Gebhardt, of Hunterdon county, who introduced the resolution, spoke at considerable length in support of his measure. He denied that the polls were the frightful places pictured by Senator Nichols, and said that if they were not fit places for women to visit, then they were not fit for decent men citizens and the sooner they were improved the better for all concerned. He said he did not think women would find voting the dreadful ordeal that Mr. Nichols seemed to consider it, for they had had considerable experience in standing in line with all sorts and conditions of men, waiting their turn to pay their taxes, and he had never heard even the most chivalrous of men object to their doing this. He said he was sure the Senator from Cumberland county must be mistaken in his supposition that all the seven million women who earned their own living in this country were embittered old maids. He was sure that a great many of them were married, and he suspected that a good many of them supported men by their efforts. Discussing the "Kinder, kirche and kuche" theory, he said that his wife had always been the best sort of wife and mother, but that she had found time from her duties to take an intelligent interest in the affairs of her community; that she read the newspapers and kept posted on the affairs of the nation and the world, and further, that when he wanted to talk politics, he did not find it necessary to go to the corner grocery or the club to find a man to talk to, for there was someone at home who could discuss politics as intelligently and interestingly as any men he knew. He felt it would be a good thing for women to have some other topic than children, clothes and servants with which to occupy their thoughts.

Senator Davis, of Salem county, spoke earnestly in favor of the resolution, urging that the right of suffrage was an inherent right and not a privilege to be bestowed or withheld according as a few legislators might be prejudiced for or against it. He drew attention to the fact that the resolution was merely to submit the whole question to the voters of the State, and did not of itself confer the suffrage upon women, and said he did not see how any true believer in democratic principles could refuse to submit to the whole people a question which so vitally concerns the whole people.

When the vote was taken Senator Gebhardt, Davis and Gaunt, of Gloucester county, voted for the resolution and seventeen senators voted against it.

In view of the work which suffragists know will have to be done before the women of New Jersey secure the right to vote, though it will probably come to them sooner than the scornful or amused senators who voted against the suffrage resolution believe, it is pleasant to remember that besides the six state of Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Colorado, where women have the full franchise, the legislatures of Kansas, Oregon, Nevada, Wisconsin and Ohio have voted to submit the question to the voters at the next election, and it is possible that one or two other states may also vote upon it this year.

EYE EASE.

How to Gain and Preserve a Good Vision.

Here are some of the things we must learn to do to save the eyes:

Avoid direct sunlight if working at anything that requires eye strain. Artists, engravers, bookkeepers and the like should work in the light from north or east windows.

Use window shades of light neutral tones of blue or gray, avoiding bright colors, avoiding especially yellow and light green.

Protect the eyes from direct artificial light by a visor.

See that the walls surrounding desks of work tables are colored so as to afford the maximum of rest to the eyes when they are not bent on the work in hand. Pompeiian red, terra cotta, coffee color, cobalt blue and neutral grays are good because they reflect little light.

Drop everything and consult an oculist the moment the eyes begin to fail.

Women Do the Work In City of Froissy

In the little city of Froissy, sixty miles north of Paris, there is not a municipal job worth having that a woman doesn't occupy, from mayor down to "Mother" Lafarge, who tends the gate at the main street railway crossing. The conductor on the local train is a woman, Mlle. Duroc. The letter carrier is a woman, Mme. Dauboin. The town crier is an old lady named Mme. Deuhon, and the chief of police is a woman. The men are engaged in farming and fruit raising and leave municipal offices to spinsters and old women.

A NORWEGIAN WORD.

Origin of "Budstikken," Which Means "Spreading the News."

This peculiar word is frequently found in Scandinavian communities as the name of a newspaper, such as St. Cloud Budstikken. It is a Norwegian word, 1,200 years old at the least and has a very peculiar origin.

In those days, when the coasts of Norway were ravaged by pirates, the inhabitants had to resort to all sorts of devices to warn those at a distance of the approach of these piratical craft. When one was seen on the horizon a man went up to the top of a mountain, where he lighted a beacon fire. This could be seen for a long distance and was known to be a warning. When it was seen in the distance another fire was lighted on another hill until all over the country fires blazed from every hilltop and the people prepared to defend themselves.

They also had a system of messengers. The man who first sighted the sail would take an arrow and send it to his neighbors. From town to town this arrow was sent until all were warned. These were rather primitive ways of telegraphing, but were so effectual that in the course of twenty-four hours all Norway knew of the approach of pirates.

This system of spreading the news was called "budstikken," and when there were no more pirates the newspapers became spreaders of the news and so were appropriately styled "budstikken."—Exchange.

WESTMINSTER HALL.

Its Bargain Counters, State Trials and Coronation Banquets.

Westminster hall, whose old gray walls have seen coronation banquets and state trials, used to echo with the bargains driven at shops or stalls which at one time fringed its walls like a modern bazaar. These were kept by booksellers, toy dealers, sempstresses and milliners. The rents and profits went by right to the warden of the fleet. An engraving of the busy scene was made by Mosely and prints taken therefrom by Gravelot before 1773 showing how—

In hall of Westminster
Sleek sempstress vends amidst the courts her ware.

In "Tom Brown's Amusements" (1770) we read: "We enter into a great hall where we are surprised to see in the same place men on one side with baubles and toys and on the other taken up with fear of judgment. In this shop are to be sold ribbons and gloves, towers, headdresses, etc. On the left hand we hear a nimble tongued painted sempstress with her charming treble invite you to buy some of her knickknacks."—London Mail.

A Fair Offer.

It was a political meeting in the east end of London, and the M. P., an exceptionally popular man, was addressing his constituents. The politician in question rejoices in a luxuriant crop of hair. The audience was sympathetic for the most part, but there was one man in the front row of the audience who made numerous interruptions. He was a coal heaver, apparently, and had but recently been heaving coals.

"Get your hair cut!" he shouted during a most pathetic passage in the candidate's speech. The well known catch phrase seemed particularly applicable so a good many of the audience laughed.

But the M. P. was equal to the occasion.

"I will make a bargain with that gentleman," he said. "I will get my hair cut if he will get his face washed."

There were no more interruptions.—London Express.

Her Resignation.

"Papa," she said, "I am very angry with Geraldine."

"What's Geraldine done?" asked her father.

"Why, I told her a secret last summer," said the little girl indignantly, "and she has just told me she's going to tell it."

"That's very wrong of Geraldine Has she any excuse?"

"Why, I told her it was wicked to tell a secret, and what do you think she said? She said, 'Oh, I know, but I've resigned from that secret.'

"Papa," she concluded earnestly, "you can't resign from a secret, can you?"

The mental processes of children are past finding out.—Philadelphia Ledger

Made Him Cautious.

Mr. White—I understand, Smathers, that your church is about to go into court to sue certain delinquent worshipers for pew rent. Brudder Smathers—Yassah, only I doesn't call folks dat won't pay de Lawd der honest debtedness wuhshipahs. Mr. White—What do you call them? Brudder Smathers—Ne'm mind, sah; ne'm mind what I calls 'em. I called one of 'em what I called him dis mawnin', and he knocked me in de head wid a rock.—National Monthly.

Shopping Up to Date.

"No, none of these hats suggest my personality at all. You see, I'm a great race goer, adore drama, read classics in the original, sympathize with the woman's movement, travel a good deal and am intensely temperamental. The hat I want must convey all this."—Satire.

Looking Forward.

Friend—Have you named the baby yet? Proud Mother—No; we must be very careful to give him a nice one, because there will be so many named after him when he becomes president.

Rich, but Not Beautiful.

Bacon—She wasn't around when they were giving out good looks, was she? Egbert—No; she was at the other place where they were giving out money.—Yonkers Statesman.

The Strange Part.

Mr. Dresser (with evening paper)—Here's strange news! A New York child hid for thirty hours in her mother's clothes closet!

Mrs. Dresser—I should say it is strange. Imagine a New York woman not changing her clothes in that time!—Judge.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

TEAM BETTER THAN EVER, SAYS MACK

But He Won't Predict a Third Championship Because He Knows the Game.

HUGHEY JENNINGS, OPTIMIST

Harry Wolverton Banking His Hopes on Strong Showing by Yankee Pitching Staff—Bobby Wallace Has a Burst of Frankness.

By Connie Mack of Philadelphia.

The Athletics won in 1910 and 1911. This year's team will be stronger than those of the last two seasons. It is coming, not going. Our pitching staff will be just as powerful as ever. Our infield is the best in the country, while our outer gardens are well looked after. Of course championships are never decided at this time of the year. For the Athletics to repeat the team must be in the best of condition and never let up for a second. We were fortunate last season on the question of injuries and may not be so lucky this year.

MACK.

By Harry Wolverton of New York.

New York will have a strong team, and if the pitchers show their real form the Highlanders will be the most troublesome team in the league.

By Hugh Jennings of Detroit.

Detroit was second in 1911 despite poor pitching. I believe I have picked up the necessary twirling strength to land the team in first place. The club is evenly balanced, and the hitting strength is well distributed among the lineup. The catching department, weak for several campaigns, is now stronger than ever. With Dame Fortune giving us a few favors Detroit will capture the gonfalon. I expect Philadelphia and Boston to give us a good run.

JENNINGS.

By Harry Davis of Cleveland.

The Naps finished third with a bunch of youngsters. This year they will do better. We have one of the best young pitching staffs in the country, and I may add that any team with two great hitters like Lajoie and Jackson are bound to make a club a big factor in a pennant race.

By Clark Griffith of Washington.

I will give the supporters of Washington a surprise. They'll forget the cry, "First in war, first in peace and last in the American league race." Of course I am not claiming a first division berth for the Senators, but I'll wager anything that we'll head the second division. There are no holes in the infield to be filled up this season, while every other place on the team is well looked after.

GRIFFITH.

By Jake Stahl of Boston.

I am not claiming any pennant, but I will say the team that beats us will know it has been to the wars. I think I have the best catching department in the league, and I have as good a staff of pitchers as you can find anywhere, not excepting that of Connie Mack. I think our pitchers have the edge over those of any one else, for all are young fellows. The outfield is one of the best in the country, while my infield is first class.

By Jimmy Callahan of Chicago.

Chicago just hit its gait when the season closed. The series with the Cubs last fall showed our possibilities. At this gait in 1912 we'll finish one, two, three. The Sox will no longer be called the "hitless wonders." I have some pretty good batters on the team now whose big sticks will drive in many victories. I also have one of the classiest pitching staff in the league. Barring accidents, our club will make things hum on the circuit.

CALLAHAN.

By Bobby Wallace of St. Louis.

The Browns will not win the basement championship in 1912. Fans who expect them to occupy that place will be disappointed.

KENNEDY AND MORAN TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT.

Newark, March 27.—Tom Kennedy's fight with Frank Moran at the National Sporting Club of New York tomorrow night will determine whether or not he will continue in his efforts to succeed Jack Johnson as heavyweight champion of the world. Kennedy is so confident of defeating Moran via the knockout route that if he fails to do so, he may be seriously tempted to quit the game altogether. He has seen Moran fight twice and considers that he is made to order for him. On the other hand, Moran entertains almost the same idea regarding Kennedy. The Pittsburgh heavyweight fights very much on the Al Palzer style, boring in and banging away all the time, and he figures that Kennedy cannot stand under this kind of bombardment and will crumple up in a few rounds.

CARIBOU APPEAR AGAIN IN MAINE AFTER 12 YEARS.

Bangor, Me., March 27.—After an absence of more than twelve years caribou have returned to the Maine woods, and by 1917 it is expected that hunters will be able to secure the coveted heads in this State, according to a statement issued by John S. P. H. Wilson, chairman of the Maine Fish and Game Commission.

The report comes from the backwoods that guides and lumbermen have discovered small herds of caribou in the Woolastook regions of northwestern Maine. They will be protected until they become numerous enough to permit of an open season.

TEN TONS OF PEANUTS FOR BASEBALL ROOTERS.

Indianapolis, March 27.—Ten tons of peanuts have just been ordered by the Indianapolis baseball management for consumption this season at Washington Park. An average of 15 tons are consumed by Indianapolis fans annually. This was the amount last season, but season before the last the average fell a ton short. It is expected a second order of nuts will be made before midseason. This feature of the game, taken in connection with the number of erratic fans and players developed each year, makes baseball a nutty proposition.

LOT BASEBALL SEASON WILL OPEN NEXT TUESDAY.

The baseball season on the lots will be opened next Tuesday when the South Plainfield Stars will play the New Market Baseball Club. The batteries for the South Plainfield team will be Hamilton and Ball, pitchers, and Phillips, catcher.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

SOME BIG GAME.

A match game was played on the grounds at Arlington avenue and Sixth street, on Saturday, between the Stars and the Champions. The latter club scored a victory by defeating their opponents by a score of 31 to 28.

UMPIRED WITH ACTIVITY.

On the Potter grounds, Saturday afternoon, a very interesting game was played between two nines that include in their number the best of the ballplayers in the city. Mr Thomas Keller umpired the game with remarkable activity and subsequently reached home without any serious damage.

(Daily Press, July 2, 1888.)

HOW OLD CY YOUNG HAS KEPT HIMSELF IN SHAPE

Cy Young, forty-five years old, the most interesting veteran in baseball is just starting his twenty-third year as a pitcher in the major leagues. He has finished his month's training at Hot Springs and is ready to compete with the youngsters even though they are twenty years his junior.

To taking care of himself since boyhood and the water Young attributes his long career. He goes to Hot Springs a week before the other players. In the first week he takes the baths daily. This is the extent of his work.

In the second week he starts road work. In sweaters Cy tramps and sprints mile after mile, until satisfied that legs and wind are right. All this time he does not touch a ball.

In the third week Young continues baths and road work, but the latter is cut down somewhat, for his wind is good and his muscles supple. But he adds fielding and tossing the ball around to his program. He plays the infield in a lively manner. All this time he is wearing heavy flannels and probably a sweater.

He fields bunts by the hour. This requiring a little short throwing and quick stooping, is a great way to reduce stomachs and improve fielding.

Toward the later part of his third week Young pitches his first ball. He lobs the ball easily for a day or so until the muscles in his arm and wrist find themselves.

Cy Young doesn't attempt a fast ball until he is just right and no one but himself can tell when this will be. He says he doesn't know how he knows when the moment arrives, but he just naturally begins to speed them across and perhaps to put "something on the ball" at the correct time. The result is you never hear of Cy Young complaining of a sore arm or wrenched back, as many youngsters do.

When Young started this year he didn't have a suspicion of a waist line. It was more like a roundhouse. Now he certainly does look good. He is carrying very little surplus in his mid section and the work he is doing ought to remove this in another week. He is not so stout as he was when John I. Taylor sold him to Cleveland and he has been making the men who predicted he was all in take notice by the way he has rounded into form.

MIKE GIBBONS TOYS WITH DENNING FOR TEN ROUNDS

New York, March 27.—As decisive a beating as ring followers ever saw was handed to Jack Denning by the St. Paul middleweight, Mike Gibbons at the Fairmont Athletic club.

The battle lasted the ten round limit but at no time did Denning have a chance. He was outboxed, outpunched and outgeneraled. Gibbons came within an ace of scoring a knockout in the fourth round.

WORLD'S RECORD MADE BY FIVE-MAN BOWLING TEAM

The standing of the two-man teams in the N. B. A. tournament at Paterson was not altered last night, with the exception of a Paterson team going into fifth place. Plainfield is still eighth.

In the five-man team Rochester made the remarkable total score of 2,997, and took the lead in their division. The score is a world's record for five men in three games.

PLAINFIELDER STRONGEST STUDENT AT PRINCETON

The results of the strength tests held among Princeton's students since the opening of the college year have been made public and show that J. H. Jewett, 1914, of 1000 Central avenue, this city, and a graduate of Peal's School, is high man with a record of 3,505 pounds. The next two strong men are R. R. Lawrence, 1912, 3,221 pounds, and D. C. Orbison, 1912, 3,045 pounds. These records are taken among the three upper classes only, and are the best among 108 students who have undergone the test. None of these men is interested in football, and Jewett's athletic career has been confined entirely to rowing in his class crew in recent regattas. Lawrence is intercollegiate champion in the fancy div and is rowing No. 3 on the Princeton 'Varsity crew, and Orbison was for two years a member of the gymnastic team.

The entire freshman class of 39 men has passed these tests, and their strong men are drawn almost wholly from football material. E. Trenkman, captain of the 1915 football eleven last fall, is class champion with 3,105 pounds. W. S. Swart and J. M. Heffron are second and third with 2,965 and 2,601 pounds, respectively. Swart played next to Trenkman's tackle at left guard last fall. Both Trenkman and Swart are regarded as likely 'Varsity material for the football team.

N. P. H. S. DEFEAT GRADES' TEAM

The N. P. H. S. freshman's girls basketball team defeated a team from the grades yesterday afternoon in Debele's Hall, by a score of 6 to 2. Most of the scoring was made by Julia Rowley. The freshmen lined up as follows: Rowley and Currin forwards; Douglas, center; Bennett and Doughty, guards.

BUNTS LEGS OFF FIELDERS.

Kutina of Browns Has Novel Way of Dumping the Ball.

Perenially there breaks loose an argument as to the merits of the hit and run play and the old sacrifice bunt.

During the few weeks he officiated with the St. Louis Browns in the autumn of 1911 Joe Kutina, first baseman, piled up quite a reputation as a swatsmith. Said reputation came because he pummeled 'em far and wide. Therefore some doubt existed if Joe could do the sacrifice stunt.

"How are you as a bunter?" queried a scribe recently.

"Can I bunt?" echoed Kutina. "Say, I can bunt the legs off the infielders."

Record of Clarke and Mack.

When you look over the books you have to hand it to Connie Mack and Fred Clarke. Mack has been out of the first division but twice in twelve years, while Clarke has not finished lower than fourth in the same length of time.

Fortune Kind to Carrigan.

Baseball and the cigar business have been kind to Bill Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox. Bill recently purchased in Lewiston, Me., a national bank, or a bank building, or a building from a bank, or something like that. He says he may quit baseball next season.

82 PERISH IN MINE DISASTER

Deadly Afterdamp Prevents Work of Rescue.

ONLY THIRTEEN ESCAPE.

Gas Explodes While Men Are at Work and Poisonous Atmosphere Immediately Fills the Workings—Six Bodies Recovered and Fifteen Located.

Welsh, W. Va., March 27.—The number of miners known to be dead as a result of an explosion of gas in the United States Coal and Coke company's mine at Jed, three miles from here, is eighty-two. Only six bodies have thus far been recovered. Fifteen more have been located by the rescuing parties.

Thirteen miraculously escaped. There were ninety-five men known to be in the mine when the explosion occurred.

Following the explosion afterdamp pervaded the entire workings, and it will be impossible for any immediate rescue work to be begun.

Because of the deadly afterdamp, in which no human being can live for an instant, it was impossible for the rescuers to get farther than a few hundred feet from the opening.

An appeal for help to the United States bureau of mines was sent, and a rescue car from Pulaski was rushed to the scene.

The Jed mine worked day and night shifts, employing in all about 150 men, both whites and negroes. It is a shaft mine and has been operated on a nonunion basis. The 150 employees, with their families, comprised practically the entire population of Jed.

At the news of the explosion women gathered at the mouth of the mine terror stricken. Nearly all of the miners were married. Their families refused to leave the shaft, hysterically urging the rescue parties on.

GIVEN BENEFIT OF DOUBT.

Juror Tells Why Verdict Was Brought In Acquitting Ten Packers.

Chicago, March 27.—"We gave them the benefit of the doubt."

That was the reason given by one of the jurors in the case against the ten packers on trial for conspiracy in restraint of trade for the verdict of not guilty. "We did not believe the government had made out a strong case," he continued. "The people had not suffered, and we could not see our way clear to convict the defendants under the evidence presented. We did not attempt to analyze the figures presented by the government and decided the case on the broad lines of arguments and the testimony which we remembered. We were all nervous and anxious to get home and avoided any unpleasant debate in the intervals between the ballots."

The defendants, who were immediately dismissed by Judge Carpenter when the verdict was read, were Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, Charles D. Swift, Francis A. Fowler, the Swift group; J. Ogden Armour, Arthur Meeker, Thomas J. Connors, the Armour group; Edward Morris, Louis H. Heyman, the Morris group, and Edward Tilden, head of the National Packing company.

The outcome of the case had an immediate effect upon the live stocks of the packers. Swift & Co. stock even an hour before the verdict was announced advanced on the local exchange two and three-quarter points. The buying is said to have been for the account of the packing house interests, and a further gain was scored when the stock went to 109, a rise of six points over the previous close.

Coincidentally, though the packers say this angle had nothing to do with the verdict, the price of live stock went soaring at the yards and prices for the dressed product were advanced. Hog prices went to the high point of the year, and cattle were considerably higher. The packers, however, insist that supply and demand causes—scarcity in the eastern markets and the approach of the Easter season—were responsible for the advance in both markets.

The Men of This City Will Always Be Faithful to Our Store, Because Our Store Will Always Be Faithful To Them.

This is a frank talk in frank English to frank men.

If you're the sort that calls a spade an "agriculture implement" you'd better not read it—perhaps it'll hurt your feelings.

The clothing game, like any other game—baseball, basketball, football, boxing, tennis, golf or pingpong, has got to be conducted on the level.

The pitcher that "throws" a game of ball, or the boxer that "fakes" a fight, or the clothier that advertises bare faced lies is no better than the "crook" that obtains money under false pretences.

Isn't that so?

The object of our business is to make money; to make it honestly; to make it slowly and surely.

And we'll succeed because we'll take the "right road"—the road that leads straight to your confidence—the road that knows no misrepresentation, no fake sales, no cunning deceptions.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Plainfield People.

One kidney remedy never fails.

Plainfield People rely upon it.

That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Plainfield testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. Earnest Dorflinger, 400 Clinton avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I hold just as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I have for years. The cure they made in my case has been permanent and consequently I am glad to confirm my former testimonial." (Statement given January 15, 1911.)

On August 28, 195, Mrs. Dorflinger gave the following account of her experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was a dull, heavy pain in my back and head. This was followed by a tired, languid feeling and I knew that my kidneys were gradually giving out. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and getting a box at Randolph's Drug Store, I began their use. Before long my condition improved and I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

BOYS BREAK JAIL AND HOLD UP MAN

Guards Fail to Keep Close Watch.

SAW CELL BARS UNHEARD.

Police, Only a Few Feet Away From Prisoners, Fail to Discover Their Absence Until Several Hours After Their Escape.

North Bergen, N. J., March 27.—Three youths escaped from the police station and, after getting away undiscovered, held up a citizen within a few blocks of the station house. They took $25 away from him. The young jail breakers are Joseph Ruppert, nineteen years old, of 519 Garden street, North Hudson; Paul Hindewald, sixteen years old, of Van Buren place, North Bergen, and Walter Kramer, seventeen years old, of West New York.

Because of their youth the police had failed to keep as close a watch on them as they do usually on their prisoners. They were in their cells, however, at midnight, when the turnkey made the rounds of the cells, but shortly after daylight they were missing. It was then discovered that they had got away by sawing the bars of one of the cells and then cutting through another steel bar which stood between them and freedom. Although there were several policemen in the station house all the time the youths were sawing their way through the bars no one heard them.

While the police were on the hunt for the trio Robert Race of North Bergen reported that while he was on his way home and passing along the boulevard between Third and Fourth streets he was held up by three youths, who relieved him of $25 and some small pieces of jewelry. Race was able to give a good description of the young highwaymen, and the police recognized in them their young jail breakers.

Ruppert was arrested for grand larceny, it being charged that he was implicated in the theft of goods from freight cars in the yards near North Bergen. The other two youths were arrested for thefts.

The escape of the three youths was the first that has occurred in the new station house.

TOWNS FACE COAL SHORTAGE.

Prices Have Advanced In Eastern Windham County Villages.

Danielson, Conn., March 27.—Many of the eastern Windham county towns are facing a coal shortage. The supply which most of the dealers thought would carry them through until shipments could reach them from the mines is exhausted. In this place soft coal is not to be had at any price and anthracite is running low, with scarcely fifty tons on hand. Buyers are allotted only fractional parts of a ton to keep them going. Similar reports are coming in from other towns. Coal prices have not been advanced, but cord wood has gone up $1 a cord and is now quoted at $6.

The large manufacturing plants are not disturbed by the coal shortage, as their contracts with operators are being filled. The pinch comes on those who are depending upon rail shipments in response to recent orders.

OBJECTS TO NIGHT CROWING.

Hasbrouck Heights Man Says Rooster Makes Night Hideous.

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., March 27.—At a regular meeting of the board of health here the following letter to Mayor Miers from H. A. Hobbs was read:

"Are there no restrictions in the borough on the keeping of roosters? One in my neighborhood starts in about 2 a. m. and makes the night hideous till daybreak. If a man made this noise at night he would be arrested for disorderly conduct. Has he the right to do it through his rooster? I moved to this town in October, and I'll move out if it continues."

President Van Note appointed S. V. Morris as a committee of one to interview Mr. Hobbs and ascertain where the offending rooster is located.

FINE PAID BY HER FRIENDS.

New London Girl Ran Up Seventy Dollar Bill In Hotel Taft.

New Haven, Conn., March 27.—Wealthy friends paid the fine of Ruth E. Champion, a handsome New London girl, who ran up a bill of $70 for staying in one of the largest suits in the Hotel Taft for four days and ordering all the luxuries the table of that establishment afforded.

Before leaving the courtroom Miss Champion declared that she had come to this city to elope with a man whose name she refused to disclose, and had gone to the Taft upon being deserted by him. She said that he had planned to be married in New York city when she left New London.

Commission Plan For Nutley.

Nutley, N. J., March 27.—Commission form of government was adopted by Nutley after one of the hottest fights the suburban town has ever seen. The majority of votes in favor of adopting the idea was 125, and the votes for the idea numbered 412 and the votes against 287.

MR. AND MRS. SCHIFF.

Witnesses Before New York Grand Jury In Brandt Case.

Photos by American Press Association.

MRS. SCHIFF TELLS STORY.

Grand Jury Investigating Brandt Case Will Hear Her Husband Today.

New York, March 27.—Mrs. Mortimer L. Schiff appeared as a voluntary witness before the grand jury that is investigating the Brandt case.

Her husband, who sought permission to testify some time ago, will be a witness late this afternoon in spite of the opinion of Judge Crain, who advised the district attorney and the grand jury that the appearance of any one before the grand jury, whether that person waived immunity or not, would be a bar against possible indictment. After hearing Mr. Schiff and whatever other witnesses may be called the grand jury will have finished its investigation.

Mrs. Schiff, it was understood, in the main substantiated the statement issued by Mr. Schiff recently in which Mr. Schiff and his attorneys went into his side of the case in detail.

FIGHT OF DEPUTIES TO BE FOLLOWED BY DUEL

Italian Chamber Scene of Lively Encounter Between Members.

Rome, March 27.—A duel is being arranged between Deputies Chiesa and Luzzatto as the result of a violent quarrel in the chamber of deputies. Signor Chiesa, who is notorious for his duels with Generals Prudente and Fecia di Cossato, accused Signor Luzzatto, who is the founder of the steel trust here of defrauding the state of stamp duties and registration fees on steel contracts.

Signor Luzzatto then made a furious assault on Chiesa. The latter received one blow, but dodged the second, which caused Luzzatto to pitch headlong to the floor.

Signora Luzzatto, who was formerly Miss Annette Loeb, daughter of the late Charles Loeb, the New York banker, was in the gallery and on seeing her husband fall fainted, fearing he had been killed. There was a great uproar in the chamber during the fight. When it had subsided somewhat Chiesa and Luzzatto exchanged vituperations until the president suggested that they finish the row outside. They were persuaded to quit, and the seconds for the two men then got busy.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS.

These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come. Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four numbers of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

MARKET & HALSEY STS.

Your $25.00 Easter Suit

We say YOUR twenty-five dollar Easter suit because we are confident that, after seeing the adorable models we are showing at this place, you will make up your mind to own one. Don't commit the error of comparing these suits with any that you have ever seen before at this figure either at Bamberger's or elsewhere. We have never seen their equal and we don't believe that you have either. Here is a suit, Madam, that was copied—line for line and stitch for stitch—from an imported model by Francis, while yonder are four fetching styles all faithful reproductions of suits made by Bernard, Paul, Poiret, Paquin and Dricoll, and imported at considerable cost. Truly, this is no ordinary display—don't class it with such. Many new and beautiful models ready for you Monday. Mannish serges and whipcords. Black, navy, tan and gray. Some plain tailored, others trimmed with contrasting silks or braids. Coats lined with peau de cygne.

"FIGHTING BOB" EVANS.

His Meeting With His Confederate Brother and the Result.

Tradition has it that after young Robley D. Evans went to Annapolis he wasn't long in showing his mettle. The story of his first assertion of his personality runs after this fashion: When he left for the Naval academy his mother gave him a framed copy of the Lord's Prayer and instructed him to hang it over his bed. He complied, notwithstanding the fact that the rules of the academy forbade the placing of decorations in the rooms. An inspector remonstrated with him and ordered him to remove the prayer. Evans swore that he would smash the face of the first man who touched it. The inspector referred the act of insubordination to the commandant, who took it up with the secretary of the navy. Evans wrote home about the episode. It got into the papers. An indignation meeting was held in his home town and a protest made to the president. In the end a special dispensation was granted, allowing the cadet to keep his "decoration."

Being a Virginian, young Evans was urged by his mother to throw in his lot with the south when the civil war came. This he declined to do, so it fell out that he and his brother fought on opposite sides during the civil war. On one occasion Robley Evans entered a restaurant in Washington and observed his brother eating.

"An exchange of glances between us was quite enough," said Evans afterward. "Not a word was spoken by either of us. He paid his bill and hastily left the place, knowing very well that I would report his presence in the city. I ordered more oysters than I wanted and took plenty of time to eat them. He had come across the Potomac in a skiff, I was sure, and had tied it to an old sycamore tree near the spot where we used to swim. I wanted to give him a brotherly chance to get back to Virginia soil. He gained his boat and escaped, though a soldier fired at him in the darkness. On leaving the restaurant I met an officer of the provost guard and informed him that there was a Confederate soldier in Washington.

"'How do you know?' he asked.

"'That,' I replied, 'is none of your business.'

"I was arrested and taken to the provost marshal, who, on hearing my story, let me go."—Chicago Record-Herald.

NEW YORK GOES STRONG FOR TAFT

Roosevelt Badly Beaten In Primary.

RETURNS SHOW VOTE 8 TO 3

Serious Mixup on Ballots In New York County Disfranchises Many Voters, Not Being Available Until Late at Some Places and Not at All at Others.

New York, March 27.—While returns from the primary election held in New York state are far from complete, enough returns have been received to indicate that Taft is winner over Roosevelt in the contest for delegates to the Chicago convention by a large majority. State Chairman Barnes, in a statement, claims Taft has won at least seventy-nine of the eighty-six delegates, which does not include the four delegates at large, leaving Roosevelt only seven delegates. No claims were issued by the Roosevelt forces. From the Taft headquarters in Washington comes the information that the seventy-nine from New York will swell the president's list of delegates already chosen to 242, as compared with only twenty-four for Roosevelt.

Very incomplete figures from fourteen congressional districts, the Eleventh to the Twenty-fourth, inclusive, gave totals of Taft, 16,161, and Roosevelt, 6,429.

In a substantial number of election districts of this city there was no primary election because no ballots were delivered to the polling places. When they did not come at all the polling places closed up at the regular hour without any election. When the delivery was delayed such people as were in the polling places at closing time had a chance to vote, and others were turned away. In one district a lot of unofficial ballots were prepared and voted, and it is believed these will be held to be legal.

In the Thirty-third assembly district in the Bronx the Independence league men got up typewritten ballots and used them.

In New York county, where the Roosevelt fight was livelier than elsewhere throughout the city, there was less trouble than in other parts of the city. Many of the polling places had no ballots at the opening hour, but in the course of the next few hours the ballots were delivered to the police by auto and taxicab and were hustled around to the polling places.

The Roosevelt committee insisted that the Republican machine caused all the trouble in an effort to keep the plain people from voting for Roosevelt, but President Britt of the board of elections and members of the Martin B. Brown company, printers of the ballots, said that the "mixup," as President Britt characterized it, was solely the fault of the Roosevelt committee, who had tied the printers up with court orders.

While some of the ballots were only four feet long, the majority ran to ten feet, and the Democratic ballot in the Twenty-third assembly district was fourteen feet long. In many polling places the voters had a tussle with these ballots before they could read and mark them, and in more than one instance voters got them tangled up around their feet and the pasted sections of the ballots came apart. In such circumstances they were provided with new ballots. The long ballots were in four pasted sections and the majority in three.

No Roosevelt delegates to the Chicago convention were elected in this county and in the whole city only one. Comptroller Prendergast of Brooklyn, who was not opposed at the primary. This is not counting the two uninstructed Roosevelt men who were elected in the Twenty-fourth district unopposed, most of that district being in Westchester county.

Washington, March 27.—The Roosevelt bureau issued a statement quoting Judge C. H. Duell, chairman of the New York city Roosevelt committee, as follows as regards the New York city primaries:

"In more than one-half the city the ballots did not arrive at the polling places for two hours after the opening of the polls. In several assembly districts the ballots did not arrive until after 7 o'clock at night. They were due at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. When the ballots were produced it was found in two congressional districts that the names of the Roosevelt delegates were not on the ballots at all. It was an entire breakdown of the election machinery. In several districts the regular election inspectors were removed by the county organization just as the polls opened. In several election districts in Brooklyn the ballots did not arrive at all. In Staten Island, where Chauncey Depew was a candidate, no ballots arrived until 5 o'clock and half the districts were without ballots until 8 o'clock.

Washington, March 27.—President Taft spent several hours in his library receiving New York state returns. He called up State Chairman Barnes and Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the New York county committee, and congratulated them upon their victory and thanked them for their efforts in his behalf.

Aviator Falls to Death.

Dusseldorf, March 27.—Aviator Kleine fell 300 feet here and was instantly killed.

SURETY COUPONS GIVEN WITH EVERY PURCHASE—SURETY COUPONS REDEEMED IN THIS STORE'S FINE MERCHANDISE

Suits You'll Admire at 25.75

THEY ARE NOT SURPASSED ANYWHERE.

To get what you pay for is always a great satisfaction. To own a suit and feel that it is worth every penny you paid for it is always comforting.

These are suits of that sort.

We asked our best tailor shops early in the season to turn us out suits to sell at a price in the neighborhood of $25 that other stores would find it difficult to match—much less surpass. Naturally they exerted themselves, put their best designers to work and their most skilled cutters, and used cloths that could not be questioned, and the result is as you will find, suits that we can sell at $25.75 that will meet every expectation of the most particular dressers, and stand up in the face of the severest competition.

There are suits of WHIPCORDS, FRENCH SERGE and MANNISH MIXTURES, in sizes for small, medium and large women, with coats prettily lined with self-colored satin; collars in various attractive styles; skirts belted or in high bodice effects; strictly tailored or trimmed with satin and buttons; and these suits are here in a variety of solid colors or stripes including both the rare and new shades brought out this season and the staple grays, tans, blues and blacks; Copenhagen is a conspicuous color in the line.

See them and know how well worth $25.75 they are.

OTHER SUITS FULL OF STYLE

Smart Coats

FOR EASTER

Coat styles were never handsomer than they are this season—never so easily worn, for they are loose fitting and straight in line so that they do not rub and wear the dress underneath; easy to put on, easy to take off—happy fashions indeed, and women are sure to be delighted with them.

In no previous season have we sold handsome coats for so little; people who have been here are simply astonished at the coat beauty they can buy at from $7.50 up.

We invite your attention to these:

Blue Serge Coats for women and misses with round shawl collar, trimmed with striped silk and satin; also very pretty models, trimmed with cadet serge, piped with black and white stripes, at the special price of $10.98.

Blue and Black Serge Coats in several new models with trimming of black and white stripes, satin, moire or braid; long roll collars and revers; women's and misses' sizes; special priced $12.50.

Whistler Tamed a Russian.

When James MacNeill Whistler went to Venice to make those fourteen famous etchings of his he became so intoxicated with its beauty that he made seventy pastels first, leaving his etchings till the last few days. These pastels made a tremendous sensation. All the art world of Venice was carried away with enthusiasm excepting a Russian painter, who declared them tricks, betting a basketful of champagne he could paint six not to be distinguished from them. Mr. Whistler amiably gave some of his paper and six pastels, which were finally mixed up with those by the Russian and submitted to a jury which had seen none of them. Mr. Whistler's pastels were unmistakable, and the Russian lost. A few days later the two met on the Rialto, and Mr. Whistler laughed a little about the bet. The Russian was furious. "You forget, sir," he said, "that I'm a Russian, and if you scratch one you find a Tartar underneath." "Oh, no; you have it wrong," said Mr. Whistler; "you have it wrong! I scratched an artist and found an amateur."

TOOK SURVEY OF CHILDREN'S READING IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews will deliver the second of a series of lectures to mothers under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary Y. M. C. A. committee on the moral and religious training of boys in the home at Y. M. C. A. Hall this afternoon. The subject of the lecture will be: "Character Culture By Means of Books Boys Like Best."

Mr. Mathiews recently made a survey of the children's reading in the Stillman Grammar School. Some of the questions asked and answered were: "Name ten books you have read in the last two years; have you read Ivanhoe, Oliver Twist, Tom Sawyer, Treasure Island Two Years Before the Mast, etc.; have you read any of the Alger, Optic or Henty books; what books of biography have you read; do you read The American Boy, Youth's Companion, Popular Mechanics, St. Nicholas, etc.; do you read the comic supplement of the daily paper; do you read the newspaper?"

The lecture will be based largely on a study of the answers to the foregoing questions, and many others. The purpose will be to show that in hildren's reading the books they read as well as the books they ought to read, there is ever present opportunity for the development of character. The vital thing is to understand moral as well as literary values.

The lecture will be of help to mothers of girls as well as boys. The survey made covers girls' reading which makes a most interesting contribution to the study of books for children. It is hoped that many mothers of the boys and girls of the Stillman School will be present to learn how to make the best use of their children's reading for character culture. The lecture is open for all the mothers of Plainfield. There will be no admission fee.

HOLD FIRST OF THE BUDGET MEETINGS IN WESTFIELD

Westfield, March 26. — (Special.) — Mayor J. A. Dennis at the first citizens' meeting held under the auspices of the Board of Trade declared that in his opinion the tax rate would be lower than $2.03, which was last year's rate. The meeting was the first of a series of three for the purpose of enlightening citizens on the town's expenditures for public improvement and was presided over by Arthur N. Pierson, president of the Board of Trade.

Mayor Dennis in his remarks furnished statistics which showed that in comparison with other municipalities the financial standing of the town was excellent, the bonded i-n debtedness being only $242,000. He also said that the boost of the rate last year, from $1.87 to $2.05, was not due to town expenses, but to increased assessments in county and school taxes.

Referring to the new fire auto apparatus, he said that it can be sustained at 25 per cent less than the upkeep of the home apparatus, in addition to giving more efficient service. The mayor also pointed out economics in the police and road departments.

Councilman Harry W. Evans, chairman of the road committee, discussed expenditures in the road department, which amounted to $15,068. This year he said the town expected to save considerable money by doing its own road building instead of contracting the work.

In reference to local improvements Mr. Pierson stated that since 1903 there has ben approximately $500,000 expended in improvements, of which the town paid 7.6 per cent, the property owners bearing the balance.

Remarks were also made by Councilman A. H. Lock, Town Engineer Vars, Rev. Sydney Cross, Lloyd Thompson, Charles H. Denmann, W. A. Dempsey and others.

Dies on Way From Work.

Woodbridge, March 27.—While on his way home from work Monday Frank Reilly, 32 years old, died suddenly. Reilly was a car inspector on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. He was subject to fits, and it is thought that his death was due to an attack of that kind. Coroner Flynn, who took charge of the body, wil send it to Mr. Reilly's parents in Philadelphia.

DISTRICTING BILL PASSES THE SENATE

Assembly is Expected to Put Measure Through Without an Amendment.

WARREN CUT FROM FIFTH

To the Intense Dissatisfaction of Bergen County Republicans—Eight of Twelve Districts Are Regarded as Safely Republican.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 28.—After the two Hudson County districts had been slightly changed, the Senate yesterday afternoon passed the Congressional redistricting bill, which will give the State the two new members of Congress under the reapportionment following the census of 1910. The bill went through by the vote of 12 to 0.

Senators Johnson, of Bergen, and Price, of Sussex, both Democrats, voted for the measure, while the other Democrats refused to vote.

The Republicans who voted for it were: Senators Colgate, Edge, Gaunt, Hand, Leavitt, Lewis, Nichols, Pierce, President Prince, and Smalley, Senator Read, Republican, of Camden, being absent.

The bill passed with all of Warren County placed in the new Sixth District, with Sussex and Bergen counties and Pompton and West Millford townships in Passaic County, and this action is very displeasing to the Bergen County Republicans.

The bill as passed leaves the First, Second, Third and Fourth Congressional districts untouched. The First District contains Camden, Gloucester and Salem County; the Second, Cape May, Cumberland, Atlantic and Burlington counties; the Third, Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean counties, and the Fourth Mercer Hunterdon and Somerset counties.

The rearranged Fifth District includes only Union and Morris counties. The new Sixth District has already been described.

The Seventh District is made up of all of Passaic County except the two northerly townships which are placed with the Sixth District. The Eighth District takes in a part of Essex County, the Seventh Ward of Jersey City, and the City of Bayonne, in Hudson County. The Ninth and Tenth districts are made up of sections of Essex County.

It is expected that the Republicans will put the bill through the Assembly in the form in which it passed the Senate. Discussing the rearrangement today a prominent Republican leader said that eight of the districts were safely Republican, the two Hudson districts were Democratic, while the Third District and the new Sixth District will be debatable territory.

Y. M. C. A. TO HOLD TWO-DAY MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

A two-day membership campaign will be conducted tomorrow and Saturday by twenty-five of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association. The objects of the campaign are to increase the association's membership, to strengthen its volunteer working force and assist in increasing the budget for the year.

It is hoped to add through this effort at least 150 senior and sustaining members to the association's rolls. The campaign will be directed by the association membership committee, consisting of Philip S. Suffern, R. H. Radford, O. B. Whitford, Arthur Ferris, H. B. Sweeney, Alexander Doig and Horace Vail.

Those taking part in the campaign will meet for dinner in the Y. M. C. A. parlor tonight, when ful instructions will be given them.

PAPER ON SEX HYGIENE AT PARENT-TEACHER SESSION

The Parent Teacher Association of the Bryant School, of which Miss Griffin is principal, held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. The auditorium was filled with earnest mothers and teachers. It has been a noticeable fact throughout the year that each successive month the attendance at the association's meetings has increased.

After the usual business yesterday the audience heard a paper on "Sex Hygiene" by Mrs. Clarence Lawson, second vice president of the association. Tea and crackers were served.

Interfered With Dog Catcher.

Thomas Rutledge, a gardener, was fined $1 by Recorder Gano in the borough police court today for attempting to interfere with the North Plainfield dog catcher yesterday. He is alleged to have disputed the catcher's right to gather in his dog. Marshal Kiernan arrested him in the midst of his protest.

DEMOCRATS PURCHASE THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

Press Publishing Company Disposes of Weekly to Democratic Club--First Issue Under New Management Tomorrow.

The Plainfield Democratic Club, of which John P. Stevens is president, completed negotiations today with the Press Publishing Company whereby it assumes the ownership of the latter concern's weekly edition, The Constitutionalist. It will continue to be published every Thursday under the direction of a staff of editors, managers and reporters from the personnel of the club. The first issue will be made tomorrow, and will consist of 3,000 copies.

Albert L. Force.
A Founder of the paper and until January 1, 1912, its owner.

It was stated by leaders of the organization today that the purchase was not made in order to conduct The Constitutionalist as a party organ but to secure a newspaper that would present the news of the day in a fair and impartial manner and espouse Democratic principles. The editorial staff will be announced later. For the present the paper will continue to be published at the Daily Press plant.

The Constitutionalist is an established weekly of more than forty-six years' duration. It was launched on January 1, 1867, by A. L. and the late William L. Force under the firm name of W. L. Force & Brother, the concern having originally built up a large printing business. The plant was located on the second floor of

The clear, crisp and invigorating atmosphere of today suggests spring in reality; spring recalls Shakespeare's assertion that this is the season when "the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" and the Daily Press falls in to suggest to the European trip contestants that now is the time for them to turn to thoughts of better work than ever before. The closing date for the final flood of ballots draws nearer and the reward of a delightful free trip of two months to the "picture lands" of the old world is going to the young women who have had no lapses in their efforts to reach first place.

There is an old adage that "It's a long lane that has no turning," and

REHEARSAL TONIGHT FOR THE CRUCIFIXION

The last rehearsal of the oratorio, "The Crucifixion," which is to be sung at Holy Cross Church tomorrow night, will be held in the church tonight. Over seventy singers will be present. The full male choirs of Grace and Holy Cross churches, reinforced by a soloist from New York city, will take part in the rendition of this celebrated sacred work. The public is cordialy invited to attend. An offering will be taken to defray the necessary expenses.

"The Crucifixion" is the most celebrated composition of Sir John Stiner. It is a fitting preparation for the Lenten solemnities of Holy Week, bringing as it does in musical form the story of the Passion of Christ.

Fell While Turning.

In an account of an accident which befell Miss Wilhelmina Vroom, which appeared several days ago, it was said that Miss Vroon, while walking backwards in front of A. E. Fore & Co.'s store, had fallen over a scale, and in falling broke her wrist. Miss Vroom has asked that the report about town that she was walking backward be corrected, as she tripped over the scale while turning around.

Missionary Anniversaries.

The anniversary meeting of the Women's Missionary Societies of the First Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of the church. Miss Brodhead, of Philadelphia, who will go to India as a missionary next year, will address the meeting, in place of Miss Relyea, as announced.

RISE IN MEAT PRICES HERE NOT YET, BUT SOON

Notwithstanding the published reports that immediately following the acquittal of the meat packers prices of meat have taken a big jump, local dealers said today that there had been no recent increase in retail prices in this city. But it was significantly added there will probably be a general increase of probably not more than two cents a pound on all the best cuts of meat. The dealers say that they cannot increase the cheaper or poorer cuts, and consequently there must be a slight increase on the better cuts.

One prominent dealer said today that the rise was not due to the result of the trial against the packers, but to the fact that about one million less cattle had been received at the stockyards than a year ago, due chiefly to the severe storms in the west which tied up railroads and made shipping practically an impossibility at times. The wholesale market for dressed beef shows no change according to the published newspaper reports. Today's wholesale prices on the best cuts are as follows:

Ribs, 17c; loins, 20c; rounds, 10½c; chucks, 9c; plates, 7c. The prices on what is known as No. 2 grade are: Ribs, 14½c; loins, 17c; rounds, 9½c; chucks, 8c; plates, 6½c. The prices on the No. 3 grade follow: Ribs, 12½c; loins, 12½c; rounds, 8c; plates, 5.

SCHWARTZ MAKES ANOTHER RAID ON CROOKED WEIGHTS

What he describes as the worst collection of weights he has encountered so far in his investigations over Union county was seized by A. W. Schwartz, superintendent of the Department of Weights and Measures of Union county, in a Richmond street store yesterday.

As told yesterday Schwartz descended on ten stores in this city Tuesday. He returned yesterday and dropped in with disconcerting suddenness on twenty-one stores in the East End and Scotch Plains. The stores he visited in Plainfield are on Richmond street, East Third street and Cottage place.

He got a lot of false and worn weights, measures and scales. As on Tuesday, he contended himself with confiscation, warning the dealers that a second discovery of faulty weights or measures in their possession would be followed by swift prosecution.

From the Richmond street store mentioned in the foregoing he got nine weights. They included nine-pound weights that were short from three-quarters to one and one-half ounces; a four-pound weight that was shy two and one-eighth ounces and pound weights that lacked from one-quarter to one ounce.

MRS. COCHRAN'S GUESTS HEAR A TALK ON CHINA

Upon the invitation of Mrs. Henry J. Cochran, of Hillside avenue, about one hundred women met at her home yesterday afternoon to hear an interesting talk by Mrs. James Cochran, who in November returned from China, where she had been a missionary under the supervision of the Presbyterian Board of Missions.

Mrs. Cochran and her husband, who is also a missionary, were located at Hwai Yuen, and it was more especially of the work at that station that Mrs. Cochran spoke yesterday. She related many incidents in connection with her work which served to arouse the interest of her hearers.

After the talk tea was served. Mrs. J. S. Zelie and Mrs. Samuel T. Carter poured, and they were assisted by Miss Mead, Miss Goddard, Miss Pierson and Mrs. M. B. Mellor.

PLANNING FORMATION OF SHOP BASEBALL LEAGUE

Steps have been taken to organize a Manufacturer's Baseball League in this city and a meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 8:15 o'clock tonight for that purpose. The call for the meeting has been issued by Physical Director P. C. Ostlin, of the Y. M. C. A., and C. C. Thompson, of the Spicer Manufacturing Company.

While a majority of the teams will be representative of manufacturing plants in this city, it is expected that Dunellen and Garwood will also be identified with the league. There is an abundance of baseball material in the local shops and it is believed that a strong league can be formed. Representatives from the following plants are expected to attend the meeting tonight:

Pond Tool Works, International Motor Company, Walter Scott Printing Press Works, Rushmore Dynamo Works, Century Rubber Company, Potter Press Works, Spicer Manufacturing Company, of this city; Hall Press Works, of Dunellen, and Hall Signal Company, of Garwood.

TWO FIREMEN TESTIFY AGAINST CAPT. FEIRING

One Names the Alleged Woman in the Case at First Session of Private Hearing--Inquisition Goes on Tonight.

The hearing of the charges preferred against Captain George Feiring, of the Fire Department, by Firemen William Jaeger, James Fitzpatrick and Paul Adams, was begun last night before the councilmanic committee, behind closed doors. Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman, assisted by Harry C. Runyon, represented the city, while City Judge William G. DeMeza apeared as counsel for the accused man.

The whole evening was taken up in examining and cross-examining Fitzpatrick and Adams, the former being under the fire of counsel for the defense for more than an hour. There are a number of witnesses yet to be heard on both sides, and the hearing will be continued tonight. It is understood that there are at least a dozen witnesses to appear in support of the charges.

Three charges have been preferred against Captain Feiring. The first one alleges that he absented himself from duty at No. 1 fire house without making proper entry in the house journal, as required by the rules of the department. The second charge is that he used vile and indecent language in reference to Chief T. O. Doane, of the department. The third one charges Feiring with "having and harboring a woman other than his wife on the department property under conditions detrimental to himself and the department, in violation of department rules."

At the outset of the hearing some question was raised as to the status of H. C. Runyon, who was present. Someone said that he was there as counsel for Chief T. O. Doane, but the latter denied that statement, and it was finally explained that as Mr. Runyon was more familiar with the case from its inception, he had been requested by Mr. Stillman to be present. During the evening both Mr. Stillman and Mr. Runyon took part in examining the witnesses. Captain Feiring was present, of course, but was not put on the stand.

Both Fitzpatrick and Adams, it is said, testified to all three charges, and regarding the third and the most serious both swore as to the presence of a woman at the fire house, the only difference, it is said, being that Fitzpatrick testified that he did not know who the woman was. Adams, it is said, gave the woman's name.

It is said that the two witnesses swore that there were two instances when Captain Feiring absented himself from the fire house without making the proper entry on the house journal, and they are said to have agreed in their testimony as to the captain using indecent language.

WILL UNVEIL TWO WINDOWS SUNDAY

Memorials to Stephen A. Ginna and His Wife at Crescent Ave. Church.

DESIGNED BY TABER SEARS

Committee of Churchmen Considering Plans For Memorial to Late Dr. William R. Richards, Crescent Avenue Pastor For 18 Years.

Two windows will be unveiled in memory of Stephen A. Ginna and his wife, Elizabeth Ginna, at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. This pair of windows, to be placed on the Crescent avenue side of the church, represent the ascension of Christ, in the greater lights above the gallery, and in the lower lights the appearance of the risen Christ to the apostles, and also to Peter by the shore of the lake.

The windows are the gift of the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ginna, Daniel F. Ginna and Mrs. Ericson Perkins, of Rochester, N. Y. They have been designed by Taber Sears, who was also the designer of the two other windows in the church. Speaking of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ginna today, the Rev. Dr. John S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, said: "Mr. and Mrs. Ginna were for many years constant benefactors of the Crescent Avenue church and their interest and help were felt in all the enterprises to which the church was committed. Their lives in church and city constitute some of the most gracious memories of our community."

For more than a year past a committee has had under consideration the design of a memorial to be erected in the church to the late Dr. William R. Richards, for eighteen years pastor, and when their work is completed the plan for the same will be submitted to the congregation. Dr. Richards left the Crescent Avenue church to become pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, N. Y.

STAINER'S "CRUCIFIXION" TO BE SUNG AT HOLY CROSS

Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be rendered at Holy Cross church tomorrow night, by the combined choirs of Grace and Holy Cross churches. There will be a chorus of about seventy-five voices, and a finished rendition is anticipated. W. S. O'Brien, organist of Holy Cross church, will be at the organ.

Tom Daniel, of New York, a widely-known baritone, will be one of the soloists, and W. J. R. Thiers and William Tallamy, tenors, will also have solo parts. No tickets will be required for admission, but a silver offering will be received.

The same cantata will be repeated Monday night at Grace church with the same voices. On that occasion the solo work will be performed by W. J. R. Thiers, William Tallamy and Bertram Tallamy. S. Frederick Smith, organist of Grace church, will be at the organ at that time.

FORMER JUDGE JOHN ULRICH PREPARES MASONIC LECTURE

Representing Jerusalem Lodge, Anchor Lodge, Jerusalem Chapter, Trinity Commandery, committees met in the parlors of the Masonic Hall last evening to consider arrangements for the Masonic lecture and entertainment to be given by Past Master John Ulrich, of Jerusalem Lodge, who has prepared a special historical address which will be made up of scenes taken from Egypt, Greece, Rome, France, Germany, England and the United States. Judge Ulrich, who has been a most thorough Masonic student for many years, has for a long time been engaged in special research work in connection with which he has assembled together some very rare and choice material and views which are now being colored by Miss Ella M. Platt, of Washington, D. C.

The lecture and travelogue, which will be entitled "An Evening With the Craft," will be given at the Plainfield Theatre Monday evening April 22.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade asparagus, green beans, string beans wax beans, cauliflower, rhubarb, strawberries, lettuce, spinach, summer squash and egg plant.

ASHMAN DRIVES HIS HORSE INTO A DEEP SEWER DITCH

James Ward, colored, an ashman, drove his horse into a deep open sewer ditch at Randolph road and Lenox avenue shortly after dark last night. Ward was thrown out, and sprained his shoulder. It required a block and fall, operated by Theodore Martin, a truckman, to get the horse out of the ditch. The animal was not injured.

SNEAKTHIEF FRIGHTENED FROM PROSPECT AVE. HOUSE

Prospect avenue had its second visit from thieves within a few weeks early last evening, when an attempt was made to enter the home of H. E. Sykes, at 1211 of that throoughfare. As was the case at the time of the former visit, when a man broke into the house of G. W. Frech, adjoining that of Mr. Sykes, the thief was frightened away without getting anything.

Mr. Sykes left the house to go down town last night, about 8:30, and while he was away Mrs. Sykes thought she heard someone working at a back window. She immediately went to the telephone and called one of the neighbors, who went to the house and made a search. He could find no trace of the man, but this morning it was found that much of the putty was scraped away from a rear window. The police were notified and are conducting an investigation.

Alleged Wife Deserter Arrested.

Richard Collins, an employe of a Front street department store, was arrested at his work yesterday afternoon on a warrant brought here by a Paterson detective, charging him with wife desertion. He was taken to Paterson.

More Bicyclists Fined.

George Stites and Herbert Brighton, colored, both 14, were arrested last night in the borough by Marshal Kiernan for riding bicycles without lights. They were fined $1 by Recorder Gano today.

LIGHT PENALTY FOR CONVICTED HUSBAND

Two Things Operate to Make Law's Touch on U. G. Pierson Gentle.

RELEASED WITH $50 FINE

Wife Relents and Pleads For Him, Which Affects Desertion Charge, and Surprising Testimony Of His Companion Weakens Second Count

Ulysses Grant Pierson, the Plainfield butcher who fled from the city in company with Mrs. Mary H. Vliet and pleaded guilty to charges of desertion and unlawful conduct when taken to court, was arraigned for sentence before Judge E. S. Atwater in the Union county court yesterday afternoon. Because of a jury's acquittal of the woman in the case after a hearing on Tuesday, sentence was suspended on the count which inferred complicity and a fine of $50 was imposed in the desertion part of the proceedings. The money was paid by the defendant's father and both left the court room with the son's wife, the latter having relented at the last moment in her prosecution to the extent of pleading for leniency in her recreant husband's behalf.

The action of the jury in exonerating Mrs. Vliet placed the court in a peculiar position and resulted in a conference before yesterday's open proceedings. Pierson claimed to be guilty of a crime which implicated his companion, yet she was declared innocent after a trial. Judge Atwater met with Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., the defendant and his wife, the defendant's counsel, W. A. Coddington, and several others interested, before passing sentence. Mrs. Pierson was in a forgiving mood and asked that leniency be shown in disposing of the desertion charge which alone remained opened. She said her husband had been faithful and true for fifteen years, that he had been a good provider and she needed him back to conduct the business she had been endeavoring to continue for her support. She added the belief that he had been sufficiently punished for his misstep, the first that had occurred in their married life.

Former Judge William A. Coddington reiterated the wife's statements in addressing the court at the arraignment and also stated that the defendant had undergone a complete change of heart since his arrest. While in the Tombs Prison before extradition, Pierson attended divine services in the chapel and received the inspiration that caused him to begin life anew as a Christian. These facts and also that the recreant husband had been seven weeks in jail were taken into consideration by Judge Atwater when he closed the whole affair by imposing the $50 fine.

YALE MAN WILL SPEAK AT THE C. OF C. DINNER

Yale men will be especially interested in the announcement that George Henry Smith, Yale '99, is to be one of the speakers at the Chamber of Commerce dinner at Truell Hall, Saturday night. Mr. Smith is a writer of humorous stories and is said to be an excellent after-dinner speaker. His classmates in this city and vicinity have arranged to be present and give him a cordial reception.

The other speakers will be Governor Woodrow Wilson, former Governor J. Franklin Fort, George A. Post and James D. Kenyon. The committee has also planned for an exceptionally good dinner. Applications for tickets were received yesterday from Westfield and Elizabeth and the Board of Trade of Dunellen. Those who have not secured their tickets are urged to telephone "Plainfield 12062" or "Plainfield 170," and arrange with the secretary, P. H. Burns, for accommodations at the dinner.

GUESTS AT TRUELL COURT ENJOY CHARMING MUSICALE

The first of a series of musicales was given at Truell Court on Monday evenings for the guests of the Court and their friends. A programme of high excellence was rendered.

The opening number was a trio on two pianos and violin by Mrs. Geason, Miss Mabel A. Maxson and Mrs. Violet Truell-Johnston. Miss Ruth Sadler following with two songs. Miss Helen Sadler was the pianiste. Mrs. John Wilkinson gave a reading. Charles Jones sang a baritone solo. Miss Mabel A. Maxson played a piano solo. All the artists responded to encores.

Miss Maxson, who is arranging the recitals, will announce the date of the next one shortly.

WEATHER SUGGESTS VACATION

it applies to the Daily Press' great contest. It may seem a little hard and rather unchanging with the turn in the lane of energy—that's the thing. London, Paris, the Rhine, the Alps and all the other cities and countries hitherto a dream, stand revealed. Who would not keep everlastingly at it when this exquisite trip of trips is within grasp? No one, of course.

At this late day, too much cannot be said in reference to getting promised subscriptions in hand. Lots of people say they will give help "when it is needed" and then promptly forget all about what they said. Now is the opportune time to remember these assurances and get the subscription, no matter what it is, weeks, months or years. You need the support at all times and one batch of ballots lacking at the last moment may lose the prize.

The manager of the contest department wishes to state owing to the large number of subscriptions being received, a slight delay has been occasioned in forwarding office receipts. They will be sent out in due time so no one need have no misgivings.

NO MORE HOLD UPS OF RAHWAY VAMPS PAY

Rahway, March 28.—Disappointed because the annual allowance of $300 to each company had not been paid March 1, according to custom, the seven fire companies of this city have presented a letter of protest to the Common Council.

The council says that the omission was merely an oversight. An ordinance was introduced to make the payment automatic hereafter. It has been the custom to take formal action each year.

By resolution it was agreed that the major portion of the money appropriated for streets this year shall be devoted to the Fourth Ward. Councilmen Gage and Walker reported an inspection, declaring the streets of the ward to be in bad condition as the result of twenty years of neglect.

Miss Nellie Smith, of Bayonne, who has been spending several days in this city with friends, has returned home.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

'Plains & Fanwood.

County Sealer of Weights and Measures Schwartz paid an unexpected call to town yesterday. The scales and weights of the various merchants were tested and scarcely a scale was found to be true. Several were confiscated as being old and worn out. Those that could be repaired were adjusted at once, and the merchants warned. It is not alleged that any of the merchants had any intention of giving their customers short weight, because it has been years since an official scale test has been made in town and the result was the merchants had become careless or had tried "first aid" in adjusting the scales themselves. No scales were found with any of the tricky devices to force them to weigh short and the majority varied only the fraction of an ounce, but this was enough to condemn the scales.

DEAN DU MOULIN PREACHES ON 121ST PSALM AT GRACE

The Very Rev. Frank Du Moulin, of the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, Cleveland, Ohio, preached an able sermon at the mid-week Lenten service in Grace church last night. He was heard by a large congregation, which received his discourse with rapt attention. The full choir was present and rendered an excellent program.

Dean Du Moulin took the 121st Psalm as his subject and from it selected the text, "I will lift up mine eyes to the hills from whence cometh my help." At the outset he said he would transfer this from the time of David to the time of Christ and make it the theme which would be expressive of the ordinary experience of a human life. The appreciation of this text to the experience of Jesus in the crises or hilltops of His life, he continued, illustrated the average experience of every Christian man or woman in the struggle of life.

The final special Lenten preacher will be the Rt. Rev. F. S. Spalding, bishop of Utah, who will give the discourse at the Sunday morning service.

SLEEPING DRUG KILLS HER.

Montclair Authorities Investigate the Death of Mrs. Chambers.

Montclair, N. J., March 28.—Mrs. Mary Chambers, wife of John Chambers, is dead in the Mountainside hospital from an overdose of veronal, used to induce sleep. Deputy County Physician Simmons decided that death was due to accidental poisoning.

She had been in the habit of buying 100 five-grain tablets every month at a drug store. The health authorities discussed the advisability of legislative action to prevent the indiscriminate sale of the drug. The only precaution required at present is that veronal shall be duly labeled. Mrs. Chambers was a native of England and a trained nurse.

400 WANT TO WED HIM.

But Bride of New Jersey Barber Heir to $10,000 Must Be Manicurist.

Magnolia, N. J., March 28.—Harry F. Martin, the Magnolia barber who under the terms of his aunt's will must marry within eighteen months if he wishes to inherit the $10,000 she left, received 400 letters from young women willing to marry him—with the $10,000. Mr. Martin expects to answer several of them, but he makes one rigid stipulation—the young woman who eventually wins must be a manicurist.

"After I marry," said he, "I am going into business for myself. I expect to open a barber shop in some large eastern city, and I want my wife in the shop, where my eye will be on her at all times."

Wife Slayer Reprieved.

Trenton, N. J., March 28.—Governor Wilson granted a reprieve of thirty days to Joseph Kaiviatkweski, who is under sentence of death and whose execution was set for next week. He murdered his wife in Jersey City a year ago by hitting her over the head with an ax.

Buying Rich Farm Land by the Ton

Buying farm land at $6 a ton is an innovation in Illinois, but Richard S. Kirchberger, a truck gardener in a Chicago suburb, determined by experiments what kind of soil he needed for growing vegetables, and when he discovered that kind of soil in Louisiana—soil wealth that the Mississippi had carried down stream during countless generations, he bought it. Next he arranged with the railroads to move that soil North again, in proximity to the appetites of a great city which he proposed to appease with green stuff grown on the delta soil.

This idea of buying soil is not novel in Europe, and it seems likely to be more generallyadopted in this country, as the land now overflowed is reclaimed and its surpassing riches are made available.

Edmund T. Perkins, acting president of the National Drainage Congress, is quoted as saying that Mr. Kirchberger's accomplishment showed what a vast mine of fertility lies submerged when 75,000,000 acres are now swamp which ought to be reclaimed and put to use.

The river has washed down unestimated quantities of rich earth and decaying vegetable matter, he said, which covers an area of 8,000,000 acres and goes to a depth of 3,000 feet over a large portion of the district.

"This humus, as it is called, is of great value as fertilizer, although the Chicago man is the first to use it to any large extent," said Mr. Perkins. "The only way in which this vast area of incalculably rich soil can be cultivated is by carrying out the drainage projects which are being advocated, construct levees and pump and drain the water off."

SUBSCRIPTION DANCE WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10

The second of the series of subscription dances will be given at the Hartridge Auditorium Wednesday night, April 10, and promises to be one of the best of the season. The patronesses for the affair are Mrs. R. Story Rowland, Mrs. Daniel Runkle, Mrs. William B. Tyler and Mrs. Lewis E. Waring. In addition to the dance, a feature will be the setting aside of one or more rooms for those who wish to play bridge or hearts.

The committee in charge has completed extensive arrangements for the affair, and, judging by the demand for tickets, there will, doubtless, be a large attendance of society people. There have been a number of applications for tickets by non-residents. Music will be furnished by a full orchestra and an elaborate supper will be served by an out-of-town caterer.

HARTRIDCE PUPILS WILL HOLD FAIR FOR HOSPITAL

The children of the Hartridge school will hold a fair for the children's ward of Muhlenberg hospital in Hartridge Auditorium Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Their proceeds will go to the support of a child's bed. The amount raised in the past two years by the Hartridge pupils formed the nucleus of the new children's ward, and as was announced at the recent hospital campaign meeting the first check paid for this building will be paid from their fund.

The candy and flower tables will be in charge of the Fourth and Fifth Academic Grades. Refreshments, which will be served on the stage and will consist of tea, chocolate, icecream, sandwiches and cake, will be managed by the second and third academic grades. Cakes of all kinds will be sold by the first academic grade.

The sixth and seventh elementary grades will have a fancy article table, the fourth and fifth elementary a wonderful doll and toy table, the third a fruit stand and the second a Dutch booth.

It is said by one who has seen them that the Easter tokens and favors to be sold by the babies of the first grade will be the most beautiful ever seen in Plainfield.

TABLEAUX FROM DICKENS AT 7TH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH

An entertainment was given last night in the Seventh Day Baptist church by the Woman's Society for Christian work. Tableaux selected from Charles Dickens' works formed part of the program. Old English songs and ballads were other pleasing numbers.

In the first tableau, "Old Curiosity Shop," those taking part were: Miss Ruth Maxson and Roy Titsworth. The next was old English ballads sung by Miss Celia Cottrell and John Cottrell, "Barnaby Rudge," a tableau by Elmer Hunting, "Nicholas Nickleby," by Mrs. William C. Hubbard and Raymond Burdick; songs by Charles P. Titsworth, "Dombey and Son," tableau by Helen Ford, Harold Whitford and Henry Maxson; piano selections by Mrs. William C. Hubbard and a tableau, "David Copperfield," Mrs. Ira West and Roger Whitford completed the program.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Champlin, Mrs. Edwin Shaw, Mrs. C. P. Titsworth and Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson.

RECTOR OF "LITTLE CHURCH" TO PREACH AT ST. STEPHEN'S

Rev. Dr. George C. Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, better known as "The Little Church Around the Corner," will be the special Lenten preacher at St. Stephen's church, tomorrow night. The announcement has aroused considerable interest among the parishioners of the church and other Episcopalians of the city, and undoubtedly Dr. Houghton will be greeted by a large congregation.

Dr. Houghton's personal friendship for the new rector of St. Stephen's church induced the very busy clergyman to break into his many engagements and come to Plainfield.

Sunday being palm Sunday there will be a distribution of palms at the church and a special program will be rendered. The hours of services will be as usual, 8 and 11 a. m. During Holy Week there will be the celebration of Holy Communion daily, until Good Friday, at 10 a. m., and evening prayer at 8 o'clock. On Good Friday there will be a service at 9 o'clock in the morning, a three-hours' service from 12 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon and evening prayer at 7:45 o'clock.

To Sing "Olivet to Calvary."

The chorus of the First Baptist church is rehearsing for the rendition of Maunder's cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," on Thursday night, April 4. The solo parts will be taken by Miss Ruth Harris, soprano; Miss Katherine Bushnell, contralto; George Smith, tenor, and William Holmes, baritone.

Genuine Relaxation for Men Who Are Slaves to Their Work

Hardman Autotone—Harrington Autotone—Kranich & Bach Player Piano—Mehlin & Sons Player Piano—Linderman Player Piano—Playotone—Autotone.

In our business we find there are but few men who would not like to play the piano—and, on the other hand, there are but few who can.

And we lay this down as a principle: That if business and professional men knew the real personal satisfaction there is in playing a player-piano, every "man jack" of them would have one in his home, inside of a month.

Music, after all, is more or less a selfish pleasure; its greatest enjoyment comes from personally producing it.

TAKE A PLAYER-PIANO!

The piano itself is the regular upright piano and is in no way interfered with for playing by hand. It is in no way robbed of its artistic qualities as a piano. But take the majority of business men (ninety-five out of every hundred); they can sit down at this really wonderful instrument and in fifteen minutes actually play better than the average person can play the regular piano after ten years of study and practise.

And the more you play—the better you play. Once get the "hang of it" and you can play like a Paderewski.

You get the relaxation. It's inspiring. It puts new life into you. You get the personal satisfaction of playing, while at the same time you "get away" from your work. We have seen this demonstrated over and over again, where player-pianists become the most enthusiastic of pianists, and out of our experience we never yet have seen a man who plays the player-piano but who stoutly declares that he gets far more PERSONAL PLEASURE out of playing it than he would if he played a straight piano with his fingers.

A liberal allowance for your old piano in exchange—balance to suit your convenience

A REAL PHILANTHROPIST.

John Arbuckle, a picturesque and practical philanthropist, who died yesterday, lived a useful life and that part of the world in which he made his abode and to which his activities for good were confined is better off because he lived. Arbuckle first came into prominence as a coffee man, he and his brother being the originators of a scheme to sell that commodity in small packages. Astounded themselves at their marvellous sucess in this field, they applied the same idea to sugar, but when the Havemeyers found that the Arbuckles were making stupendous profits, they put a prohibitive price on the sugar so far as they were concerned. Then began a merry war, the Arbuckles going into the sugar business and the Havemeyers into the coffee trade. When the Havemeyers had lost some twenty or thirty millions, they declared the war off.

The riches of John Arbuckle were given largely to make the lives of the poor happier. Two floating hotels in the East River, in one of which deserving working women found boarding and lodging for $2.80 a week, and in the other worthy men were accommodated for $3.50 a week, were among his original philanthropic enterprises. Another was a colony for persons compelled to work out of doors for their health, a six hundred acre property at New Paltz, N. Y., being devoted to this charity. Arbuckle was an intensely practical man. Such things as public libraries with his name blazoned over the doorway did not appeal to him. He believed that genuine charity was to give a loaf of bread and not a stone.

Although his law practice demands more time than the average professional man gives to his business, Samuel St John McCutchen, of North Plainfield, has rendered valuable service to the cause of public education for many years past. In the State at large he gained much favorable notice by his splendid work as a member of the State Board of Education and in his own town by the way he discharged his duties as a member of the local board. Mr. McCutchen has for years kept in close touch with the government of the municipality where he resides, and what he will have to say to our readers as the contributing editor for Saturday's issue makes mighty interesting reading.

Frank O. Briggs, senior Senator from New Jersey, was among the forty members of the upper house of Congress yseterday who declared the election of Senator Stephenson, of Wisconsin, to be valid, rejecting the charge that the $107,793, which Stephenson admitted spending in the Wisconsin primaries to obtain his election, had been used corruptly. The junior senator from New Jersey, James E. Martine, was one of thirty-four senators who could not figure out how over $100,000 could be legitimately spent for such a purpose, and accordingly he voted to oust the Wisconsinian.

James Smith's Newark Morning Star refers to Governor Wilson's prompt and proper veto of the Beard bill requiring the consent of a municipality before a sewage disposal plant can be located within its borders as "an outrageous blow at municipal rights." Does not the peeved erstwhile office-seeker realize that the rights of the many are paramount to the rights of the few?

The Legislature closes today and the Union county representatives can return home proud of the records they have made. Senator Carlton B. Pierce has occupied an enviable position among his colleagues and has amply sustained the reputation of Union in sending men of the very best class to the higher body. Assemblymen Babcock and Groves also did much creditable work. Both of them introduced excellent measures which were passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. They are capable men and the summary of the session's work shows that Union county made no mistake in electing them to office.

When you are discussing faithful officials bear in mind that by their deeds Senator Smalley and Assemblyman Anderson, both of Somerset have become known as men who can be tructed to represent the people.

The European tours contest closes on April 6, it is therefore now a "nine days wonder" for those guessing who will win.

LaFollete says that he will enter the White House on March 4. There is no rule to prevent him doing that at any time.

After all, auto reciprocity is now assured. Let the two per cent. of the inhabitants rejoice.

PURCHASE CONSTITUTIONALIST

a frame structure on Park avenue which was afterward demolished to make way for the Vanderbeek building, the publication's present home.

The new paper was originally independent in politics but after several years took up the Democratic standard. It wielded a powerful influence throughout the State and was a factor in State politics. The contributing editors included United States Senator James E. Martine, the late Nathan Harper, Plainfields' first mayor; the late George R. Nicholl of Scotch Plains, and William H Rogers, of Warren township, all of whom were party leaders at various times. At the death of W. L. Force twenty years ago, A. L. Force assumed full ownership of the business which then included the Daily Press, established May 10, 1887. From him it reverted to the Press Publishing Company on January 1, of the present year, which continued the publication. The Constitutionalist now passes into possession of the Democratic Club with the distinction of being one of the oldest papers in the State and a record of never having missed an issue in its career of nearly half a century.

AUTOMOBILE RECIPROCITY RECONSIDERED AND PASSED

Trenton, March 28.—The Senate yesterday afternoon reconsidered the Stichel automobile reciprocity bill and passed it by the vote of 11 to 7. It will now go to the Governor. Last week the measure was killed by the vote of 8 in favor, to 11 against it. By the switching of three Democratic votes it barely squeezed through yesterday. The Democrats who change their votes were Silzer, of Middlesex; Barber, of Warren, and Price of Sussex.

The bill gives non-resident motorists a fifteen days touring privilege annually without registration or the payment of any fee and also without filing any power of attorney with the Motor Vehicle Commissioner as is required under the present law to aid in prosecuting violators of the law.

Senator Leavitt attacked the bill in vigorous language. Waving in the air several letters he charged the backers of the bill with playing politics.

Senator Leavitt contended that the 637,000 inhabitants in Mercer, Burlington, Monmouth, Middlesex and Camden counties whose roads would be damaged by the hundreds of non-resident automobilists should not be compelled to shoulder the burden of this great expense to please the 1,732,000 people in North Jersey. "It is a vicious scheme," declared the Mercer Senator.

COMING EVENTS.

Father Has Son Arrested.

William Hard, 19 years old, alleged by his father, Thomas Hand to be incorrigible, was arraigned before City Judge William G. DeMeza in the city court today, charged with forging his father's name to a check for $5. He was held in $300 bail, and will probably be committed to the Rahway Reformatory.

Holy Cross Club Meets.

The Young Men's Club of the Holy Cross church held their regular meeting in the chapel last night. Three new members were proposed and a club pin adopted.

DEACONESSES AT FIRST BAPTIST

Women to Have a Part in the Government of Prominent Local Church.

MEMBERSHIP REACHES 2750

Sunday-school Has 745 Pupils—All Departments In a Flourishing Condition—Church Receipts $7,275.12—Societies' Receipts.

Reports from all departments, the election of two deacons together with a board of seven deaconnesses, which is an innovation in the local church government, a social hour, with a musical program and refreshments were features of the annual meeting of the First Baptist church, last night. The attendance of members was the largest in the history of the church at such a meeting and there was unusual interest in the deliberations. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, the pastor, presided, and at the outset briefly outlined the plan of the meeting and purpose of the church.

One of the most important matters considered was that referring to changing the rules of government of the church. The old rules adopted in 1819 and which have been in force are to be given up and others more modern and applicable to present day conditions are to be adopted, and it is also proposed to merge the parish meeting with the annual meeting of the church. At present only heads of families are permitted to vote at the parish meeting. It is proposed to change this rule. The parish meeting will be held Tuesday night, April 9.

The question of having a board of seven deaconnesses met with approval and the following were elected for a term of five years: Mrs. R. W. Barnes, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. George F. Brown, Mrs. Arthur I. Harris, Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mrs. James L. Manning and Mrs. F. S. Thompson. They will assist the pastor and deacons in looking after the spiritual work of the church. F. S. Thompson and R. W. Barnes were re-elected deacons for a full term of five years.

Miss Eliza C. White, formerly of the Baptist church at Morrisville, N. Y., and W. S. Eddy, formerly of the Old First Baptist church, New York, were received into membership and letters of dismissal were granted to the Misses Marie and Julia Bourgeois who will unite with a church in New Mexico.

O. B. Leonard read the report of the beneficience committee. The receipts for the year were $2,958.52, and all but the present balance of $33.73 was expended. John G. MacLaughlin reported for the Board of Trustees. The receipts were $7,257.12 and the disbursements about the same. The present membership of the church is 810, nineteen being lost by death or removal during the year. Mr. Leonard reported that the church started with a membership of 14 and the additions during the succeeding pastorates follow: First, 23; second, 290; third, 417; fourth, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkess, 1,638; fifth, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, 300, and during the service of the present pastor, Dr. Strong, there have been twelve accessions. The total membership of the church was 2,750 and there has been a total of 684 deaths, fourteen during the past year.

Superintendent Arthur M. Hardis of the Sunday-school reported a total membership of 745 in all departments, with an average attendance of 357. The receipts for the year were $1,216.91 and the expenditures $1,215.32, which including the balance from last year, leaves a balance of $257.41. Nineteen members of the school were baptized during the year. Mr. Harris called attention to the fact that Mrs. E. M. Reising, a graduate of a Bible Institute in Philadelphia has been engaged as an assistant in the church and she will also have charge of a teacher training class.

The Men's Conference Bible class which was organized three and a half years ago, has a present membership of 143 according to the report of Frank Bach, and $150 was received and disbursed during the year. Five of the members have joined the church.

Mrs. B. J. Shreve reported for the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, which was organized thirty-five years ago. An interesting note in her report was that at the request of Dr. Strong his late wife, Mrs. Minnie Strong, has been made a memorial member of the society. During the year the society raised $278.15.

Mrs. George H. Robins for the Women's Home Missionary Society reported a membership of 115, and in addition to contributions of clothing etc., for various mission stations the society raised $23.99 during the year.

The report for the Young Women's Missionary Society was presented by Miss Elizabeth Nash. This showed a membership of 62, fifteen being added during the year. The year's receipts were $452.55, and there is a balance of $16.77 in the treasury.

Miss Catherine Endress, secretary of the Junior Mission Band, told of the numerous barrels of articles sent to mission stations, and Miss Mary Buchanan, treasurer, reported receipts of about $130, all of which has been expended for missions. F. S. Thompson presented a brief report of the work of the Temple Builders, adding that the work in the Yerkes chapel, in India, which is supported by the society, is progressing. Miss Lillian Tecter gave the report of the Young People's Society which has a membership of 84. The society has a balance of $60.58 in the treasury.

A. L. Kennelly, reporting for the new budget committee, stated that of the 700 cards sent our 232 were returned signed, representing a pledged amount of $4,279. There are 437 cards yet to be heard from by the committee.

The board of deacons, through Frank W. Jones, reported receipts for the year of $1,259.89 and expenditures of $1,191.75, with a balance of $67.57. In addition there is $2,600 in a trust fund.

Miss Laura J. Runyon was re-elected a member of the board of managers of the Baptist Home for the Aged, and Miss Anna E. Boice was elected a member of the board to succeed Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, resigned.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Robert Giddie, soprano, and George Smith, tenor, of the church choir, sang several solos, accompanied by H. A. Cage. There was a social hour and refreshments were served.

PARK AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Election of officers and reports for the year were features of the annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church last night. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, the pastor, presided. Howard S. Mason was elected church clerk to succeed E. F. Berman; D. Jasper Sims was elected treasurer of the church benevolent fund, and the following were chosen deacons for a term of two years: D. M. Runyon, B. F. Hadley, Americus L. Hallyer and John H. Doane.

The monthly report of the church treasurer, W. H. Maxim, showed receipts of $1,171.20, expenditures of $1,008.91, with a balance of $162.29. J. M. Hawkins, treasurer of the Sunday school, reported yearly receipts of $967.27, expenditures of $957.27, with a balance of $10. The receipts of the fellowship fund, reported by the deacons, were $121.50, expenditures of $71, with a balance of $50.50. The present membership of the church is 361, an increase of 26 over last year.

Mrs. Charles Van Winkle, treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society, reported receipts of $215.42, expenditures of $180.98, with a balance of $34.34. W. M. Maxim, treasurer of the Sunday school benevolent fund, reported receipts of $264.72, expenditures of $220.45, with a balance of $44.27. D. Jasper Sims, for the church benevolent fund, reported receipts of $483.83, expenditures of $331.37, with a balance of $152.46, and in addition $51 has been sent to the Baptist Home for the Aged.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Hadley, treasurer of the Women's Misionary Societies, reported receipts of $664.27, expenditures of $560.43, with a balance of $103.84. This concluded the business, the work of electing trustees being left for the parish meeting in April.

CONFERENCE HOLDS ITS FIRST BUSINESS SESSION

Montclair, March 28.—The Newark conference of the Methodist church, which opened its fifty-fifth session yesterday in the Methodist church of Montclair, began its second day with a business meeting at 9 o'clock this morning. At 2 o'clock Miss Bertha Fowler addressed the Women's Home Missionary Society and at 4 p. m. Dr. C. H. Woolston, of Philadelphia, will address the young people on "That Ship of Mine and Its Wonderful Sails."

These educational lectures are not a part of the regular conference work, but are introduced as being of vital interest to the church, the school and the home and, therefore, a part of true religious education.

Addresses by Professor G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, last night, ended the first day of the conference.

Dr Hall spoke on "The Feelings and Emotions—Their Education."

"The two great poles of life," he said, "are pleasure and pain. To widen the pleasure field and to narrow that of pain is the supreme end of the whole struggle for existence.

"Fear is the beginning of wisdom and Aristotle was right when he said that a large part of education was in teaching the young to fear aright.

"Perhaps the most educative of all classes of fear is the fear of disease. It can be made the motive power of a great deal of knowledge of hygiene—personal, domestic and social. When refined, fear becomes reverence and awe, and as such it has much to do with religion.

Yesterday afternoon Dr Hall spoke on "The Adolescent Boy His Physical, Mental and Moral Nature and Needs," and Miss Welthy B. Honsinger, a missionary, and principal of the Methodist school at Nanchang, China, spoke on "The Awakening of China."

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CRISP YOUNG DANDELIONS.

THOSE who live where fresh young dandelions are to be had may now enjoy a treat, for in the spring the leaves of even the wild ones are tender and juicy.

Even if you do not live in the country, if you have a fair sized lawn, it is quite likely some of these forward plants may be putting up their heads among the grass. If so go out with a sharp knife and cut off the heads, preferring the youngest and greenest leaves.

Cooking Dandelions.

Dandelions may be cooked in various ways. Before using they must be washed through several waters and allowed to stand in fresh cold water to bring out their crispness.

Dandelion Greens.—After washing throw into boiling salted water and cook gently for a quarter of an hour. Then drain them and pour clear cold water on or let the faucet run over them. This is to blanch the leaves.

Chop them and when ready to serve warm in a saucepan with butter, pepper and salt together with a dash of nutmeg.

Serve on a hot dish and garnish with slices of hard boiled egg.

Quite a Combination.

Dandelion Stew.—Wash a pint of fresh dandelions. Have six pared and washed potatoes, three onions, a chopped carrot, a tablespoonful of parsley and a little chopped celery. Boil these in a quart of water for half an hour. Then add a cupful of sweet milk, a tablespoonful of butter and salt and pepper to suit.

Macaroni and Dandelions.—Wash a quart of dandelions and put in three pints of water, add two small onions, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a slice of lemon.

When the vegetables are tender season with two tablespoonfuls of butter and a teaspoonful of sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Have a quarter of a pound of macaroni soaking in cold water for two hours. Add to the tender vegetables and boil for about forty minutes. Before serving add a cupful of grated cheese.

Dandelion and Potato Salad.—Fry in butter a pint of well washed dandelion leaves. In another frying pan fry in butter a pint of cold sliced potatoes. Mix the dandelions and potatoes in a bowl and pour over them a little hot vinegar seasoned with salt and pepper.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

Three States—Illinois, New Mexico and Vermont—will annually observe February 17 as Child-Welfare Day.

Local Notes.

One of the advantages of membership in the State Congress of Mothers is the privilege of sending delegates, one for every ten members, to the annual meeting of the Congress, similar to the one held in Plainfield last October. The presidents of the Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teacher Associations are also invited to attend the executive meetings of the Board of Managers, where plans are discussed for future work. The enthusiasm of meeting others interested in the work is a great help and new ideas are gained for the local work. Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Pierson, Mrs. Hervey Doane, Mrs. G. O. Stevens and Mrs. Stephen H. Voorhees are planning to attend the next meeting to be held in Trenton, March 30.

The last one of a series of lectures given under the auspices of the Mothers' Association was held at the High School last Friday. Dr. Probasco spoke on "Prevention of Disease in Adolescence." The subject of sex-hygiene was also discussed. The attendance was unusually large, every seat being filled and many standing. Dr. Probasco gave many helpful suggestions and much practical advice to mothers, urging special care and patient watchfulness at this critical time in every child's life.

General News.

A public health education meeting was held under the auspices of the Child Hygiene Committee of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers and the Visiting Nurse Society in the Centenary M. E. church, Fifth and Cooper streets, Camden, Friday evening, March 22.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Alexander Marcy, Jr., with words of welcome to those present, and then conducted by Dr. H. H. Davis, president of the Board of Health.

"Child Hygiene" was given by Dr. S. W. Newmayer, of the Philadelphia Board of Health, who stated that the population of cities largely depended on the health of that city. The health was judged by its mortality, and the health rate was judged by the mortality of infants.

Diarrhoeal diseases and pneumonia are preventable and 70% of deaths are needless. Four of the most densely populated wards in the city were taken and treated for two years.

First division nurses made a house to house canvas.

Mothers were instructed by illustrated charts and talks on the care of children, distribution of literature (in different languages), and visited in the home. Some of the literature and talks were: Instructing the mother before the child is born, care of the baby, fly in the house, home-made ice box. Next by modified milk society midwives were examined and instructed.

There should be a law forbidding private maternity hospitals. The two years' treatment of the four wards so treated resulted in the reduction of gastric intestinal diseases 10%, pneumonia 24%, tuberculosis 7%.

"New Jersey is a hard State to wake up," declared Dr. Maria M. Vinton, of the American Medical Association, Newark and the Oranges are having good meetings on the subject of Public Health Education, but that education is needed in all parts of our State, and she suggested a fifteen minute talk at the beginning of school by a physician telling about the care of health, with evening meetings arranged for parents.

The social study of children produce the fact that a large percentage breakfast on bread and coffee. Coffee should never be given to children, also that many children drink beer.

Teaching children the care of children impresses many needful precepts for after years, and girls over twelve years of age are formed into Little Mother Leagues in some of the New York schools.

Looking after children who are mentally deficient and placing them in ungraded classes and teaching them manual training so that they can be self-supporting later on in life. The Chicago Board of Health is most progressive. Once a week it publishes and distributes a bulletin among the people not only telling of the dangers of buying food unprotected in the streets, but also illustrating each thing mentioned.

"Sex Hygiene" was the subject of Dr. Grace Spiegle, who cited the fact that disease is the result of ignorance or abuse of God's laws. Every child has the right to be well born, by a healthy father and mother, and that the Ten Commandments are binding on man as on woman. The necessity of child labor laws for the proper physical development of children and the danger of the drinking cup. All victims of contagious diseases are not immoral. She ended by telling that parents, teachers, physicians and clergy were responsible for normal, healthy and clean living.

Dr. Alexander Marcy, Jr., spoke of the purpose of the New Jersey Society for the "Prevention of Social Disease," and after a short address finished by stating that until syphilis is checked the war on tuberculosis will be only partly successful.

The Mothers' and Teachers' Club, Haddonfield, had the honor of an address, Wednesday afternoon, by Dr. Farrington on "Children's Diseases Are Preventable and Should Be." It was a call to mothers to help the school and town authorities to stamp out the child diseases, so long considered necessary and of slight consideration. If the grave results following measles, whooping cough, etc., could be more generally known and understood, all mothers would join in a concerted effort to stamp out—as other dread diseases have been—those especially affecting the child; first, by isolation; second, by disinfection; third, immunity. Is it not worth while to protect your child and others?

The Parent Teacher Association of the Mother's Congress of New Jersey, feels much encouragment in the hearty co-operation of schools throughout the State. Seven new clubs have joined the Congress in a short time. Among them is the Sea Isle City Mothers' and Teachers' Club, to whom an address of welcome was delivered last Friday by Mrs Wellington Bechtel, 3rd vice president and chairman of Parent Teacher Association of the New Jersey Congress. The enthusiasm of the new club to push forward the Child Welfare Movement, was most encouraging. Alvin Kendall, Commissioner of Education, and Dr. W. G. Schaffler, president of Board of Education, have expressed their interest in and desire to help the Parent Teacher work.

President Humphreys, of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, told how to prevent truancy in the public schools today in an address at the annual State conference of Charities and Correction in the Woman's Club at East Orange, N. J.

"The manual arts," he said, "are the best agents to waken the interest of the wayward, the best to rouse the ambitions of the sluggish, and to conjure self-respect in the indifferent. As moral persuaders they need no adjunct of court squad and magistrate, no Black Maria, no probation officer, no jail and reform school.

"They work overtime without cost, and keep the initiates in their mysteries ever planning new problems to conquer. For a few cents per pupil per year they offer attractions outbidding the dime museum and the dock.

"Properly, freely, wisely used, they nip the very bud of truancy."

Many prominent educators were among those attending the annual meeting of the New Jersey Conference of Charities and Correction at Orange, yesterday, when Dr. Watt, of Chicago, spoke on "Open Air Schools." His address might be more properly headed "Fresh Air For Everybody." He claimed that we keep our homes, our schools and our churches too hot; that we bake our brains and impoverish our bodies by breathing dry hot air. He urged that we should reduce the heat in our rooms to a temperature of 60 degrees, and by so doing we would increase our working capacity, and improve our health. When the air is warmed to a temperature above 70 degrees, it reduces the humidity and kills the radio-activity. He told a wonderful story of a hundred pupils who were kept in a cool room, and who had no case of measles scarlet-fever, mumps or whooping-cough during the whole winter. His remedy is the forcing into the air of a large amount of water-vapor so as to increase the humidity. If this be done, he claims we may sit in a room of 60 degrees, and be more comfortable than we are now in a room where the temperature is 70 degrees.

Mr. Perry, of New York, spoke on "Schools As Social and Recreational Centres." He urged that the schoolhouse should be the social centre of the community, a place where clubs and organizations parents and children, might meet out of school hours for pleasure and instruction; that if a club of boys want a meeting place that they be given the use of the school-room under proper supervision; that if a number of girls want a dancing-class, the school provide a room for them. Indeed he advocated that dancing be taught as a part of the school-work to all who desired it, since no other place offers such good moral conditions for teaching it as does the school, and as young people are bound to have it to satisfy their social craving, the school ought to give it to them as a part of their normal training. He gave an interesting account of the work done in making the school a social centre in Philadelphia, Columbus, Rochester, and other places.

The public pays for the building of the school-house and owns it. Why shouldn't any respectable group of citizens, big or little, use the building when it is not otherwise needed.

Mrs. John Powers, of Essex street, is convalescing from a serious attack of kidney trouble.

Mrs. C. E. Varian, of Lenox avenue, entertained the Thimble Club at her home yesterday afternoon. Refreshments were served.

Miss Helen Pierce, a student at Smith's College, is spending the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pierce, of Essex street.

BIG APPROPRIATION BILL INTRODUCED IN THE SENATE

Trenton, March 28.—Providing a total of $7,481,224.68, the annual and supplemental appropriation bills were introduced in the Senate today by Senator Gaunt, of Gloucester county, chairman of the appropriations committee. The net increase in the two bills over those of last year is $667,199.15.

The annual bill, the appropriation of which will become available November 1 next, carries a total of $6,514,755.50. The annual bill last year carried a total of $5,476,508.35. So that the increase this year is $1,038,247.15. The total of the supplemental bill this year is $966,469.18, compared with last year's total of $1,337,517.18, showing a decrease of $371,048. This decrease brings the net increase in the two bills down to the sum named.

FUNERAL OF J. A. M'KEON AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

The funeral of John A. McKeon was held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's church. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends, including a delegation from Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, and representatives from the Knickerbocker Mutual Benefit Association of New York, of which Mr. McKeon was a member. Both organizations as well as the relatives sent beautiful floral tributes.

Father Westman, formerly curate of St. Mary's church, but now of Arlington, and a personal friend of the family, officiated at the solemn mass. The choir sang several selections. The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery and the pallbearers, all members of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, I. O. F., were Frank J. Winzenreid, John Borman, Michael F. Higgins, Theodore Zeller, Charles Pagliuccia and Jesse Galloway.

ARBUCKLE FUNERAL HELD.

Well Known Coffee Merchant to Be Buried In Pittsburgh in Family Plot.

New York, March 28.—The funeral of John Arbuckle, the millionaire sugar and coffee merchant, who died at his home in Brooklyn at the age of seventy-five years, was held at his home in Clinton avenue this afternoon, following which the body was taken to Pittsburgh for interment in the family burying lot tomorrow.

As a sugar maker and merchant Mr. Arbuckle ranked with the Havemeyers and the Spreckelses. He was perhaps the best known coffee merchant in the country. In his later years John Arbuckle was celebrated as a philanthropist. He was particularly interested in making life easier for working girls.

Mr. Arbuckle was born in Scotland. He got his education in the schools of Allegheny, Pa., in which city his parents settled on coming to this country. He came to New York in 1871 with his brother Charles and established the firm of Arbuckle Bros. The concern sold coffee in packages all over the country.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

BRUGGY BUSY COACHING ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE NINE

St. John's College, which opened its baseball season yesterday afternoon with Columbia, in New York, is being coached this year by Frank Brugger, Elizabeth's leading athlete, well-known locally as the catcher of the Bound Brook team of the Central New Jersey League. The weather has not been so promising to work up well outdoors but the new boss believes he will have them going fast enough to give the blue and white nine a hard rub. One of the big games on the St. John schedule will be the tilt with Seton Hall College, at South Orange. Coach Bruggy was a student at the South Orange college for a brief period and will take a special delight in walloping his old team-mates.

Brugger is also coaching football and basketball and is convinced that there is enough material on hand to pick star aggregations in these sports which he will supervise. Prospects are particularly bright for football, as most of last season's winning eleven will return to college, and with a man of Bruggy's calibre at the helm there is little room to doubt the class of the team.

Frank first jumped into prominence in Brooklyn athletic circles two years ago when he played with the Acorn A. A. football eleven. Last fall he was in the line-up of the Y. M. C. C. team and during the past winter he played star basketball with several Brooklyn quintets, being a members of the Y. M. C. C. five, which defeated the St. Stephen Lyceum players for the city championship Tuesday night. He turned down offers from several league teams to take charge of the Brooklyn athletes and his many local friends earnestly wish him the best of luck in his new venture.

TRIALS FOR OLYMPIC MARATHON AT BOSTON

Boston, March 28.—Boston will be the scene of the biggest marathon race of the year. The event will be managed by the Boston Athletic Association and is scheduled to be held April 18. It will be run from Ashland to Boston, a distance of about twenty-five miles, which is one mile and 385 yards short of the regular marathon distance. The first six men to finish in the race will be considered when the American Olympic committee comes to select America's representatives in the marathon race in Sweden. Athletes from all parts of the country have signified their intention of taking part in the Boston race. Among the boys who will make the trip from New Jersey section is Gaston Stubino, who hails from Paterson, and sports the silks of the South Paterson A. C. in competition

ATHLETIC CONTROL CHANCE AT YALE IS DISCLOSED

New Haven, Conn., March 28.—Details of Yale's new Consolidated Athletic Association disclose the most radical changes ever made in the control, management and routine of Yale athletic affairs. For the first time alumni are to be given places on the organization that controls the undergraduate sports, although the students will have easily a majority on the athletic association which will direct all the sports.

The central body, which it is planned to place in charge of all the athletics of the university, will consist of fourteen members, nine of whom are undergraduates. The four captains and the four managers of the four major teams will, as heretofore, form a nucleus of the athletic association and the president of the minor association, which is the consolidated organization of the minor sports will be the ninth undergraduate member.

The five alumni who will compose the association will be, respectively, four graduates, who will be chosen by the captain of the football, baseball, track and rowing associations, and one graduate who will be selected by the other four graduates. Till the present time the four major sports have been managed by separate associations

The abolition of the historic "financial union" will call for the turning over of the surplus fund which Walter Camp, treasurer of the union, has collected and kept for twenty years. This amounts to about $150,000. According to the proposed legislation, this fund will be hereafter kept by the treasurer of the university and moneys may be paid from it only by order of the two-thirds of the members of the association.

N. Y. A. C. WANTS SULLIVAN AT THE OLYMPIC GAMES

New York, March 28.—A committee from the Irish-American Athletic Club, of this city, will go to Washington next week to urge President Taft to appoint James E. Sullivan American commissioner to the Olympic games which will be held at Stockholm next summer. Practically all the other athletic clubs of importance in the East will take similar action within a fortnight.

Mr. Sullivan was the American representative at the St. Louis games, the Athens games and the London games.

COST OF TRAINING A LEAGUE TEAM

New York, March 28.—The cost of equipping a major league baseball team of 25 players is somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,500 each spring, according to a statement by Thomas G. Davis, of the New York Americans. Here are the items:

Sixty dozen baseballs, $1,080.
Ten dozen bats, $120.
Fifty uniforms and 25 sweaters, $800.
Bases and plates, $25.
Masks, chest protectors, etc., $50.
Twenty-five sliding pads, $85.
Movable batting cage, $60.
Incidentals, $100.
Total, $2,320.

The players purchase their own gloves and spiked shoes and their own bat bags and toe plates. The salaries amount to $2,000, while $500 is spent for sodding and loam.

RUTGERS NINE OPENS WITH TIGERS AT PRINCETON TODAY

New Brunswick, March 28.—A baseball game has been scheduled for this afternoon at Princeton. This will take the place of the game scheduled for Monday, which was canceled because of bad weather.

Rutgers is badly handicapped by the weather and lack of adequate facilities for indoor practise. Tomorrow's game will be the first of the season. On Saturday Columbia will be played at New York. It is probable that C. E. Dennis, of Hamburg, will pitch against Princeton, and W. H. Martin, of Bloomfield, will be given a chance in the box against Columbia.

JACK MARTIN SHOWS WELL IN BRONCO TRAINING CAMP.

Jack Martin, the local boy, is showing up finely with the Rochester team in practice. The Rochester papers say so. One of them says: "He hits the ball well in regular grass cutter style and handles himself perfectly around short, as well as being full of confidence, which is bound to be a big asset in his favor."

John Ganzel, the Broncho manager, after looking Jack over in practice the other afternoon at Anniston, Ala., said:

"That lad is another Tooley."

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

First no hit game in history of game was played in Iona, Mich., Aug. 17, 1876, between the St. Louis Reds and the Cass club of Detroit. Jim Galvin pitched for the Reds.

The record for the shortest game is thirty-two minutes, played Sept. 17, 1910, between Atlanta and Mobile teams at Atlanta. Full nine innings.

The greatest number of victories in a season was made in 1906 by the Chicago Nationals when they captured 116 games.

The strikeout record for a season is held by Rube Waddell of the Athletics, that of 343 made by him in 1904.

George Gibson holds the record for consecutive games caught. In 1909 he was behind the bat 140 days without a letup.

The greatest number of stolen bases was made by Harry Stovey of the Athletics in 1888, when he pilfered 156 bags.

The longest distance throw of 426 feet 9½ inches was made by Sheldon Lejeune, formerly a member of the Brooklyn Nationals, at Cincinnati, Oct. 12, 1910.

The greatest number of games pitched in a season were seventy-two by Radbourne of Providence in 1884.

Curve pitching was first used by Arthur Cummings in 1876.

Overhand twirling was authorized in 1884.

WHY ONE MAGNATE FOUND FAULT WITH SCHEDULE.

Bob Quinn, one of the world's greatest builders of schedules, tells one that came off the other day at Fort Wayne after his draft of a Central league schedule had been adopted.

A certain club owner whose city is full of factories took a second look at the dates and then rushed at Quinn with, "My goodness, you haven't scheduled us at home on pay days."

Champion Trotter Dies.

Philadelphia, March 28.—Pelagon, the world's champion two-mile trotter to wagon, is dead, the horse having keeled over in the stable yard the other day and died without apparent cause, but since the gelding seemed to be in good condition at breakfast time his death was most unexpected to his owner, Clerk of Quarter Sessions Thomas W. Cunningham, president of the Road Drivers' Association of Pennsylvania. Mr. Cunningham purchased Pelagon as a green prospect in 1904 and on October 20, 1909, he had the satisfaction of seeing Charles W. Merkle drive the horse two miles over the Belmont track, to wagon, in 4:38, thus establishing a world's record that way hooked. On August 21, 1907, Merkle gave Pelagon a mile trotting record over the Belmont track of 2:17¼.

No Hit for Ty Cobb.

New Orleans, March 28.—The Tigers put up a sorry exhibition against New Orleans yesterday, losing, 8 to 0. It was the first time they had looked over any real pitching this spring, and looking it over was about al they did to it. Gainor was ill and Perry played first, Jones taking his familiar station at left. Only four safeties did the Tigers garner, three of them coming in the last two rounds. Cobb, on his first appearance, went hitless, but did some fancy base running.

Red-Yankee Series Off.

Cincinnati, March 28.—President August Hrrmann, of the Cincinnati Baseball Club, yesterday called off the series of games between the Cincinnati team and the New York Americans because of the present condition of the grounds at the local park. New York was to have played here next Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

MATTY HAD BEST CONTROL AMONG TWIRLERS LAST YEAR

When it comes to having control Christy Mathewson is in a class all by himself. In the battles he waged last season he gave up an average of just one base on balls for every nine innings. He had them all backed off the boards. Ed Walsh, the leading American twirler, when it comes to having control, averaged one and one-half per game.

Doc White, the Chicago portsider of note, proved the cleverest of all left handers when it came to getting them over. He averaged only one and one-half passes per game, being ahead of most of the right handers. Lefty Leifield, the Pirate sidewheeler, topped the Nationals, his passes averaging two and one-third per game.

Superbas Are Beaten.

Louisville, Ky., March 28.—Manager Dahlen's Brooklyn team lost its first spring exhibition game in over two years here yesterday, when the Louisville American Association team won by a score of 10 to 7. With the game six runs to the good in the fourth, the Colonels fell on Rucker and piled up six runs before they were retired. In the sixth inning Louisville added three more, following it with one in the eighth. The game with Indianapolis tomorrow is uncertain and the Brooklyns may remain here for practise.

Columbia Wins Its First.

New York, March 28.—Columbia opened its baseball season yesterday by defeating the St. John's College, of Brooklyn, by a score of 6 to 2. Cold and rainy weather has seriously handicapped all of the local college nines in their practice season, and neither of the teams yesterday was in good form.

Cleanup Kids of Last Season.

Just seven men knocked out home runs with the bases full last season. Jackson, Cobb, Olsen, Cunningham, McInnes, Hartzell and Laporte were the cleanup kids.

NEW JERSEY STILL LEADS IN PRODUCTION OF SILK

Washington, March 28.—In value of silk products and in the number of plants operated, New Jersey still leads the country, as shown by statistics of the Thirteenth Census issued yesterday by Director Durand of the census bureau. The report covers the year 1909, and was compiled under the supervision of William M. Steuart, chief statistician for manufactures.

Pennsylvania leads, however, in the number of persons engaged in the industry, 38,178, as compared with 32,365 in New Jersey, out of a total for the entire country of 105,238.

In the year given New Jersey had 318 establishments, out of a total of 852 in the United States. Pennsylvania stood second with 226 establishments and New York third with 170 plants, in which were engaged 14,136 persons. Connecticut and Massachusetts follow.

The value of the silk products of New Jersey in 1909 is given at $65,429,550, with the value added by manufacture estimated at $32,164,372. The total value of products in the United States for the period given was $196,911,667, of which the value added by manufacture was $89,144,751. This estimate is computed by deducting the cost of materials from the market value.

Further statistics of the trade show that of the total engaged in the industry in the United States there were 664 proprietors and firm members, 1,572 salaried officers, superintendents and managers, 3,069 male clerks, 905 female clerks, the average number of wage earners 99,037; the total number of wage earners December 15 on the nearest representative day being 102,369, of which number there were, aged sixteen and over, 35,785 males, 58,441 females; and aged under sixteen, there were 2,483 males and 5,660 females.

The capital invested was $152,158,002, and the total expenses $177,175,719, of which $3,815,770 was for the services of officials, $3,711,569 was for clerks, and $38,570,385 for wage-earners, and $106,078,925 for materials; $1,687,981 for fuel and rent of power and $1,118,478 for rent of factory or works, $451,903 for taxes, $12,998,741 for contract work, and $9,732,314 for other expenses.

RIVAL FIREMEN RETIRE WHILE DWELLING BURNS.

Roselle, March 28.—The two-story frame building belonging to the John Bloomburg family, in the southeastern section of Roselle, near the Linden line, burned to the ground while the firemen from Roselle and Linden, who had started for the fire, turned back to their quarters.

Each department thought the fire was in the other's territory. The loss is estimated at $3,000, partly covered by insurance. It is said that the fire originated from the upsetting of a lighted lamp by a dog.

The family escaped from the building, saving but a few personal belongings.

Mrs. William B. Deming.

Summit, March 28.—Mrs. William B. Deming, wife of William B. Deming, of Norwood avenue, died at her home Tuesday, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Deming was a native of Savannah, Ga., but since her marriage to Mr. Deming, about fifteen years ago, she had been a resident of Summit. The funeral services will be held in the Central Presbyterian church this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Centenary of the Use of Gas.

Philadelphia, March 28.—Celebration of the centenary of the introduction of gas as an illuminant will be held next month, under the auspices of the American Philosophical Society, The Franklin Institute, the American Chemical Society and the American Gas Institute. Five lectures will be given beginning Thursday, April 18, at the Franklin Institute, 15 South Seventh street.

A Heart to Heart Talk With the People of Plainfield.

Benjamin Franklin's father used to tell him if he acted honorably and squarely and always did "the right thing" he would some day stand before kings; and sure enough he did—five of them.

To do the right thing by a person is to give them a square deal and a square deal in the clothing business means that the purchaser must make as much profit on a sale as the merchant.

Beginning Saturday, we will give the people of Plainfield a clothing deal such as they never have had before!

Our store will be run according to the Golden Rule until we find something better.

We will treat you just as we would expect you to treat us if our positions were reversed.

We open on Saturday, and earnestly hope you'll come in and help us admire the new store and the new merchandise.

This is your invitation, and if it were engraved on expensive paper it could not be more sincere—come!

AUTOISTS HURLED FROM CAR IN HEAD-ON CRASH

Whitehouse, March 28. — Two autoists of four in one party were hurled from their machine in a head-on collision betwen two motor cars at Fiddler's Elbow, betwen this place and North Branch at midnight yesterday. None of the victims were dangerously injured.

One car was from Somerville garage and was driven by Lloyd Taylor. Peter S. Latourette, a liveryman, of Whitehouse Station, was in charge of the other car.

In the Latourette car were Samuel D. Skillman, Lucas A. Voorhes and Bertzel Runyon, besides Mr. Latourette. Mr. Latourette and Mr. Skillman were thrown entirely across the road. Mr. Latourette was badly cut and bruised and is still in bed.

Mr. Skillman sustained a deep gash in the right side of his head and was severely bruised. Mr. Voorhees escaped injury, although he was seated in the rear of the car before the accident and landed on the front seat. Mr. Runyon was injured about the side. Mr. Taylor escaped with bruises. The Latourette car was badly wrecked and considerable damage was done to the auto handled by Taylor.

The Whitehouse autoists were obliged to get a farmer to bring them home after their injuries had been dressed. They had come to Somerville on a late train and Mr. Latourette had gone to meet them. Mr. Taylor had been at White house Station, having taken a passenger there earlier in the evening.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS TO BE SENT TO GETTYSBURG

Trenton, March 28.—Commander Adrian S. Applegate, of the New Jersey Department of the G. A. R., succeeded yesterday in having the Legislature include Confederate soldiers in New Jersey among the number to be sent to the celebration of the battle of Gettysburg.

All the Southern States have taken action to send surviving Union troopers in their territory to the reunion and Mr. Applegate believed that it was only fitting that this State should take similar measures. Some fast campaigning had to be done to have the amendment inserted at the closing hours of the Legislature.

The fiftieth anniversary of the battle will be observed at Gettysburg July 2, 3 and 4. There are 10,000 G. A. R. men in the State and provision will be made for all of them. The Confederates are comparatively few in number.

The United States Government will erected tents at the battlefield capable of accomodating 100,000 people and the State of Pennsylvania has made arrangements to provide food for all who attend. The representatives will be guests of Pennsylvania. New York has also appropriated a large amount to send soldiers from its State to the anniversary meeting.

—At the primary election held March 12 at Chester, Ill., only five votes were cast. Of these four were thrown out as illegal, and the remaining one Socialist, by the way—cost the city $104.17.

—Among the reasons why people guess that Mr. Carnegie gave that $2,500,000 to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is the fact, says The Springfield Republican, that President Maclaurin is a Scotchman too.

REPAIRER LOSES FEET WORKING UNDER CAR

Hampton, March 28.—Caught under a car of the Central Railroad while at work as a car repairer here, Edward Everitt, 45 years old, suffered the loss of both feet. He was on his knees repairing a drawhead, with both ankles over the rail, when a switch engine sent a car on a siding where the repair work was going on.

Everitt tried to get out, but failed, and both feet were crushed. He was taken to the Easton, Pa., hospital, where he is in a precarious condition from shock and loss of blood.

A young man was injured last week near the same spot. He jumped from a moving coal train and his foot, catching in a switch, hurled him under the wheels, and both legs were cut off. He refused to give his name, but said he lived in Scranton. He was sent to the Easton hospital.

REFORMATORY HEAD TALKS ON BAD BOY

Wayward Youth is Abnormal, Says Rev. Frank Moore to Church Association.

COMES INTO BEING TAINTED

How He Develops and Drifts Along the Line of Petty Lawlessness, Until He Fulfills His Apparent Destiny As An Outcast.

Interesting information regarding the wayward youth who begins life amid sordid surroundings and loses out in the struggle for betterment through circumstances over which he has no control, was given by Dr. Frank C. Moore, superintendent of the State Reformatory at Rahway, before a large and appreciative audience in the parish house of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, last night. The talk was given under the auspices of the Men's Association and was undoubtedly one of the most successful affairs of the kind held in the West End in a long time. Plenty of food for thought was furnished by the speaker and the hope is entertained that he may be induced to supplement his statements at the same place in the near future.

While Dr. Moore had no set subject for his address, it dealt largely with the abnormal boy. At the beginning he declared there are two classes of boys, the normal and the abnormal. The former he described as the children of respectable and law-abiding parents, who have kindly influences and care at all times, proper food and clothing, sent to school or college until well educated and then given every possible assistance to become started in a trade, profession or business. They eventually succeed and become the upright, moral citizens who form the great majority of the nation's population. The other class contains the boys who come into the world with the taint of drunkard relatives, criminal parents and lawless instincts in his blood. He is given no love, curses and misery drive him from the home and the street is his haven. He gets little or no education in the natural walks of life but derives an amazing fund of information in the "art" of matching pennies, jumping freight trains and "swiping" cigar butts. The result is always obvious. He breaks into a small store or commits petty larceny as the beginning of his career as an outcast from society.

"It is this boy we have to deal with in our institutions," said Dr. Moore, "and I am happy to say the State is beginning to solve the problem. Placing these youths between stone walls or steel cells does not make him reform or brutal treatment and exercise of might do not make him respect the law. That used to be the idea of our prison officials. What they need is sympathetic instruction of their latent powers for good and it is what we are trying to give them. The reformatory inmate is encouraged to read, he is taught a useful trade and allowed baseball and other forms of recreation. On the other hand, the State as a whole is realizing its duty in this respect and making every effort to save the boy from the first step that makes him a dependent charge. The playgrounds and summer camps are among the influences that are becoming important factors in the uplift."

Dr. Moore emphasized a point that is familiar to all in the causes that tend to return a wayward youth to his old ways after a release. He is singled out for the finger of scorn to be pointed at and refused employment because he made a single misstep. In England prosecution of this sort is made a misdemeanor, the speaker said, and should be so in this country.

"Every person in the State can aid in overcoming the wayward and lawless instinct of the abnormal boy," Dr. Moore concluded, "by being a 'big brother.' Don't shove them from you but lend a hand at every opportunity and a great weight will be lifted from the shoulders of those who are wrestling with the problem of reformation."

Refreshments were served at the close of the address and an hour was spent in social discussion.

ONE JUDGMENT PASSED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

There were only two contested cases at the session of the District Court yesterday. One was that of L. C. Van Nest against Louis F. C. Beck, on contract, in which the plaintiff sought to recover damages for mill supplies. Codington & Swackhamer represented the plaintiff and Francis J. Blatz the defendant. Decision was reserved.

The other case was that of A. H. Osmun against Walter MacNaughton, to recover $12.50 on a book account. Judgment was given the plaintiff for that amount. J. P. W. Taylor represented the plaintiff and Martin B. Stutsman the defendant.

MISS M'GINLEY GOES TO FRONT IN CONTEST

Displaces Miss Mabel Vail, of Same District, by Polling 18,000 Votes in One Batch--Her Total 92,365.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Florence Stevenson

The standing in the Daily Press European trip contest underwent a noticeable change after the count today. Miss Mabel Vail, District No. 2, who has been leading contestant since the close of the special prize period two week ago, was displaced by Miss Theresa McGinley, who polled 18,000 votes yesterday. She now has a grand total of 92,365, leading Miss Vail by more than 8,000. Miss Agnes Leighs, of District No. 1, holds third place by a comfortable majority.

Announcement is made today that the last coupon will be printed in the Daily Press tomorrow. The time limit for polling these votes will positively expire on Friday, April 5. Any received after that will be void. Keep the date in mind, fair contestants, and prevent any possibility of losing a batch of ballots by bringing them around a day late. Only the subscription votes will be received on Saturday, April 6.

Only one day more remains before the final week of the contest begins. The race has been a determined one recently, but it will be more so during the concluding six days. There is no doubt but every young woman fully realizes the fact. The manager of the contest can only say what he has said before and that is, keep everlastingly at it. There are still hundreds of people who are not readers of the Daily Press, but a single importunity will bring them into the fold. These are the ones who are going to make it possible for some young woman to enjoy the delightful trip to Europe, so why not make it yourself

The table of the vote will be found today on page two.

SECOND LECTURE ON EFFECT OF READING ON CHILDREN

Rev. F. K. Mathiews lectured yesterday in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. on "Character Study by Means of Stories Children Like Most." It was the second of a series of three addresses. It had been found, the lecturer said, through a systematic investigation at the Stillman Grammar school that in general virtually all the children were reading the necessary literature at a certain age, but when past the seventh grade they passed the books of Alger and Optic by and took up a more advanced and different class of reading.

It was especially necessary to make the children use discrimination in their choice of books, Mr. Mathiews said, for without it the youthful mind might be diverted into far different channels than expected.

It was found that the boys of the school were interested chiefly in mechanics, electricity, birds and camping, and the interest was about equally divided between the four. Out of 146 boys 26 were reading the American Boy; 38 the Youth's Companion; 53 Popular Mechanics, and 29 St. Nicholas. Nearly all read the daily newspapers.

LIFE SAVER TO TALK ON SWIMMING AND FIRST AID

Wilbert Longfellow, of the United States Volunteer Life Saving corps, will lecture at the Y. M. C. A. building on the different methods of swimming and the modes of resuscitating half-drowned persons. Mr. Longfellow will illustrate these methods with boys as models and with the aid of motion pictures. The lecture will be open to boys.

Records show that over 4,000 men and boys are drowned accidently each season because they know nothing of swimming, or else those who are near at the time, even though able to get them from the water, have no idea of how to resuscitate them.

Opportunity Provided for Merchants to Greet Gov. Wilson and ex-Gov. Fort.

ALL BUSINESS MEN INVITED

Ticket to Commerce Dinner Not Needed For Admission to the Reception—Diners Expected to Enjoy Speech of "Farmer" Smith.

In connection with the Chamber of Commerce dinner at Truell Hall, tomorrow night, the committee has arranged for a reception to Governor Wilson and former Governor J. Franklin Fort, to be held at 6:30 o'clock, prior to the dinner. All business men of the city, whether they expect to attend the dinner or not, are invited to be present and meet the Governor and former Governor.

William N. Runyon, announced several days ago as toastmaster, has been compelled to travel west on business, and in his place the committee has secured former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield.

The speakers at the dinner will be Governor Wilson, former Governor J. Franklin Fort, George A. Post, James De Kenyon and George Henry Smith. The first three have spoken here before on public occasions, and their ability is well-known; the other two will come here with the reputation of being good after-dinner speakers. Mr. Smith will furnish the spice for the evening's speech-making.

He is better known as "Farmer" Smith. He was graduated from Yale in the class of '99, after which he engaged in the newspaper business. His "nature-faking" stories of farm yard animals are known and enjoyed wherever newspapers circulate, and his intoxicated calves, his conversational chickens, his piratical parrots of which he writes so entertainingly are welcomed like rich relations by all who know them. He has made famous the little town of Cedar Grove, New Jersey, where he lives.

HOW TO FURNISH HOUSE WITHOUT ANY EXPENSE

How to furnish a home free of cost is suggested to the people of Plainfield, particularly those who feel most the effect of the high cost of living, on page eleven today. That particular page is devoted to advertisements of merchants who give away free the famous S. & H. trading stamps. It is years since the green trading stamp passed the experimental stage and now they are used and approved by the most progressive business houses as a method of rewarding customers.

The demand by families of wealth for something specially fine prompted the Sperry and Hutchinson Company to maintain a splendid assortment of premiums of high value. This is in addition to the long list of merchandise which may be bought for one or two books of green stamps. The presents given by the company in return for the stamps are shown at the local headquarters at the White Store. These stamps enable the housewife to get the most of her weekly allowance.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS ERECTION OF A NEW GYMNASIUM

The Young Women's Christian Association decided at a meeting last night to build a new gymnasium in the rear of the association building and a fund for that purpose will be started at once. The moving picture entertainment to be given at the Plainfield High School April 9 will be for the benefit of the fund.

Although no definite plans have been decided upon, it is proposed to equip the gymnasium with an auditorium, a stage large enough for entertainment purposes, shower baths, and all the usual apparatus. Later on a swimming pool will be built. The association will have plans drawn and get estimates on the work at once.

High Class Wines and Liquors.

The subject of medicine must be of absorbing interest to the people, and they should exercise the greatest care in the selection thereof. Liquors, wines and beers are a great medicine when pure. I carry a large stock of well made old liquors. Old liquors do not make the stomach sick but serve as the best tonic for invalids. They stimulate and feed the system. To persons wanting pure liquors, wines and beers I will say that I have the goods. Frank Linke, West Front street, 'Phone 157. ***

DOORS TO BE OPENED ON CAPT. FEIRING'S TRIAL

Fire Committee Awakes to Limitations of Its Powers and Decides to Place Charges Before Council as a Whole.

The Councilmanic Fire Committee, following a conference last night with Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman, representing the city; City Judge W. G. DeMeza, counsel for Captain George Feiring, and Mayor G. W. V. Moy, decided to discontinue the private hearing of Captain Feiring on charges preferred by Firemen William Jaeger, James Fitzpatrick and Paul Adams, and to continue the proceedings before the Common Council as a whole in public. It is held that only the full council has the right to try such charges and exonerate or punish.

There has been a question from the first as to whether the fire committee was acting legally in sitting as a trial court, especially in private. The committee finally became convinced that if the trial was to continue it should be public and before the whole council.

This fact, together with a feeling on the part of the Fire Committee that the whole matter was becoming too burdensome for the subordinate body led to the decision to end the private hearing. No witnesses were examined last night. After the conference the Fire Committee gave out the following statement:

"The committee has decided, as a result of the first hearing, that the indications are that it will consume a week or more to complete the case, after which it will be necessary to have all the testimony, which will be very voluminous, transcribed and read before the Common Council as a whole, thus practically resulting in two trials. Therefore, in order to save time and expense, it has been decided to continue the proceeding before the Council as a whole."

It is expected that when the Common Council meets in regular session Monday night arrangements will be made for a public trial and the date will be announced at that time. At the first hearing Wednesday night the whole evening was taken up with two witnesses, and, inasmuch as it is said that there are about eighteen or twenty witnesses yet to be examined, it will probably take a week or more, as stated by the Fire Committee, to complete the trial.

MRS. GEORGE BABCOCK ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. George L. Babcock, of West Eighth street, gave a bridge whist party at her home yesterday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Marguerite Duke, of Arkansas, who has been visiting here for several weeks. The affair was marked by a number of pleasing features which added to the enjoyment of the guests.

There were eight tables in play and parasols were given as prizes. The winners were: The Misses Harman, Mrs. Duncan W. Taylor, Miss Mary Runkle, Miss Hariet Goddard, Miss Dorothy Fleming, Mrs. Harold Underhill and Miss Ethel Walbridge.

Following the play tea was served. Mrs. George Megrew and Mrs. A. H. Atterbury poured and they were assisted by a number of the young women. Spring flowers were used in the decorations.

VIOLINIST AND SINGER CHARM THEIR AUDIENCE

An audience of more than 200 people enjoyed the musicale given at the Crescent Avenue church last night under the auspices of the Sunday school. The artists were Maurice Kaufman, violinist, and Mlle. Fischer-Zarad, soprano, late of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Alexander Rihm was the accompanist.

The audience was delighted with the work of both Mr. Kaufman and Mlle. Fischer-Zarad. Their artistry was of exceptional merit. Especially noteworthy was the "Spring Song," with violin obligato.

The artists were generous with encores and this was appreciated by the audience. The program comprised selections from Beethoven, Puccini, Gounod, Schubert, Schumann, Saint-Saens, d'Ambrosio, Brahms-Joachim, Wienawski and Sarasate.

WARREN ENDEAVORERS HOLD RUBBER SOCIABLE

The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel held a "rubber" social in the Sunday-school rooms, last night, that provided an evenings' enjoyment for a large gathering of young people. Each attendant brought something in the rubber line that had been discarded and the collection will be sold. The proceeds will be added to offerings made and the whole used to purchase flowers for the Easter decorations of the chapel.

The program for the evening included games and refreshments in conclusion. Miss Dolly Bolsterli was chairman of the committee in charge

GIRLS GIVE SHOWER TO THEIR BASKETBALL COACH

The girls of the N. P. S. H. Athletic Association gave a surprise shower yesterday afternoon at Debele's Hall to Miss Claire M. Stahlberger, coach of the basketball team, who is soon to marry James Conlay, of New York. About 30, including the faculty, were present.

Miss Margaret Woolston, president of the association, presented Miss Stahlberger with a handsome silver set, which was enclosed in a bouquet of carnations. Miss Stahlberger received a number of other gifts.

After dancing and games, refreshments were served. The affair was a complete surprise to Miss Stahlberger.

SAMUEL ROTHBERG STORE TO OPEN TOMORROW

Samuel Rothberg will open Plainfield's newest store, adjoining Proctor's Theatre, on West Front street, tomorrow morning. This shop, which was formerly occupied by "The Paris," has undergone a wondeful change, the interior being remodeled at great expense. Mr. Rothberg will handle a complete and attractive line of furnishings for men and boys and also a full line of Stein-Block and other well-known makes of clothing, as well as hats, shirts, collars, cuffs, hosiery, etc.

Mr. Rothberg has equipped his store with a fine mahogany wall case, and cabinets with marble base, and the latest improvements will also tend to give his patrons the best service. Mr. Rothberg has lived in Plainfield the greater part of his life. For nearly eleven years he was employed by Harry Werner, the clothier, and he is thoroughly conversant with every feature of the business. During his residence here he has made a host of friends, all of whom wish him success in his new venture.

MOUNTAINEERS NOT BARBAROUS PEOPLE

Evangelist Who Knows Them Speaks in Defense of the Virginia Hillmen.

LIVED WITH SIDNA ALLEN

Mr. Kendrick Found the Chieftain of the Mountain Clan to Be a "Fine, Genial Man, Hospitable and Whole-Hearted.

Defending the mountaineers of the South, especially in the vicinity of Hillsville and Pulaski, Va., to where the attention of the country has been directed recently because of the murders in the Court House at Hillsville and the man-hunt for the Allens, L. L. Kendrick, an evangelist, told an interesting story of the hill people at a meeting held at 110 Liberty street, last night, under the auspices of the Brethren.

Mr. Kendrick has been a Gospel tent evangelist among the mountaineers for the past fifteen years, and in this way he has been able to learn and study the habits of the people as few people have had the opportunity to do. He did not defend the Allens, but he spoke in the highest terms of the people of the mountains.

Referring to Sidna Allen, leader of the fugitive mountaineers, Mr. Kendrick said that he had been entertained at his home for weeks at a time, and he characterized him as a fine, genial man, very hospitable and whole-hearted in every respect; but," added Mr. Kendrick, he is not a Christian and this fact accounts for his inability to decide between what is right and wrong in his acts toward his fellows."

Mr. Kendrick related some remarkable experiences he has had in working among the mountaineers. Many of the people he had found living in the most primitive way, the women having not the slightest idea as to how to keep house, even cook, showing that they have had no opportunity for learning these things. He said that by his method of holding tent meetings he did not find the mountaineers hard to reach. Invariably he had found it easy to get their interest and attention, and as a result of his work he told of many remarkable conversions.

Speaking of his entertainment at the home of not only Sidna Allen, but other mountaineers, Mr. Kendrick said that a fine example of the hospitality of these people was shown in the fact that they would never accept a penny in return for entertainment and his experience had taught him that it would be hard to find a more whole-hearted people anywhere. Many of these people, he said, were bright, and as soon as given opportunities developed into intelligent, useful citizens. Mr. Kendrick concluded his talk with an urgent appeal for greater support of his work in the South.

'SERVANT IN THE HOUSE' AS A LECTURE-RECITAL

Edward A. Mead gave his lecture-recital of the symbolic play, "The Servant in the House," at the First Baptist church, last night, under the auspices of the Men's Conference Bible Class. There was a small, but appreciative audience. This was the first of a series of four entertainments arranged by the class, and they have been much enjoyed.

Mr. Mead gave the first lecture-recital, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," which was followed by a lecture on "Wireless Telegraphy," by Dr. Tyndall, of Mt. Vernon, and a lecture by Dr. deBlois, of Boston, on "Rags and Royalty." Mr. Mead's recital last night was entertaining his portrayal of the different characters being excellent.

THE FORUM.

Soldier's Monument.

Plainfield, N. J., March 29, 1912.
To the Editor:

At a recent meeting of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., we received a communication from a small post in Southern New Jersey which set me to thinking. It was a very simple thing in itself, just a request that we would help them to put up in their grave yard a monument to commemorate those who had fought in the Civil War and died. Their membership had dwindled to about twenty and these ranged from 68 to 84 years in age. They could not bear the expense themselves but wanted to leave in their little community something that would remind their friends of what they had done and so were asking help from their comrades in the State. They could not have much help from their fellow citizens, for they are in a little farmer's village of but a few hundred inhabitants. Of course, we could not deny them, though our help was but small. Then we began to think "What of Plainfield?" Where is there a soldier's monument here? Over thirty years ago we wanted such a monument and subscribed several hundred dollars toward it; for in those days we were stronger in numbers and well able to put up a modest shaft. But a citizen's committee took hold of it and today the monument is still on paper and the whole affair seems to be forgotten. When we few old men are gone, what is to remind the men, women and children of another generation that Plainfield, too, gave of her sons to preserve to them their flag and their country?

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church will give a "Dutch Supper" Saturday night at Fred Martin's bungalow on Johnston's drive, it being the result of a ticket selling contest in which the "Blues" defeated the "Reds." Consequently the "Reds" will furnish the supper.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach his last sermon in the special course on "The Second Coming of Christ," Sunday night. The topic will be "The Value of His Coming."

Mrs. Lucy E. Rising, the newly-appointed assistant at the First Baptist church, is devoting a portion of her time to visiting among the members and in other ways assisting in the church and Sunday-school work.

The chorus choir of Trinity Reformed church, which is to render the Easter music at the church on April 17, held a rehearsal at the church, last night, under the direction of Arthur L. Titsworth organist.

The special dedicatory services have come to a close at the Mt. Olive church. They were successful and largely attended throughout.

The Pastor' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the church tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. George Passmore Entertains.

Mrs. George Passmore, of 339 East Second street, entertained the members of Camp No. 1, Patriotic Order of America, at her home, Wednesday afternoon. The affair was an informal one and after a short program refreshments were served. The camp will hold its next meeting Thursday night, April 11.

Millington Improvers' Aims.

Millington, March 29.—The Millington Protective and Improvement Assocciation appointed committees to work for better train service and to wait on Board of Freeholders to ask that the spur of road leading from the Episcopal church to Davidson's bridge be accepted as a county road. This highway is now a township road and is in bad shape.

GARVEN TRYING TO BRING ABOUT JERSEY BEEF TRIAL

Jersey City, March 29.—The acquittal in Chicago of the beef packers, who were charged with criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade, has spurred Prosecutor Garven to renewed efforts in bringing the beef men to trial in Hudson County. To this end he has sent Assistant Prosecutor James W. McCarthy and a county detective to Chicago to confer with United States Attorney Wilkinson and get all the information obtainable. The two are expected home Monday next.

Mr. Garven will apply to Governor Wilson for extradition papers, and if these are granted they will be sent to Chicago at once, citing the defendants to appear in this county to plead to the indictments found against them. There are twenty-one indicted. Two years ago, when the indictments were originally found by a Hudson County grand jury, Mr. Garven made an effort to get requisitions from Governor Fort, but the Chief Executive of the State at that time refused to give them on the ground that J. Ogden Armour and the other packers whose arrest and extradition were asked for were not fugitives from justice.

Yesterday former Senator William D. Edwards, who appeared in the Hudson County Courts two years ago as representing the so-called beef trust, when twenty-one directors of beef companies were indicted, asked Prosecutor Garven to nolle prosequi the indictments against the indicted packers. Mr. Garven refused to listen to the proposition.

MIDDLESEX PRISONERS CROW FAT BEHIND BARS

New Brunswick, March 29.—The Board of Freeholders here is considering a petition from Sheriff Bollschweher, stating that the country prisoners now under his care are getting too fat. He asks for the installation of a number of buck saws to be used for reducing the weight of the afflicted men.

"An idle life is too much for some men," urges the sheriff. "Sawing wood is just what they need. Perhaps, too, the use of the bucksaw will help me to get rid of a lot of regular boarders, fellows who come back on some new pretext or other as soon as their terms expire. The jail has to support some of these men ten months out of every twelve."

SENATOR LORIMER.

Who Is Entitled to Retain His Seat, Committee Votes.

VICTORY FOR LORIMER.

Select Committee In Senate Votes Not to Reopen Case.

Washington, March 29.—The senate select committee that investigated the case of Senator William Lorimer voted 5 to 3 not to reopen the case on the ground that the senator from Illinois had once been put to the defense of his title to the seat and his right to the seat had been sustained by a vote of the senate.

The case was decided in Senator Lorimer's favor by the vote of Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, whose position has been a matter of doubt.

It is expected that the full committee on privileges and elections will adopt the report of the select committee. The struggle that will follow in the senate is likely to be prolonged and bitter.

SUFFRAGE IS BEATEN IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Window Smashing Crusade Killed Bill's Chances.

London, March 29.—The woman suffrage bill, commonly known as the "conciliation" bill, which would have permitted a million women taxpayers in Great Britain to exercise the right of franchise, was rejected by the house of commons by a vote of 222 to 208. It was not a party vote at all and there were many absentees and abstentions.

The defeat of the bill is largely due to the window smashing and other antics of the militant suffragettes.

This same bill received a majority of 167 when it was up in the commons last year.

The rejection of the measure is a matter of indifference, even satisfactory to the militant suffragettes, who condemned the bill as merely enfranchising a comparatively few property holders.

While the debate was in progress the militant ones held a big meeting in a hall, in which $50,000 was subscribed to their war fund.

Plainfield, N. J., March 29, 1912.

It is more than probable that Governor Wilson will withdraw his nomination of Professor Henry James Ford, of Princeton, for the commissionship of banking and insurance and send to the Senate tonight an appointment more satisfactory to that body and to the public at large. Yesterday a committee acting for the Republican members of the Upper House called on the Governor, at his invitation, and made known the objections to the confirmation of Professor Ford, the reasons being the same as advanced by the Daily Press some days ago. Not only has Mr. Ford been a resident of New Jersey for but three or four years, but he possesses no knowledge needful for the proper discharge of the duties of the important office, both of which were pointed out by this paper. It would be a gracious act on the part of the Governor, we repeat, if he could see his way clear to re-appoint Vivian M. Lewis, his opponent in the bubernatorial contest and a man admirably equipped for the position.

More than twenty per cent of the inhabitants of these United States are Roman Catholics according to the Catholic Directory, the advance sheets of which were issued in New York yesterday. The total number of citizens of that religious faith is given as 15,015,569. Twenty years ago, there were but 8,615,185 and during the last ten years the increase was over 4,000,000 nearly 400,000 of which were gained during the past year. This is wonderful showing, but only what could be expected form such a splendidly organized, disciplined and aggressive church.

The hiearchy is composed today of three cardinals, fourteen archbishops, two titular archbishops, ninety-seven bishops, two archabbotts and fifteen abbotts. These direct the work of some 17,491 priests attending 13,939 churches. The Church maintains 229 colleges for young men and over 700 academies for girls. In addition to this there are over 5,000 parochial schools, where 1,333,786 children are receiving an education, and the Church is also conducting 289 orphan asylums where there are 37,111 inmates. In New York alone there are 2,778,076 Roman Catholics. In relative strength, Pennsylvania comes second, with Illinois third, Masachusetts fourth and Ohio fifth.

Samuel St. John McCutchen is a "bully" toastmaster and after-dinner speaker for he can tell a good story and tell it in a fashion that few others can. Another thing that he can do is to write a crackerjack editorial. His ability in this line has been known to only a few of his intimate friends, but tomorrow it will be public property for he will be the contributing editor of this paper for Saturday's issue. These Saturday Contributed Editorials have struck a popular chord, and it is simply because they do make people think.

Former Chancellor Mahlon Pitney has been presented with a watch by his colleagues on the New Jersey bench in recognition of his elevation to the highest court in the land. Quite appropriate; he can call 'time' on some of those long-winded pleaders.

In extending its greetings under the new ownership, The Constitutionalist today states its policies, the most significant statement being that "we shall support the nomination and election of Woodrow Wilson for President."

Like Stephenson, of Wisconsin, Lorimer, of Illinois, can order a pair of white wings, the Senate committee having whitewashed him of any connection with the corruption that made his election to the United States Senate a sure thing.

Twenty-eight governors have accepted invitations to attend the Newark Industrial Exposition next month. In other words, twent-eight men who to some degree are nursing Presidential aspirations.

The House has passed the bill aimed to deal a death blow to the "wild-cat" stock speculators, and now it is up to the Governor to sign the measure, and he can be depended upon to lose no time in doing so.

Hoboken, like Bayonne, is to make war upon its vagrant dogs. All other municipalities should promptly follow these good examples.—Jersey City Journal.

Seems popular to kick that 'dawg' around.

The Way Webster Spelled.

There was an old newspaper proprietor in an Indiana town whose copy the compositors had to watch carefully for bad spelling. One day two young women went to his office to write a letter. They borrowed the old man's paper, his pen and ink and asked him to let them sit at his desk while they wrote the letter. The old man accommodated them, and while they were writing he busied himself looking over the newspaper files, not in the best of humor because he had been disturbed.

"Please, Mr. Blank, how do you spell autocratic?" asked one of the girls.

"Spell it any way you darn please," he replied. "Do like Noah Webster. He never asked anybody how to spell a word, and we have to like the way he spelled 'em."—Indianapolis News.

The Fellow That Beat Him.

L. Q. C. Lamar of Mississippi, who was one of the best story tellers of his day, used to tell this:

In one of the small towns of the state lived a man with a chronic desire to hold office. Any office would do for him. He had been a candidate for office many times, but had always been defeated. Finally an opportunity arose for him, so it was thought. An office was to be filled by election, for which there was no announced candidate except this man. Under the constitution of the state a majority of all votes cast was required to elect.

On the evening of the election every one expected, of course, that this man would be elected. His friends were congratulating him that at last he had secured an office and were jollifying over the event. When he returned in a crestfallen spirit his friends asked him what the result was. He was silent for a moment and then said that he had not been elected.

"How is that?" they asked. "There was no other candidate against you."

"That's what I thought," he replied. "but at the last minute they trotted out a fellow named 'Scattering' and he beat me to death. I won't run any more."—Washington Post.

Supply on the Way.

Rufus Grogan is one of the managers of the biggest store in his town. The slogan of the store is, "We Sell Everything."

When Rufus is asked for anything the store doesn't happen to have on hand he always says, "We are out of that just now, but we have a carload coming." And "Rufus' carload" is a local joke.

"Rufus," asked a customer one day, "do you know where I can get a hired girl?"

"Well," said Rufus, "we haven't any now, but we have a carload coming."—Saturday Evening Post.

SEX HYGIENE TALK HEARD BY MOTHERS

Mrs. Clarence Lawson Gave Some Advice at Bryant Parent-Teacher Meet.

SOME METHODS SUGGESTED

The importance of the study of "Sex Hygiene," particularly for young people, was pointed out by Mrs. Clarence Lawson, second vice president of the organization, in a lecture on that subject delivered before the Parent-Teacher Association of the Bryant School. Mrs. Lawson said, incidentally:

A very encouraging sign for the future is the interest that thousands of mothers in all walks of life, are today taking in the best methods of training children to a right understanding, and noble conception of sex life. (Our mothers in parent associations are doing a great deal already along these lines.) Innumerable mothers' clubs give the subject a place in the curriculum of the club work, at stated times discussing, reading, consulting all available authorities, which may be of help. Some of these mothers live in poor homes, in neighborhoods where their children are exposed to all sorts of evil communications and temptations. Others have sheltered homes, from which the children go out, among refined associates from whom there may be little danger, of learning that which is evil. Yet others live in moderate circumstances, where the home influences may be good, but where the children are liable to mingle with a promiscuous society in the school, and perhaps in their social life.

The judicious mother can get hold upon her son or daughter through this subject that nothing else gives; she can keep them close to her and often-times can guide them safely over difficult places. A girl very often escapes much than her brother, in his freer life, meets yet in the great majority of cases the instruction is just as necessary to her. While the earliest teaching fall to the mother, it is better that the father talk to the boy, beginning with the twelfth, or thirteenth, year and see that he has the information he needs. How many mothers just because of modesty have lost control of the confidence of their boys at sixteen or seventeen years of age, and never regained it again. Mother show love and affection; if it doesn't come naturally, cultivate it. Never mind if you have lots to do. Love each child every day, make a point of it, have it come spontaneously. We all like to be made much of even you and I. You will have the companionship, and I care not what the child is. This sounds lige religion, but sex hygiene is founded on purity, love, cleanliness. Religion means righteousness, and righteousness means doing what is right.

What the mother wants her child to know in a certain way she should tell the boy or girl herself, before they have a chance to hear it elsewhere. The moment they leave her presence, the moment they start to school alone, they may receive information which she would give the world to prevent their knowing. Not that her telling will necessarily keep them from hearing what others say but to have their minds pre-occupied will tend to prevent the wrong idea from taking root. Another question asked is, Will teaching this subject not encourage children to talk about it with other children? On the contrary, the tendency is to prevent talk. The children of a family equally instructed will not find it worth talking about. They know what they want to know, and understand the only person who can really tell them anything more is mother. The mother having won the confidence of her child or children, can generally trust them to keep these matters confidential with her. She can explain that children do not always know the truth about these things, and sometimes do not know about them at all. That some mothers do not tell their children, but that she wants her child or children to understand everything just as it is, and to feel that he can trust them not to talk on these matters excepting when alone with her.

To guard against unprofitable or otherwise harmful teaching the mother should instruct the child not to listen to talk on this subject, and not to join in it, and at the same time tell them that in case they should, come to her, and she will talk it over and explain, so that they may know what is right, what is wrong. She should promise to tell them the truth, about whatever they want to know. There is nothing more dangerous than to put a child off, with evasive answers.

One beautiful way to me to bring up this subject especially to younger children is by plant life—fish animals. Dr. Felix Adler says the subject of sex hygiene should be treated as a part of the course of hygiene in general, incidentally along with such subjects, as the proper care of the eyes, proper diet, etc. Attention should not be specifically directed to this one subject in such a way as to exaggerate its importance. The more the subject is treated incidentally the better. In the later adolescent period, I am of the opinion that as part of physiology, scientific instruction should be given concerning the organs of reproduction and their functions, and that in particular the theory of evolution should be utilized to convey knowledge of the development of the embryo.

PRINTING IN CHINA.

Often No Presses Are Used, a Pair of Brushes Doing the Work.

The Chinese assert that the art of printing was discovered in China about fifty years before the Christian era. Until the discovery of the art of papermaking, A. D. 95, they printed on silk or cloth cut in the form of leaves. The method employed to this day by many native Chinese printers is as follows:

No printing press is used. The delicate nature of the Chinese paper would not admit of it. When the blocks are engraved, the paper cut and the ink ready one man with his brush will print a large number of sheets in a day.

The block to be printed must be placed perfectly level and secured firmly. The printer has two brushes, one of them stiffer than the other, which he can hold in his hand and use at either end.

He dips it into the ink and rubs the block with it, taking care not to moisten it too much or leave it too dry. If it were wetted too much the characters would be blurred; if too little, they would not print. When once the block is got into the proper condition he can print three or four impressions without dipping his brush into the ink again.

The second brush is used to rub over the paper with a small degree of pressure, that it may take the impression. This it does easily, for, not being sized with alum, it receives the ink the instant it comes in contact with it. It is only necessary that the brush should be passed over every part of the sheet with a greater or smaller degree of pressure and repeated in proportion as the printer finds there is more or less ink upon the block.—Harper's Weekly.

MIXED RELATIONS.

A Family Problem a Lawyer Did Not Care to Tackle.

A lawyer received a call from a new client, a man bent upon recovering a sum of money advanced upon a note and not repaid.

"Who is the debtor?" asked the lawyer.

"Oh, she's a relative of mine."

"How nearly related?"

"Very nearly."

"But, my dear sir," persisted the lawyer, "you must be more explicit."

"Well, she may be my mother-in-law."

"May be? Then you are likely to marry her daughter."

"I've already married the daughter."

"Then, of course, the defendant is your mother-in-law."

"Perhaps you'd better hear the whole story," returned the client. "You see, a year ago we lived together, my son and I. Across the way lived the Widow Foster and her daughter Mary. I married Mary, and my son married the widow. Now perhaps you can tell me whether my son's wife is my mother-in-law or my daughter-in-law."

The lawyer did not answer. The problem was unfamiliar. He was not ready.

"I don't think I can take your case," he said. "It presents too many complications."

"Very well," returned the man, taking his hat despondently. "But there's one thing I forgot. Since our double wedding a child has been born to each of us. What relation are those two children to each other?"

Bagpipes.

Bagpipes, mentioned in Jeremiah xlviii. 36, "Mine heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, like pipes for the men of Kir-heres," and elsewhere in Scripture were used also by the early Egyptians. Both Greeks and Romans knew the instrument, for a coin of Nero shows upon one side the tibia utricularis, a bag with two reeds and nine pipes. Procopius also, who wrote about 550 A. D., asserts that Roman soldiers sometimes marched to the sound of the bagpipes, and it is not impossible that they introduced them into the British islands. The earliest, more modern reference to them is in an Irish MS. of 1150, and an Irish illuminated MS. of 1390 depicts a pig playing on the bagpipes. The Scottish highlanders were the first and only people to use the great war pipe, as the highland regiments still do.

REQUEST TAFT TO AID SETTLEMENT

Mayors of Anthracite Region Confer.

SEEK TO AVERT A STRIKE.

City Officials Adopt Resolutions Calling Upon Coal Operators and Miners to Hold Another Meeting and Prevent Suspension of Mining Operations.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 29.—While coal miners and operators have been actively preparing for the expected strike, officials of the municipalities in the anthracite region have taken action in the hope of averting the threatened industrial struggle.

At a conference of mayors and burgesses of the anthracite coal region held here resolutions were adopted calling upon the operators and miners to hold another meeting and prevent a strike and a suspension. The conference also adopted a petition, which was forwarded to President Taft, asking the latter to appoint a commission to effect a settlement in case the operators and miners fail to reach an agreement.

The petition reads as follows:

"William H. Taft, President of the United States, Washington.

"Honorable Sir—We the undersigned, mayors and burgesses of the leading cities and boroughs of the anthracite coal region, respectfully petition your excellency that in the event of the anthracite coal operators and miners failing to arrive at an agreement within ten days from the first day of April, 1912, a nonpartisan commission be appointed by you, or that you take such other steps or action as you may deem advisable to settle the differences between the coal operators and the anthracite miners immediately.

"Mayor Kosek, Wilkesbarre; Mayor Murrin, Carbondale; Mayor Golden, Pittston; Burgess Hatten, Edwardsville; Burgess Morris, Plymouth; Burgess Renner, Ashley; Burgess McNelis, Luzerne; Burgess Douchney, Mahanoy City; Burgess Cooney, Nanticoke."

MISTAKEN FOR WILSON.

Suffragists Put Up a Puzzling Question to Pittsburgher.

Pittsburgh, March 29.—While pondering over matters pertaining to his position as president of the Manufacturers' Light and Heat company in the Fort Pitt hotel, where he lives, John E. Gill was confronted by a delegation of women.

"Governor, what do you think of us?" shouted the spokesman. "Are you with us or against us? What is your opinion of our movement to get our rights?"

"I don't believe I understand you," Gill murmured. "You ask me as 'governor' of something or other. Oh, I see," Gill concluded, and a grin spread over his face. "I'm not Governor Wilson."

The resemblance between Gill and Governor Woodrow Wilson is so striking that the Pittsburgher has been mistaken for the Jerseyite on several occasions. They met for the first time last Friday, and Governor Wilson expressed amazement that another looked so nearly like him.

Former Fire Chief's Will Filed by Appraisers.

Philadelphia, March 29.—The inventory of the estate of Albert C. Hendrick, former chief of the fire department in this city, who died some time ago, was filed in the probate court by Frederick G. Crabb and Charles A. Farnham, the appraisers. It shows the estate to be worth $49,885.

Mr. Hendrick was possessed of many canes, gathered by him from many parts of the world. He also had many medals, decorations and testimonials from citizens and members of the fire department in this city and old firearms used during the civil war. On all of these valuable souvenirs the appraisers placed no value.

Mr. Hendrick in his will bequeathed nearly all of his collection of souvenirs to friends who served with him during the civil war.

TO GIVE MORE MILLIONS AWAY

Friends of Phipps Say He Intends to Get Rid of All.

Pittsburgh, March 29.—In connection with the recent distribution by Henry Phipps, the millionaire, of New York and Pittsburgh, a deed was filed in the Washington county courts, by which Mr. Phipps for a nominal consideration of $1 conveys about 414 acres of land in the eastern end of Washington county to his sons, John S., Henry C. and Howard Phipps. Mr. Phipps, it is said by friends, intends to give all his millions away within the near future. Much of it will go to charity.

Human Bones Found In Box.

Philadelphia, March 29.—Attracted to a lot by a large box in this city Mr. Robert Meyers was astounded to find the box contained human bones. He notified the police, who removed the box to the morgue. Coroner's detectives have been detailed to investigate.

TIGERS ROUT RUTGERS IN OPENING BALL GAME

Princeton, March 29.—In the opening game of the season here yesterday the Princeton nine defeated Rutgers, 12 to 5. Greenbaum pitched the first six innings for the Tigers and showed good form. Wood, the freshman twirler of last year, finished the game. Martin was in the pitcher's box for the visitors at the beginning.

The Tiger batsmen found him easy and Dennis relieved him before the end of the inning. He was more effective, but was replaced by Chase in the sixth, who finished the game. The Tigers found the opposing pitchers for thirteen hits, including several two baggers and three baggers.

The New Brunswick lads secured six hits. The field was soggy and rendered clean fielding difficult. Both teams showed lack of practice and made numerous errors.

PHILADELPHIA ANXIOUS TO STAGE OLYMPIC MEET

Philadelphia, March 29.—An athletic club of 2,500 members has been organized here to bring to Philadelphia the Olympic games when they are staged in America, with Harrison Townsend, millionaire sportsman, as its president, and Charles H. Gerslinger as secretary. Early in June the organization will begin work for the erection of a 17-story clubhouse. The club has pledged $500,000 for the erection of the building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 when completed and furnished.

Mr. Gerslinger announced this afternoon that he had already been promised the Olympic games and when the clubhouse is completed and he had the 2,500 members the contracts will be signed. It was largely for the purpose of bringing this great athletic event to Philadelphia that the new organization came into existence.

SEVEN STRAIGHT GAMES FOR CENTRAL QUOIT TEAM

The quoit team from Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., accompanied by a large delegation from the local lodge, went to Rahway last night and took seven straight games from Rahway Lodge, No. 25. Edward Mosher and L. J. Spicer comprised the team from Ceneral Lodge, while Messrs. Toms, Ludlow, Albright, Groves and White represented Rahway Lodge.

Seven games were played in the match, Central winning each one by the following scores: 21-9, 21-2, 21-19, 21-10, 21-11, 21-3, 21-6. The Rahway team will play a postponed game with Central upon a late to be decided later, and the Westfield Lodge team will play Central on April 11.

NO PLAYING SCHEDULE OF OUTLAW LEAGUE GIVEN OUT

New York, March 29.—The meeting scheduled in New York yesterday of the directors of the United States Baseball League was called off for some reason not stated. At the last meeting, when Charley White announced his inability to get grounds in Manhattan for a team and presented his resignation, the playing schedule, it was explained by President Witman, would have to be changed and would be published March 28.

Since that meeting Chicago has been taken into the league, it is rumored, which does not meet with the approval of Andrew Hussey, Jr., holder of the Brooklyn franchise, because of the long distance to travel if Chicago is to put a team in the circuit. He preferred to admit Buffalo to the circuit, and for that reason he may withdraw from the league, it was said.

None of the officials or members of the league could be found yesterday. If the playing schedule is to be made public it is believed it will be given out in Chicago.

FLAMES DESTROY THE UPPER PART OF CLINTON AVE. HOUSE

The firedepartment was called to Clinton avenue, near West Sixth street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, to extinguish a fire on the top floor of a two-family house. A still alarm was followed by a call from box 49. By the time the firemen reached the house the whole upper part was enveloped in flames.

Two lines of hose were laid in from the nearest hydrant and by hard work the men kept the flames from going below the top floor.

The house is occupied by Lewis D. Saums, carpenter, and Herman Uhl. The whole upper part of the house was destroyed, while the lower floors were considerably damaged by water. The loss is estimated at $600. It is covered by insurance.

ONE CIGAR COST CARELESS SMOKER FIFTY DOLLARS.

Newton, March 29.—Carelessness in throwing down a match after lighting a cigar, while passing through a woods May 5, in Bryam Township, will cost Constable Dana Padgett, of that district, $50 in a fine and the costs of the suit brought to compel him to pay the penalty.

Padgett's case was heard before Justice of the Peace Israel L. Hallock, March 1. The case was prosecuted by Josiah Strycker, of the attorney-general's office.

The fire spread over an area of 250 acres, including the estate of John Lawless. Part of the timber lost was the property of Padgett. When the fire started he fought it, and thought he had extinguished it. This act moved the State's representative to waive the right for more than a $50 fine.

'Skeeter Law Repealer.

Trenton, March 29.—By a vote of 11 to 6, with party lines broken, the Senate yesterday afternoon passed the bill by Senator Leavitt repealing the mosquito extermination bill. The measure was just enacted and provides for the appointment of a mosquito exterminating commission of three members in each county. The maximum amount to be expended under it this year was something over $600,000, being based upon the ratables.

Opposed to Ford.

Trenton, March 29.—Following a conference of the Republican senators yesterday afternoon, President Prince, Republican Leader Edge and Senator Leavitt, of Mercer, called on Governor Wilson to talk over the opposition to rPofessor Henry J. Ford, of Mercer, whom the Governor named as banking and insurance commissioner. Neither senator would discuss what took place, zut it is understood that it was suggested that the name for Ford should be withdrawn. Nothing could be learned as to the Governor's attitude. The nominations will be taken up tonight.

—Among the specials to be offered at Neuman Bros.' tomorrow will be strawberries, pineapples, grape fruit and oranges.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bennitt's Funeral.

Hampton, March 29.—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Bennitt, sixty-nine years old, wife of Jesse Bennitt, who died at her home in this borough Sunday, were held Wednesday at Carbondale, Pa. A short service was held Tuesday night at her late home here. About a year ago Mrs. Bennitt fell on a rail while crossing the Central Railroad tracks and injured her back. It is said that she never fully recovered from the injury.

LEAGUE OF SHOP TEAMS FORMED

Seven Factories Represented at First Session of Manufacturers' League.

ARRANGED SCHEDULE MEETING

Team Managers and Captains to Draw Up Rules and Regulations and Fix Playing Dates—Opening Probably April 27.

Seven factories were represented at the meeting held last night at the Y. M. C. A. building to consider the formation of a baseball league of teams from various manufacturies of the city. P. C. Oslin, physical director of the association, presided. It was unanimously decided to form the Manufacturers League of Plainfield. The representatives at the meeting said that their shops would enter teams.

Rules and regulations of the league will be drawn up at a meeting of team captains and managers, who will also decide the schedule. The season will propably be opened on the last Saturday in April. These representatives were at the meeting last night:

A. D. Dalloy, L. L. MacVickter and C. R. Decker, representing the Sauer Motor Works; H. E. Hahn and James Montrose, the Rushmore Dynamo Works; A. W. Spirk, the Scotts Printing Press Works; C. C. Thompson and George McComb, the Spicer Manufacturing Company; A. Mathews, the Potter Printing Press; J. Norris and A. Woodard, the Century Rubber Company, and F. Laskoski the Hall Press Works.

Arrange Umpires Day.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 29.—Blue Grass Baseball League directors met here Wednesday and decided to hold an "umpire day" this year, on which players and spectators are to treat the umpire with the utmost consideration. This action was officially sanctioned by the National Baseball Association at its meeting in San Antonio last year, after the author of the idea. President William Neal, of the Blue Grass League, had explained its provisions.

KILBANE WILLING TO FIGHT WOLGAST FOR HIS TITLE

Cleveland, O., March 29.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, may give battle to Ad Wolgast for the lightweight championship. It is said the fighters will meet if financial terms can be agreed upon.

Jimmy Dunn, Kilbane's manager, yesterday received a telegram from Los Angeles asking if he would consider an offer for Kilbane to meet Wolgast in a twenty-round contest on July 4 at that place.

Dunn replied that he would match Kilbane against Wolgast for the lightweight championship provided Wolgast would not insist upon being given all the money. Dunn and Kilbane left last night for New York.

BEST INFIELD EVER FORMED OTHER BIG LEAGUE STUFF

The Athletics and Philadelphias are scheduled to begin their annual spring series in Quakertown Saturday.

Cleveland fans say Butcher of the Naps is properly named. He is slaughtering all kinds of pitching in the South.

Presidents Lynch and Johnson deny the report that their umpires are building up their nerves for the coming ordeal.

"News from the Wading Camps" is the headline over reports of the big league teams' operations in a Western paper.

Dan Murphy, the Athletics' new field captain, is bubbling over with aggressiveness and Connie Mack is all smiles.

Long Larry McLean, the Cincinnati catcher, says ice cream soda and pop will be his strongest beverages this year.

"If you can show me a better outfield than Carey, Donlin and Wilson, I'll buy!" says Fred Clarke, the Pirates' manager.

Horace Fogel has claimed the National League pennant in behalf of his Philadelphia team. He says that, barring accidents, the Quakers will roll home.

In Wolter, Daniels, Cree, Chase and Dolan, the Highlanders have five speeders on the bases who compare favorably with the other American League sprinters.

Manager Callahan of the White Sox is opposed to the kneeling position employed by all big league catchers. He says a buckstop loses time in straightening up to receive a pitched ball and cannot steady himself quickly enough to throw with accuracy to the bases.

Young Ainsmith has been assigned by Clark Griffith to the task of catching Walter Johnson in all the latter's games. Griff declares that he'll not miss Gabby Street.

A week from Saturday the Giants will make their first appearance at the Polo Grounds this year in an exhibition game with the Jersey City team, that is, if it doesn't snow.

Johnny Evers of the Cubs has taken on weight during the winter months, and is now enjoying rugged health. He is confident that he can play second base without taking a rest on the bench.

The first serious accident to worry Hank O'Day, the Red's manager, is the crippling of Bob Bescher, the star left fielder, whose ankle was sprained recently. Bescher is hobbling around with the aid of a cane.

Arlie Latham, just turned loose by the Giants, announce that the Cubs may engage him as jester-in-chief. If that is so, Lath will have nothing on Charles Webb Murphy, who pays the salaries of Chance's warriors.

Roger Bresnahan is a real heavyweight. He tips the beam at 200 pounds, but is just as active as ever. He says he will catch every day this year if possible and will gradually reduce. Roger admits that the time is rapidly approaching when he will be compelled to manage the St. Louis Cardinals from the bench.

Having received criticism in the past for the poor work of the Boston Red Sox, John I. Taylor is now waiting to see how Hub fans will appreciate the efforts of the new stockholders, James McAleer and Robert McRoy, to provide a winning team. Taylor owns half the club's stock, but will take no part in the management of the Boston club's affairs.

Connie Mack says that McInnis, Collins, Baker and Barry comprise the best infield that ever played in the major leagues. Mack doesn't except the old Cubs' combination, Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfeldt, or Boston's once famous quartet, Tenney, Lowe, Long and Collins. He doesn't bar the old Baltimore infield, Doyle, Reitz, Jennings and McGraw and says the great Chicago four, Anson, Pfeffer, Williamson and Burns would not have classed with his bunch. Mack's contention, however, will cause a wide difference of opinion.

OXFORD FAVORITE OVER CAMBRIDGE IN BIG RACE

London, March 29.—The annual aquatic struggle between the rival eight oared crews of Oxford and Cambridge will be decided tomorrow over the historic course on the river Thames from Putney to Mortlake. The contest promises to be exceedingly keen, with the odds slightly in favor of the Dark blue crew. The advantage of starting the season with almost a complete set of finished oarsmen has manifested itself in the early training of the rival crews, as Oxford, with six of the winning crew of last year as a foundation, has been able to show an all round polish in oarsmanship seldom before witnessed. Oxford last year won the race in 18 minutes 29 seconds, a record for the course and the oarsmen are more advanced with regard to the time still to elapse before the race than either of the three winning Oxford eights. The Cambridge crew has met with hard luck during the entire preliminary training. With but three of last year's crew as a nucleus for this year's boat the coaches were compelled to make several changes before balancing the boat. During the past two weeks the rowing has been much cleaner, the rhythm showing marked improvement. The recent improvement has led to the belief among the Cantab followers that their favorites have a good fighting chance of success.

FIVE MILE TEAM RACE PROMISES TO BE SNAPPY

The five-mile run held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock between teams of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city and Elizabeth promises to be an event of much interest. Good time is expected to be made. The local boys have training hard, running the course each night. Each preliminary run has developed better time.

Manley, who has been trying for the team, surprised them all last night. He started from the building later than the other runners, but at the finish was fully a minute ahead of the field and fresh as the proverbial daisy.

Elizabeth comes with a reputation for speed and stamina. Some of their runners are amateur record holders. Their team will consist of Weber, Wenz, Parks, R. Reid and H. Reid. The Plainfield runners will be Fritts, Peacock, Day, Conant, Gleason or Manley.

The course is a little short of five miles. It runs out East Front street to Terril road, Terril road to Mountain avenue, Mountain avenue to Watchung avenue, Watchung to East Front street.

The officials are: James E. Kimball, honorary referee; Charles Lines, of the Springfield Training School, referee; John H. Doane, Harry C. Runyon and Harry W. Marshall, judges; E. C. Ostlin, starter; J. H. Buchanan, medical supervisor; W. J. O'Brien, J. Harvey Doane and Walter Sampson, timers; C. W. Bingeman, clerk of course; Howard Freeman and James McNamee, inspectors; Andrew Hetfield, Merklin Glover, Donald Ketcham, checkers; Frank Dunning, announcer; James Oliff and Walter Cubberly, tape men.

The race will be started promptly at 3 o'clock, officials meeting in the association room at 2:30.

The Y. W. C. A. basketball team will play the girls' team from the North Plainfield High School at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

M. C. A. SETS DATE FOR INTERSTATE TEAM MATCH

The executive committee of the Metropolitan Golf Association has selected May 18 as the date of the team match between New York players and those of the New Jersey State Golf Association. The match will be played over the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club. The date chosen is the Saturday before the M. G. A. championship week, also scheduled for Baltusrol.

There will be ten players on each side, and conditions call for singles in the morning and four-ball matches in the afternoon. Each match will count one point. Findlay S. Douglas has been appointed captain of the Metropolitan forces. The New Jersey State Golf Association will be able to claim for its team all players eligible for the annual State championship.

Regarding the junior tournament, the executive committee has taken the matter up with Leighton Calkins, president of the Plainfield Country Club. Providing the last-named organization is still freely disposed to handle the affair, it will probably be brought off the latter part of June.

The Garden City Golf Club has taken May 9, 10 and 11 as dates for its annual invitation spring tournament, while October 3, 4 and 5 have been assigned to the Nassau Country Club.

The New York Newspaper Golf Club and the Spring Lake Golf Club have been elected to membership in the Metropolitan Golf Association.

Fast Boy Typist.

An interesting exhibition of skill on the typewriter was given yesterday at the Plainfield Business College and School of English and the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools, by Master Oswald, a fifteen year old boy, who has achieved a national reputation as a typist. The boy wrote familiar matter at the rate of 217 words per minute and, from dictation, wrote at the rate of 136 words per minute.

TOMORROW IS THE OPENING OF PLAINFIELD'S NEWEST STORE

THIS ADVERTISEMENT MAY NOT CHANGE CLOTHING CONDITIONS IN PLAINFIELD BUT IT WILL CHANGE YOUR METHOD OF BUYING CLOTHES!

Do you want your Clothing Facts Candid or "Candied"

HERE ARE A FEW EXAMPLES OF WHAT I MEAN BY SAVING MONEY AT MY STORE.

$12 All wool and tailored by hand. More at other stores, prove it for yourself.

$15 In serge, cheviots, and fancy worsteds of exceptional quality.

$20 A Stein-Bloch garment that'll make your friends ask "Who's your tailor?"

Boys' knicker suits, $3.00, $5.00 and $7.00. A saving of money on each of these suits.

Don't let us "beat about the bush." What I've got to say, I'm going to say right out openly and above board.

No one in Plainfield will ever get a statement from me that is "honeyed" with misrepresentation, or "sugared" with falsehood.

I will buy and sell for cash—and cash only! No big profit schemes and "special" sales for me.

Big profit schemes and special sales are the methods used by stores that are always giving "something for nothing." These stores are not willing to give the public credit for having eyes to see with, fingers to feel with, and brains to understand.

This is strong English, but it's true English and we dare any one to deny it!

Honesty always wins; Fair and square dealing is always victorious! Our clothes will be the rage as long people have eyes to see, fingers to feel, and brains to think.

To those men who are giving their life's blood in exchange for their pay-envelopes; to those men who are thinking of their pocketbooks; to those men who are faithful and frugal, let this message strike you between the eyes and sink down deep into your judgment.

In connection with my opening tomorrow, I desire to announce that Mr. J. D. Coleman, head of the tailoring department of Marks Arnheim, of New York City, will personally take measurements for Spring Garments for Easter delivery.

FEDERAL LEADERS REPORTED KILLED

Mexico City Gets Message From Torreon.

VILLA EXECUTED BY OROZCO

General Aubert Said to Have Met Death From Dynamite Bomb—Body of General Salas, Suicide, Arrives at Capital With 150 Wounded Men.

City of Mexico, March 29.—A code message received from Torreon by Deputy Melesio Parra says that General Trucy Aubert of the federal forces, who was cut off from assistance during a battle with the rebels, has been killed by a dynamite bomb. The message further says that General Pancho Villa has been captured and put to death by General Orozco, the insurgent commander in chief.

The body of General Jose Salas, who committed suicide after a federal defeat at Jiminez several days ago, has been brought here on a special train, which also carried 150 wounded men, including fifteen officers. The station at the time of the arrival of the train was crowded, and the people cheered for the army, Salas and Madero.

Federals Reported Surrounded.

Jiminez, Chihuahua, Mexico, March 29.—General Aubert, federal commander, is now surrounded twenty miles west of here, according to official advices from the front. The rebels say there is no chance for him, as he has been driven off the line of communication and is pressed on all sides.

Aubert succeeded in getting away under cover of darkness, and at daylight, when the rebels opened with heavy artillery fire and there was no response, it was first learned that the federals were gone.

General Salazar ordered pursuit immediately. Aubert was overtaken on the Parras river and the rebels attacked his rear guard. General Salazar with cavalry flanked the federal right and General Luiz Fernandez, with more cavalry, flanked the left, leaving only a southern retreat open to the federals.

REJECT ALBANY REPORT.

Democrats Join With Barnes Republicans In Vote—Dix Disgusted.

Albany, N. Y., March 29.—Just enough New York city Democratic senators voted with all of the Republican senators to reject the Bayne report on the Albany investigation by 24 to 23. There were more Democratic senators from New York city ready to vote against receiving the report had their votes been necessary. The report severely criticised the administration of affairs in Albany city and county by the officials controlled by William Barnes, Jr., the chairman of the Republican state committee and the Republican leader of Albany city and county.

Governor Dix was disgusted because half a dozen Democratic senators had aided the work of the Republican state machine leader, William Barnes, Jr., in preventing the spreading upon the records of the state of the criticisms contained in the report not of Mr. Barnes himself, but of many of the officials of the city and county of Albany who were elected through the efforts of the Barnes machine.

That there might be no misunderstanding of his attitude upon this question Governor Dix promptly announced that an extraordinary term of the supreme court would be called by him and a special grand jury be convened to consider matters about which testimony was given at the Bayne investigation.

FOUR ROOSEVELT DELEGATES.

The Colonel Captures Two Districts In Indiana.

Muncie, Ind., March 29.—Republicans of the Eighth Indiana district at Winchester indorsed the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt and selected two Roosevelt delegates.

Lebanon, Ind., March 28.—By a majority of seventeen two delegates from the Ninth congressional district were instructed to vote for Roosevelt. The Roosevelt forces were in control of the Republican convention at all times.

Jackson, Mich., March 29.—Four delegates at large to the national Republican convention were named here, both by Taft supporters and by adherents of Mr. Roosevelt. The Taft forces controlled the state convention from the outset, and the Rosevelt supporters, outnumbered, met on another floor of the same building.

So Congress May Take Hand.

Washington, March 29.—A joint committee of the senate and of the house of representatives to investigate strikes, lockouts and other industrial disorders affecting interstate commerce and recommend legislation to remedy such conditions is proposed in a concurrent resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Watson of West Virginia.

Eighty Dead In Jed Mine.

Welch, W. Va., March 29.—Revised figures of the deaths by Tuesday's gas explosion at the Jed mine place the fatalities at eighty. Officials say ninety-three men were in the mine and that thirteen got out alive.

ROBERT BACON.

Retiring Ambassador to Paris Given a Farewell Luncheon.

FAREWELL TO BACON.

American Chamber of Commerce In Paris Gives Luncheon.

Paris, March 29.—The American chamber of commerce in Paris gave a farewell luncheon to Robert Bacon, the retiring American ambassador. Fifty persons attended the affair.

The president of the chamber, Mr Shoninger, thanked Mr. Bacon for his assistance to the organization, which had elected the ambassador an honorary member in recognition of it.

EXPLAINS VIEWS ON DECISION REVIEWS.

Roosevelt Publishes His Political Catechism.

New York, March 29.—Additional explanations of what he means by the "review of judicial decisions" and reiterations of his belief in the recall of judges, the initiative and referendum and direct primaries as the machinery through which "a new and radical application of the old principles of justice and common honesty" is to be made for the purpose of promoting a "genuine popular government in America," are given in the current number of the Outlook by Colonel Roosevelt. These explanations are put in the form of answers to a catechism.

In reply to the question: "Do you believe in the 'review of judicial decisions' by state courts, and what do you mean by it?" Colonel Roosevelt says:

"I do. What I mean may be fully expressed by the phrase, 'the right of the people to review certain judicial conditions which nullify the laws demanded by the people in the exercise of the police or general welfare power on the ground that these laws are unconstitutional.' The constitutions of the separate states are in daily process of making by the people of those states, and I would therefore vest in the people of each state final authority as to what their state constitution should be. I would not make the people the final judge in legal questions between individuals but I would make the people the final umpire in such a conflict as that above outlined between the legislature and the judiciary in any given state."

Roosevelt In St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—In spite of a drenching rain a crowd of 5,000 men traveled out to the First Regiment armory to hear Colonel Roosevelt's speech on the right of the people to rule. They yelled and whistled for him when he said, "All over this country there has been going on in primary elections an amount of obstruction of this popular will which I have not seen equaled in the thirty years I have been in politics. The American people cannot submit to this."

Again the audience yelled when the colonel shouted the sentences on which the report of his possible bolt had been based.

"If the people of a community are for me and the politicians record them against me I will have a good deal to say."

"There's room for missionary work from you Missourians in New York in our primaries" brought another outburst.

When the colonel, who was worked up to a high pitch of excitement, declared that out of President Taft's plan of government of the people by a representative class of the people "you get the aristocracy of naked and brutal wealth" the crowd yelled wildly.

Roosevelt Reaches St. Paul.

St. Paul, March 29.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here on his special train from St. Louis this morning. He was greeted by a big crowd at the station. He will make several speeches here during the day.

Butt Received by King.

Rome, March 29.—Major Butt, the personal aid to President Taft, was received in private audience by King Victor Emmanuel at the Quirinal.

MAYOR W. L. GAYNOR.

Who Will Get at Least Ninety Votes at Baltimore.

NINETY VOTES FOR GAYNOR.

New York City Delegation to Baltimore to Be Solid For Mayor.

New York, March 29.—All of the ninety delegates to the Baltimore convention from New York city will cast their votes for Mayor W. J. Gaynor for the Democratic nomination for president of the United States, according to information, unauthorized, but nevertheless positive, coming from the Democratic organization.

Mayor Gaynor a few weeks ago announced that he was too busy being mayor and there were too many other good men available for him to become a presidential candidate.

ROCK ISLAND MAYOR THREATENS TO KILL

Says He'll Stop Attacks of Editor and Paper.

Chicago, March 29.—Mayor Harry M. Schriver of Rock Island, whose assault on John Looney precipitated the fatal riot in the Tricity on Tuesday night, said that he would kill Looney, if necessary, to end the attacks upon the mayor in the Rock Island News.

"Decent citizenship in this town is to be protected," Mayor Schriver said, pounding his desk with his clenched first for emphasis. "If it is necessary to kill John Looney I'll kill him if they march me to the gallows the next day.

"I propose to put an end to attacks by Looney on myself and other reputable citizens of this town," said the mayor. "If Looney ever leaves the hospital and mentions my name in any discreditable way, either by word of mouth or in his paper, I will kill him like a dog."

Plots have been discovered, according to the authorities, to dynamite Mayor Schriver's house and the offices of Looney's paper, and more than 150 men are in the city jail either as suspects in the dynamite plots, participation in the riots or for resisting the military.

Looney is still in St. Anthony's hospital and is said to have about an even chance for recovery.

The coroner's inquest into the killings growing out of the recent riots began this morning, and the evidence procured by the coroner was turned over to a specially called grand jury, which is expected to fix the blame for the riots.

TO FIGHT THE MOORS.

Six Thousand Spanish Soldiers to Aid Present Force in Morocco.

Algeciras, March 29.—Six thousand Spanish soldiers, commanded by General Cobo, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Melilla, Morocco, early in April. This force is to aid the present Spanish force now waging war against the Moorish tribesmen about Melilla.

Tuk-el-Arba, Morocco, March 29.—Six thousand Riffians have attacked the flank and rear of a force of 10,000 Spaniards who were attempting to gain a position. After a fierce fight the Spaniards were forced to retreat, abandoning many of their dead comrades. Eight were taken prisoners by the Riff tribesmen.

LORDS PASS WAGE BILL.

British Coal Strike Will Be at an End if Miners Accept It.

London, March 29.—The government's minimum wage scale bill passed through the house of lords. It now goes to the king, who will sign it, the measure then becoming law.

The aim of the bill is to create district boards to settle the question of a minimum wage for individual districts. The miners are now taking a referendum vote on the bill, and if they agree to accept it the coal strike will be at an end.

Bar Cretans From Greek Chamber.

Athens, March 29.—The judicial tribunal, which under the new constitution passes on the validity of elections, has rejected the claim of the Cretans a regard to their representation in the Greek chamber.

ANOTHER ALLEN OUTLAW CAUGHT

Claude, Son of Floyd, In Custody.

CAPTURED NEAR HIS HOME

His Uncle Believed to Have Betrayed Hiding Place to Protect His Own Son, and Arrest of Remainder of Gang Is Expected.

Mount Airy, N. C., March 29.—Claude Allen, one of the hunted Virginia outlaws and nephew of Floyd Allen, over whom the recent court murders occurred at Hillsville, Va., was captured three miles from his father's home in the Face mountains and is now on his way to jail. Who caught him has not been learned, but it is believed to have been the work of the deputies of Sheriff C. H. Haynes of Surrey county. A reward of $800 had been offered for Allen's arrest.

For several days those in search of the outlaws have been shadowing a certain messenger who daily made trips from the valleys into the mountains, and it was his movements that located Allen's hiding place in a dense thicket in a mountain spur, where he was well supplied with food, arms and ammunition. The officers, many of whom are experienced mountaineers, caught him by surprise, pounced upon him and he was a prisoner before he could reach for his weapons.

Immediately after his capture the officers started to Hillsville with their captive, handcuffed and guarded. He will be taken to Roanoke to join his father and brother in a prison cell.

That Jack Allen, in an effort to save his son Friel from the electric chair, is giving away his brother's and nephews is demonstrated by the capture of both Sidna Edwards and Claude Allen, for nobody believes that the detectives could have located this last outlaw and captured him without bloodshed unless some one acquainted with his whereabouts had given them information leading to his exact location. That the three other outlaws will be caught is now a foregone conclusion, for information as to their location can be obtained from the same source, and that source is no other than Jack Allen.

The other three are said to be east of where Claude Allen was taken.

SUFFAGETTE FAINTS.

Mrs. Tuke Collapses In Court—Mrs. Pankhurst Held Without Bail.

London, March 29.—Mrs. Mabel Tuke, one of the window smashing suffragettes, fainted during her hearing when she was arraigned at the Old Bailey sessions. Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence promised to refrain from violence pending their trial.

Bail was refused to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader. She was sent back to Holloway jail to complete the sentence of two months' imprisonment passed on her on March 2.

Pethick Lawrence was allowed to go in bail of $20,000. Mrs. Lawrence furnished $15,000 bail. Mrs. Tuke had been in ill health for some time. She collapsed during the proceedings and was discharged.

Cases of thirteen other suffragettes were disposed of. Two were sentenced to six months in prison, seven to four months, two were bound over to keep the peace and two were acquitted.

BRIBERY JURY DISAGREES.

Fail to Reach an Agreement In Trial of Accused Ohio State Senator.

Columbus, O., March 29.—After twenty-four hours' deliberation the jury in the bribery trial of Senator Isaac E. Huffman of Butler county reported its inability to agree and was discharged.

Huffman's was the fourth trial to result from last spring's graft disclosures in the legislature. There was one acquittal and two convictions. Senator Huffman's chief defense was an alibi, in which he was supported by three colleagues. He will be tried again in April.

SUGAR TRIAL NEAR END.

Each Side Summed Up Case and It Will Go to the Jury Tomorrow.

New York, March 29.—The taking of testimony in the trial of John E. Parsons and the sugar trust directors ended. Both sides today summed up, and the case should go to the jury tomorrow.

Mr. Parsons was again subjected to cross examination on his third day on the stand, but he showed no effects of it.

The Scrap Book

Too Polite.

There are many humorous anecdotes current among his countrymen, which Chedo Mijatovich relates in "Servia of the Servians." The following neatly illustrates the point that there are other things more important than mere etiquette:

Nasradin Chodja took much trouble to teach his pupils how to behave politely. Among other things he taught them always to clap their hands and shout, "Hayir Allah!" (God bless you!) whenever they heard an older person sneeze.

Once the Chodja, mending something in the open pit in his garden, slipped and fell in. Nearly drowned in the deep water of the pit, he called to his pupils to bring a rope and drag him out.

The dutiful schoolboys soon found a rope and threw it down to their master, and when he had seized it, began to drag him out. Only a few feet more and he would be out of the pit—when, unfortunately, thoroughly wet as he was, he sneezed.

In an instant all his pupils dropped the rope to clap their hands, shouting: "Hayir Allah, Chodja!"

The poor Chodja fell back down to the bottom of the pit.

"Ah, it serves me right!" he cried. "I ought to have taught these boys common sense first and then politeness!"

Despair Not.

We were not made to pass in sorrow
Our brief existence here away,
For grief's a cloud that on the morrow
Gives promise of a brighter day.

Bright flowers decay, gay foliage fades
Beneath November's chilly reign;
But, robed in gayer tints, the spring
Beholds the blushing flowers again.

So when some grief has blighted hopes
Of happiness too dearly cherished
Too oft we deem that every joy
Has with departed idols perished.

However deep the wound we feel,
However great our cause of sadness,
Time rolls the clouds of grief away
And brings again our wonted gladness.
—L. W. Muller.

The Brother's Rakeoff.

William J. Bryan was never a book agent, but he at one time came near enough to it to qualify as a counselor of those who followed the business. On one occasion he undertook to sell to the citizens of the Salem neighborhood, in Illinois, ten maps which his brother had been peddling unsuccessfully for several weeks.

"All you want me to do, as I understand it, is to sell these maps," said Bryan.

"Yes, that's all," agreed the brother.

That night William returned home with the announcement:

"I have sold them all."

This astonished the brother, who insisted that the ten maps could not have been disposed of within so short a time.

"Oh, it was easy enough," said the future presidential candidate. "I did not bother about the money. One map I sold to the barber, who will keep me shaved for weeks. Another I turned over to a groceryman, and I used the remainder to pay some little bills I owed around town."

"But where do I get off?" asked the brother. "How do I get my percentage?"

"Well," said Bryan without enthusiasm, "you can come around and have supper with me some time."—Popular Magazine.

Another On Fitzherbert.

Trenton, March 29.—Charges against Senator Richard Fitzherbert, of Morris county, of attempting to hold up the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. for a retainer as the price of his vote in favor of the Morris Canal abandonment bill in which the Lehigh company is vitally interested, are to be probed by a Senate Committee of three members. Republican Leader Edge sprung a resolution calling for the investigation late yesterday afternoon and after it had been opposed by Senator Fielder it was passed by the vote of 15 to 6.

Will Sing the "Crucifixion."

The quartet choir of the First M. E. church will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion," at a special Lenten musical service on Sunday night. Dr. O. B. Whitford and Charles P. Titsworth will assist. Miss Lois Samuel, soprano; Mrs. Austin Norris, contralto; Aleck MacGowan, tenor, and Raymond A. McGee, baritone, comprise the regular quartet. Clifford A. Braider, organist and musical director, will have charge of the service.

West End Tabernacle Elects.

These officers were elected at a meeting of the West End Tabernacle, last night: Superintendent, Robert Love; treasurer, William Bunn; secretary, Everitt Robinson; superintendent primary department, Mrs. Harry Pennoyer; assistant superintendent primary department, Mrs. William Casinove; organist, Miss Bowden. The reports for the year were very satisfactory.

Fighters Fined.

Samuel Berkowitz and Harry Kauffman, charged with fighting on East Third street last Saturday afternoon, were fined $3 apiece by City Judge William G. DeMeza today at a further hearing. J. Henry Crane appeared for Berkowitz and Robert Newton Crane for Kauffman.

ANOTHER RAHWAY MYSTERY CROPS UP

Matthew Scanlon, 71, Disappears Oddly After Being From City Almshouse.

MATRON SUSPECTS TRICKERY

Old Man Sought In Vain By New Yorker, Who Is Convinced He Is His Father, Long Supposed to Be Dead.

As completely as though the ground had opened under his feet, Matthew Scanlon, 71 years old, who was taken from the almshouse in Rahway October 17 under mysterious circumstances, has disappeared from the ken of the almshouse officials, and of William J. Scanlon, of 165 Manhattan avenue, New York, who is convinced that the man is his father.

The elder Scanlon is to the other, if he really is his son, doubly lost. William Scanlon supposed from his earliest recollection until last October that his father was dead, and during this period he did not know anything of his mother's whereabouts. Then he read a story narrating how Mrs. Matthew Scanlon, after having for years caused her children to believe that their father was dead, had told them during a serious illness that her husband was living and an inmate of the almshouse.

Continuing, the story told of a visit to the Rahway institution of a woman who gave the name of Minnie Young, and who took Scanlon away, announcing that he was thereafter to make his home with a married daughter of the name of Mrs. Smith, who lived in Market street, Newark.

The younger Scanlon was but five years old when his parents parted, and he lost track of them. The newspaper story was the first intimation he had received that his father might be living. Four older sisters had dropped from his sight, and he did not know whether one of them had taken the name of Smith. He immediately started a search for "Mrs. Smith," but, although he found many Mrs. Smiths living in Market street, not one was his sister.

Since that time Mr. Scanlon has pursued an investigation that has proved ineffectual in bringing to light a sister named Smith or any information regarding the man he supposes to be his father.

Thus the elder Scanlon was, in one sense, found by his son, and then lost as completely as before. The New York man is deeply anxious to find his parent, but has exhausted every means of searching for him.

Another who is interested in the case of Scanlon is Mrs. E. C. Harrison, matron of the almshouse at Rahway. It is her conviction that Scanlon was taken away under false pretenses, as she has come to doubt the story of the woman who came there after the old man. The matron has become convinced that the name "Mrs. Smith" and that given by the visitor as her own were fictitious.

As Scanlon had stated that he was born in Ireland, Mrs. Harrison has a theory that some property in that country may have been left to Scanlon, and that he was taken there hurriedly by persons who planned to obtain it through his signature.

The woman, who said she was Miss Minnie Young, arrived at the almshouse October 17 in a hack, which she hired at the depot, bringing with her a complete new outfit for the old man. She told Mrs. Harrison of Scanlon's wife having, on her sickbed, told her children that their father, long thought dead, was living. The woman also told the matron that Scanlon would not see his wife at once, but would be taken to the home of his daughter.

The old man was apparently delighted at the prospect of seeing his family, declaring to Mrs. Harrison that after being reunited with his wife and children he would be ready to die in peace. Entering the hack with the woman, Scanlon dropped from sight completely.

Scanlon fifteen years ago was employed as a bookbinder in the Mershon plant at Rahway. A strike occurring at that time, depriving him of work, he sought employment in Rahway unsuccessfully and then went to New York in search of work. There he was also unsuccessful and returned to Rahway, only to find that his wife and children had left. Although relations between husband and wife had not been pleasant, it was said that there was no reason known to Scanlon for his wife's departure.

Losing heart after this and his resources exhausted, Scanlon entered the almshouse. There he told something of himself, mentioning having been born in Ireland and of being the father of five daughters and one son.

With the exception of one sister, Miss Kate Scanlon, who is 21 years old, William Scanlon has completely lost track of his entire family. He knows nothing of the whereabouts of the other four sisters and declares that he does not know at present where the unmarried sister is. She, he says, knows no more about the family than does he.

ADVANCE DENIED, SUMMIT JOURNEYMEN MAY STRIKE

Summit, March 29.—The master mechanics having refused to consider the demand of the members of the Painters', Paperhangers' and Decorators' Union for an increase of thirty-two cents in the wage scale per day, a strike will probably be declared here next Monday morning.

The bosses held a conference Wednesday night and decided unanimously not to grant the increase asked by the journeymen. The men have been paid $3.28 for an eight-hour day.

The demand for the increase of thirty-two cents has been under consideration by the bosses during the past three weeks. The journeymen were asked to reconsider their demand with a view to effecting a compromise on the wage scale. This the journeymen, according to one member of the committee of the union named to take up the question with the master mechanics, refuse to do. The bosses claim that there has been very little work here during the winter months and that such work as they now have was estimated on at the present scale paid the journeymen. The Journeymen, on the other hand, maintain that they are the lowest paid class of building artisans and that their demand for an increase in pay was made in ample time to give the bosses opportunity to estimate on contracts for spring and summer work on the increased wage basis.

There are no differences between the master plumbers or master carpenters and the journeymen in these trades. The plumbers are now paid $4 per day, while the carpenters receive $3.68. There is no local branch of the Plasterers and Mason's Union

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Every year the Liebler Company makes for charity, a Wallack's Theatre production by youngsters of the attraction current at that playhouse. Year before last it was "Alias Jimmy Valentine" that was done by children, last year "Pomander Walk" was given, and this year "Disraeli," which has been running all sason at Wallack's, and enjoys the longest run of any play in New York, will be acted by the boys and girls. The date set for the all-kid performance is Thursday afternoon, April 25. As in the past, the receipts will be turned over to St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, and Mrs. James Speyer, as she has done in former years, will take active charge of the benefit. Last year Mrs. Speyer's charity was benefitted by more than $4,000 and the sisters in charge said yesterday that if it had not been for the special matinee of "Pomander Walk," the summer home for little children, connected with the city hospital, would have had to close for lack of funds. Tomorrow a call will be sent out to half the young actors and actresses in and around New York, and from the lot, Hugh Ford, general stage director for the Liebler Company, will make his selection. Interest centres in the choice of the boy to play Disraeli, played in the grown-up production by George Arliss.

"The Man From Cook's," is at Klaw & Erlanger's New Amsterdam Theatre, for a run. The story of the play concerns the escapade of a French prince and his artist companions and an American girl touring with her parents. Madame Maleontine, a restaurant keeper, has moved from the Latin Quarter to a more pretentious building in the Avenue de l'Opera, formerly occupied by a Cook's tourist agency. The signs of the former tenants have not yet been removed from the walls. He gives a luncheon, inviting Prince Victor de Champaknay and his companions, Toto Soulard, an impecunious artist, and Leonard de Birone, a Bohemian. Prince Victor, who is about to pay the bills, is surrounded by his friends; Toto, while he makes ardent love to Estelle, Mme. Leontin's niece. While everyone is teasing Toto, an American girl, Majorie Benson, enters, believing the place still to be Cook's. Marjorie mistakes the prince for the manager. He learns that she objects to an arrangement made by her parents for an impoverished son of a British peer to journey with the party to Naples. The prince tells her he will arrange the tour. When Marjorie departs the prince astounds Madame Leontine and her guests by stating that he intends to take them all on a jaunt to Italy. He sends Leonard off to buy the tickets. The British wooer, who has also mistaken the restaurant for Cook's agency, arrives with his valet and baggage. The prince sends him off on the wrong track. In Naples the prince, whom Marjorie believes to be a courier, is overwhelmed with congratulations for foiling a bandit, an incident about which he is ignorant. The English nobleman and the real Cook's agent follow the prince to Naples.

Toto has successfully impersonated the Englishman on the trip and he challenges the Prince to a duel for making love to Marjorie. Marjorie penetrates the disguises and all ends happily.

Big and Little Problems

Come in and talk it over.

A business man, who was made executor of a large estate upon the death of a near relative, tells us that he never realized how arduous a task it was, nor how many problems, big and little, were constantly arising.

Many of these difficulties which loom up for the individual are more easily disposed of when an institution like

Fidelity Trust Co.,

C. E. CAMP ON MOUNTAIN MAY BE MADE PERMANENT

The fresh air committee of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union held an important meeting at Elizabeth this week. Committees to have charge of the work of the camp were appointed, a budget submitted and approved, plans outlined for the raising of money and the printing of a twelve-page booklet describing the work was authorized.

That a permanent camp may be established the committee will this year purchase a plot of ground in the vicinity of last year's camp on the first range of the Watchung Mountains, Scotch Plains, and erect thereon a small wooden structure to serve as dining room, cookery and shelter for the boys during rainy weather. To accomplish this and to cover the expense of runnng the camp the commttee will endeavor to raise $1,500 this year, and the budget submitted by A. C. Lounsbury, Jr., chairman of the fresh air committee, was as follows:

Partial payment on land to be purchased, $250; erection of building, $350; printing, postage, etc., $100; camp equipment, $100; food and supplies, $430; superintendent's salary, $80; cook's salary, $64; transportation of boys, $40; for devotional committee, $10; sundries, $26; reserve fund, $50. Total, $1,500.

The report of the treasurer, P. E. Benedict, of Roselle, showed that pledges amounting to $384 have already been received from Christian Endeavor societies throughout the county. There is a balance in the treasury at present of $104.94, bringing the money on hand and promised to date close to the $500 mark.

Sub-committees to direct the work of the various departments were appointed as follows:

Finance Committee — Chairman, Purdy F. Benedict, of Roselle; John Morrow, of Westfield; Miss Neil C. Green, of Elizabeth; George W. Mingus, of Rahway; Harry Pennoyer, of Plainfield; W. D. Newton, of Summit.

Guests' Committee — Chairman, Miss Vera H. Day; Miss Lolotte C. Taintor, William Decker, Miss Nellie K. Foote and Miss Irene E. Rice, all of Elizabeth.

House Committee — Wilson Huffman, of Springfield.

Entertainment Committee—Frederick L. Mintel, of Rahway.

Devotional Committee—Miss Lucie M. Coriell, of Plainfield.

Commissary — Mr. Conger, of Westfield.

An outline of a twelve-page booklet, containing a description of the work, several illustrations of the boys at camp, an estimate of the expenses and an appeal for aid was presented at the meeting last night, and the chairman was authorized to have 10,000 copies printed for distribution among Christian Endeavorers, members of churches and business men. Other plans of raising money were discussed and will be taken up later. The next meeting of the committee will be held on April 16.

DEMOCRATS SHY TWO IN SENATE; OTHERS' PLANS

Trenton, March 29.—Senator Silzer having taken the oath of office as prosecutor of Middlesex County, his term of office as senator automatically ended, the two offices being incompatible under the constitution. His term would have ended this year had he continued in the Senate.

The absence of Senator Fitzherbert from roll calls and the retirement of Senator Silzer leaves the Democrats with but eight votes, but the Republicans are in no better shape than before, for it still takes all their votes to pass a measure over Democratic opposition.

Other senators whose terms are nearing a close are Price, of Sussex; Gebhardt, Hunterdon; Lewis, of Burlington; Hand, of Cape May, and Prince, of Passaic.

Senator Price is to quit legislative work after three years in the senate. He says he has liked the Senate, but is glad to go into the less arduous work of the State Board of Health, to which he has already been appointed.

Senator Lewis is ending his first term. He wants to go to Congress, but will run again for the Senate if the troublesome situation of the G. O. P. in Burlington County requires it.

Senator Gebhardt has not yet decided whether to make another try for the Senate, where he has served three terms, not consecutive. The senator is regarded as a likely aspirant for the United States senatorship.

President Prince intends to retire from legislative work this year. He served three years in the House and was Speaker. With Samuel K. Robbins, he enjoys the distinction of holding the record for having been promoted from Speaker of the House to President of the Senate in three years. He will go into the diplomatic service if President Taft is re-elected, and if—

Senator Hand, dean of the upper house in point of service, having served four terms, hasn't made up his mind whether he ought to run again.

—The President isn't going to meddle with the coal situation, thank fortune! The operators and miners ought to be capable of attending to their own business, if they have com- [illegible] Rochester Herald.

PUTTING AUTO STORAGE BATTERY TO NOVEL USE

An important future claim of the storage battery automobile may be its adaptability as a portable emergency power and lighting station.

Finding the homes of their patients sometimes poorly lighted for medical examinations, two ingenious Indiana physicians have provided a simple attachment for their electric vehicles, and by this means they quickly obtain light concentrated just where it is needed.

A small insulated conducting cable is run through a door or window from the batteries to the patient's room. The physician carries a lamp and shade around his neck, and a hand lamp is also part of the equipment.

ACQUITTED ON FIRST CHARGE; TRYING SECOND.

Flemington, March 29. — Elvin Hoffman and George Herde, the North Readington Township election officers, were acquitted Wednesday night on a charge of unlawfully opening the North Readington Township ballot box last November, and yesterday they were put on trial for refusing to announce the vote at the close of the counting of the ballots. Being tried with them are Adrian N. Cornell and P. Linden Swackhamer, other members of the election board. The case is being heard before Judge Connet.

The ballot box was opened in the presence of John Sheets, the township clerk, after which it was locked and sealed and the register filed with the county clerk. The evidence failed to show any indication of fraud or wilful violation of the law on the part of any one connected with the case. The jury remained out but a short time.

Professor Herron Home.

Metuchen, March 29.—After an absence of nearly ten years from their home in Metuchen, Professor George D. Herron, formerly of Chicago, and his family have returned. They sailed from Naples March 15, on the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria. At the station here they were met by Dr. Alfred Lauder Ellis, former Mayor of Metuchen and a friend of the professor. Much of the Herrons' time was spent in Florence, Italy. About ten years ago Professor Herron created some stir when he and Miss Carrie Rand were married by what he termed the "new and simple form of marriage."

—Jurors in the beef packers' case say they were "unable to digest all the evidence." An acquittal due to an excess of proof is a new thing in jurisprudence. — Philadelphia Record.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SERVING OYSTER PLANT.

SALSIFY, or oyster plant, should be eaten in the spring after having been buried in the ground all winter, say country housewives. This plant, like all those belonging to the composite family, has valuable medicinal properties. Moreover, it tastes good. Croquettes made of the chopped salsify resemble fried oysters.

The vegetable should be scraped and thrown into cold water which has in it just a dash of vinegar to prevent the salsify turning black.

It should be boiled in salted water until tender. Then it may be drained, mashed and seasoned and fried.

Also it may be cut into short lengths, dipped in batter and fried in hot fat.

The boiled salsify may be cut into short lengths instead of mashed and served with white sauce.

With an Oyster Flavor.

Mock Oyster Soup.—Scrape the roots of salsify and throw into cold water to prevent discoloration. Slice rather thinly till you have a quart. Let simmer in two quarts of white stock till very tender and pass through a sieve.

Then heat all together, season to taste, add a piece of butter worked into a tablespoonful of flour and bring all to the boil.

Add some milk or cream and serve with dice of fried bread.

When cooked in the frying pan the only way to make salsify appetizing is to use butter instead of other fats.

In the Frying Pan.

Fried Salsify.—Boil the salsify until tender, drain and cut into pieces.

Make a batter thus: Take two ounces of butter, pour on it about a cupful of boiling water and let it dissolve. Then add a cupful and a half of cold water so that the liquid shall be lukewarm. Stir into it three-quarters of a pound of sifted flour and a pinch of salt. Beat the whites of two eggs to a froth and stir into the batter. If too thick the batter may be thinned with a little water.

Dip the pieces of salsify in this batter and fry until a light brown. Drain off the fat and sprinkle salt over them when served.

Salsify may also be dipped in egg and breadcrumbs, then fried.

MISS ANNA JARVIS.

She Founded Mothers' Day, Observed the Second Sunday in May Annually.

To Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia belongs the credit for having founded mothers' day, an occasion which has come to be observed in churches, homes and hospitals throughout the United States and in many foreign countries. Mothers' day is annually celebrated on the second Sunday in May, the time being a fixed day rather than a fixed date.

When she began her work Miss Jarvis possessed no resources in the way of wealth or influence. She conceived the idea of having the world set aside one day of the year to give testimony to its reverence for motherhood and selected the white carnation as the emblematic flower.

© by Gutekunst.

MISS ANNA JARVIS.

Miss Jarvis appealed to governor after governor, and her energy resulted in the official recognition of mothers' day in forty states of the Union. In many cities the day is marked by the display of flags from public institutions and prominent business houses.

It is now four years since Miss Jarvis, grieving over the loss of her own mother, was inspired with the idea that others might grieve, too, and that those who still possessed that priceless jewel, a mother, might be willing once each year to pay to them their tribute of affection. She shyly wrote to the newspapers, and the idea was promptly approved.

At first the white carnation appeared in many thousands of buttonholes. Next churches and societies urged their members to observe the day. Since then mayors and governors have thought the object worthy of official proclamation as Thanksgiving day.

Australia, Africa, Japan, Korea, Barbados, Cuba, the West Indies and the Philippines joined in the great movement, and Canada has become as enthusiastic as the United States. Where the carnation is not to be had another white flower is displayed.

The commander in chief of the G. A. R. has issued a proclamation calling upon all civil war veterans to join in honoring their mothers.

What Some Women Pay For Aigrets.

Many women object to the wearing of aigrets on account of the cruelty entailed in their production, but there are other mondaines who not only give fabulous prices for these adornments, but add to the expense by having the aigrets threaded with pearls of great value.

In the cut are aigrets worn in the hair by wealthy society women that have cost their owners $300 and $600 respectively.

Nine Taxes on a Spring Suit.

"Every woman who buys a spring suit must pay at least nine separate taxes on it," said Mrs. W. L. Plattenburg, a prominent Kansas City club woman, addressing the Athenaeum recently.

"First, there is the tax the farmer pays on his stock, including the sheep. The commission dealer buys the wool and pays another tax upon it. The manufacturer makes up three taxes in the price he fixes—one for stock in trade, one for machinery and one for dye used in coloring the goods. The wholesaler, the merchant tailor and the retailer follow. Finally to the list must be added the tariff on imported wool.

"There is only one way to amend such conditions and that is through state and federal constitutional amendments in favor of the land value tax."

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

LEGISLATURE QUITS MAKING NEW LAWS

Passes Many Bills and Adjourns Until April 10 to Act on Vetoes.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTING

Important Changes Made In Election Laws—A Synopsis of Some Measures Sent to the Governor For His Signature.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 30.—Several bills of an important political character were passed by the Legislature, which took a recess last night until Wednesday, April 10, when the lawmakers will return to act upon any vetoes of Governor Wilson, after which final adournment will be taken. One of the important political measures was the Congressional redistricting bill, which will give the State two new congressmen, making twelve in all. The election of congressmen next fall under this bill will be practically certain to give the Republicans eight of the representatives, the two in Hudson County will go to the Democrats, while the Third and Sixth districts will be close. One of the features of this bill is that it places Congressman James A. Hamill and Eugene F. Kinkead, both Hudson County Democrats, in the same district, so that if there were a disposition to return them both to the House of Representatives, it will not be possible, and one or the other will have to retire. There was a contest over the disposition of Warren County. Senators Leavitt and Smalley, of the Fourth District, and Senator Price, of Union County, refused to stand for placing Warren or any portion of it in their respective districts, as was originally proposed. Finally, the matter was settled by placing Warren in the new Sixth District.

Another election bill passed changes the Presidential primary election from the fourth Tuesday in May to the second Tuesday in May, or from May 28 to May 14. Companion bills were passed for the earlier filing of nominating petitions for delegates to the national conventions. The Legislature passed the Leavitt bill permitting volunteers without compensation to transport voters to and from the polls, and it was immediately vetoed by Governor Wilson on the ground that it would open the way to fraud. Another election bill passed provides for the election of Presidential electors at the State conventions of the two parties in September.

The Senate passed the Leavitt bill providing that personal registration shall not be required in municipalities of less than 10,000 population.

Some of the other important bills enacted were: Simplifying legal practice and judicial precedure, as recommended by the State Bar Association; the bill for automobile reciprocity, which was passed after a notable fight; the compromise Gill bill affecting examinations in the public schools; changing the law passed last year so as to permit pupils to be promoted upon merit instead of upon a minimum State examination; the bill restoring half-rate railroad fares to clergymen; the bill appropriating $300,000 a year for five years for the construction of the Delaware Valley boulevard from Trenton to Port Jervis; the bills for a $70,000 addition to the State House and the further improvement of the State House grounds; the bill prohibiting justices of the peace from performing the marriage ceremony.

The Legislature also passed a bill which is a revision of the marriage laws of the State and which contains important regulations. It provides that the marriage license must be obtained 24 hours before the ceremony is performed, permits the marriage license to be issued in duplicate when a civil as well as a religious ceremony is to be performed and changes the language of those who may perform the marriage ceremony from "ministers of the gospel" to "ministers of any religion." Under the old rendering it was claimed that all marriages performed by Jewish rabbis were illegal. The new measure contains a clause validating all such marriages. Another important measure passed was the joint resolution for the investigation of the question of reorganizing and consolidating State departments.

J. T. Case Will Filed.

The will of the late John T. Case was admitted to probate by Surrogate DeMond, of Somerville, yesterday. Louis A. Hummer, of East Fifth street, this city, is named as the executor, and Francis J. Blatz is the legal representative of the estate. The estate is valued at about $4,000, part in real estate and part cash.

ON THE VERGE OF LAST WEEK IN BIG CONTEST

Next Six Working Days Pregnant With Possibilities For Eager and Expectant Contenders For Places in European Tour Party.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Florence Stevenson

With the close of tonight's business, only seven days more remain before the Daily Press' great European trip contest reaches the finishing point. Those directly interested realize this more than anyone else and the final week will be a week of action, a week of voting and a very enjoyable period of realization to compensate for everything. While it is obvious that all the contestants are leaving no stone unturned in the effort to secure a majority of votes the management can only say that it is best to work on the political campaign proposition that the fight is never finished lost or won until the last vote is counted. Surprises in a contest are as plentiful as strawberries in June, so be prepared for a sudden deluge of votes from an unexpected quarter.

The last coupon ballot is printed in the Daily Press today. Positively no paper ballots will be received after 6 o'clock on Friday evening, April 5. Thereafter only the subscription ballots will be received and the time limit on these expires at 10:30 Saturday night April 6, when the contest positively closes and the final count made to determine the winners.

At this stage of the game, as the saying is, the contest manager has a statement to make: Don't ask how many votes Miss So-and-So has cashed in or voted or about how many votes it will take to win out. In the first place the manager does not know and in the second place he would not tell if he did. Under these conditions it is superfluous to interrogate about these matters.

The voting yesterday was light and in consequence the contestants remain in practically the same position as before, Miss Theresa McGinley leading over all.

RECTOR OF "LITTLE CHURCH" PREACHES ON "PASSIONTIDE"

Rev. Dr. George C. Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, better known as "The Little Church Around the Corner," was the special Lenten preacher at St. Stephen's church, last night and the widely-known divine was greeted by a large congregation, every seat in the little church being occupied. The presence of Dr. Houghton here aroused much interest because of his work and that of his distinguished father in the "Little Church," which has an almost world-wide reputation.

Dr. Houghton spoke on the general topic of "Passiontide," in which he emphasized three important points—fasting, humility and self-denial. He said that if there was anyone who did not need to fast or be humble or practice self-denial it was Christ, and yet His whole life was given up to these things, setting an example for His followers.

The preacher said that all those present was conscious as to how they had observed Lent; whether they had been faithful in the observance. If they had been remiss in any of their religious duties there was still time to become penitent and observe the remaining days of Lent in a true Christian spirit and follow in His footsteps.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES AT CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH

Special services in observance of Holy Week will be held at the Crescent Avenue church. They will be conducted in the church proper, the first four days of Holy Week, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the public is cordially invited to attend them.

Addresses commemorative of the events of each day of the last week of Christ's ministry will be given by Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn, on Monday; Rev. John McDowell, of Newark, on Tuesday; Rev. Dr. Malcolm J. McLead, of St. Nicholas' Collegiate church, New York, Wednesday, and Rev. Dr. William Force Whitaker, of Elizabeth, on Thursday.

James Clawson Recovering.

James Clawson, of this city, who has been very ill at Wiersdale, Fla., where he has been visiting, is greatly improved and expects to return home next week.

FAMOUS PIER AT RESORT IN ASHES

Young's Old Wharf, First of Them All, Swept by Flames.

LOSS PLACED AT $400,000

Crowds Rush From Hotels, As Old Show House Burns, Expecting General Conflagration — Marine Hall Damaged.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 30.—Shortly after midnight this morning, two hours after the close of a vaudeville performance, Young's old ocean pier, first of the great wharfs that Atlantic City has thrust out into the ocean, took fire supposedly from crossed wires in the theater dressing room. The flames spread fiercely throughout the pier structure and it was impossible to save any part of it. The pier was valued at $400,000. Marine hall was also damaged by the fire.

Fortunately, at the time the flames were discovered, all the show people had left the pier.

The fire caused alarm to spread through the hotels and lights in every room told of the haste of the occupants dressing, fearing a general conflagration. People soon began to pour out of these hotels, women in loose wrappers and men hurriedly dressed gathered on the beach around the firemen.

The boardwalk is fifty feet from where the fire occurred.

HE RELIES NO MORE ON HIS FAITHFUL WATCHDOG

There is a joker and an inventor in South Plainfield. They are not one and the same person, as a hasty reading of the foregoing might suggest. The inventor is John Hogan. The joker is —apparently—nameless. A South Plainfield contributor disclosed their activities in the following weird and racy account:

Wm. Colfax is considering having a burglar alarm system enstalled on his chicken coop, as he thinks they are more reliable than his faithful watch dog, which he had placed so much confidence in as to bet $5.00 with some of his friends that no one would be able to go within his chains length of the coop without the dog wakening him but a few knights agoe while he was asleep some one stoid the dog and then took the chickens but he says it is not so bad as they left the chicken coop and dog chain and with the new system he is ready to meet all coniers. the new system is one invented by John Hogan it consists of a Railroad tie a wash Boiler and a shot gun but mr. Hogan Refuses to give out the details of their workings.

SILK COMPANY SETTTLES FOR DEATH OF A HORSE

The damage suit of Richard Baldwin, of this city, against the Cedar Cliff Silk Company, of Paterson, in which the plaintiff sought to recover for injuries to his horse, which necessitated the shooting of the animal, has been amicably settled by the parties without trial. Francis J. Blatz represented Mr. Baldwin and former Judge Wilbur Heisley, the defendant company.

Mr. Baldwin's horse was injured in September last while he was riding the animal over "Diamond Hill," near Murray Hill. An automobile owned and driven by a member of the company frightened the horse, making it jump and break its leg. The horse had to be shot. The suit was brought by Mr. Baldwin in Supreme Court.

FREE LECTURES ON WELFARE OF THE CHILD

Aided by the New Jersey State Congress of Mothers, the Plainfield Mothers' Association, will hold a child welfare meeting at the Plainfield High School auditorium on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting is open to the public and a cordial invitation to all interested is extended by the association.

Dr. Philip Van Ingen, of the American Medical Association, will speak on "Infant Mortality." He will confine his remarks solely to the care of infants. Dr. Alfred E. Shipley, of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, will dwell on the care of the child over two years of age. His subject will be "The City's Responsibility of the Child."

Both of the topics are being widely discussed and the Plainfield Mothers' Association believes many Plainfielders are interested in them. The public is cordially invited and the association hopes a large audience will greet the speakers.

"CRUCIFIXION" THRILLS HOLY CROSS CONGREGATION

"The Crucifixion," a meditation on the Passion of the Holy Redeemer by Sir. John Stainer, was finely rendered at Holy Cross church, last night, by the combined vested choirs of Holy Cross and Grace churches. The two choirs comprised seventy-five voices, sixty boys and fifteen men. The soloists were Tom Daniel, of New York; William J. R. Thiers and William J. Tallamy, tenors. The program was given under the direction of William S. O'Brien organist of Holy Cross church.

The choirs showed careful training for the rendition, there being a unison seldom found in so many voices under similar conditions. Especially noteworthy was the work of the soloists. Mr. Daniel, who had considerable experience in works of this kind, made a favorable impression. The singing of Mr. Thiers and Mr. Tallamy was all that could be desired.

The service attracted so large a congregation that every seat in the edifice was occupied and extra chairs had to be used. The cantata will be repeated Monday night at Grace church by the same choirs, with S. Frederick Smith, organist, in charge.

170,000 HARD COAL MINERS OBEY THE ORDER TO STRIKE

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 30.—The anthracite coal miners stopped work at noon today. It is estimated that 170,000 miners, union and non-union workers, obeyed the order to suspend, but there is a belief that a general strike of any length will be averted. Another conference between the operators and miners' representatives is announced for Monday.

The soft coal miners won out, being granted an increase of 5 per cent with a five-hour Saturday, consequently, there will be no strike among the workers in the bituminous coal fields.

DR. MORGAN TELLS AMUSING STORIES OF ERIN'S PEOPLE

Rev. Dr. W. H. Morgan, of the Central M. E. church, Newark, gave his lecture, "A Yankee in Ireland," before a large audience at the Park Avenue Baptist church last night. Dr. Morgan visited Ireland a few years ago and his lecture is filled with stories of amusing experiences and incidents while traveling through that country. The greater part of the talk is anecdotal and the divine kept his audience convulsed with laughter as he told one story after another.

Dr. Morgan presented a vivid picture of Ireland. He gave a faithful portrayal of the people, for whom he had words of warm praise.

His residence is at 540 West Fifth street. Dr. Machan has had years of experience in his profession.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW TO GET DEMOCRATIC JOLT

Plans Afoot to Evade Commission's Rules In Ousting Republican Secretary of Tax Board --Brodhead to Help.

By way of Elizabeth comes a story to the effect that despite the placing of secretaries of county tax boards under the rules of the Civil Service Commission, it is understood that the new Democratic majority of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes expects to find a way in which it can install one of its own political faith in the office now occupied by Sidney W. Eldridge. The change in the personnel of the board can not be made until after May 1, as the term of Frederick H. Andrews, of this city, does not expire until that date. M. M. Scudder, of Westfield, will undoubtedly be the president of the new board.

Mr. Andrews will be succeeded by ex-Assemblyman Calvin E. Brodhead, of this city, whose name was presented to the Senate a few days ago by Governor Wilson. When Mr. Brodhead enters upon the duties of his new office the board will become Democratic for the first time inits existence of six years.

If the present plans are carried out, Attorney John R. Connolly, of Elizabeth, will be named in place of Mr. Eldridge. Mr. Connolly is a Wilson Democrat, and was a candidate for the Assembly last fall. It has been known for a considerable time that Mr. Connolly was the choice for secretary, if Mr. Eldridge could be deposed.

Secretaries of county tax boards are under the non-competitive Civil Service classification. There is little difficulty in removing employes under this branch of Civil Service, it is said, as the members of the board can decree that it would be better to have someone else in a certain office. The incumbent would have virtually no redress if deposed.

On the other hand, State or county employes coming under the competitive class are well protected, and clearly defined reasons are required before an attempt can even be made to remove them.

Mr. Brodhead's salary will be $1,800 a year, and his term is for three years. The board determines the salary of the secretary, but he must not receive more than a member of the board.

M. M. Scudder, of Westfield, is the only Democratic member of the board at present. He was reappointed last year, and is expected to succeed Caleb C. Pollard, of this city, as president.

CHURCH AND SCHOOL THE MELTING POT

Missions Secretary Speaks of the Assimilation of Immigrants at Trinity Church.

POLITICS' MINOR IMPRESS

Intersting Figures on the Steady Stream of Fortune-Seekers That Pours Through the Gates of Immigration Bureau.

William H. Demarest, secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions, gave his lecture "Immigration," before a large audience at the Trinity church last night. It dealt chiefly with what nationalities emigrated to this country, why they came and where they settled.

Mr. Demarest said that it was impossible to consider the social and economic side of the question in one evening, for this phase was a problem of national concern and not individual sentiment. He later said that it finally would be the church and the school who would mould the immigrants into model American citizens, and not the politician, who looked upon them more as votes than as a social question pertaining to the welfare of a future American people.

Even now, said Mr. Demarest, the church was establishing missions throughout the more thickly congested settlements, and working wonders. Sunday schools were springing up rapidly with a complete foreign element, and the immigrant was becoming slowly, but more quickly than before, Americanized.

Especially with the child should work be done, the speaker said, for "it must be remembered these children will be a great working power in the American life of the future."

Mr. Demarest gave some very interesting statistical facts. Forty or fifty years ago, he said, the tide of immigration flowed chiefly from northwestern Europe, Germany, France, Ireland, Holland and the Scandinavian peninsula. But now the majority, nearly all, came from the southern part, Italy, Austria-Hungary and Russia.

Arriving at Ellis Island the immigrants are strictly inspected, but ninety-five per cent. pass through and then to the eastern and Atlantic States without even entering New York, as is commonly thought.

The Russian Jew is an exception, however, to this rule, for he strikes immediately for the large and crowded cities. Already in New York there are something like 1,000,000 Jews or a proportion of one Jew to every other citizen, and a great many of these "other citizens" are of the foreign element.

From Italy America gets the Sicilian, not the real Italian; from Austria-Hungary, the Slav, the Lithuanian, the Pole and the Bohemian. Of these different types the Bohemian is considered the more intelligent. A few of the Italians make a striking success of farming, especially in Lousiana and Tennessee, where there are a number of colonies.

It is also worthy of note that each race as a whole take up a certain class of work in this country. The Italians do the hard construction work of every community; the Slavs are employed in the mining and smelting districts while those of northwestern Europe take chiefly to farming. The Jew makes himself a merchant, no matter on how small a scale.

Those from the north of Europe are intelligent or able to learn, while those from the south are illiterate. Hardly any immigrant comes to this country with an idea of gaining personal liberty, but merely to find a way of making their living.

The lecture was illustrated throughout with colored slides.

Old Book Friends to Appear.

For the first time in its history the Plainfield High School pupils will tonight stage the dramatic convent scene from Guinevere, in the entertainment to be given, entitled "Old Book Friends." The entertainment will be given at the high school at 8 o'clock.

BIBLE CLASS PUPILS SCORE IN COMEDY "SNOWBALL"

"The Snowball," a farcical comedy in three acts, was given with great success at the Park Club, last night under the auspices of the Probasco Bible Class, of the First Baptist church. The various characters in the play were taken by members of the class. The performance was a finished one throughout, under the direction of Francis K. Anderson, the coach. The play was filled with humorous situations, with Harold S. Robins, as "Felix Featherstone," the victim of his own plot in trying to deceive his wife and other members of the household.

Athol C. Newman, as "Mrs. Featherstone;" Herbert W. Hillman as "Ethel Granger," Featherstone's ward, and Arthur W. Dunning, as "Penepole," a maid, were especially good, while Harold S. Robins, as "Felix Featherstone;" Sydney Mackey as "Thornycroft," Featherstone's "Uncle John," and Carleton Smith as "Harry Prendergast," Ethel Granger's lover, interpreted their parts perfectly. During the evening the members of the cast were presented with flowers. Harold S. Robins was the business manager and A. W. Dunning the property manager.

3,000 NAMES APPEAR ON ROOSEVELT PETITION

Trenton, March 30.—The placing of the name of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt upon the primary ticket next May as a candidate for the Presidential nomination was insured today when Borden D. Whiting, chairman of the Roosevelt League of New Jersey, filed a nominating petition with the Secretary of State.

The petition contains about 3,000 names, although the Geran act requires only one thousand signers. The signatures were obtained from Roosevelt followers in all sections of the State.

Rev. Edwin Shaw will occupy the pulpit at the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow morning, at which time Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire will preach at the Temple Baptist church, Brooklyn. The latter will occupy his own pulpit in the evening.

SKEETER STRATEGY BOARD IS NAMED

Mosquito Extermination Commission Charged With Clearing Union County.

2 PLAINFIELDERS APPOINTED

They and the Rest of Commission May Be Legislated out of Office Before They Can Make War on the Foe.

The members of the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission, which may be legislated out of office before they can commence their duties, have been appointed by Supreme Court Justice James J. Bergen. Dr. F. C. Ard and Health Officer John O'Brien, of this city, are among them. The full list is as follows:

For one year—Dr. F. W. Sell, of Rahway; Dr. James S. Green, of Elizabeth.

For two years—W. C. Hope, of Roselle; John O'Brien, of Plainfield.

For three years—Louis J. Richards, of Elizabeth; Dr. Frank C. Ard, of Plainfield.

While the new law creating county commissions was passed at the present session of the Legislature and signed by Governor Wilson immediately upon its presentation to him, a repealer was passed yesterday. If Governor Wilson should sign it, or if the Legislature should pass it over his veto, then the commissions will be no more.

No salary is attached to the office and the commission is given entire supervision over the extermination of mosquitoes in the county. The local health boards are thus relieved of the duty and a more united campaign made possible.

At a meeting of the Health Officers' Association of New Jersey in Newark Thursday night protest was registered against the repealer, and a telegram to this effect was sent to the municipal committee. A letter was later forwarded to Governor Wilson asking him to disapprove the repealer and sustain the bill he had previously signed.

Health officers from Union county who participated in the deliberations of the State organization were the following:

L. J. Richards, of Elizabeth; Andrew Carney, Jr., of Westfield; Dr. F. W. Sell, of Rahway; John O'Brien, of Plainfield, and William Morris, of Roselle. The State Board of Health was also well represented.

Dr. Charles E. North, a sanitary expert from New York, delivered an interesting address on pure milk and he was followed by President J. W. Dobbins, of the North Jersey Extermination League. Mr. Dobbins spoke upon the extermination of mosquitoes and told of the work being done by the league.

NEGROES FORM A STATE DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION

Negro Democrats, from all parts of New Jersey, met last night at the Essex County Democratic Committee's Club rooms, 772 Broad street, Newark, and formed a State organization. R. H. Diggs, of this city, was elected to the board of officers, and several other Plainfielders took an active part in the meeting.

Counsellor Alfred B. Cosey, of Newark, was named as permanent chairman, Dr. E. B. Terry, of Atlantic City, first vice chairman; H. W. Grant, a young attorney of Union, was named corresponding secretary; A. R. Mayo, of Jersey City, recording secretary; J. Brown, of Newark, second vice president; R. H. Diggs, of Union, third vice president.

A committee of three, consisting of H. W. Grant, of Union; Dr. E. B. Terry, of Atlantic City; and W. F. Powell, of Camden, ex-minister to Hayti, was appointed to draft an appeal to the country and the colored voters of New Jersey. The appeal will be given to the press as soon as the committee can get it in shape. Headquarters will be established either in Newark or Trenton. The official name of the State organization will be the United Negro Democracy of New Jersey.

LOCAL COAL DEALERS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Coal Dealers Credit Association, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, last night, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Hugh A. Todd; vice president, Joseph Harrigan; secretary, W. D. Manning; treasurer, T. R. VanZandt; board of directors, A. C. Goodenough, M. T. Moynihan, E. H. Voorhees, C. A. Smith and Walter Temple.

Mrs. H. F. D. Davis, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. A. F. Grant, of Gresham road, is now registered at the San Carlos Hotel, Pensacola, Fla.

SENATE YIELDS TO GOV., FORD SUCCEEDS LEWIS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 30.—Governor Wilson having refused to withdraw his appointment of Professor Henry J. Ford, of Princeton, as banking and insurance commissioner, the appointment was confirmed by the Senate last night with the aid of four Republican votes, those of Pierce, Smalley, Nichols and Colgate. In the caucus the committee which waited upon the Governor at his request, reported that the Governor would not withdraw the name of Professor Ford. Professor Ford will take office April 15, when the term of Vivian M. Lewis will expire. The salary is $6,000.

Commissioner Lewis took exception yesterday to an attempt to connect him with the fight against Professor Ford. He issued a statement to the effect that he proposed to quit the office when his term expired. He denied that he had in any way been a party to a scheme to himself be the beneficiary by holding onto the office if the Senate refused to confirm Professor Ford.

Among the nominations confirmed were: Joseph F. Tumulty, to be Supreme Court clerk; Congressman William Hughes, of Passaic county, to be judge of the Court of Common Pleas, of Passaic; David S. Crater, of Monmouth county, secretary of state; Union County tax board, Calvin A. Brodhead.

Court Plainfield Growing.

Six applications for membership were received at a meeting of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, and two applicants were elected to membership. The finance committee reported that the court now has a membership of 416 and a surplus fund in the local banks and building loans of $4,845.11. Beginning with April 9, the court will meet on the second and last Tuesday of each month at the same place.

The local Painters and Decorators' Union, No. 480, will hold its annual banquet at the Waldorf Hotel Tuesday night.

FRIEL ALLEN.

Youngest Member of Outlaw Band, Who Has Been Captured.

YOUNGEST OF ALLEN OUTLAWS CAPTURED

Starvation Forced Lad to Seek His Father's Home.

Hillsville, Va., March 30.—Friel Allen, youngest of the clansmen outlaws, was surprised, surrounded and captured in a small outbuilding 200 yards from his father's home, where starvation had forced him to seek refuge. The boy was unarmed, and neither he nor his father, Jack Allen, who was an eye witness to the capture, attempted to offer any resistance.

The detectives are closing in on the trail of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the two remaining outlaws uncaptured, and they expect a death fight with them at any time.

Friel Allen brought in this message: "Uncle Sidna and Cousin Wesley say they will never be taken alive. They allow they are going to die fighting with their boots on and toes turned up. They say they don't ever expect to see their wives or homes again. But Uncle Sidna said: 'We are determined to sell our lives as dearly as possible. We will get some of those detectives before they get us.'"

TAFT TO TALK POLITICS.

Three Important Speeches to Be Made In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 30. — Three speeches, indicating the attitude of the national administration toward great public subjects, will be delivered by President Taft on his whirlwind visit to this city tonight.

As the guest of the chamber of commerce and the commercial exchange he will speak in the assembly room of the Bourse shortly after 6 o'clock. An hour later, as a guest at the annual dinner of the Ohio society, he will deliver a speech in the Bellevue-Stratford, in which he is expected to reply to the political arguments which recently have been advanced by Colonel Roosevelt. Later, at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Social and Political Science, he will deliver an address on the subject, "Elements of a Constructive National Policy With Reference to Industrial Combinations," in which he is expected to outline an administration plan toward the control by law of "big business."

Washington, March 30.—President Taft left Washington this afternoon for Philadelphia. He will return to Washington Sunday morning.

TO UNSEAT CONGRESSMAN.

House Committee Finds Bowman of Pennsylvania Used Too Much Money.

Washington, March 30.—Charles C. Bowman of the Eleventh Pennsylvania district, a Republican, will lose his seat if the house concurs in a report ordered by the committee on elections. By a vote of 4 to 2 the committee held that the election of Mr. Bowman was accomplished by "gross frauds," and it recommended that he be unseated. The evidence in the case shows that Mr Bowman expended $11,000 in the course of his campaign for election. Of this $2,500 was paid to "watchers" at the polls. Mr. Bowman also paid $700 for the use of a taxicab.

This is Mr. Bowman's first term.

TRIES TO END HER LIFE.

Widow of Captain Hughes Shoots Herself Twice In Breast.

New York, March 30.—Mrs. Rose Cardell Hughes, widow of Captain Walter S. Hughes, U. S. N., retired, attempted suicide in the home of her sister, Mrs. Laura B. Fitch, in West Twenty-seventh street, by shooting herself twice in the breast. Physicians are hopeful of her recovery.

Mrs. Fitch was unable to give a reason for her sister's desire to end her life.

Won't Call It "Home Rule Bill."

London, March 30.—The government bill for home rule, which will be introduced in parliament on April 11, will be entited the "Irish government bill." The government fears that the term "home rule bill" would be prejudicial to them in English constituencies.

UNCLE SAM TO PROTECT CITIZENS

Preparations Followed Crisis In Mexico.

BATTLESHIPS NEAR GULF.

Government Agents Are Checking Up All American Owned Vessels, Anticipating Possibility of Chartering Them For Use In Case of Emergency.

Washington, March 30.—The entire diplomatic and military machinery of the government has been set in motion to meet any emergency that may arise following the development of a crisis in the situation in Mexico so far as foreign residents are concerned.

The latest reports from Mexico indicate that the revolutionary movement is rapidly gaining strength and that the federals are being defeated in their most important engagements.

The war and navy departments have set quickly to work to revise their plans for possible operations. A number of battleships and cruisers have been left behind from the fleet in the Caribbean. These would be convenient for any use that might be required on the Mexican coast.

In accordance with a decision of the army and navy joint board these two services are jointly surveying all American owned steamships to learn exactly what vessels could be depended upon for use if necessary. These surveys are now being made on the lines, with headquarters in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore and all lines on the Pacific coast. Preliminary reports which have reached the joint board indicate there would be some difficulty at this moment in chartering any considerable number of private ships because commerce is heavy and all vessels are at present tied up with freights. In practically every instance, however, the owners have agreed to cancel their contracts and give the government first call in case of an emergency.

The quartermaster's department is making a detailed survey of the field of railroad transportation from every army post to the Mexican border.

It was admitted that with the federal advance of Zapata and his rebel force from the south toward the City of Mexico, the few soldiers left in the capital and the large lawless element that exists there have made it expedient for this government to take prompt steps to provide for the protection of its citizens there. Accordingly a thousand Krag-Jorgensen rifles and a million rounds of ammunition provided by the war department are now being dispatched to Mexico. This action was taken with the consent of the Mexican government.

Ambassador Wilson is being held by the state department as personally responsible for the disposition of these weapons.

Aubert Still Eludes Rebels.

Villa Lopez, Chihuahua, Mexico, March 30.—After having been caught in a trap and seemingly surrounded on all sides by the rebels pounding a terrible artillery fire into his ranks, the federal command of General Aubert managed to extricate itself and get away. In doing so the general left behind one heavy cannon, one mortar, two machine guns, fifty horses and 20,000 rounds of ammunition. He left fifty dead and many wounded.

General Luis Fernandez's rebel column is still in behind him.

The bombardment of Villa Lopez was something frightful, and the losses in killed and wounded among the federals was great because they followed old fashioned tactics and fought in solid formation, while the rebels fought in open order.

Many federal prisoners were taken.

General Aubert an American.

Austin, Tex., March 30.—General Aubert is an American and was born and raised at Quincy, Ill., according to Charles E. Aubert, a well known citizen of Austin, who is General Aubert's brother. General Aubert went to Mexico twenty years ago and entered the army.

NO DOLLAR A DAY PENSIONS.

Senate Rejects Sherwood Bill and Adopts McCumber Substitute.

Washington, March 30.—After a debate of eight hours the senate rejected the Sherwood dollar a day pension bill, which carried an additional expenditure of $75,000,000, and adopted Senator McCumber's substitute measure, which is based on both age and service and which will increase the pension expenditures approximately $27,000,000 annually.

The vote on the McCumber substitute was 44 to 21 and on its final passage 51 to 16. The Sherwood bill had already passed the house and the pension legislation will now be thrown into conference.

Italian Dirigible Near Turkey.

Paris, March 30.—A dispatch received here from Constantinople says an Italian military dirigible balloon has been sighted off Lemnos, fifty miles from the entrance to the Dardanelles.

PLAINFIED, NEW JERSEY, MARCH 30, 1912.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Samuel St. John McCutchen, a New York lawyer, who for years has been active in civic affairs as a resident of North Plainfield, is the contributor today. Mr. McCutchen rendered valuable service to the State as a member of the State Board of Education for many years.

OUR VOLUNTEER OFFICIALS.

The administration of public affairs, local, State and National, is largely conducted by volunteers; unpaid, unsalaried, uncompensated officials.

Our mayors, members of council, boards of education, health boards, hospital boards, library boards, playground boards are emphatic and appreciable instances of such responsible volunteer service.

No good public work need fail for lack of competent and disinterested administrators.

We consign to volunteers our most responsible work, the appropriation and expenditure of our revenues, our tax moneys, and even the determination and fixing of the sums to be raised by tax on our homes and our investments.

Even where salaries are attached to public offices, they are so small that they do not attract, and we choose men on their personality and without reference to the emoluments accompanying the respective offices.

It is interesting, at least, that the men we select for laborious, uncompensated office are successful, busy men. They would not be chosen if they had not shown capacity and success in their own affairs.

In other words, the successful and busy man only can be chosen for public, uncompensated service, and he can always be had.

This is greatly to the credit of his class!

The history of both city and borough, for many years, confirms this conclusion and one is struck with the fact of the intelligent and persistent industry of officials in all branches of municipal life, and the equally sure fact that few drones or inefficients have figured in it.

We have seen mayor and council studying for nights and weeks questions of public policy, with the earnestness and assiduity that they would devote to their own profitable business, and giving to the municipality, free, the experience, capacity and energy that they would give to their own affairs.

Nothing finer can be conceived than this contribution by our best citizens, but the question occurs, do we adequately value and do we ever reward such unpaid service.

Having selected the best in sight for the work to be done, do we back him, help him, co-operate and sympathize with him?

Do we not more often stand off—criticise—knock!

Is this grateful or fair?

It has been said that "Republics are ungrateful." This should not be accepted as proven fact.

It may, however, be said that the public is indifferent, unappreciative, forgetful of benefits, and certainly lacking in any recognized and convenient means or way of expressing recognition of public volunteer service.

If one renders to you a serviceable, beneficial act, you feel grateful to him; you want to thank him; you will thank him if you can; you should make an opportunity to do it.

Why should not the public servant who has done his best for us, the public, have given him some public expression of our approval of his work, which work has put us in his debt?

We need not necessarily approve of specific acts, nor the eventual work of this servant. We may think another and better result might have been reached, but, after all, he has been called by us from the convenience and comfort of his private life because we thought him fit for certain work! He has done his best; he has put us under obligation to the extent that he has done his best, and whether we agree with him or not as to his accomplishments, are we not as much in debt to him as if he had done all that we hoped for?

Both city and borough have been and are well served.

At any time, any of us would be glad to select from our councils directors for our corporations, executors for our wills.

They have been competent, reliable, practical administrators.

We disagree with them often, argue with them; fight them on questions of policy.

Believing in their honesty, we trust them.

Having then, always, superior officials, mayors, councilmen and boards, do we appreciate these superior servants, and do we in any appreciable way recognize the merit of their service to us?

While they are in active work we can appreciate them by supporting, backing and helping them.

When, however, one such official, after years of effective public service, retires, do we do anything to express to him our recognition of his service and our gratitude to him for his contribution to the public welfare?

Very seldom, and he goes back to the retirement of private life, "unsung."

Are we, in this, doing well?

A few weeks ago there was given, in the borough, a public dinner as a tribute to and in appreciation of a retiring mayor, who had given eleven years of active work to that municipality.

This dinner did not involve eulogy of him! It did not necessarily mean unquestioned approval of him or his measures, but it did mean an expression of gratitude for and appreciation of the public spirited service for many years of a volunteer servant of the borough.

It was complete in its success in this view.

There were present his friends and his enemies; his party associates and his party opponents; men from the borough; men from out of the borough.

There was no eulogy of man nor measures, but there was generous approval of a busy and able man who had given eleven years of hard work to the community which had called him from private life to the service of the public, and the tribute to this man was well earned.

I can recall officials of this city, wise, able and devoted men, who should not have been permitted to withdraw from office to private life without expression of some sort, from the public, of its approval of their contribution to the public good.

There was a board in charge of an important branch of the work of the State, which was legislated out of office last summer.

It was large, twenty in number; possibly too large for convenient action.

It was made up of busy men; one active busy judge; at least six busy lawyers; two doctors; manufacturers, merchants, etc.

One member had belonged to the service for twenty-six years and for twenty-three consecutive years had been, by the unanimous vote of his associates, the president of the board.

Another had belonged to the Board and to its predecessor board for over thirty years; he had, as treasurer of various institutions under the control of the board, by his wise administration of his office, turned into the State many thousands of dollars of value.

These two heroes of service went out of office with their board.

They are content in their retirement. They should not have been allowed to retire without some public appreciation of their prolonged and valuable service!

There was no such public appreciation.

No governor, nor legislator recorded in message or resolution the merit of their extraordinary official life! They are happy in their privacy, but we, the public, seem to have failed somewhat with reference to them.

Is it possible to devise a code of political etiquette, some rule of public manners which will provide for some fair recognition of good, volunteer public service?

So that, in some way, we, the obliged, the benefited, may give expression of our feeling for those who have given for and to us, and need feel no longer,

"Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks!"

SEEKS TO ENJOIN FOWLER FROM SELLING SECURITIES

Elizabeth, March 30. — Following close upon the transfer of all his holdings here to Andrew Carnegie, former Congressman Charles N. Fowler, became the defendant in the Court of Chancery in Jersey City yesterday in an action to enjoin him from disposing of $3,500,000 worth of securities of the Strang Gas and Electric Company and the Strang Electric Car Company. The complainant in the latter action is William B. Strang, who is represented by C. Garrison, while former Justice Gilbert Collins appears for Fowler.

It is alleged that Fowler purchased the stocks and bonds from Strang and that there is still due on them $60,000, for which Strang claims to hold promissory notes, executed by Fowler and secured by the securities in question.

Strang further declares that the former congressman intends to dispose of the securities, and for this reason he brings an action in the Chancery Court.

The transfer of Mr. Fowler's holdings in this city to Mr. Carnegie was made a little over a week ago and the consideration mentioned in the deed is $1. The value of the property transferred is set at $107,600; at least, this is the assessed value. The property includes the Fowler marble mansion in Salem avenue and estimated to be worth $46,200. There are also several other tracts in Westminster avenue, the value of which is placed at $61,400.

The deed is signed by Mr. Fowler and his wife, but nothing is known here of Mr. Carnegie's intentions as to the use of the property. Mr. Fowler is out of town and it was said at his New York office this morning that he was not there and it was not known when he would be in.

Mr. Fowler also owns marble quarries at Barre, Vt., and spends a portion of his time there. Efforts to reach him today were futile.

BERKELEY HEIGHTS MOUSE WANTED TO SEE FIREWORKS

Berkeley Heights, March 30.—A mouse that wanted a fireworks display is blamed for a blaze that threatened the railroad station Thursday night. Smoke issuing from the express-room was seen by Michael Romano, a schoolboy, who was waiting for a train. He sounded an alarm.

The door was burst open and a box of fireworks, the property of the Essex Novelty Works here, was found smouldering. Several men dragged it into the driveway at risk of burning. Its contents, caps and sparkers were destroyed. The station was not damaged.

GETS FALSE WEIGHTS AND MEASURES IN THE VALLEY.

Augustus W. Schwartz, county superintendent of weights and measures, paid a visit to Summit, Springfield, Mountainside and New Providence borough and township last week. He examined and tested the scales, weights and measures in use in the various places of business and confiscated for destruction all those which were incorrect. At Berkeley Heights three scales are said to have been condemned, and in New Providence borough one scale and a number of weights. At Mountainside one scale was confiscated and another corrected, and at Springfield four scales and several liquid measures were taken. In Summit two scales, eleven weights and several liquid measures fell under the ban.

VATICAN DECLINES BIG MOVING PICTURE OFFER.

Rome, March 30.—The Vatican officials today refused an offer of 2,000,000 lire (approximately $400,000), made by a moving picture concern, for the privilege of taking views of the Pope receiving the Easter pilgrimage. This is said to be the most stupendous offer ever made by the motion picture men for a series of pictures.

Pierce Tax Probe Bill.

Trenton, March 30. — Senator Pierce's bill for the appointment of a commission to go into every county in the State and investigate the taxation methods was passed by the House yesterday.

SAW DEATH THREAT IN MOTION OF DEFENDANT

Trenton, March 30.—Prosecutor Crossley yesterday ordered Antonio Pege, an Italian patrolman, from the stand in the Mercer Court when the officer was giving damaging testimony against Joseph Circinnute, charged with keeping an illegal resort. When Pege was testifying the defendant placed the index finger of his right hand to his mouth, with the palm of the hand turned up.

A person in the courtroom informed hte prosecutor that was a death threat. He then ordered the patrolman from the stand and called as a witness Rev. Vincent Serafini, an Italian Presbyterian minister, who testified that Circinnute's action meant the patrolman is to die soon When Circinnute was placed upon the stand he stated that he did not mean it as a threat for the officer, but that he was only biting the callous skin from his finger. He was convicted.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES IN ANNIVERSARY SESSION

The anniversary meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, the Women's Home Missionary Society, the Young Women's Missionary Society and the Junior Mission Band, of the First Baptist church, was held at the church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Martin I. Cooley presided.

The foreign society reported having raised $450 during the year and the home society $723, while the Young Women's Missionary Society raised $425 and the Junior Mission Band $83. Miss Broadhead, a graduate of the Baptist Training School, Philadelphia, who is about to go to India as a missionary, spoke. Randolph Douglas rendered violin solos.

PIERCE INDETERMINATE FRANCHISE BILL KILLED

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 30.—By the vote of 7 to 6, the Senate yesterday afternoon killed the Pierce indeterminate franchise bill, 11 votes being required to pass it.

In advocating his bill, Senator Pierce said it had been very carefully drawn by Delos F. Wilcox, of the franchise bureau, of the New ork Public Service Commission, and was a complete measure. He claimed that the indeterminate franchise is superior to the perpetual or limited franchise, its distinguishing feature being the right of the municipality at any time to cancel the grant, thus keeping the municipality in control, but permitting the corporation to utilize the franchise as long as it keeps on its good behavior and gives adequate service.

Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes have removed from Arlington avenue to Sycamore avenue, near West Front street.

Plainfield Citizens Glaly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

When testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Plainfield citizen:

A. C. Lazzi, 44 Elm place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I still endorse Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity and I confirm all I said in their praise when I publicly recommended them some years ago. You are at liberty to continue using my statement, for this excellent medicine cannot be given too much praise. For several years I was annoyed by a distressing backache, together with pains through my kidneys. My head also ached severely and the kidney secretions were in bad shape. I went to several physicians and also took so-called kidney cures, but it did not seem as though I coulget relief. As time passed and I did not improve, I became discouraged. When suffering intensely I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and I got a supply at Randolph's Drug Store. As if by magic my pains and aches disappeared and my condition improved in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve the entire credit for restoring me to good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Prayer Meeting Topic For Week Beginning March 31, 1912.

Topic.—The foreign missions of my denomination, a birdseye view.—Matt. xxviii, 16-20. Edited by Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Our obligation to Christ to obey this command, "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost," should make us deeply interested to know what is being accomplished. What most of us do in foreign mission work we do through our denomination. We do not go ourselves. Many of us cannot go. We give our money that others may be sent and supported. But if we try to meet our obligation in that way with any proper realization of our responsibility we will not be content merely to make our contribution.

Our obligation to those in darkness should stimulate us to seek to be informed. Jesus is God's gift to a lost world. "God so loved the world." They have as good a right to Him as we. It is as though we should find a purse filled with money and with the owner's name inside. It would not be enough to forward it. We ought not to be content until we receive information that it has reached the owner's hands.

Then we have an obligation to pray. Missionaries desire our prayers. Jesus tells us to pray to "the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest." (Matthew ix, 38.) But it is only as we "lift up our eyes and look on the fields and see how they are white already to harvest" and realize that "the harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few" that we will have either the disposition or ability to pray.

That we may become acquainted with the foreign mission work of our denomination in such a way as to appreciate the sacrifices made and the real influence of the missionaries on the field we need to seek general information as to the conditions and customs in the different countries in which our denomination has become actively interested. This can be accomplished in mission study classes and by reading everything that will give information as to the people and customs in the lands occupied.

Reading the lives of missionaries is exceedingly helpful. Probably nothing is more effective in awakening interest and giving a clear and definite conception of mission work and in stimulating to earnest prayer than an acquaintance with the biographies of those who have gone forth in obedience to the great commission. Vivid pictures are impressed upon us which cannot entirely fade away. Such books enlarge our vision and warm our heart, making us stronger men and women for the work at home.

Our denominational missionary literature should be faithfully and prayerfully read. Every home should have on the table such denominational publications as will build up and maintain interest in the different foreign mission fields, and these magazines or papers should be read and the interesting items should be talked over in the family circle. The advantages of such an acquaintance with the foreign missions of our denomination will appear in more earnest prayer, more liberal giving and a real interest and enjoyment in a line of reading and study that was never before appreciated.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xlviii, 12-14; lxvii, 1, 2; cv, 1, 2; Isa. lii, 1-7; Nah. i, 15; Matt. x, 1-8; Acts i, 1-8; xiii, 1-3; xiv, 21-28; Rom. x, 14, 15; Rev. xxii, 17.

Be Helpful.

The fellowship of the primitive church was one of its most helpful features. Its absence from our present day church life is one of our greatest weaknesses.

Poor indeed must that Christian be who cannot find some place in the modern church where he can be helpful.

What a field the Sunday school and society of Christian Endeavor offer!

How the prayer meeting cries out for the expression of this spirit and how Stephen and Dorcas could be multiplied in the gracious ministry of the church to those that are in need!

Yes, let us write large over the individual life, the home and the church these meaningful words, "Be helpful."—William Shaw in Christian Endeavor World.

Trusting.

I recently met two young lady missionaries 1,600 miles from home in one of our island possessions. Scarce a handful of people speak their native tongue. The work they do must show slow returns. They have few to counsel with and fewer to speak an encouraging word. Yet I found them sunny, optimistic and in love with their work. They were Christian Endeavor trained, and they have well learned the lesson of the pledge, "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength."—John R. Clements.

Christian Endeavor Is Missionary.

To have a live interest in missions is the ideal of one Christian Endeavor society, which makes its power felt in the church by its gifts to missions. This society goes to the mission fields through its gift, and it grows at home in numbers and strength. A living society is a giving society.—Sarah N. McCreary.

Alex Kane, formerly of this city, but now of New Brunswick, will remove to Plainfield early in April, where he will engage in business again.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

Good Form

Arrangements For a Card Party.

A hostess should always provide some prizes for a card party and thus show her guests that she does not expect them to play for money. To invite people to your house and then oblige them to do something of which they greatly disapprove is an unpardonable offense against good manners as well as good morals. It also shows a cruel lack of consideration for the young men who cannot afford to lose money. A girl can often escape by making some excuse, but for a man, who is supposed to be independent in money matters, this is more difficult. As gambling debts are very properly not recognized by the law and are therefore held to be debts of honor, a poor young man who is forced by a cruel or thoughtless hostess to incur such a liability is placed in a most unpleasant predicament.

Some excellent people think there is no harm in playing for small stakes—2 or 5 cents a point. But, whatever the personal views of the hostess at a card party, if she is a woman of good breeding she always arranges some tables for those who prefer not to play for money.

Since expensive prizes create envy and bad feeling it is better to select pretty trifles that please by their novelty, beauty or oddity rather than by their money value. The exact cost of these gifts will vary somewhat in accordance with the means of the giver and her friends. It would be in bad taste for the wife of a man living on a small salary to offer a prize than might be given without impropriety by the wife of a millionaire to her rich associates. Our circle of acquaintances usually know more accurately than we suppose the amount of our income and criticise any display of extravagance. The well bred hostess tries to avoid the two extremes of meanness and ostentation.

It is now thought best not to show the prizes until the end of the evening, and the consolation prizes are awarded by lot rather than to the poorest players.

It is important to have the seats of the right height so that the guests may be comfortable. Dining room chairs are better for the purpose than those usually found in a drawing room, the latter being too low and often too cumbrous. Light gilt chairs and card tables may be hired. If ordinary small tables are used they should be covered with a cloth to prevent the cards from slipping.

The supper may consist of chicken salad, ices and sandwiches, with hot coffee or wine cup. It may be more or less elaborate, as the hostess chooses. For an informal occasion among friends chocolate and cake or claret punch and some nice biscuits are sufficient.

The hostess herself does not play at a regular card party unless it should be necessary to fill a vacancy. It would be awkward for a late comer on her arrival to find every one deeply absorbed in cards and no one free to welcome and talk to her.

Answering a Dinner Invitation.

One rule will help the reader to make very few mistakes when answering any kind of a written invitation. If this be sent to you in a formal way, the hostess and host speaking of themselves and their guest—or using the "third person" for all names—then the reply should be sent in a similar form. For instance, if you have received an invitation that reads:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray request the pleasure of your company at dinner on Thursday evening,
February the tenth,
at eight o'clock.
54 Chester Avenue.

Then your answer must be as follows:

14 East Avenue,
February 2, 1912.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward King accept with pleasure
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray's invitation to dinner on Thursday evening, February tenth,
at eight o'clock.

This is written by you on plain note paper in the form shown and addressed to the hostess.

If you cannot accept a declination should be sent in this form:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward King regret that they are unable to accept
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray's invitation to dinner on Thursday evening, February tenth,
at eight o'clock.

Oft Forgotten Courtesies.

Many men no longer consider it necessary to rise when a lady enters the room. If they proffer a chair it is seldom done with the old time alacrity, and a few trips on a city car will be sufficient to convince the veriest skeptic of the truth of courtesy's decadence.

Be it said in favor of man, continually on the rack regarding these omissions, that he is by no means the greatest offender. Women who entertain will tell you of the scores of invitations to which they have never even received the courtesy of an acknowledgment. "R. S. V. P." at the end of a card or note means nothing to women too thoughtless or too ill bred to take five minutes for a reply. Such treatment of a social courtesy is an offense garish enough to cause the offender's name to be struck from the social list of the hostess.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CRANBERRY PASTRIES.

THE cranberry with its wholesome acids—it contains citric acid as well as iron—is a particularly valuable food for spring, when our systems generally require some purifying and tonic effects.

Cranberries are widely known, and in the north of Europe the peasants string and dry them for use when fresh cranberries cannot be obtained.

Of course they may be preserved like other fruits. They may be kept indefinitely under clear water in vessels from which the air is excluded.

Delicious Pies.

The merits of cranberries for pies in the days when apples and rhubarb are the only other fresh fruits to be had are gratefully admitted by every housewife.

A pie that resembles a cherry may be baked after this recipe.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Take a cupful of cranberries. Cut them in half after they have been washed, add and stir together a half cupful of raisins cut fine, one scant cupful of sugar, three-quarters of a cupful of cold water, one tablespoonful of flour dissolved in water, a dash of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Make a pie with two crusts and bake slowly.

A small cranberry pie may be made with these ingredients:

Cranberry Pie.—Wash your cranberries. Then chop about two cupfuls, add two and a half cupfuls of sugar, a half cupful of water and a tablespoonful of sifted flour.

When the crust is ready lay one crust on the pan for the bottom of the pie. Put in the fruit, sugar, flour and water. Lay a latticework consisting of strips of the puff paste over the fruit and bake until a rich brown.

Tart and Shortcake.

Cranberry Tart.—Stew the cranberries with two-thirds as much sugar as fruit. Line the dish with puff paste and bake it until light brown. Then put in the fruit, which should have been passed through a coarse sieve to make it like a paste.

Place in the oven again until heated, then place meringue on top and let the tart or tarts turn slightly brown. Small pans may be used for these tarts instead of a single large one, if preferred.

VOGUE POINTS.

Old Fashioned Trimmings Revived This Season.

Little plaited ruffles of fringed taffeta trim many of the suits of the changeable variety. The peplum, the coat blouse, the blouse with two square tails in the back and the short jacket suit are forms in which the taffeta most frequently appears.

The kimono that is partly fitted at the back is always a graceful and becoming one. Here is a model that includes that feature and that allows the choice of pointed or straight sleeves.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

"Around the World," with its hundreds of performers, 200 animals and a stupendous series of scenic splendors, continues at the New York Hippodrome a most prosperous career. Hassan Ben Ali's tribe of Berber acrobats are a favorite feature of the big show. The Mirano Bros. continue to perform their startling feats at the top of a 60-foot pole. The European entertainers add their equilibristic stunts in the Turkish scene, while Marceline and Van Cleve, with the Mule Pete, furnish plenty of laughter, when the tour of the world takes the visitor to Blarney Castle. Among the great scenic features may be mentioned the Desert Sandstorm, Venice by Moonlight, the gorgeous Butterfly Ballet and realistic Forest Fire, the splendid pageant of the Indian Dunbar and the scintillant water finale in which the great Hippodrome tank is used and myriad aquatic surprises are introduced.

That the public likes "The Greyhound" at the Astor Theatre is evinced by the crowded houses during the last four weeks. That the play has settled down for a long run there is no doubt. It is the season's novelty, thrilling and full of interest. Beginning with a suicide it dashes breathlessly into the most screaming humor and winds up with a ghost and the cry of "man overboard." It all happens on the high seas during a voyage from New ork to Liverpool on the steamship "Mauretania." Space will not permit to run through the entire plot, nor make mention of the admirable work done by the large cast of players numbering fifty. Whether your taste runs to farce or melodrama, or both, you are bound to enjoy "The Greyhound." Wagenhals and Kemper are justified in calling their Astor Theatre "the home of big hits and long runs," as witness "Paid in Full" and "Seven Days." That it is also the home of dramatic originalities "The Greyhound" has proven.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

WILSON RECEIVES EASTER EGG

Greeting Sent to Governor From an Old Democratic Friend.

Trenton, N. J., March 30.—Governor Wilson received his first Easter greeting. It was a hen's egg and was sent to the governor by Lyman W. Hess of Lebanon, Pa. The egg was dyed brown and was covered with etchings done by means of an ordinary penknife. There were several birds and other decorations etched on the egg which were more artistic. These words were en scrolled, "Our Next President, Woodrow Wilson."

Mr. Hess sent a note with his present, in which he expressed the hope that with his vote Governor Wilson would be elected. He signed it "Your Sixty-four-year-old Democratic Friend."

FOUR RAILWAYS INDICTED.

Grand Jury Holds Them For Weehawken Smoke Nuisance.

Jersey City, N. J., March 30.—The grand jury here handed down a blanket indictment against the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, the West Shore, the New York, Ontario and Western, and the Erie for maintaining soft coal smoke nuisances at Weehawken.

The New York Central was convicted a short time ago and fined $1,000 for a similar offense. The Erie recently paid a fine of $50 for maintaining such a nuisance in Jersey City.

T. F. MARTIN FOR CONGRESS.

Minority Leader of Hudson Announces His Candidacy.

Trenton, N. J., March 30.—Minority Leader Thomas F. Martin of Hudson made the announcement that he would be a candidate for congressman in the Eleventh congressional district. This lies in the upper part of Hudson county.

Both representatives from Hudson, Messrs. Kinkead and Mamill, at present are placed in the Twelfth congressional district.

Police Given Back Sticks.

Roselle, N. J., March 30.—After being deprived of their clubs for about a year, members of the Roselle Park police force have had the batons restored to them. Chairman W. E. Johnson of the police committee, who is chief of police, issued the order.

ANOTHER BABCOCK BILL PASSED BY LEGISLATURE.

Trenton, March 30.—The Senate yesterday passed Assemblyman Geo. L. Babcock's bill providing for alterations in the form of the ballot and the measure has gone to the Governor for his approval. The bill provides that the names of candidates be printed in alphabetical order according to surnames and that the title of the candidates' parties be placed after their names. In addition and more important is hte provision that that the square space wherein an "X" may be placed when registering a choice, be put to the left of the name instead of the right as at present.

There are other important features of this proposed act which tend to simplify the ballot and prevent confusion on the part of the voter.

SICK WOMAN DROPPED FROM WINDOW AT FIRE.

Mrs. Edward C. Oehler, who occupied the upper half of the double house on Clinton avenue, where a had a narrow escape. She had been fire occurred yesterday afternoon, seriously ill and confined to her room. Her brother, Charles F. Fresfire while sitting in the room with holz, of Roselle Park, discovered the fire. Escape by means of the stairway was cut off, and Fresholz was forced to carry his sister to the window and drop her into the arms of a passerby. She was taken to the home of a neighbor.

Fireman Resigns.

Fireman Joseph Clark, driver of the fire truck, who has been a member of the department for nine years, tendered his resignation today to take effect Monday morning. He has purchased an established hotel business in Newark and will take possession next week.

Soloists at Musical Service.

William Holmes, baritone, and George Smith, tenor, of the First Baptist church choir, will be the soloists at the special musical service to be given in the Presbyterian church, Bound Brook, tomorrow afternoon. This will be Mr. Holmes' fourth season singing at such a service at Bound Brook.

BARNARD GIRLS PLAY LIVELY BASKETBALL ON HORSEBACK

New York, March 30. — Barnard College girls participated in what was probably the first game of basket ball ever played on horseback, with Durland's Academy the scene of the contest, and it was voted the most spectacular of the many features at the concluding music ride of the season, which was replete with numbers of an equestrian nature. Two teams picked from members of the Barnard Riding Club, called the Whites and Blues, captained respectively by the Misses Lillian Schoedler and Christine Straiton, competed with the former, the winners, by 3 goals to 0.

An enthusiastic gallery of friends viewed the efforts of the young women and found much to cheer in the clever interpretation of equestrian basket ball, for wh ich the prize was a silver cup given by the academy.

TRAPSHOOTERS ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO YEARLY MEET

Metropolitan amateur trapshooters are looking forward with interest to the seventh annual amateur championship of America at clay birds, which is to be held under the auspices of the New York Athletic Club at its country home, Travers Island, New York, on April 3 and 4. Neaf Apgar will shoot in the pro class.

Beginning at 9:30 a. m., on April 3, a practise event of fifteen birds will be shot over each of the four sets of traps recently erected for the occasion, and immediately following the preliminary to the cha mpionship will be shot. The event will consist of 100 birds, in strings of 25, over each set of traps, the finishing first, second and third to receive silver cups, presented by the New York Athletic Club.

Beginning at 9 a. m., on April 4, the championship of America will start, and will be competed for during the entire day. In the morning 100 birds will be shot, in strings of 25, following in the afternoon by an additional 100 birds, which will conclude the championship. Three diamond medals are again offered to the men finishing first, second and third, and in addition thereto the men finishing fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth, respectively, will also receive trophies. The diamond medals for the championship this year are declared to be the handsomest ever presented by the New York Athletic Club, and from the list of entries received to date it is predicted that the championship this year will be the most successful ever held.

Among those who will represent the metropolitan district in the shoot are C. W. Billings, Fred Hodgeman, Fred Schauffler, A. E. Ranney, Fred Pelham, Ben Higginson, W. B. Ogden, Danny McMahon, Frank Hall and G. J. Corbett, of the New York Athletic Club; R. L. Spotts, Dr. Held and Dr. Short, of the Larchmont Yacht Club; George McMurtry, George Adee and Stuart Scott, of the Westchester Country Club; Frank B. Stevenson, David Leathy and the Jesse James Boys, of the Crescent Club; John Hendrickson and J. H. Silkworth, of Bergen Beach; H. L. Hoyt, of the Manhasset Yacht Club, and W. J. Smith, of the Jefferson Club, and the following from neighboring States; George S. McCarty, Charles Newcomb, the winner of the preliminary last year; Harry Kahler, the present champion; Billy Ford, of Wilmington; Dr. Clark and Dr. Gleason, both of Boston. The professionals will be well represented by George (Durham) Lyon, Lester German, Neaf Apgar, Harry Stevens and Patsy Skelly.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

At last we hear a little talk of baseball in Plainfield. When the Central Jersey league expired so easily and naturally during our recent hard winter the fans in Plainfield began to despair of seeing any real baseball upon the home diamond this summer, but the shops have fortunately comes to the rescue and give promise of reviving the interest that has been dormant since the days of the old City League. The crowds turned out to those games and saw good baseball, keeping their interest to the very end. We doubt not that a league such as the one in question would have the same effect, as well as prove of great value to the men who play.

Another topic of local interest is: Why not a track meet or two upon Parker Field this spring? Also what is the matter with having a banner and a cup or two that have been won in the interscholastics that all of the colleges in our vicinity hold each year, to grace the walls of the High School? We'll have more to say about this later for we are going to get that banner. What?

In a recent game played in Bowie county, Tex., between the Giants and the Texarkana, Ark., team, Larry Doyle stood at the home plate in Texas and clouted the ball into the State of Arkansas. We would suggest that the Interstate Commerce Commission look into the matter. The pitcher will complain that the delivery of his "goods" was interfered with, and probably a "strike" preceded the swat.

What automobile concern will offer a car to the man who can hit Jersey from the Polo grounds?

Columbia, in her first baseball game of the season, met St. John's College, of Brooklyn, with only two veterans in her lineup. If Harry Fisher proves to be as good at coaching a baseball team as he was at putting out a winning basketball team when confronted with the same lack of veteran material we look for a winning team at Columbia.

The report is out again that Cornell's rowing material is the poorest in years. The same man starts that dope who tells us each year that the peach crop is to be a failure.

Princeton won her first game from Rutgers on Thursday, the score being 12 to 5. The game was listless throughout, so it is hard to get a line on either team at this early stage.

The weather man has certainly had his say in the regulation of spring training this year. We read in one report that the "Giants Dodge the Rain," in another "Muddy Grounds Hinder Players," and so on. And April still to come, too.

Umpire weather. Nobody likes it

Loving Mother: From the symptoms that you mentioned in your inquiry to the Editor I would say that your boy is suffering from a contagious malady known to the profession as "baseball fever." This, while contagious, is not considered dangerous if handled correctly. Give the patient quantities of sleep, and rub parts most effected with arnica or witch hazel.

Yours, BUNT.

A team of rather diminutive looking baseball players arrived in San Francisco yesterday to play a series of games with representative American teams. While small in stature and hardly having what might be termed the "baseball look," they have, before coming to this country from Honolulu, shown that they could play the game. The team is composed of Chinese who have spent their lives in and around Honolulu and even claim United States citizenship. They will tour the western states and then invade the east, playing a schedule arranged for them, including a few college teams. Last year a team representing one of the Japanese universities made a similar trip and proved themselves superior to many teams composed of their lighter skinned cousins.

Joe McGinnity, manager and part owner of the Newark Indians, is having troubles of his own even this early in the season. It is all occasioned by two or three of his best players holding out. One of them, Bob Fisher, second baseman, is a valuable man whom McGinnity cannot afford to lose, as it will leave a big hole in an otherwise excellent infield. Another man is Jack Kelley, a left fielder, also a man who would be sorely missed, having proved his worth to the Iron Man in days gone by. The third man is "Bobby" Vaughn, a Princeton graduate who prefers to follow his profession as a civil engineer. McGinnity has demanded that they all report for the first home game and has also fined each man for his offence. Whether this bit if discipline will have any effect waits to be seen for the "bold outs" all feel that they are in positions to make more in business than they could playing baseball. Joe certainly plays in hard luck for it was only a year ago that he broke his wrist cranking his auto and found it a great handicap throughout the season.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

Braced by a Catch.

The generally good support given Pitcher Cadmus by the Crescents' saved their defeat by the New Brunswicks on Saturday. Thirty-seven times were the latter at the bat and thirty-six times they hit the ball. But the fielding was so sharp the visitors seldom reached first base, and when they did they had to stay there for fear of the Cadmus' brothers, who shut them out if they dared to leave.

The game opened badly for the Crescents, but after a rattling that let in three of the N. B.s, Lee caught a hot liner in the finger tips of one hand that braced up the Plainfielders and thereafter their playing was better, finally winning by the score of 12 to 10.—Plainfield Daily Press, July 23, 1888.

DIX WILL NOT NAME BOXING COMMISSIONER

Albany, March 30.—Governor Dix has said that he does not purpose to fill the vacancy on the New York State Athletic Commission, which has existed almost since the Frawley law, creating the commission, went into operation.

A bill embodying the recommendation of the Governor, providing for the abolition of the commission, has passed the Assembly, but is in such a position in the Senate that probably it will not be passed.

Eddie Dillon on Baseball.

Newark, March 30.—Eddie Dillon, the former Princeton varsity baseball captain and football star, addressed the meeting of the Essex Federation of Sunday School Clubs last night at the Newark Y. M. C. A. The meeting was for the purpose of organizing the baseball leagues ow the federation. To make the evening pleasant, Ivan P. Flood, the chairman, induced Dillon to talk to the delegates on "Baseball."

AUTO NOTES.

HELPFUL HINTS ON TIRES SUITABLE TO THE SEASON

Here are some spring suggestions for tire users:

Before you finish tuning up your car for the coming season, take your casings off and examine the rims.

If they are rusty, don't fail to scrape and paint them.

Don't put the casings back until you have made sure that the rims are absolutely true and free from dents. Sprinkle soapstone into the casings before replacing the tubes.

If the rear tires are worn get a new pair for the rear and let the old casings spend their declining days on the front wheels, where the service is easier. You will be money in pocket by so doing.

Test the alignment of your axles. The easiest way is to measure between the felloes of the wheels or the edges of the rims at the point directly in front of the axle. If this measurement differs from the same measurement taken on the opposite side of the wheels it shows the axles are out of alignment. Correct this defect immediately or expect big tire bills.

Buy a good pressure gage and register a solemn vow to use it frequently and regularly throughout the season.

AUTO 'BUS LINE CREATED TO MEET AN EMERGENCY

A big blizzard March 13 put all regular forms of transportation out of business in certain sections of Illinois. To meet the situation and help out many men who were very anxious to get to their offices, the Illinois Motor Sales Company established a 30-minute auto bus service between Champaign and Urbana, Illinois. Several of their large limousines and touring cars were used and did good work. The smallest car on the job, however, was a K-R-I-T touring car and it proved to be one of the best snow fighters used. Loaded with from four to eight passengers during the day's grind, the sturdy little K-R-I-T surprised the business men who took advantage of its service.

During this, quite the worst blizzard in that part of the country, according to the gray beards, the banked snow on even the paved streets was well nigh impassible. A thick and heavy crust over the top made traveling treacherous. The K-R-I-T, however, behaved finely and fought its way through at a surprising rate of speed. The banked snow caused it to sway alarmingly at times, but the car stuck tenaciously to its four wheels in spite of its light weight.

ALCO FIRM PUTS OUT USEFUL LITTLE VOLUME

A new idea in motor truck instructions is worked out in a book covering Alco trucks which is now being printed.

The book is intended for the man who knows nothing about motor trucks as well as for the expert. It is realized that most truck drivers today are recruited from the ranks of teamsters, hence the completeness of this book and the simplicity of its wording.

Instruction books in the past have been written on the assumption that the operators of cars and trucks should be familiar with mechanical features.

The new Alco book is clarified considerably by illustrations that are an aid to drivers who may be unused to motor truck mechanism. The correct and incorrect positions for driving, the right and wrong ways of cranking the motor, the method of unloading a truck from a feight car, and numerous other essentials are shown vividly in actual life photographs.

The book has been done on the theory that nine-tenths of the difficulties that arise are due to neglect or abuse. Much emphasis is laid accordingly on the proper care to be given the truck just as an engineer is forced to look after his locomotive.

Millions In Autos.

According to statistics compiled by the Motor World, the world's exportation of motor vehicles during the year 1911 attained a total of more than $90,000,000. The trade is practically controlled by four countries—France, United States, Germany and Great Britain—and, although France, as has been the case since the inception of the automobile industry, leads the list of automobile exporting nations, it barely held its own during the year 1911, its foreign trade increasing only 75 per cent. On the other hand, the United States became possessed of seven league boots and went upward with giant strides, its increase during the twelve-month amounting to 45 per cent., whereas Germany, which also made great gains, increased but 3 per cent., while England's increase fell just short of 23 per cent.

ELKS CINCH THE LEAD IN FRATERNAL PINNING TOURNEY

The Elks practically cinched the lead in the Fraternal Bowling Tournament by taking three games straight from the Shamrocks at the Olympia alleys, last night. So close were the games that the contest was not decided until the last frame in two cases, when the Elks by a great spurt of pinning finally nosed out ahead. The scores follow:

LOCAL FANCIERS CONSIDER INTERCITY PIGEON FLIGHTS

The Plainfield Homing Pigeon Club held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last night, when various matters in connection with the working of the club were discused. Fred Brunner, president, was in the chair, and among others who took an active part in the deliberations were Charles E. Faber, the secretary, and Robert S. Parsons.

Communications from clubs in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newark and other cities were read relative to proposed flights during the coming season. The club decided to offer special privileges to members joining up to May 1 for the purpose of making the local organization strong enough to be a credit to the city. Anyone interested is requested to communicate with the secretary, Charles E. Faber, 38 Rockview avenue, North Plainfield.

DUNELLEN WINS TWO OUT OF THREE IN TRIPLE-HEADER

Three exciting basketball games were played at Dunellen in the Presbyterian church last night. As an opener, the Whittier School Boys' team played a team composed of Plainfield Y. M. C. A. members. The home five won by a score of 11 to 9.

The girls' team of Dunellen played the Y. W. C. A. first team of Plainfield. Dunellen was defeated in snappy, fast style, by a score of 22 to 7.

Then came the big event. A Bound Brook quintet, evidently a team of picked up players, as it did not go by any name, played the Dunellen first team. In a rough, lively tussle, Bound Brook handed defeat to Dunellen. Ulmer and Frezza for the visitors, and Nayler for the home team did the best all-around playing. The score was 29-13.

WORLD'S HIGH JUMP RECORD IS BEATEN IN CALIFORNIA

Stanford University, Cal., March 30.—George Horine, of the class of 1913, of Stanford University, broke the world's running high jump record in a meet with the University of Southern California here today, clearing the bar at 6 feet 6½ inches. The previous record at 6 feet 5⅝ inches was made by N. F. Sweeney, at New York, September 21, 1895.

ATHLETICS AND PHILLIES OPEN SPRING SERIES TODAY

Philadelphia, March 30.—The first game of the spring series between the Athletics and Phillies will be played this afternoon on the grounds at Broad and Huntingdon streets, the Phillies' home. It will be the first line-up since that final 13 to 2 snowunder of the New York Giants last October, and should the weather be fair and as warm as it was yesterday a big delegation of the faithful will be out to enjoy the game, the first of nine scheduled to be played.

Mack proposes using his youngest pitchers against the Phillies and he will send in Houck and Eagan for the opening game.

The Phillies are likely to also try out their young pitchers in the series, particularly as the regulars are not in as good condition as they would have been had more sunshine been encountered on the training trip.

Miss Esther Brown, of Brooklyn, who has been spending several days with friends in this city, has returned.

RUTHERFORD MAN PAYS SLAIN GUIDE'S WIDOW

Skowhegan, Me., March 30.—Criminal proceedings against Dr. Charles D. Brooks, of Rutherford, N. J., for the accidental killing last October of Harold Hight, a guide, were discontinued in the Supreme Court here yesterday. Dr. Brooks agreed to pay $1,950 to the widow and child of Hight, and also to meet the court costs.

A charge of criminal negligence was brought against Brooks last fall. He was on a hunting trip with Hight in the Maine woods when the accidental shooting occurred.

Defendant Allowed a Set-off.

In the case of A. H. Osmun against Walter MacNaughton, which was tried in the District Court Thursday the state of demand was $27, and $12.50, the amount of the judgment given, was admitted by the defendant, M. B. Stutsman, of counsel for the defendant, filed a set-off for the difference between $12.50 and $27, which was allowed by the court.

REASON GONE FOR WEEKS; SUDDENLY AWAKENS SANE

How a man's reason was lost for weeks through injuries received in a fall and returned to him in a night was brought out in evidence submitted in a case in the Newark Circuit Court, in which judgment has just been given.

Kinney Van Scoten, of Bloomfield, was employed by Reiter, Curtis & Hill on the depression of the Lackawanna tracks at Watessing in December, 1910. He was lowering a plank into the excavation, slipped and plunged 23 feet to the bottom, where his head struck the concrete roadbed. His skull was fractured and physicians at the Mountainside Hospital, Montclair, operated on him, removing fragments of bone that pressed upon his brain.

When his strength returned, Van Scoten was adjudged insane. At the State Hospital for the Insane, at Morris Plains, he remained more than two months, a hopeless case. On the morning of March 1 he awoke and called an attendant and in a natural voice asked where he was, how he got there and why he should be there. He was greatly surprised and it took a long time to convince him that Christmas had gone by and it was March.

Van Scoten is now able to remember everything in his life except the occurences preceding the fall. He says he remembers going to his work, but there his memory stops, and his life is a blank until he awakened in the asylum. Physicians are puzzled over his case, and the suddenness with which his mind was restored to him. One day he was insane, a man without a memory, and the next, without any apparent cause, he was sane and sound of mind, and with the exception of but a few hours could remember his whole lifetime.

Suit was entered for $35,000 in his behalf while he was still in the State Hospital, and the contention that inadequate provision for his safety had been made by the defendant contracting firm who employed him was being proved when the recovery above recited was made.

A judgment for $4,500 in Van Scoten's favor was made.

EXPENSES OF OLYMPIC COMMITTEE GUARANTEED

New York, March 30.—All the financial troubles of the American Olympic games committee have been smoothed out through the announcement by Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the New York Athletic Club and chairman of the committee, that he will personally take over the entire financial responsibility in connection with the American trip in case the popular subscription fails to realize the required sum.

Colonel Thompson is known in financial circles as the chairman of the board of directors of the International Nickel Company and president of the New York Metal Exchange, returned yesterday.

Coal Strike More Vital To England Than America

Situation Demands Prompt Settlement of Such a Labor Disturbance.

Operators Have a Grievance In the Tax Demanded by the Landowners.

IN England the consequences of the coal strike which now involves the kingdom must be more vital both as affecting the lives and property of the English people than a severe anthracite strike in the United States. The ramifications of such a labor disturbance in England and the immediate interdependence of all industries must extend the evil effects of a tieup in the collieries at once to virtually all the workers in the country.

Two months ago manufacturers in several different trades, employing some 100,000 people, informed their employees that a walkout of the miners would mean a suspension in their businesses, and these workers would go to swell the ranks of the men now out on the greatest strike the world has ever seen. In addition to this the unions engaged in labor upon transportation lines have threatened a sympathetic strike, so that unless a speedy settlement comes England will be face to face with an outbreak even more serious than the extraordinary troubles in connection with the railway employees' and dockers' strike. Actually the only solution is that an agreement must be reached soon.

A brief examination of England's position in reference to the coal industry will show the necessity of prompt settlement of such a labor disturbance. England produces in a normal year 230,000,000 tons of coal. It exported 64,000,000 tons last year and imported only the small amount of 20,000 tons. Accordingly its whole manufacturing industry in all its branches and its export trade, to the amount of £36,500,000 yearly, are dependent upon the coal trade. Other countries must feel the pinch as well, for England's shipments of coal to foreign countries in 1911 were: To France, 10,272,959 tons; to Germany, 8,968,828 tons; to Italy, 9,223,681 tons; to Russia and Sweden, 3,000,000 tons each, and to Argentina, 2,500,000 tons.

In the event of a general and continuing strike the prices of coal must rise sharply. The unsettled condition of the coal trade in the past year caused an advance in the fall, when the "house coals," corresponding to the domestic sizes in this country, were advanced, and the railways have made their contracts on the basis of an increase of a shilling a ton. Let a shortage be felt and England must make urgent demand upon this country and Canada, causing a rise in rates here. The average annual exports of coal from the United States in the past ten years has been in the neighborhood of only 10,000,000 of tons of anthracite and bituminous coal combined, and this could not go far in relieving the necessities of a complete tieup in the English collieries.

The chief causes of the English trouble are the outcome of the coal mines regulation act of 1908, providing a statutory eight hour working day. The general results of this act have not been beneficial, according to the best opinion. Some of the actual consequences, explaining in themselves the reasons for disaffection among the colliers and the owners, too, were summarized by W. H. Pickering, his majesty's inspector, in these terms:

"(1) It (the regulation act) has shortened the working hours of many of the underground workers, especially haulage hands; (2) the weekly earnings of many persons have been reduced; (3) it has caused better order and discipline to be observed in some cases on the pit banks and the pit insets when men are being raised and lowered; (4) it has increased the difficulties of machine mining, and (5) it has had a temporary effect of increasing the number of accidents. At some of the older mines an increase of 10 per cent in the number of persons employed has been necessary to maintain the normal output, and in spite of the act's incentive to increased production the output per person for the whole year fell from 262 tons in 1908 to 258 tons."

As the question has been thrashed out in daily discussion there have come into prominence two serious grievances on the side of the mine workers and the operators respectively. Although on the surface the quarrel is about the minimum wage and "abnormal places," what really causes the most bitter feeling among the miners, especially in south Wales, is the intolerable housing conditions. Accommodation has become more and more restricted, while rents have been steadily going up. How hideous is the overcrowding may be understood from the statement of a reputable journalist who has been investigating the problem on the spot. He declares that in south Wales there are numbers of cottages "where the miner cannot bathe away the dust and grime of his day's work save in the presence of his own and possibly some other family."

The operators, for their part, however desirous to give their men a decent wage, are greatly handicapped by the exorbitance of the first charge upon their own income. British land owners take from the coal fields royalties amounting to no less than $30,000,000 a year. The tax thus imposed upon the coal industry varies from 5 cents a ton in Northumberland and Durham to 30 cents in the west of Scotland. These rates have sometimes been varied in view of the fall in prices, the exhaustion of seams, etc., but there is no known instance of their having been modified to permit a maintenance or increase of wages. In most cases they were fixed at a time when the difficulty and cost of working were much less than today.

The British coal strike began on March 1, when a million employees in the collieries of England, Scotland and Wales laid down their tools at a given signal. Besides the miners, another million workers, men and women employed in factories and mills in all parts of Great British, have been thrown out of employment because of the impossibility of obtaining fuel to run the machinery.

Prices of provisions and all the necessaries of life have gone up to such an extent that extreme distress exists among the poorer classes.

Railroads have had to restrict their train services, river steamboats have had to cease running, the gas and electric supply works have been compelled to restrict their delivery of illuminants, the mail services have been retarded, and many ocean steamers have had to be laid up in harbor.

The "coal war" overshadowed for the time all other public affairs. Severe financial loss has been inflicted on practically all the railways of the United Kingdom. In two weeks the receipts showed a decrease of about $2,500,000. About 85 per cent of the decrease is due to freight traffic. Some railways in colliery districts suffered decreases of more than 70 per cent.

It is estimated that since the coal strike began Great Britain has lost the sale of 100,000 tons of bunker coal to the world's coaling stations.

Orders for this vast quantity of coal have come to the United States.

Even more serious than the loss of that amount of trade is the fact that it is very probable when the strike is over that people abroad will go on buying American coal, so that their own collieries will suffer a permanent loss.

Mr. Everybody,

Plainfield and Vicinity.

Dear Sir:

To handle the best goods in manufacture and quality, to give prompt service, to quote our customers the best prices we possibly can, and to carry a complete line in Lumber, Millwork, and Mason Materials, has been our aim for the past sixteen years.

To do this we have made connections with the most particular and largest mills both North and South, besides operating our own Mills in Canada.

Therefore, when in need of anything in our line, remember that we are READY and ANXIOUS to give the BEST SERVICE possible.

Yours for a busy spring,

J. D. LOIZEAUX LUMBER COMPANY.

ANDERSON AIDS SMALLEY; TRUCKLESS TROLLEY GOES

Trenton, March 30.—After having defeated the Smalley trackless trolley bill yesterday, the House reconsidered its action and passed the measure late in the afternoon. Assemblyman Anderson said that motors would be attached to each wheel and the weight would be evenly divided. He declared that the vehicles were desired in the rural sections.

Auction at Poultry Farm.

Auctioneer William Schorb has arranged to sell at auction the entire outfit and effects of the Breznol poultry farm on Plainfield avenue, was Chamberlain's corner, South Plainfield. The sale will be held on Wednesday, April 10, and those wishing to attend will be carried by auto bus to and from premises free of cost. The farm's equipment of brooder incubators and coops, together with 500 White Leghorn chickens are among the things to be auctioned and offers a splendid opportunity to those wishing to engage in the poultry raising business.

AFTER ROCK ISLAND EDITOR.

Article Which Incited Riot Subject of Postoffice Action.

Chicago, March 30.—John Looney, editor of the Rock Island News, which, in the publication of an article attacking Mayor Schriver, incited the recent riots in Rock Island, will be taken into custody by postoffice inspectors within a few days, it was stated at the federal building.

Looney will be charged with sending libelous and improper matter through the mails. He is in the hospital recovering from wounds received in a fight with Schriver.

The first session of the coroner's inquest inquiring into the facts that preceded Tuesday's fatal riot failed to reveal many of the mob's leaders because of precautions taken to have the inquiry technically within the law in every respect.

MINERS ORDERED TO CEASE WORK

Suspension Becomes Effective Tonight.

BITUMINOUS MEN AGREE.

Work In Soft Coal Fields to Be Suspended Only a Few Days While Details Are Being Arranged—Anthracite Conference to Be Held.

Cleveland, March 30.—One hundred and sixty-eight thousand miners of the anthracite region were ordered by President White of the Mine Workers of America to quit work on April 1 pending further negotiations looking toward peace or a referendum on a general strike.

The operators and miners in the soft coal districts have reached an agreement after conferences lasting more than a week. The suspension in the soft coal fields as a result will be of short duration.

The suspension is merely temporary and will end in an advance in the mining wage, it is generally believed. Chief among the events was the receipt by President Baer of the Reading railway at Philadelphia, controller of the anthracite operators, from President White of the union, of a letter notifying Baer of the suspension April 1 and asking whether Baer would meet the miner's representatives. Baer at once wired White and other union officials here that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

Anthracite operators at New York indicated that a small increase in the wages of miners was likely to be granted.

Miners Ready For Order.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 30.—The order for a suspension of all work in the anthracite fields found the miners prepared, and as a unit they will walk from the chambers this afternoon. Over 10,000 men have already left the collieries.

Secret mass meetings of the miners have been called for tonight.

At the meetings the order of President White will be formally announced. It is impossible to find miners who do not declare that it was the proper course to pursue.

A. F. of L. to Support Miners.

Washington, March 30.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor gave the first intimation that the federation would support the members of the United Mine Workers if a coal strike is called. He also said the federation is aiding in the negotiations for an amicable settlement of the threatened labor war.

ROOSEVELT IN MINNESOTA.

Addresses 10,000 at St. Paul and Another Audience In Minneapolis.

St. Paul, March 30.—Colonel Roosevelt addressed 10,000 people in the Auditorium. His speech was on conservation and country life. After he had finished he went by auto to Minneapolis. In opening his speech there, which was practically a repetition of the Carnegie hall and other speeches, the colonel phrased this new rap at the president:

"Well meaning men, with the president of the United States himself at their head, "have continually been insisting upon the shortcomings of the rule of the people because they distrust the impulsive action of the people."

Detroit, Mich., March 30.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here this forenoon on his way homeward from his western trip.

TO CALL EXTRA SESSION.

Governor Dix to Convoke Legislature to Meet Within Month.

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—Governor Dix has decided to call an extra session of the legislature to meet during the thirty day period in which the governor is allowed to act on the bills left at the final adjournment of the legislature. This extra session will be called early enough, possibly the third week in April, to permit the transaction of al business which the governor will ask the legislature to take up and still get through before he finishes his consideration of the thirty day bills on April 30.

The regular session of the legislature ended eleven hours after the time fixed for the final adjournment.

HUNDREDS OF ARMED MEN ATTEND INQUEST

Jury Avoids Trouble by Bringing Sealed Verdict.

Springfield, Neb., March 30.—With half a thousand armed men in attendance, the inquest over the remains of Roy Blunt, the young farmer who was killed last week during a battle between escaped convicts and pursuers, was held here. The inquest was completed, the jury returning a sealed verdict.

Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha, who it is said fired the bullet which killed Blunt, came to the inquest bringing eight policemen and seventeen friends, all armed. These acted as a bodyguard to Briggs, who feared violence from the friends of Blunt.

"TARIFF KILLING BABIES."

Death Rate Highest Near Protected Industries, Says Congressman.

Washington, March 30.—The death rate among the workers in protected industries increases as the tariff rate increases, according to Representative Townsend of New Jersey, who spoke on the Democratic wool bill. Mr Townsend recently made a trip to Lawrence and made a first hand investigation of conditions there.

"I can present official figures," said Mr. Townsend, "showing that throughout the United States it is found that out of a hundred deaths twenty-seven are of children under five years of age, and that in towns whose industries are most highly protected out of every hundred deaths not twenty-seven, but fifty-seven and even up to sixty are children under five years of age, and this even in those towns where natural conditions are most favorable to health. There are conditions of living among toilers in these heavily protected industries which of itself, and in spite of naturally healthful surroundings, produce an appalling death rate, as well as hopeless misery and suffering among the living.

"As the subsidies paid to tariff beneficiaries increase the chance for life, the chance for the trusts' wage toilers decreases. As dividends increase there also is an increase in the pitiful little mounds of babies' graves; as the arrogance and pride begot from privilege grow, hope in the hearts of the toilers decreases."

SUFFRAGE WON AND LOST.

New York Assembly Passes Bill, Then Reconsiders and Kills It.

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—Advocates of woman suffrage had a brief spell of ecstasy in the assembly when their bill was passed, and then gloom came when the house reconsidered its action and killed the bill. The bill passed by 76 to 67, just a constitutional majority.

Assemblyman Cuvillier moved to reconsider the vote, and this motion was adopted by a vote of 69 to 67. That killed the measure.

HER BIGGEST WHEAT YEAR.

Nebraska Farmers Expect Crop of Nearly 60,000,000 Bushels.

Omaha, Neb., March 30.—The "very best prospects for winter wheat Nebraska has ever had," is the concensus of opinion of farmers, bankers, grain dealers and shippers and elevator men from all over the state. Last year's winter wheat yield was 41,000,000 bushels, and the yield for this year, it is variously estimated, will be from 55,000,000 to 60,000,000.

STRIKE CHILDREN HOME.

Youngsters Returned to Lawrence, Where Parents Meet Them In Parade.

Lawrence, Mass., March 30.—Forty-two children who were sent to Philadelphia and 191 to New York during the recent mill strike arrived home at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

They were met by their victorious parents in a parade, and a general celebration of their homecoming followed.

HOW WILL YOU CAST YOUR BALLOT?

(Adapted from a leaflet issued by the Pennsylvania Society)

By Samuel T. Carter, Jr.

The old adage "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is as true today as it ever was. We have come to learn its truth by experience, that greatest of teachers. Conservation is the cry of the day. If you would save the trees, protect them in the bud. If you would make real men of the boys, guard their boyhood, if you would save from disease and death, watch the incipient stages.

A few years ago a young German couple came to this country to make their home here. Things went well with them at the start. The husband attained a responsible position in a city store and was readily able to take care of his wife and increasing family of children. So well did he succeed, indeed, that he finally decided to go into partnership with a fellow countryman. He put his accumulated capital into the new business, but his partner was a rogue, and, before long, absconded, leaving the business wrecked. The tricked partner, unable to face business disaster, and regardless of the fact that he owed it to his family to renew his efforts for their support, committed suicide leaving his wife and five children (the oldest twelve years of age) in poverty.

The mother belonged to that class of women who never know defeat. She was ambitious to keep her family together and to make them a home. To that end she scrubbed the floors of the Grand Central Depot by night and cared for her children by day, with the result that she contracted tuberculosis.

Thus her efforts to preserve her home and to protect her children and keep them about her during their childhood were all seemingly to be thwarted.

Here then was the problem: A broken down mother and five children, with no visible means of support and no physical ability to make use of such means even if offered—in one aspect a menace to the community, from another view a family through absolutely no fault of its own, defeated in a brave attempt to eke out a modest subsistence.

How was this problem to be solved? The mother could not solve it She had given all she had toward its solution. The children could not solve it. They were helpless and dependent, and it was altogether beyond them. The community solved it. It took this mother and sent her to a sanitarium in the Adirondacks. It placed the children in good homes to abide the result of the mother's illness, and it was rewarded in its efforts by seeing the mother returned to the family in a few months with her health restored, with a good position assured her, and with the ability, assisted by friends, to keep and care for her children.

The ounce of prevention here, applied so practically, meant the saving of that mother from the ravages of a dread disease and the preservation of her home. It meant that the children, instead of being brought up with the street as their only teacher, would continue to have the mother love and guidance through the years when mother love and guidance meant safety and protection. In other words there were saved to the community by this preventive act the services of six people who otherwise might have become not only a loss but an actual menace to it.

It is hard to value lives in dollars and cents, but it has been suggested that some facts be given showing the money saving to the community by a preventive campaign against the ravages of tuberculosis.

In Boston some months ago two physicians, connected with the Out-Patient Department of the Boston Consumptives Hospital, investigated the money loss to the city because of its consumptives.

They examined into the cases of some five hundred men who had visited the dispensary during the preceding five years. Of these cases about half had died. It was found that, in the case of those who had died, each man had lost, prior to his death, on an average of fifty-eight weeks of work from the inception of the disease until death. The average weekly rate of wages of these men was approximately $12 and their total loss of wages amounted therefore to about $170,000.

In the case of the men still living, it was found that they had lost on an average some ninety weeks each, or a total loss of $255,000, making a grand total of $426,000 lost in wages in the case of this group of men.

In addition to this it was found that it had cost the city of Boston some $75,000 to care for these men in its public hospital and other institutions, this figure being exclusive of the large sums that were spent by private organizations on four hundred and six out of these five hundred cases.

It was further found that, in capitalizing the value of the earnings of the two hundred and fifty cut off by death, there would be a total loss of approximately $2,000,000. Add to this the many other cases in Boston conservatively estimated at 15,000, and it can readily be seen that there was here a money loss of many millions arising from this one disease.

There has eben carried on within the State of New Jersey for the last five years, concerted educational work with the view of stopping the inroads of tuberculosis. The last report of the New Jersey Association shows that as a result of this five years of campaigning there have been 1210 less deaths from this disease—certainly a very remarkable showing considering that the work is really but in its inception.

In that colony of health seekers, Saranac Lake village two battles are being constantly waged, one by which those who are sick to regain their health, the other by the doctors of Saranac, skilled specialists in their line, who, in a small laboratory in the heart of the village, are day by day experimenting with the view primarily of ascertaining the best preventative measures against the disease.

The former battle concerns but a generation. The battle of the laboratory concerns all future generations and counts for all time.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League is concerned in the economic problem which comes with the inroad of disease. It is anxious to help in the efforts that are being made to conserve human life and to make it a money producing power in the community instead of an expense thereto. It is more vitally concerned in the physical welfare of those who, afflicted with this sickness, are making their fight for life. It wants to help women of the type referred to in the first part of this article, and to restore them to health and to the family. But it is quite as vitally concerned in the educational work, which is being done, as a result of the discoveries of the medical men in the laboratories, by means of which the people generally are taught how best to protect themselves and the community in which they live against the inroads of this disease. In any of these views the work certainly seems a commendable one. In any view ought it not to command the earnest help and assistance of the community?

SUMMIT PAINTERS GET INCREASED WAGE SCALE

Summit, March 30.—From opposition of the employers to an increased wage scale was succeeded yesterday by a surrender to the demands of the Painters and Decorators' Union. Yesterday announcement was made to the committee of the Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators' Union that their demand for an increase of 32 cents per day in the wage scale would not be granted. Last night the members of the Master Painters' Association met and decided to grant the demand. The change of front, it is said, was due to the discovery that one of the employers had made a private arrangement with the men.

It was reported that a member of the Master Painters' Association quietly informed the men employed by him that, despite the agreement of the bosses not to pay the increased wage, he would do so if his men remained at work. It is claimed this employer has a large amount of contract work and feared there would be a strike among the journeymen painters Monday. It is known the journeymen intended to go on strike Monday morning had the increase not been granted.

The journeymen will now receive $3.60 per day instead of $3.28. This is said to be the highest wage paid journeymen painters in any town or city west of Newark.

Surprised Miss Kane.

Miss Catherine Agnes Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kane, formerly of this city, now of Highland Park, New Brunswick, was given a surprise party at her home, Thursday night. The affair was arranged by Miss Meleda Cody, a former schoolmate of Miss Kane. There were about 40 guests from Bound Brook, Plainfield, Dunellen and East Millstone.

COAL DEALERS.

LET US HAVE YOU ORDER

COAL

Not merely because the supply may be low, but mainly on account of the threatened strike—be sure you get in on the ground floor by having your order taken now.

The strike means shortness of supply, increase in prices, too, that will undoubtedly last for a year—it will mean a considerable saving to you to stock up now.

FORD---Lower Than Ever In Price

There have been no mistakes to correct---no experiments to try out---but conveniences have been added and a marked reduction in price made possible through larger production and added factory facilities.

$690 FORD MODEL T TOURING CAR

4 Cylinders, 5 Passengers. Completely equipped as follows: Extension Top, Speedometer, Automatic Brass Windshield, two 6-inch Gas Lamps, Generator, Three Oil Lamps, Horn and Tools, Ford Magneto built into the motor. This splendid Touring Car for $690, F. O. B. Detroit.

Some of the original and exclusive features which have made FORD Model T the most popular and serviceable car in the world:

Marvellous Simplicity in Design—Few parts, but every part in harmony with scientific principle. There is nothing superfluous in Ford design, every part has its specific place, making a chassis compact, clean cut, neat, with great strength.

A Car of Vanadium Steel (scientifically heat-treated), the strongest of all steels under tensile stress and against vibration and shock.

Ford Magneto built into the motor. No wearing surfaces, no moving wires, no ignition troubles.

Ford Planetary Transmission. Motor always connected with car. Transmission always in gear; when the car is running on high speed, the gears are quiet, no crunching or stripping of gears.

No Weight on Moving Parts. This assures durability, economy and long service.

Ford Spring Suspension. The axles are attached to the car at the extreme point of the springs, thus giving the utmost flexibility, smoothness in riding, and least wear on tires.

Ford Rear Axle. No truss rods. Look at it, no weight, but its own to carry; think of the saving in wear this means to the rear tires.

Simplicity in Operation. The movement of the car may be controlled by the feet, the hands need never be taken from the steering wheel.

Light Weight. Ford Model T is the lightest in weight of any four cylinder car in the world, size, power and capacity considered. It has 60 pounds to the horse power. It costs money to move weight. If weight is an advantage in a motor car, why don't the makers of heavy weight cars advertise the fact?

Accessibility. Every part of the mechanism of Ford Model T is easily accessible. There is nothing intricate—nothing confusing. It is as simple as ABC.

Cheapest to Maintain. Ford Model T is an exceedingly economical car to keep. It goes from 20 to 28 miles on one gallon of gasoline. It is equally economical with oil, and gives from 5,000 to 8,000 miles on one set of tires.

Ford Service for Ford Owners is a feature which must not be forgotten. No matter where you are, with your Ford car, if accident and trouble occurs, you are sure to find immediate service right at hand. Over four thousand individual dealers, each one carrying a supply of Ford parts in stock all the time, each one anxious and prompt to assist Ford owners. Ford service for Ford owners is an exclusive advantage. It is a world-wide advantage. No matter where you go, the Ford dealer is there waiting for you.

No Ford Cars Are Sold Unequipped. When you buy a Model T you get a whole car.

$700 FORD MODEL T DELIVERY CAR

4 Cylinders. The regular Vanadium Steel constructed chassis which has made the FORD Model T world famous; steel body, giving roomy interior. Capacity 750 pounds of merchandise, complete equipment as follows: Automatic Brass Windshield, Speedometer, Two 6-inch Gas Lamps, Generator, Three Oil Lamps, Horn and Tools, Ford Magneto built into the motor. And the car complete as above, costs only $700, F. O. B. Detroit.

We would like to have you write for our series of books, illustrated and fully descriptive of the various features of Ford Model T cars. Send for the series. It won't cost you anything.
